THE BRAINERD DISPATCH.

VOLUME 12, NUMBER 43. BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1893. INGERSOLL & WIELAND, PUBLISHERS.

NORTHERN PACIFIC R.R.

IS THE ONLY LINE

Running Through Cars

TO

ST. PAUL,
MINNEAPOLIS,
DULUTH and CHICAGO,

TO

HELENA
BUTTE
SPOKANE
TACOMA
SEATTLE
PORTLAND

Pullman Sleeping Cars
Elegant Dining Cars
—ON ALL—
THROUGH TRAINS

LOCAL TIME TABLE.

No. 7 arrives from the South at 11:35 p. m. Departs for the West at 11:40 p. m.

No. 8 leaves for the South at 2:25 a. m.

No. 13 arrives from Duluth at 11:15 p. m., and departs for the west at 11.25.

No. 14 arrives from the West at 7:55 a. m. Departs at 6.15 a. m.

No. 11, Little Falls and Dakota train, arrives at 5:30 p. m.

No. 12, Little Falls and Dakota train, departs at 6:05 a. m., and reaches Little Falls in time to connect with No. 4 there for St. Paul.

No. 54 carries passengers to Aitken, departs at at 11:15 p. m.

No. 55 from N. P. Junction arrives at 3:30 p. m. and departs for Staples at 4:30 p. m.

No. 56 arrives from Staples at 10 a. m. Departs for N. P. Junction at 11:10 a. m.

All trains are daily except Brainerd and Morris accommodations and trains 55 and 56.

For Rates, Maps, Time Table or special information, apply to agent Northern Pacific R. R. at Brainerd. or

CHAS. S. FEE,
Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent,
ST. PAUL, MINN.

Wisconsin Central Lines.

(Northern Pacific R. R. Co., Lessee.)

Latest Time Card.

TWO THROUGH TRAINS DAILY.

2.45pm	6.25pm	Lv. - Mpls. Ar	8.40am	5.45pm
1.25pm	7.15pm	Lv. St. Paul Ar	8.00am	5.00pm
0 30am	4.05pm	Lv. Duluth Ar	11.10am	6.50pm
1.45pm	7.05pm	Lv. Ashland Ar	8.05am	3.30pm
7.15am	10.05pm	Ar. Chicago Ar	5.00pm	10.45pm

Tickets sold and baggage checked through to all points in the United States and Canada.

Close connection made in Chicago with all trains going East and South.

For full information apply to your nearest cket agent or JAS. C. POND,
Gen. Pass. and Tkt. Agt., Chicago, Ill.

N. Schroeder,

—DEALERS IN—

Wines, Liquors, and

CIGARS,

Imported and Domestic.

Special Attention Given to Orders for Family Use.

Give me a call when in Detroit and I will guarantee good usage.

N. SCHROEDER,
DETROIT, MINN

AGENTS WANTED on salary and commission for the only authorized BIOGRAPHY OF JAMES G. BLAINE, by GAIL HAMILTON, his literary executor, with the co-operation of his family, and for Mr. Blaine's Complete Works, "TWENTY YEARS OF CONGRESS," and his later book, "POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS." One prospectus for these three BEST SELLING books in the market. A. K. P. Jordan of Me., took 112 orders from first 110 calls; agent's profit, $196.50. Mrs. Balard of Ohio, took 15 orders, 13 Seal Russia, in one day; profit, $26.25. E. N. Rice, of Mass., took 27 orders in two days; profit, $47.25. J. Patridge, of Me., took 43 orders from 36 calls; profit, $75.25. E. A. Palmer, of N. D., took 53 orders in 3 days; profit, $98.25. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY given. If you wish to make LARGE MONEY, write immediately for terms to

THE HENRY BILL PUB. CO.,
Norwich, Conn.

HOW A PUZZLE WAS SOLVED.

When you want a certain article, you want the best make of that article, don't you?

But how to determine which make is best is what puzzles you, isn't it?

And when the puzzle is solved for you, by authority which cannot be questioned, you are pleased, aren't you?

And you would like to hear of one puzzle that has been solved for the people of the whole world, wouldn't you?

Well, we will tell you about that very puzzle, and its solution.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889 at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France.

This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered, the GRAND PRIZE, giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French Government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated M. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the most prized honor of France.

That is how the puzzle of the best sewing machine in the world was fully solved by the most competent authority in the world in favor of the No. 9 and No. 12 Wheeler & Wilson machines.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best, it will be your own fault.

Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine, and if he does not keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue, prices and terms.

Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO.,
185 and 187 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Cures others, will cure you

(First Publication Aug. 18th.)

NOTICE OF FINAL PROOF.

Land Office at St. Cloud. Minn., Aug. 11th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before S. F. Alderman, Clerk of District Court at Brainerd, Minn., on Tuesday, Oct. 3d, 1893, viz:

ANDREW BRAND.

H. E. No. 13557, for the E½ Sw¼, Sw¼ Sw¼, and Lot 5, Sec. 24, Twp. 46, R. 29.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz:

Harry Patterson, Louis Carlson, John Cron, Andrew Hoving, P. O. address of all Deerwood, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

A. BARTO. Register.

(First publication August 11, 1893.)

Notice of Execution Sale.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and now in my hands, issued out of the district court in and for the county of Crow wing and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in said court on the 5th day of May, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m., in favor of H. J. Spencer, executor of the last will and testament of John Theviot, deceased, plaintiff, and against Henry Theviot, Werner Hemstead and Charles Kinkele, defendants, I have levied upon as the property of said defendant Charles Kinkele all those certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots number sixteen (16) and seventeen (17), of block number sixty-seven (67), in the town (now city) of Brainerd, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the registry of deeds in and for said Crow Wing county; and that I have also levied upon as the property of said defendant Werner Hemstead all those certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lots number 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21, of block number 3, in the second addition to the town (now city) of Brainerd; also lot number 4 of block number 28, in the town of West Brainerd (now a part of the city of Brainerd); also all of blocks numbered one (1) to sixteen (16) inclusive, in Syndicate addition to the city of Brainerd, and all according to the plats of said additions and towns on file and of record in the registry of deeds in and for said Crow Wing county; also lot number one (1) of section twenty-seven (27), in township one hundred and thirty-four (134) north, of range twenty-eight (28) west, according to the United States government survey thereof; also that certain tract or parcel of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, described as follows, towit: That tract of land bounded on the east by the east line of Fifth street, produced north to the Mississippi river, on the north by the Mississippi river, on the west by a line fifty (50) feet west of and parallel to the west line of Fifth street produced north to the Mississippi river, and on the south by the north line of Bluff avenue, reference being made to the plat of the town of Brainerd of record in the registry of deeds of said Crow Wing county; and that I shall on Saturday, the 30th day of September, 1893, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the county court house, in the city of Brainerd, in said Crow Wing county, offer for sale and will sell the above described real property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to the sum of $2,012 60, with legal interest thereon from May 5th, 1891, together with $1.20, costs of execution, with all accruing costs of sale, to the highest bidder therefor for cash.

HENRY SPALDING,
Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minnesota,
HENRY JOHNS, By J. W. SLIPP. Deputy.
St. Paul, Minn.,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } District Court
County of Crow Wing. } 15th Judicial District

W. A. Fleming, as receiver of the Mississippi Water Power and Boom Company, an insolvent corporation, plaintiff,

Against

John N. Nevers, as receiver of the Brainerd Water Power Company, a corporation, The St. Paul Title Insurance and Trust Company, a corporation, The Central Trust Company, a corporation, The Brainerd Water Power Company, a corporation, and Arletta H. Fennesey, Ambrose Tighe, Andrew L. Fennesey, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants:

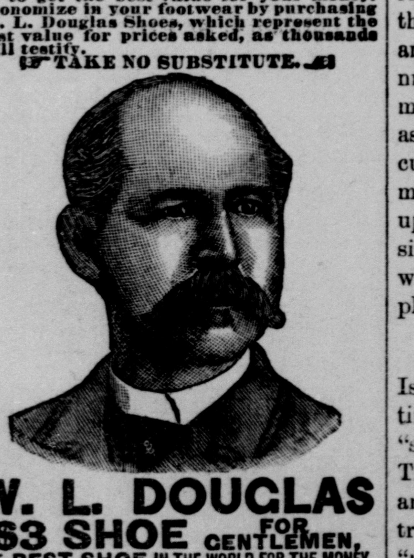

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the above entitled action, on file in the office of the clerk of said court at his office in the city of Brainerd, in said county, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscriber at his office in the city of Brainerd, in said county, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said summons within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated August 10th, 1893.

W. A. FLEMING,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
In pro. per. Brainerd, Minn.

IT IS A DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value for prices asked, as thousands will testify.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN,
THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY.

A genuine sewed shoe, that will not rip, fine calf, seamless, smooth inside, flexible, more comfortable, stylish and durable than any other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $5.

$4 and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, easy and durable shoes ever sold at the price. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $8 to $12.

$3.50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

$2.50 Fine Calf, $2.25 and $2.00 Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

Boys' $2.00 and Youths' $1.75 School Shoes are worn by the boys everywhere. The most serviceable shoes sold at the prices.

Ladies' $3.00 Hand-sewed, $2.50, $2.00 and $1.75 Shoes for Misses are made of the best Dongola or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3.00 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4.00 to $6.00. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwear are finding this out.

Caution.—W. L. Douglas' name and the price is stamped on the bottom of each shoe; look for it when you buy. Beware of dealers attempting to substitute other makes for them. Such substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass. Sold by

A NEW postoffice has been established at Deer River, in Itasca county.

THE wheat crop of Minnesota and the Dakotas is estimated at over a hundred million bushels this year.

ON account of the Brazilian trouble coffee in New York market advanced from 5 to 20 points yesterday.

THE papers say that Ruth and Papa Cleveland are doing finely since the advent of the baby girl at the White House on Saturday last.

IT is not known whether the world's fair management will ever untangle itself from the Sunday opening matter. The general public are doing the fair and the management are supposed to take care of themselves.

THE sum of $600 was stolen from the pocket of a woman in Chicago who had worked her way into a crowd where free bread was being distributed to the poor. It would have been cheaper for her to have bought a loaf.

AITKIN democrats held an election on Saturday for the purpose of ascertaining who should be their coming postmaster, and Allison Willber received 64 votes to W. B. Gwathney's 31. The dark horse hasn't put in an appearance as yet.

THE papers state that Representative J. M. Markham, of Aitkin, who was indited by the grand jury of Hennepin county for soliciting a bribe, has been making a strong effort to have his case tried elsewhere, but Judge Ganty has declined to grant a change.

AN Illinois man has been appointed to succeed Maj. C. A. Ruffee as agent at the White Earth Indian agency. It was expected that a democrat would get the position, but it was also expected that there were democrats enough in Minnesota to pick from without going to Illinois for one.

THE farmers and butter makers in the southeastern part of this state have been bled to the tune of $1,000 or more by the sale of a receipt showing how to make three pounds of butter out of two pounds of butter and two pounds of milk. It is an old "fake." It is impossible to get out of milk something that never was in it.—St. Peter Tribune.

AN exchange clips the following from the Leavenworth Post and it is unnecessary to state that the past and present is fairly sized up by it:

Last fall the Democratic workingmen sang merrily as he went about his work:

Grover!
Grover!
Four more years of Grover,
In he goes,
Out they go,
Then we'll be in clover!

Now he is wandering up and down the earth hunting a job, and he sings dolefully:

Rover!
Rover!
Four years more a rover
In he went,
Out I went,
I'm no more in clover!

Result of Tariff Tinkering.

A telegram from Springfield, Mass., gives the following, which is a notice that has been posted of a universal cut down in the wages of all the employes of Smith & Wesson, the revolver manufacturers.

"In view of the proble reduction to be made on the tariff in the near future and the consequent increased competition, we do not deem it advisable to increase our stock of goods at the present cost. We therefore give notice that on the first day of October there will be a uniform reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of all our employes, including piece work, except those who are drawing $1.50 per day or less, and those with whom we have contracts. It is hoped that as a rule the change will be but temporary, but so much depends upon circumstances and conditions that no possible assurance can now be given."

Agent Ruffee Secured Settlement.

The Minneapolis Tribune says that Maj. Chas. A. Ruffee, of the White Earth Indian agency, is in that city. He has just been notified of his retirement as agent and that he has been succeeded by T. W. Allen. The Major's term as Indian agent was short and sweet. He was appointed nearly a year ago, to succeed Capt. B. P. Shuler, of this city, but the appointment was hung up for some months by a futile effort to defeat him by means of some old charges raked up in the department. Finally the Major was confirmed and installed, and had just got his agency into running order when he was removed to make room for a democrat. Short as was the term, however, Ruffee secured a settlement with the department of accounts that had been held up for something like 20 years, ever since he was agent of the Chippewas, when the agency was at the historic place of Crow Wing, since destroyed.

"Useful Information"

Is a heading much resorted to by "retired physicians" and people whose "sands of life have nearly run out." The publishers of our standard dictionaries or encyclopedias tell the pure truth when they offer their works as "mines of useful information;" and in the same class are reliable and first class railroads like the Burlington Route. When this road offers to give you, free of charge, "useful information" about ways and means of safe, swift and comfortable railway travel you may place entire confidence in what is told you. They have no disposition to deceive you, and if they had are too shrewd not to know that "honesty is the best policy," Therefore, before taking a trip anywhere, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent St. Paul, Minn., and learn what are the advantages of "The Burlington" as a route.

Jackson's Probable Fate.

What is likely to be Jackson's punishment now that he has confessed to the murder of Peck, is a question often asked since the DISPATCH made Jackson's confession public.

We find the following provisions of the penal code relating to murder and its punishment:

Homicide is defined to be the killing of a human being by the act, procurement or omission of another, and is either murder, manslaughter, excusable or justifiable homicide. Murder in the first degree is the killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, when perpetrated with a premeditated design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another. Such killing of a human being is murder in the second degree, when committed with a design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another, but without deliberation or premeditation. It is unnecessary to quote further as Jackson's crime is either one or the other of the above.

The punishment for murder in the first degree is death, unless the court shall certify of record its opinion that by reason of exceptional circumstances the case is not one in which the death penalty should be imposed, in which case the punishment shall be imprisonment for life in the State Prison. The punishment for murder in the second degree is imprisonment for life.

If Jackson is permitted to plead guilty to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree, or if he is tried and found guilty of the crime, and the court can, or does, certify that there are exceptional circumstances in the case, etc., he may escape with a life sentence. But it may be difficult to find any mitigating circumstances in such a cowardly murder, so coolly planned and deliberately executed. Jackson's statement that he did not mean to kill was probably the thought of another for the purpose of claiming that the killing was not premeditated and designed, and was therefore, only murder in the second degree.

Don't Want to Go.

An impromptu conference was held at the Nicollet house Minneapolis Tuesday, says the Journal of that city, between Messrs. Campbell and Flint, of the Northwest Indian Commission, and Chiefs Moos-o-maw-nay, Ain-dus-o-che-sing and Be-tud-anse, of the Mille Lacers, John Merrill being present as interpreter. The subject under discussion was the removal of the Chippeways from Mille Lacs to the White Earth reservation, where the United States promises each a home, 80 acres of land, a good house with clothing and provisions for a year, schools for their children, a doctor for sickness and whatever church they desire. About 200 of the Indians have already gone, together with three chiefs, but there are 300 still left at Mille Lacs. If these could be disposed of, the Mille Lacs reservation would be opened for actual settlement. A good many white men are now on the reservation, having got in at different times and under different pretexts. The commissioner explained the position of the United States to the chiefs and they in turn told their grievances to the commissioners. It is not probable that they will be willing to move from their present location.

Consolidated Land Offices.

A Washington special says: The action of the president today in confirming the recommendation of Secretary Smith and Commissioner Lamoreaux consolidating the Taylor's Falls with the St. Cloud land office was a surprise to nearly all the Minnesota members, as it was expected that the objection made would cause the president to take a different course. The Taylor's Falls district still has over 100,000 acres of unoccupied government land and while at present far from active there is a prospect of an early change in that quarter of the state. By this consolidation the St. Cloud office is made a rival of the Duluth office. It leaves out Ed C. Gottory, of the Pine City Pioneer, present register, and John Walfried, the receiver. Col. W. H. Folsom, the veteran democrat of Taylor's Falls, was booked for Gottry's place, and his papers are in. It is now expected that the changes at St. Cloud, Marshall, Duluth and Crookston will be made in a few days.

An Open Confession.

The following good story concerning a farmer living not fifty miles from LaCrosse is authenticated. He drove into town the other day with a load of fourteen cent wool, and to a crowd on the corner he explained his method of shearing sheep this year. It has always been his custom to begin at the head and shear backward but of late he had reversed the operation, begining at the rear and working forward. On being asked his reason for the change he replied that he had made such an all around fool of himself by voting for Cleveland that he was ashamed to look a sheep in the face.—Anoka Union.

Salvation Army Troubles.

Capt. Fallon, Salvation Army, recently telegraphed Gov. Peck, stating that the army was not protected in Eau Claire in its street parades, and demanding protection from the state. Fallon yesterday called at the residence of Capt. Beisang, commanding a company of the Third infantry, to inquire whether he had been ordered to turn out his company. These facts came out today and caused a sensation as the police expects to arrest all the army in a day or two for pounding drums in the streets.—Eau Claire Telegram.

Big Verdict.

Alexandria McKillop was given a verdict at Duluth yesterday for $7,500 against the street railway company. McKillop lost a leg by being run over by a car.

Where is Little Falls Now?

The Brainerd base ball club, through E. C. Gates, manager, has issued a challenge to any club in the state to play for from $100 to $200 a side and the championship, the best two out of three games.

From the Staples World.

Engineer and Mrs. R. Arundel spent a few days visiting relatives at Brainerd the first of the week.

Mrs. Kate Closterman has invited a few young people to attend a birthday party, to be given in honor of her son Roland next Wednesday evening.

Last Saturday morning fire caught in the Northern Pacific wood yard at this place, but was discovered and extinguished before any damage was done. Had it got a good start it is probable that several thousand cords of wood and a number of houses in that part of town would have been ash heaps today.

Taken Up.

The undersigned has taken up a small red cow and she is now in the pound in the town of Oak Lawn, and has been since Friday last. The owner is requested to call, pay charges and take her away.

Also a red and white cow.

JOHN CAMERON.

Brainerd, August 23, 1893.

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

How the Enormous Pressure of the Sea Water Affects Sunken Objects.

An extraordinary circumstance that has been noticed with interest, and that always creates surprise when first learned, is the entire absence of foreign matter in the deeper part of the ocean's floor. Of all the vessels lost in midocean, of all the human beings that have been drowned, of all the marine animals that have perished, of all the clay, sand and gravel let fall by dissolving icebergs, of all the various substances drifted from every shore by shifting currents, not a trace remains, but in their place water from 1,000 to 2,500 fathoms in depth covers the uniform deposit of thick, bluish, tenacious slime called globigerina ooze.

A bit of this under a powerful lens is a revelation of beauty not readily forgotten. The ooze is composed almost entirely of the daintiest, most delicately beautiful shells imaginable. At depths greater than 2,500 fathoms the bottom of the sea consists mainly of products arising from exposure for almost incalculable periods to the chemical action of sea water, of pumice and other volcanic matters. This finally results in the formation of the red clay deposits that are considered characteristic of the profoundest depths of the ocean.

Carbonate of lime, which in the form of the shells of foraminifera, makes up so large a part of the globigerina ooze, is here almost entirely absent. Sea water is very nearly a universal solvent, and before any shell, large or small, reaches the bottom of these tremendous abysms it is chemically eaten up, literally dissolved—a result which the enormous pressure of the water must materially hasten.

At 1,000 fathoms the weight of the water pressing on all sides of an object immersed to that depth is very nearly one ton to the square inch, or more than 100 times that sustained at the sea level, and at the greatest depths the pressure is so increased that it would seem nothing could withstand it, in fact, heavy metal cylinders let down with the sounding apparatus are sometimes, on being drawn up again to the surface, found bent and collapsed. Strongly made glass vessels which the metal inclosed are shattered into fragments.—Cosmopolitan.

The Paradise Craze.

"The most beautiful country I ever saw was under the water," said Captain Ezra Whipple, who formerly sailed the salt seas, but now has his stateroom at the Southern. "Coming from Kingston en route to Baltimore, in 1867, I collided off the coast of Cuba with a Dutch three master. A hasty examination was made by the carpenter, who reported slight damage, and we kept on our way. The Dutch vessel had no more than got out of sight when my ship began to fill, and we soon had to desert her and take to the open boats. The sun beat down upon us with terrific force and I became a victim of that peculiar hallucination called by the sailors 'paradise craze.'

"The sea appeared to be transformed into a mighty meadow, bright with flowers and musical with song of birds. Cool springs burst from crystal rocks and trickled over golden sands, and men and maidens danced beneath the trees. They seemed beckoning me to join them, and I plunged over the side of the boat into forty fathoms of brine. The bath brought me to my senses, and I reached the Cuban coast more dead than alive. The mania is of frequent occurrence in tropical seas and is often referred to by the poets. It may be that to this species of madness the old Greeks were indebted for those beautiful fancies of gods and goddesses reigning in regal splendor beneath the ocean's brine."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Story of Hard Luck.

"The latest 'hard luck' story that I have heard," said a racing man in an up town cafe the other evening, "is that of a young man who went to the track and lost $190. He had ten dollars left. He liked a 20 to 1 chance in the last race. He went into the betting ring, got into a crowd at a bookmaker's stand and was holding his ten dollar note high in the air when the wind caught it and blew it away. His horse won in a canter."—New York Times.

Prolific Fish.

No wonder the fish crop is never "short." The flounder lays 7,000,000 eggs annually; several others from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000, while the turbot is credited with depositing from 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 during each breeding season.—Exchange.

Government Enterprise.

A hundred years ago an inventive English nobleman declared that it was possible to make a ship move by the aid of "steam," without "masts or sails," and having spent as much as he was prepared to afford on repeated costly plans craved some assistance from the state. Of course the department (being a wet blanket) stringently tied up its loan, but having become persuaded by the result of his experiments that he had hope of success it undertook to build a small vessel for the would be inventor, to be navigated "by the steam engine," on the condition that if it failed "all the expense should be made good by him."

This generous enterprise of Lord Stanhope was highly lauded at the time, the popular verdict being thus expressed, "If it answer, the advantage to the public, particularly in inland navigation, will be immense."

In this case the recognition of a pioneer's possible "usefulness" was exceptionably favorable.—Cornhill Magazine.

Familiar Extravagance.

"It is a peculiar fact," observed a cashier of a popular restaurant, "that most people help themselves to half a dozen toothpicks after each meal, when each individual among them must know, if he thinks about it, that he won't more than half use one of them. But with most of them it is merely a matter of habit. They fell into it originally, I suppose, by yielding to the idea that it is true economy to help yourself liberally to what doesn't cost anything. I often wonder what they do with all the toothpicks they take away. Some people contract a habit of chewing toothpicks. It would be far better for them if they chewed tobacco or even gum, for the fiber of the wood often lodges in the throat or gets into some piece of internal machinery, where it plays the mischief."—New York Herald.

Head a Little Gray, but Heart All Right.

"Jason," said Mrs. Calliper to her husband as they were riding home from the theater, "what should you say of a man of middle age and with a gray mustache who wept over the troubles of the people in the play?"

"Why," said Colonel Calliper, "I should say that whatever his years might be God had blessed him with a young heart."

"And I am sure," said Mrs. Calliper as she looked the colonel square in the eye, "that he is duly grateful for it."—New York Sun.

Chinese In Mourning.

When a Chinese emperor dies, the intelligence is announced by dispatches to the several provinces, written with blue ink, the mourning color. All persons of rank are required to take red silk ornaments from their caps with the ball or button of rank; all subjects of China, without exception, are called upon to forbear shaving their heads for 100 days, within which period none may marry, play upon musical instruments or perform any sacrifice.—Exchange.

Zola and the Late Emperor.

M. Zola, in The Figaro, in reply to some critics, insists that the emperor rouged his cheeks at Sedan. The emperor's friends, he says, have talked as if to have done so would have been humiliating—"the role of a buffoon." "On the contrary, this seems to me a great mistake. I find the act superb—worthy of a hero of a Shakespearean play, heightening the figure of Napoleon III to a tragic melancholy of an infinite grandeur." That is a characteristically French exaggeration. We presume M. Zola means that it was noble of the emperor to take the trouble to conceal from his troops his desperate physical weakness. But even granted that it was a prudent thing not to show a cheek of ghastly pallor, we fail to see that it was heroic.—London Spectator.

A True Woman.

I searched the world in every zone
And laid at my love's feet
All diamonds that were ever known
In one vast heap—complete.

But when she viewed the gems she sighed
And kicked them harum scarum.
"Now that I own them all," she cried,
"I do not want to wear 'em."
—Brooklyn Life.

Professional Cards.

McCLENAHAN & MANTOR
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Office, Rooms and 2, Bank Block,
BRAINERD, MINN.

W. A. FLEMING,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office: Room 8, Bank Block.
BRAINERD - - - MINN.

J. H. WARNER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Room 5. Hartley Block.

R. K. WHITELEY,
CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.
Office Room 11, Bank Block.
BRAINERD .... MINN.

DR. H. RIBBEL,
DENTIST
Rooms 3 and 4 over Bank Block.
BRAINERD. - - MINN

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Fall Term Commences

Monday Sept. 4.

DAY AND EVENING SESSIONS.

Commercial, Stenographic and Common School Courses.

Evening School:

Mon's, Tues', Thurs' and Fridays.

A liberal discount given pupils who enter during first week of term. Write for Catalogue.

J. F. CERRITY.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Of Brainerd, Minn.

A. F. FERRIS, President.
LEON E. LUM, Vice President,
G. D. LABAR, Cashier.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, - $200,000
Paid up Capital, - - 50,000.
Surplus, - - - - $30,000.

Business accounts invited.

SNOW & SNOW.

We would be glad to tell you how to save your money and make it earn you good pay if you will call.

Do you know that your house is liable to burn? We would like to pay you for it if it should.

We will attend to any legitimate and honorable business for you, if you will pay us. See?

Room 11, Bank Block.

L. P. WHITE, Jr.

Real Estate Agent.

Improved and Unimproved Property

FOR SALE,

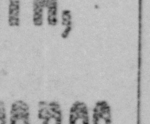

In various parts of the City.

HOUSES for SALE.

PROTECT YOURSELF

—BY—

A Policy on Your

—FROM—

J. R. SMITH,

FirE Insurance,

[None but reliable companies represented.]

Real Estate,

RENTS & COLLECTIONS.

Room 4. Sleeper Block. - Brainerd

AT COST,

—AT—

McCOLL'S

HAMMOCKS and CROQUET SETS.

4 Ball Sets - -	65 Cents
8 Ball Sets - - -	82 Cents
6 Ball Sets - -	76 Cents

Hammocks as low as 50 and 75c each.

McColl's Post-Office Store.

CALL AT

The Dispatch!

FOR JOB WORK.

All Work

Guaranteed.

Something Good In Silverware; we don't mean choice cakes or fruits, but the ware to hold them, all in solid silver, rich, elegant and beautiful. The whole range of table silver is here, including knives, forks, spoons, sugar bowls, water sets, etc., all in the most tasteful, novel and artistic designs. Silverware is costly because somewhat high in price, and cheap because you buy it for a lifetime. What wears so long should be bought with judgement and care. The fall in the value of silver places solid ware within the reach of all. We have a full line.

WM. M. DRESSKELL,
Jeweler.

JAS. H. KELEHAN

—Dealer in—

WINES, LIQUORS & CIGARS,

Cor sixth and Laurel.

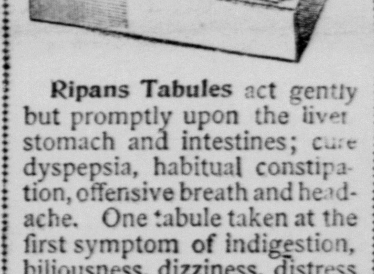

We keep nothing but the finest goods and Guarantee Satisfaction.

Drop in any time as we will make it pleasant for you.

- - - JAS. H. KELEHAN.

Ripans Tabules.

Ripans Tabules are compounded from a prescription widely used by the best medical authorities and are presented in a form that is becoming the fashion everywhere.

Ripans Tabules act gently but promptly upon the liver stomach and intestines; cure dyspepsia, habitual constipation, offensive breath and headache. One tabule taken at the first symptom of indigestion, biliousness, dizziness, distress after eating, or depression of spirits, will surely and quickly remove the whole difficulty.

Ripans Tabules may be obtained of nearest druggist.

Ripans Tabules are easy to take, quick to act, and save many a doctor's bill.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution, issued out of the district court for the Fifteenth judicial district in and for the county of Crow Wing, and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment issued and docketed in said court, on the 10th day of September, A. D. 1892, in a certain action wherein Clarissa A. Coon is plaintiff, and C. J. Veon and Andrew E. Veon are defendants, in favor of said plaintiff, and against said defendants, for the sum of one hundred and ninety-five dollars and forty cents ($195.40), I have, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1893, levied upon all the right, title and interest of the said defendants, and of each of them, to the following described tracts or parcels of land, lying and being in said county of Crow Wing: Lots numbered thirteen (13), fourteen (14), fifteen (15) and sixteen (16), in block numbered one hundred and fifty-seven (157), in the First addition to the town (now part of the city) of Brainerd, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds of said county. Also lots numbered one (1), two (2), three (3) and four (4), in block number one (1), in White's addition to the city of Brainerd according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the said office of the register of deeds of said county of Crow Wing.

And will sell the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said execution and costs, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Brainerd, in the county and state aforesaid, on Saturday the 30th day of September, A. D. 1893, at two o'clock p. m., of that day.

Dated, Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 16, A. D. 1893.

HENRY SPALDING,
Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minn.
W. A. FLEMING,
Plaintiff's Attorney, Brainerd, Minn.

(First publication August 25.)

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage made and executed by Lorenzo Coleman and Julia Coleman, his wife, mortgagors, unto Emma A. Day, mortgagee, dated on the 25th day of April, 1890, and recorded in the office of register of deeds of Crow Wing county, state of Minnesota, on the 29th day of April, 1890, at 3 o'clock p. m., in book "E" of mortgages, on page 275; which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Emma A. Day, mortgagee, to Hiram Gilson by written assignment dated the 20th day of October 1892, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds, in and for said county and state, on the 24th day of October, 1892, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book "K" of mortgages, on page 261; which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of $300.00 due in one year from April 25th, 1890, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum until paid; and default has been made in the payment of said principal sum with the interest thereon from the date of said note; and there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon said mortgage and the debt secured thereby, including interest the sum of three hundred and seventy-nine and thirteen one hundredths ($379.13) dollars, and no proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter (se¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) of section twenty-five (25), township forty-three (43), range thirty-two (32), and the southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northwest quarter (nw¼) of section thirty (30), township forty-three (43), range thirty-one (31), all according to U. S. government survey thereof, in Crow Wing county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Crow Wing county, at the front door of the court house in the city of Brainerd, in said county and state on the 10th day of October, 1893, at ten (10) o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and twenty-five ($25) dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Aug. 12th, A. D. 1893.

HIRAM GILSON,
Assignee of Mortgagee.
F. H. CASTNER,
Att'y for Assignee of Mortgagee.

BUY YOUR BREAD

OF THE

EAST BRAINERD BAKERY.

AND

And Enjoy Life During Hot Weather.

GOODS FIRST-CLASS.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Goods Delivered

TO ANY PART OF THE CITY.

D. MAHONEY, PROP.

L. W. CHASE,

PROPRIETOR

The Bodega.

Sleeper Block, Front Street.

Finest in all Points of any Saloon in the Northwest.

IMPORTED—WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.

BILLIARD AND POOL PARLOR

In Connection.

COME IN AND SEE US.

Notice.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
ST. CLOUD, MINN., August 10, 1893.

Complaint having been entered at this office by William F. Fox against Frank Schermerhorn for abandoning his Homestead Entry No. 15578, dated February 24th, 1892, upon lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, section 32, township 135, range 29, in Cass county, Minn., with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at Brainerd, Minn, before the Clerk of the District Court on the 15th day of Sept., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. to respond and furnish testimony concerning said alleged abandonment.

A. BARTO, Register.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
ST. CLOUD, MINN., August 10, 1893.

Further notice is hereby given that a hearing will be had at this office, on the 22d day of Sept., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m., when the testimony taken as ordered herein, will be examined and a decision rendered thereupon.

A. BARTO,
Register.

(First publication Sept. 8th.)

Order to Show Cause.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } District Court.
County of Crow Wing. } 15th Judicial Dist.

In the matter of the petition for a receiver of H. Rosenblatt under insolvent act.

On reading and filing the petition of the Duluth Dry Goods Company hereto attached and made a part hereof, let said H. Rosenblatt and James S. Gardner and Henry Spalding show cause before the court, at the next general term thereof, to be held at the court house in the city of Brainerd, in said county, on the 18th day of September, 1893, at the opening of the court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

Why said H. Rosenblatt should not be declared and adjudged to be insolvent and a receiver be appointed to take possession of all of his property and estate not exempt by law from seizure and sale on execution; that the same may be distributed according to law and for such other and further relief as may be necessary and proper.

It is further ordered that said James S. Gardner and H. Rosenblatt at the same time and place personally appear and under oath make a full and complete disclosure relative to the indebtedness upon which that certain judgment was recovered, entered and docketed in the office of the clerk of said court on the 5th day of July, 1893, wherein said Gardner was plaintiff and said Rosenblatt was defendant, and make a full and complete disclosure of the manner in which said judgment was recovered, and the consideration for which said notes were made, executed and delivered to said Gardner, and all of the circumstances and facts connected with said judgment and the alleged indebtedness therein contained.

It is further ordered that said Henry Spalding, as sheriff of said Crow Wing county, and said Gardner, their agents, attorneys and servants, be and the same hereby are enjoined and restrained from selling or disposing of any part or portion of the property levied upon, under and by virtue of the execution issued out of and under the seal of said court in said action upon said judgment, except that said sheriff hold and safely keep in his possession all of said property until the further order of the court, and said Rosenblatt is enjoined from selling or disposing of any of his property, let this order and this petition be forthwith served upon said H. Rosenblatt, if founded within said county of Crow Wing, upon Henry Spalding, said sheriff, and James S. Gardner, by delivering to and leaving with each of them a true and correct copy thereof.

Dated August 25th, 1893.

By the Court:
[COURT COMMISSIONERS SEAL.] MILTON McFADDEN,
Court Commissioner,
Crow Wing County, Minn.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } District Court,
County of Crow Wing. } 15th Judicial Dist.

In the matter of a petition for a receiver of H. Rosenblatt, under insolvent act.

Upon the affidavit of P. C. Schmidt, one of the attorneys for the petitioners in the above entitled proceeding, it is Ordered, that the order to show cause herein and heretofore issued by said court, dated August 25th, 1893, be served upon said H. Rosenblatt, by publication in the Brainerd Dispatch, a newspaper printed and published in the city of Brainerd, county of Crow Wing, for two (2) successive weeks, together with this order, so modifying said order to show cause.

Dated September 1st, 1893.

By the court,
[COURT COMMISSIONERS SEAL.] MILTON McFADDEN,
Court Commissioner.

(First publication Sept. 8th.)

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of twenty dollars, being the interest from February 8th, 1893, to August 8th, 1893, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Robert Caughie and Abbie C. Caughie, his wife, to Emily H. Lum, bearing date the 8th day of August, A. D. 1892, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, on the 24th day of August, A. D. 1892, at 5:30 o'clock p. m., in book M of mortgages, on page 105, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

Lots number four (4) and five (5), of block number two hundred nineteen (219), in the First addition to the town of Brainerd, according to the plat of said addition of record in the registry of deeds, in Crow Wing county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Brainerd, in said county and state, on the 23d day of October, A. D. 1893, at ten o'clock, a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 4, A. D. 1893.

EMILY H. LUM,
Mortgagee.
LEON E. LUM,
Attorney.

(First publication Aug. 18th).

NOTICE OF FINAL PROOF.

Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 16th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before S. F. Alderman, Clerk of District Court at Brainerd, Minn., on Saturday, September 23d, 1893, viz:

FRANCIS W. BROWN.

H. E. No. 13501 for the se¼ Sec. 30, Twp. 135, Range 27.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of, said land, viz:

John Bubar, John Kruse, William Harman, William D. Merrifield, P. O. address of all Brainerd, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

A. BARTO, Register.

Subscribe for the DISPATCH, $1.50 per year.

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH.

VOLUME 12, NUMBER 43. BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1893. INGERSOLL & WIELAND, PUBLISHERS.

NORTHERN PACIFIC R.R.

IS THE ONLY LINE

Running Through Cars

—TO—

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS, DULUTH and CHICAGO,

—TO—

HELENA, BUTTE, SPOKANE, TACOMA, SEATTLE, PORTLAND

Pullman Sleeping Cars. Elegant Dining Cars —ON ALL— THROUGH TRAINS

LOCAL TIME TABLE.

No. 7 arrives from the South at 11:35 p. m. Departs for the West at 11:40 p. m.

No. 8 leaves for the South at 2:25 a. m.

No. 13 arrives from Duluth at 11:15 p. m., and departs for the west at 11:25.

No. 14 arrives from the West at 7:55 a. m. Departs at 8.15 a. m.

No. 11, Little Falls and Dakota train, arrives at 5:30 p. m.

No. 12, Little Falls and Dakota train, departs at 6:05 a. m., and reaches Little Falls in time to connect with No. 4 there for St. Paul.

No. 54 carries passengers to Aitken, departs at 11:15 p. m.

No. 55 from N. P. Junction arrives at 3:30 p. m. and departs for Staples at 4:30 p. m.

No. 56 arrives from Staples at 10 a. m. Departs for N. P. Junction at 11:10 a. m.

All trains are daily except Brainerd and Morris accommodations and trains 55 and 56.

For Rates, Maps, Time Table or special information, apply to agent Northern Pacific R. R. at Brainerd, or

CHAS. S. FEE,
Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent,
ST. PAUL, MINN.

Wisconsin Central Lines.

(Northern Pacific R. R. Co., Lessee.)

Latest Time Card.

TWO THROUGH TRAINS DAILY.

2.45pm	6.25pm	Lv. - Mpls. Ar	8.40am	5.45pm
1.25pm	7.15pm	Lv. St. Paul Ar	8.00am	5.00pm
0 30am	4.05pm	Lv. Duluth Ar	11.10am	6.50pm
1.45pm	7.05pm	Lv. Ashland Ar	8.05am	3.30pm
7.15am	10.05pm	Ar. Chicago Ar	5.00pm	10.45pm

Tickets sold and baggage checked through to all points in the United States and Canada.

Close connection made in Chicago with all trains going East and South.

For full information apply to your nearest ticket agent or JAS. C. POND,
Gen. Pass. and Tkt. Agt., Chicago, Ill.

N. Schroeder,

—DEALERS IN—

Wines, Liquors, and CIGARS, Imported and Domestic.

Special Attention Given to Orders for Family Use.

Give me a call when in Detroit and I will guarantee good usage.

N. SCHROEDER,
DETROIT, MINN

AGENTS WANTED on salary and commission for the only authorized BIOGRAPHY OF JAMES G. BLAINE, by GAIL HAMILTON, his literary executor, with the co-operation of his family, and for Mr. Blaine's Complete Works, "TWENTY YEARS OF CONGRESS," and his later book, "POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS." One prospectus for these three BEST SELLING books in the market. A. K. P. Jordan of Me., took 112 orders from first 110 calls; agent's profit, $196.50. Mrs. Balard of Ohio, took 15 orders, 13 Seal Russia, in one day; profit, $26.25. E. N. Rice, of Mass., took 27 orders in two days; profit, $47.25. J. Patridge, of Me., took 43 orders from 36 calls; profit, $75.25. E. A. Palmer, of N. D., took 53 orders in 3 days; profit, $98.25. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY given. If you wish to make LARGE MONEY, write immediately for terms to

THE HENRY BILL PUB. CO.,
Norwich, Conn.

HOW A PUZZLE WAS SOLVED.

When you want a certain article, you want the best make of that article, don't you?

But how to determine which make is best is what puzzles you, isn't it?

And when the puzzle is solved for you, by authority which cannot be questioned, you are pleased, aren't you?

And you would like to hear of one puzzle that has been solved for the people of the whole world, wouldn't you?

Well, we will tell you about that very puzzle, and its solution.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889 at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France.

This jury, after exhaustive examinations and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered, the GRAND PRIZE, giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French Government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated M. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the most prized honor of France.

That is how the puzzle of the best sewing machine in the world was fully solved by the most competent authority in the world in favor of the No. 9 and No. 12 Wheeler & Wilson machines.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best, it will be your own fault.

Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine, and if he does not keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue, prices and terms.

Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO.,
185 and 187 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Cures others, will cure you

(First Publication Aug. 18th.)

NOTICE OF FINAL PROOF.

Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 11th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before S. F. Alderman, Clerk of District Court at Brainerd, Minn., on Tuesday, Oct. 3d, 1893, viz:

ANDREW BRAND.

H. E. No. 13557, for the E½ Sw¼, Sw¼ Sw¼, and Lot 5, Sec. 24, Twp. 46, R. 29.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz:

Harry Patterson, Louis Carlson, John Cron, Andrew Hoving, P. O. address of all Deerwood, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

A. BARTO, Register.

(First publication August 11, 1893.)

Notice of Execution Sale.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and now in my hands, issued out of the district court in and for the county of Crow wing and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in said court on the 5th day of May, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m., in favor of H. J. Spencer, executor of the last will and testament of John Theviot, deceased, plaintiff, and against Henry Theviot, Werner Hemstead and Charles Kinkele, defendants, I have levied upon as the property of said defendant Charles Kinkele all those certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots number sixteen (16) and seventeen (17), of block number sixty-seven (67), in the town (now city) of Brainerd, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the registry of deeds in and for said Crow Wing county; and that I have also levied upon as the property of said defendant Werner Hemstead all those certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lots number 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21, of block number 3, in the second addition to the town (now city) of Brainerd; also lot number 4 of block number 28, in the town of West Brainerd (now a part of the city of Brainerd); also all of blocks numbered one (1) to sixteen (16) inclusive, in Syndicate addition to the city of Brainerd, and all according to the plats of said additions and towns on file and of record in the registry of deeds in and for said Crow Wing county; also lot number one (1) of section twenty-seven (27), in township one hundred and thirty-four (134) north, of range twenty-eight (28) west, according to the United States government survey thereof; also that certain tract or parcel of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, described as follows, towit: That tract of land bounded on the east by the east line of Fifth street, produced north to the Mississippi river, on the north by the Mississippi river, on the west by a line fifty (50) feet west of and parallel to the west line of Fifth street produced north to the Mississippi river, and on the south by the north line of Bluff avenue, reference being made to the plat of the town of Brainerd of record in the registry of deeds of said Crow Wing county; and that I shall on Saturday, the 30th day of September, 1893, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the county court house, in the city of Brainerd, in said Crow Wing county, offer for sale and will sell the above described real property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to the sum of $2,012 60, with legal interest thereon from May 5th, 1891, together with $1.20, costs of execution, with all accruing costs of sale, to the highest bidder therefor for cash.

HENRY SPALDING,
Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minnesota,
By J. W. SLIPP, Deputy.

HENRY JOHNS,
St. Paul, Minn.,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } District Court
County of Crow Wing. } 15th Judicial District

W. A. Fleming, as receiver of the Mississippi Water Power and Boom Company, an insolvent corporation, plaintiff,

Against

John N. Nevers, as receiver of the Brainerd Water Power Company, a corporation, The St. Paul Title Insurance and Trust Company, a corporation, The Central Trust Company, a corporation, The Brainerd Water Power Company, a corporation, and Arletta H. Fennesey, Ambrose Tighe, Andrew L. Fennesey, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants:

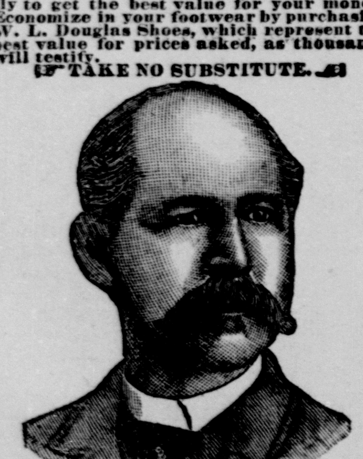

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the above entitled action, on file in the office of the clerk of said court at his office in the city of Brainerd, in said county, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscriber at his office in the city of Brainerd, in said county, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said summons within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated August 10th, 1893.

W. A. FLEMING,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
In pro. per. Brainerd, Minn.

IT IS A DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value for prices asked, as thousands will testify.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY.

A genuine sewed shoe, that will not rip, fine calf, seamless, smooth inside, flexible, more comfortable, stylish and durable than any other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $5.

$4 and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, easy and durable shoes ever sold at the price. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $8 to $12.

$3.50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

$2.50 Fine Calf, $2.25 and $2.00 Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

Boys' $2.00 and Youths' $1.75 School Shoes are worn by the boys everywhere. The most serviceable shoes sold at the prices.

Ladies' $3.00 Hand-sewed, $2.50, $2.00 and $1.75 Shoes for Misses are made of the best Dongola or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3.00 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4.00 to $6.00. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwear are finding this out.

Caution.—W. L. Douglas' name and the price is stamped on the bottom of each shoe; look for it when you buy. Beware of dealers attempting to substitute other makes for them. Such substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass. Sold by

A NEW postoffice has been established at Deer River, in Itasca county.

THE wheat crop of Minnesota and the Dakotas is estimated at over a hundred million bushels this year.

ON account of the Brazilian trouble coffee in New York market advanced from 5 to 20 points yesterday.

THE papers say that Ruth and Papa Cleveland are doing finely since the advent of the baby girl at the White House on Saturday last.

IT is not known whether the world's fair management will ever untangle itself from the Sunday opening matter. The general public are doing the fair and the management are supposed to take care of themselves.

THE sum of $600 was stolen from the pocket of a woman in Chicago who had worked her way into a crowd where free bread was being distributed to the poor. It would have been cheaper for her to have bought a loaf.

AITKIN democrats held an election on Saturday for the purpose of ascertaining who should be their coming postmaster, and Allison Willber received 64 votes to W. B. Gwathney's 31. The dark horse hasn't put in an appearance as yet.

THE papers state that Representative J. M. Markham, of Aitkin, who was indited by the grand jury of Hennepin county for soliciting a bribe, has been making a strong effort to have his case tried elsewhere, but Judge Ganty has declined to grant a change.

AN Illinois man has been appointed to succeed Maj. C. A. Ruffee as agent at the White Earth Indian agency. It was expected that a democrat would get the position, but it was also expected that there were democrats enough in Minnesota to pick from without going to Illinois for one.

THE farmers and butter makers in the southeastern part of this state have been bled to the tune of $1,000 or more by the sale of a receipt showing how to make three pounds of butter out of two pounds of butter and two pounds of milk. It is an old "fake." It is impossible to get out of milk something that never was in it.—St. Peter Tribune.

AN exchange clips the following from the Leavenworth Post and it is unnecessary to state that the past and present is fairly sized up by it:

Last fall the Democratic workingmen sang merrily as he went about his work:

Grover!
Grover!
Four more years of Grover,
In he goes,
Out they go.
Then we'll be in clover!

Now he is wandering up and down the earth hunting a job, and he sings dolefully:

Rover!
Rover!
Four years more a rover
In he went,
Out I went,
I'm no more in clover!

Result of Tariff Tinkering.

A telegram from Springfield, Mass., gives the following, which is a notice that has been posted of a universal cut down in the wages of all the employes of Smith & Wesson, the revolver manufacturers.

"In view of the proble reduction to be made on the tariff in the near future and the consequent increased competition, we do not deem it advisable to increase our stock of goods at the present cost. We therefore give notice that on the first day of October there will be a uniform reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of all our employes, including piece work, except those who are drawing $1.50 per day or less, and those with whom we have contracts. It is hoped that as a rule the change will be but temporary, but so much depends upon circumstances and conditions that no possible assurance can now be given."

Agent Ruffee Secured Settlement.

The Minneapolis Tribune says that Maj. Chas. A. Ruffee, of the White Earth Indian agency, is in that city. He has just been notified of his retirement as agent and that he has been succeeded by T. W. Allen. The Major's term as Indian agent was short and sweet. He was appointed nearly a year ago, to succeed Capt. B. P. Shuler, of this city, but the appointment was hung up for some months by a futile effort to defeat him by means of some old charges raked up in the department. Finally the Major was confirmed and installed, and had just got his agency into running order when he was removed to make room for a democrat. Short as was the term, however, Ruffee secured a settlement with the department of accounts that had been held up for something like 20 years, ever since he was agent of the Chippewas, when the agency was at the historic place of Crow Wing, since destroyed.

"Useful Information"

Is a heading much resorted to by "retired physicians" and people whose "sands of life have nearly run out." The publishers of our stanard dictionaries or encyclopedias tell the pure truth when they offer their works as "mines of useful information;" and in the same class are reliable and first class railroads like the Burlington Route. When this road offers to give you, free of charge, "useful information" about ways and means of safe, swift and comfortable railway travel you may place entire confidence in what is told you. They have no disposition to deceive you, and if they had are too shrewd not to know that "honesty is the best policy," Therefore, before taking a trip anywhere, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent St. Paul, Minn., and learn what are the advantages of "The Burlington" as a route.

Jackson's Probable Fate.

What is likely to be Jackson's punishment now that he has confessed to the murder of Peck, is a question often asked since the DISPATCH made Jackson's confession public.

We find the following provisions of the penal code relating to murder and its punishment:

Homicide is defined to be the killing of a human being by the act, procurement or omission of another, and is either murder, manslaughter, excusable or justifiable homicide. Murder in the first degree is the killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, when perpetrated with a premeditated design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another. Such killing of a human being is murder in the second degree, when committed with a design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another, but without deliberation or premeditation. It is unnecessary to quote further as Jackson's crime is either one or the other of the above.

The punishment for murder in the first degree is death, unless the court shall certify of record its opinion that by reason of exceptional circumstances the case is not one in which the death penalty should be imposed, in which case the punishment shall be imprisonment for life in the State Prison. The punishment for murder in the second degree is imprisonment for life.

If Jackson is permitted to plead guilty to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree, or if he is tried and found guilty of the crime, and the court can, or does, certify that there are exceptional circumstances in the case, etc., he may escape with a life sentence. But it may be difficult to find any mitigating circumstances in such a cowardly murder, so coolly planned and deliberately executed. Jackson's statement that he did not mean to kill was probably the thought of another for the purpose of claiming that the killing was not premeditated and designed, and was therefore, only murder in the second degree.

Don't Want to Go.

An impromptu conference was held at the Nicollet house Minneapolis Tuesday, says the Journal of that city, between Messrs. Campbell and Flint, of the Northwest Indian Commission, and Chiefs Moos-o-maw-nay, Ain-dus-o-che-sing and Be-tud-anse, of the Mille Lacers, John Merrill being present as interpreter. The subject under discussion was the removal of the Chippeways from Mille Lacs to the White Earth reservation, where the United States promises each a home, 80 acres of land, a good house with clothing and provisions for a year, schools for their children, a doctor for sickness and whatever church they desire. About 200 of the Indians have already gone, together with three chiefs, but there are 300 still left at Mille Lacs. If these could be disposed of, the Mille Lacs reservation would be opened for actual settlement. A good many white men are now on the reservation, having got in at different times and under different pretexts. The commissioner explained the position of the United States to the chiefs and they in turn told their grievances to the commissioners. It is not probable that they will be willing to move from their present location.

Consolidated Land Offices.

A Washington special says: The action of the president today in confirming the recommendation of Secretary Smith and Commissioner Lamoreaux consolidating the Taylor's Falls with the St. Cloud land office was a surprise to nearly all the Minnesota members, as it was expected that the objection made would cause the president to take a different course. The Taylor's Falls district still has over 100,000 acres of unoccupied government land and while at present far from active there is a prospect of an early change in that quarter of the state. By this consolidation the St. Cloud office is made a rival of the Duluth office. It leaves out Ed C. Gottory, of the Pine City Pioneer, present register, and John Walfried, the receiver. Col. W. H. Folsom, the veteran democrat of Taylor's Falls, was booked for Gottry's place, and his papers are in. It is now expected that the changes at St. Cloud, Marshall, Duluth and Crookston will be made in a few days.

An Open Confession.

The following good story concerning a farmer living not fifty miles from LaCrosse is authenticated. He drove into town the other day with a load of fourteen cent wool, and to a crowd on the corner he explained his method of shearing sheep this year. It has always been his custom to begin at the head and shear backward but of late he had reversed the operation, begining at the rear and working forward. On being asked his reason for the change he replied that he had made such an all around fool of himself by voting for Cleveland that he was ashamed to look a sheep in the face.—Anoka Union.

Salvation Army Troubles.

Capt. Fallon, Salvation Army, recently telegraphed Gov. Peck, stating that the army was not protected in Eau Claire in its street parades, and demanding protection from the state. Fallon yesterday called at the residence of Capt. Beisang, commanding a company of the Third infantry, to inquire whether he had been ordered to turn out his company. These facts came out today and caused a sensation as the police expects to arrest all the army in a day or two for pounding drums in the streets.—Eau Claire Telegram.

Big Verdict.

Alexandria McKillop was given a verdict at Duluth yesterday for $7,500 against the street railway company. McKillop lost a leg by being run over by a car.

Where is Little Falls Now?

The Brainerd base ball club, through E. C. Gates, manager, has issued a challenge to any club in the state to play for from $100 to $200 a side and the championship, the best two out of three games.

From the Staples World.

Engineer and Mrs. R. Arundel spent a few days visiting relatives at Brainerd the first of the week.

Mrs. Kate Closterman has invited a few young people to attend a birthday party, to be given in honor of her son Roland next Wednesday evening.

Last Saturday morning fire caught in the Northern Pacific wood yard at this place, but was discovered and extinguished before any damage was done. Had it got a good start it is probable that several thousand cords of wood and a number of houses in that part of town would have been ash heaps today.

Taken Up.

The undersigned has taken up a small red cow and she is now in the pound in the town of Oak Lawn, and has been since Friday last. The owner is requested to call, pay charges and take her away.

Also a red and white cow.

JOHN CAMERON.

Brainerd, August 23, 1893.

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

How the Enormous Pressure of the Sea Water Affects Sunken Objects.

An extraordinary circumstance that has been noticed with interest, and that always creates surprise when first learned, is the entire absence of foreign matter in the deeper part of the ocean's floor. Of all the vessels lost in midocean, of all the human beings that have been drowned, of all the marine animals that have perished, of all the clay, sand and gravel let fall by dissolving icebergs, of all the various substances drifted from every shore by shifting currents, not a trace remains, but in their place water from 1,000 to 2,500 fathoms in depth covers the uniform deposit of thick, bluish, tenacious slime called globigerina ooze.

A bit of this under a powerful lens is a revelation of beauty not readily forgotten. The ooze is composed almost entirely of the daintiest, most delicately beautiful shells imaginable. At depths greater than 2,500 fathoms the bottom of the sea consists mainly of products arising from exposure for almost incalculable periods to the chemical action of sea water, of pum ice and other volcanic matters. This finally results in the formation of the red clay deposits that are considered characteristic of the profoundest depths of the ocean.

Carbonate of lime, which in the form of the shells of foraminifera, makes up so large a part of the globigerina ooze, is here almost entirely absent. Sea water is very nearly a universal solvent, and before any shell, large or small, reaches the bottom of these tremendous abysms it is chemically eaten up, literally dissolved—a result which the enormous pressure of the water must materially hasten.

At 1,000 fathoms the weight of the water pressing on all sides of an object immersed to that depth is very nearly one ton to the square inch, or more than 100 times that sustained at the sea level, and at the greatest depths the pressure is so increased that it would seem nothing could withstand it, in fact, heavy metal cylinders let down with the sounding apparatus are sometimes, on being drawn up again to the surface, found bent and collapsed. Strongly made glass vessels which the metal inclosed are shattered into fragments. —Cosmopolitan.

The Paradise Craze.

"The most beautiful country I ever saw was under the water," said Captain Ezra Whipple, who formerly sailed the salt seas, but now has his stateroom at the Southern. "Coming from Kingston en route to Baltimore, in 1867, I collided off the coast of Cuba with a Dutch three master. A hasty examination was made by the carpenter, who reported slight damage, and we kept on our way. The Dutch vessel had no more than got out of sight when my ship began to fill, and we soon had to desert her and take to the open boats. The sun beat down upon us with terrific force and I became a victim of that peculiar hallucination called by the sailors 'paradise craze.'

"The sea appeared to be transformed into a mighty meadow, bright with flowers and musical with song of birds. Cool springs burst from crystal rocks and trickled over golden sands, and men and maidens danced beneath the trees. They seemed beckoning me to join them, and I plunged over the side of the boat into forty fathoms of brine. The bath brought me to my senses, and I reached the Cuban coast more dead than alive. The mania is of frequent occurrence in tropical seas and is often referred to by the poets. It may be that to this species of madness the old Greeks were indebted for those beautiful fancies of gods and goddesses reigning in regal splendor beneath the ocean's brine."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Story of Hard Luck.

"The latest 'hard luck' story that I have heard," said a racing man in an up town cafe the other evening, "is that of a young man who went to the track and lost $180. He had ten dollars left. He liked a 20 to 1 chance in the last race. He went into the betting ring, got into a crowd at a bookmaker's stand and was holding his ten dollar note high in the air when the wind caught it and blew it away. His horse won in a canter." —New York Times.

Prolific Fish.

No wonder the fish crop is never "short." The flounder lays 7,000,000 eggs annually; several others from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000, while the turbot is credited with depositing from 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 during each breeding season.—Exchange.

Government Enterprise.

A hundred years ago an inventive English nobleman declared that it was possible to make a ship move by the aid of "steam," without "masts or sails," and having spent as much as he was prepared to afford on repeated costly plans craved some assistance from the state. Of course the department (being a wet blanket) stringently tied up its loan, but having become persuaded by the result of his experiments that he had hope of success it undertook to build a small vessel for the would be inventor, to be navigated "by the steam engine," on the condition that if it failed "all the expense should be made good by him."

This generous enterprise of Lord Stanhope was highly lauded at the time, the popular verdict being thus expressed, "If it answer, the advantage to the public, particularly in inland navigation, will be immense."

In this case the recognition of a pioneer's possible "usefulness" was exceptionably favorable. – Cornhill Magazine.

Familiar Extravagance.

"It is a peculiar fact," observed a cashier of a popular restaurant, "that most people help themselves to half a dozen toothpicks after each meal, when each individual among them must know, if he thinks about it, that he won't more than half use one of them. But with most of them it is merely a matter of habit. They fell into it originally, I suppose, by yielding to the idea that it is true economy to help yourself liberally to what doesn't cost anything. I often wonder what they do with all the toothpicks they take away. Some people contract a habit of chewing toothpicks. It would be far better for them if they chewed tobacco or even gum, for the fiber of the wood often lodges in the throat or gets into some piece of internal machinery, where it plays the mischief."—New York Herald.

Head a Little Gray, but Heart All Right.

"Jason," said Mrs. Calliper to her husband as they were riding home from the theater, "what should you say of a man of middle age and with a gray mustache who wept over the troubles of the people in the play?"

"Why," said Colonel Calliper, "I should say that whatever his years might be God had blessed him with a young heart."

"And I am sure," said Mrs. Calliper as she looked the colonel square in the eye, "that he is duly grateful for it."—New York Sun.

Chinese In Mourning.

When a Chinese emperor dies, the intelligence is announced by dispatches to the several provinces, written with blue ink, the mourning color. All persons of rank are required to take red silk ornaments from their caps with the ball or button of rank; all subjects of China, without exception, are called upon to forbear shaving their heads for 100 days, within which period none may marry, play upon musical instruments or perform any sacrifice.—Exchange.

Zola and the Late Emperor.

M. Zola, in The Figaro, in reply to some critics, insists that the emperor rouged his cheeks at Sedan. The emperor's friends, he says, have talked as if to have done so would have been humiliating—"the role of a buffoon." "On the contrary, this seems to me a great mistake. I find the act superb—worthy of a hero of a Shakespearean play, heightening the figure of Napoleon III to a tragic melancholy of an infinite grandeur." That is a characteristically French exaggeration. We presume M. Zola means that it was noble of the emperor to take the trouble to conceal from his troops his desperate physical weakness. But even granted that it was a prudent thing not to show a cheek of ghastly pallor, we fail to see that it was heroic.—London Spectator.

A True Woman.

I searched the world in every zone
And laid at my love's feet
All diamonds that were ever known
In one vast heap—complete.

But when she viewed the gems she sighed
And kicked them harum scarum.
"Now that I own them all," she cried,
"I do not want to wear 'em."
—Brooklyn Life.

L. P. WHITE, Jr.

Real Estate Agent.

Improved and Unimproved Property

FOR SALE,

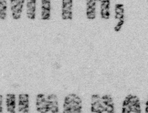

In various parts of the City.

HOUSES for SALE.

PROTECT YOURSELF

—BY—

A Policy on Your

—FROM—

J. R. SMITH,

Fire Insurance,

[None but reliable companies represented.]

Real Estate,

RENTS & COLLECTIONS.

Room 4, Sleeper Block. - Brainerd

Professional Cards.

McCLENAHAN & MANTOR
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Office, Rooms 1 and 2, Bank Block,
BRAINERD, MINN.

W. A. FLEMING,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office: Room 8, Bank Block.
BRAINERD - - - MINN.

J. H. WARNER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Room 5, Hartley Block.

R. K. WHITELEY,
CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.
Office Room 11, Bank Block.
BRAINERD .... MINN.

DR. H. RIBBEL,
DENTIST
Rooms 3 and 4 over Bank Block.
BRAINERD, - - MINN

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Fall Term Commences

Monday Sept. 4.

DAY AND EVENING SESSIONS.

Commercial, Stenographic and Common School Courses.

Evening School:

Mon's, Tues', Thurs' and Fridays.

A liberal discount given pupils who enter during first week of term. Write for Catalogue.

J. F. GERRITY.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Of Brainerd, Minn.

A. F. FERRIS, President.
LEON E. LUM, Vice President,
G. D. LABAR, Cashier.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, - $200,000

Paid up Capital, - - $50,000.
Surplus, - - - - $30,000.

Business accounts invited.

SNOW & SNOW.

We would be glad to tell you how to save your money and make it earn you good pay if you will call.

Do you know that your house is liable to burn? We would like to pay you for it if it should.

We will attend to any legitimate and honorable business for you, if you will pay us. See?

Room 11, Bank Block.

AT COST,

—AT—

McCOLL'S

HAMMOCKS and CROQUET SETS.

4 Ball Sets	- -	65 Cents
8 Ball Sets	- - -	82 Cents
6 Ball Sets	- -	76 Cents

Hammocks as low as 50 and 75c each.

McColl's Post-Office Store.

CALL AT

The Dispatch!

FOR JOB WORK.

All Work Guaranteed.

Something Good In Silverware;

we don't mean choice cakes or fruits, but the ware to hold them, all in solid silver, rich, elegant and beautiful. The whole range of table silver is here, including knives, forks, spoons, sugar bowls, water sets, etc., all in the most tasteful, novel and artistic designs. Silverware is costly because somewhat high in price, and cheap because you buy it for a lifetime. What wears so long should be bought with judgement and care. The fall in the value of silver places solid ware within the reach of all. We have a full line.

WM. M. DRESSKELL,
Jeweler.

JAS. H. KELEHAN

—Dealer in—

WINES, LIQUORS & CIGARS,

Cor sixth and Laurel.

We keep nothing but the finest goods and Guarantee Satisfaction.

Drop in any time as we will make it pleasant for you.

- - - JAS. H. KELEHAN.

Ripans Tabules.

Ripans Tabules are compounded from a prescription widely used by the best medical authorities and are presented in a form that is becoming the fashion everywhere.

Ripans Tabules act gently but promptly upon the liver stomach and intestines; cure dyspepsia, habitual constipation, offensive breath and headache. One tabule taken at the first symptom of indigestion, biliousness, dizziness, distress after eating, or depression of spirits, will surely and quickly remove the whole difficulty.

Ripans Tabules may be obtained of nearest druggist.

Ripans Tabules are easy to take, quick to act, and save many a doctor's bill.

BUY YOUR BREAD OF THE EAST BRAINERD BAKERY, AND Enjoy Life During Hot Weather.

GOODS FIRST-CLASS.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Goods Delivered TO ANY PART OF THE CITY.

D. MAHONEY, PROP.

L. W. CHASE,
PROPRIETOR

The Bodega.

Sleeper Block, Front Street.

Finest in all Points of any Saloon in the Northwest.

IMPORTED— WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.

BILLIARD AND POOL PARLOR

In Connection.

COME IN AND SEE US.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution, issued out of the district court for the Fifteenth judicial district in and for the county of Crow Wing, and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment issued and docketed in said court, on the 10th day of September, A. D. 1892, in a certain action wherein Clarissa A. Coon is plaintiff, and C. J. Veon and Andrew E. Veon are defendants, in favor of said plaintiff, and against said defendants, for the sum of one hundred and ninety-five dollars and forty cents ($195.40), I have, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1893, levied upon all the right, title and interest of the said defendants, and of each of them, to the following described tracts or parcels of land, lying and being in said county of Crow Wing: Lots numbered thirteen (13), fourteen (14), fifteen (15) and sixteen (16), in block numbered one hundred and fifty-seven (157), in the First addition to the town (now part of the city) of Brainerd, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds of said county. Also lots numbered one (1), two (2), three (3) and four (4), in block number one (1), in White's addition to the city of Brainerd according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the said office of the register of deeds of said county of Crow Wing.

And will sell the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said execution and costs, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Brainerd, in the county and state aforesaid, on Saturday the 30th day of September, A. D. 1893, at two o'clock p. m., of that day.

Dated, Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 16, A. D. 1893.

HENRY SPALDING,
Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minn.

W. A. FLEMING,
Plaintiff's Attorney, Brainerd, Minn.

(First publication August 25.)

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage made and executed by Lorenzo Coleman and Julia Coleman, his wife, mortgagors, unto Emma A. Day, mortgagee, dated on the 25th day of April, 1890, and recorded in the office of register of deeds of Crow Wing county, state of Minnesota, on the 29th day of April, 1890, at 3 o'clock p. m., in book "E" of mortgages, on page 275; which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Emma A. Day, mortgagee, to Hiram Gilson by written assignment dated the 20th day of October 1892, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds, in and for said county and state, on the 24th day of October, 1892, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book "K" of mortgages, on page 261; which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of $300.00 due in one year from April 25th, 1890, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum until paid; and default has been made in the payment of said principal sum with the interest thereon from the date of said note; and there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon said mortgage and the debt secured thereby, including interest the sum of three hundred and seventy-nine and thirteen one hundredths ($379.13) dollars, and no proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter (se¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) of section twenty-five (25), township forty-three (43), range thirty-two (32), and the southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northwest quarter (nw¼) of section thirty (30), township forty-three (43), range thirty-one (31), all according to U. S. government survey thereof, in Crow Wing county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Crow Wing county, at the front door of the court house in the city of Brainerd, in said county and state on the 10th day of October, 1893, at ten (10) o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and twenty-five ($25) dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Aug. 12th, A. D. 1893.

HIRAM GILSON,
Assignee of Mortgagee.

F. H. CASTNER,
Att'y for Assignee of Mortgagee.

Notice.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, ST. CLOUD, MINN., August 10, 1893.

Complaint having been entered at this office by William F. Fox against Frank Schermerhorn for abandoning his Homestead Entry No. 15578, dated February 24th, 1892, upon lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, section 32, township 135, range 29, in Cass county, Minn., with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at Brainerd, Minn, before the Clerk of the District Court on the 15th day of Sept., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. to respond and furnish testimony concerning said alleged abandonment.

A. BARTO, Register.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, ST. CLOUD, MINN., August 10, 1893.

Further notice is hereby given that a hearing will be had at this office, on the 22d day of Sept., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m., when the testimony taken as ordered herein, will be examined and a decision rendered thereupon.

A. BARTO, Register.

(First publication Sept. 8th.)

Order to Show Cause.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } District Court.
County of Crow Wing. } 15th Judicial Dist.

In the matter of the petition for a receiver of H. Rosenblatt under insolvent act.

On reading and filing the petition of the Duluth Dry Goods Company hereto attached and made a part hereof, let said H. Rosenblatt and James S. Gardner and Henry Spalding show cause before the court, at the next general term thereof, to be held at the court house in the city of Brainerd, in said county, on the 18th day of September, 1893, at the opening of the court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

Why said H. Rosenblatt should not be declared and adjudged to be insolvent and a receiver be appointed to take possesson of all of his property and estate not exempt by law from seizure and sale on execution; that the same may be distributed according to law and for such other and further relief as may be necessary and proper.

It is further ordered that said James S. Gardner and H. Rosenblatt at the same time and place personally appear and under oath make a full and complete disclosure relative to the indebtedness upon which that certain judgment was recovered, entered and docketed in the office of the clerk of said court on the 5th day of July, 1893, wherein said Gardner was plaintiff and said Rosenblatt was defendant, and make a full and complete disclosure of the manner in which said judgment was recovered, and the consideration for which said notes were made, executed and delivered to said Gardner, and all of the circumstances and facts connected with said judgment and the alleged indebtedness therein contained.

It is further ordered that said Henry Spalding, as sheriff of said Crow Wing county, and said Gardner, their agents, attorneys and servants, be and the same hereby are enjoined and restrained from selling or disposing of any part or portion of the property levied upon, under and by virtue of the execution issued out of and under the seal of said court in said action upon said judgment, except that said sheriff hold and safely keep in his possession all of said property until the further order of the court, and said Rosenblatt is enjoined from selling or disposing of any of his property, let this order and this petition be forthwith served upon said H. Rosenblatt, if founded within said county of Crow Wing, upon Henry Spalding, said sheriff, and James S. Gardner, by delivering to and leaving with each of them a true and correct copy thereof.

Dated August 25th, 1893.

By the Court:

[COURT COMMISSIONERS SEAL.] MILTON McFADDEN,
Court Commissioner,
Crow Wing County, Minn.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } District Court,
County of Crow Wing. } 15th Judicial Dist.

In the matter of a petition for a receiver of H. Rosenblatt, under insolvent act.

Upon the affidavit of P. C. Schmidt, one of the attorneys for the petitioners in the above entitled proceeding, it is Ordered, that the order to show cause herein and heretofore issued by said court, dated August 25th, 1893, be served upon said H. Rosenblatt, by publication in the Brainerd Dispatch, a newspaper printed and published in the city of Brainerd, county of Crow Wing, for two (2) successive weeks, together with this order, so modifying said order to show cause.

Dated September 1st, 1893.

By the court,

[COURT COMMISSIONERS SEAL.] MILTON McFADDEN,
Court Commissioner.

[First publication Sept. 8th.]

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of twenty dollars, being the interest from February 8th, 1893, to August 8th, 1893, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Robert Caughie and Abbie C. Caughie, his wife, to Emily H. Lum, bearing date the 8th day of August, A. D. 1892, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, on the 24th day of August, A. D. 1892, at 5:30 o'clock p. m., in book J of mortgages, on page 105, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

Lots number four (4) and five (5), of block number two hundred nineteen (219), in the First addition to the town of Brainerd, according to the plat of said addition of record in the registry of deeds, in Crow Wing county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Brainerd, in said county and state, on the 23d day of October, A. D. 1893, at ten o'clock, a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 4, A. D. 1893.

EMILY H. LUM,
Mortgagee.

LEON E. LUM,
Attorney.

(First publication Aug. 18th).

NOTICE OF FINAL PROOF.

Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 16th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before S. F. Alderman, Clerk of District Court at Brainerd, Minn., on Saturday, September 23d, 1893, viz:

FRANCIS W. BROWN.

H. E. No. 13501 for the se¼ Sec. 30, Twp. 135, Range 27.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of, said land, viz:

John Bubar, John Kruse, William Harman, William D. Merrifield, P. O. address of all Brainerd, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

A. BARTO, Register.

Subscribe for the DISPATCH, $1.50 per year.

Brainerd Dispatch.

INGERSOLL & WIELAND, Publishers

BRAINERD, - - - MINN.

The richest prize ever carried off by the winner of the Derby stakes was over £7,000. This fell to Sir Bevys in 1879, when there were 278 subscribers.

Safety lamps, for the use of miners, were patented in 1815. Now no mine is without them, and many laws have been passed requiring their use in all underground mining operations.

Electrotyping was first done in 1837, and was considered a triumph of chemical and mechanical skill, requiring the utmost nicety for its execution. Now it is done in every printing house.

By the tenth census 23,010,000 inhabitants of the United States were supported by agriculture, 11,520,000 by manufactures and 15,620,000 by commerce.

Half a century hence the successful victim of a civil service examination in the year 1893 may get an office—if he is an unusually lucky man and gifted with uncommon vitality.

Emperor William has been stirring up the French again by making the biggest kind of a military display at Metz on the anniversary of the battle. That man is surely looking for trouble.

The money value of the alcoholic drinks consumed by the Belgians in the year 1891 amounted to nearly 450,000,000 francs, which is about a third part of the whole average wages of the workers.

Sir John Lubbock says that "during the many years he has had ants under observation, he has never on any occasion seen anything like a quarrel between any two ants belonging to the same community."

The New York workingmen are to be congratulated upon the refusal of the anarchists to participate in the Labor day parade. And the anarchists were perfectly consistent, for if there is anything on earth they have no sympathy for it is labor.

Mr. Geary is not saying a word about that exclusion and deportation law of his. Under its operation just one Chinaman has been sent home, while about 150,000 are staying right here in the United States and attending to their knitting.

The three suspicious characters in European politics are shaking their fists at each other again. If Russia, Italy and Germany all get mad at once there will be trouble abroad, but a rise in wheat here at home. It's an ill wind, etc.

London bought $1,000,000 worth of Boston municipal bonds in one bundle the other day. The world can't get along without American securities and they are again going abroad in large quantities, the Boston purchase being only a specimen brick.

The shark manifests a distinct choice for people of certain races, and will eat an Asiatic in preference to a negro, and a European rather than either.

Two signs in Wall street, New York, bear these inscriptions: "Spring lamb (very scarce on Wall street now), with mint sauce (scarcer)." "Cigars for broke brokers, five for 25 cents."

Gov. Thornton, recently appointed governor of New Mexico, and his wife have just celebrated their silver wedding at their home in Santa Fe, an old adobe dwelling of one story. It was a genuine Mexican out-of-door festival. In a state where the people were more up to snuff there would be nothing at all said about the adobe house. The celebration would have been held in marble halls or nowhere.

When the prairie traveler sees before him a wall of mountains veiled in the hazy blue of the distance he wonders how he is to climb them. He approaches and the seeming mountains vanish into gentle slopes of upland. That is the way with the difficulties which have seemed to confront the business enterprises of the country. They look nearly insurmountable until they are reached. They disappear before the patient and resolute march of industry and energy. The touch of faith moves mountains from its path.

The Clover Hay Worm.

The farmer who finds in his mow the webs of the clover hay worm should read and act upon the advice of Prof. Osborn, of the Iowa Agricultural College, who says: "Where these webs are found I would advise a thorough cleaning out of the infested mow and burning of all the webbed and worthless hay containing the worms. Otherwise there will be developed an enormous number of moths to lay eggs in the coming season's crop of hay and the probability of worse damage another year than has occurred heretofore.

"It is exactly under such conditions, the holding over of masses of infested hay, that the worms find the best opportunity for increase, and, while it may involve some labor and apparent loss at the time, it may be considered as next to throwing hay away to store it over a mass of hay previously infested, except that the upper portion will probably escape any serious damage.

"It is possible that worms could be killed by use of bisulphide of carbon without removing the hay, but I hesitate to recommend it, as I know of no case where it has been used for this pest and because of the danger connected with its use, especially in a barn where lanterns may be brought, making possible the ignition of the fumes."

Queen Victoria's Sight Declining.

Her majesty's eyesight is failing, and the royal oculist has frequently to be called into requisition. Her majesty has now to use very powerful spectacles when it is necessary for her to sign state documents. Blindness is hereditary in the family, for George III. suffered from it, but in his case it was supposed to have been brought on by excessive smoking. Shortness of sight seems to have suddenly affected many of the ladies and gentlemen of the court, who are now mostly armed with spectacles and eye glasses. This is carrying sycophancy to an absurd degree, but such it is, and it is now quite the proper thing for a woman of the bed chamber or a pretty maid of honor to adjust her pincenez whilst conversing within or without the charmed circle.

Teething is an important crisis in the life of lion cubs, and a large number of the young die during that period.

The Bombay university has eighteen magnificent buildings, erected by some of the successful native speculators in 1864.

THE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

DIGEST OF THE NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

All Important Occurrences of the Past Week, Boiled Down and Arranged for Rapid Reading, From Home and Abroad.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

The cruiser Atlanta will be rebuilt, it is reported. Her condition has been the cause of scandal in naval circles.

Thus far in the special session of congress the president has sent 396 nominations to the senate. Confirmations, 116.

Salt water mariners will apply to congress for the same weather signal service that is now furnished to the interior.

Speculators have conspired to defraud the government out of the Cherokee strip land by falsifying the allotments.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

George A. Thomas, president of the Thomas-Albright Co, of Goshen, Ind., died of consumption.

James A. Norton, ex-railway commissioner of Ohio, is lying dangerously ill at his home in Tiffin.

Mrs Lavina Fillmore, a relative of President Fillmore and the oldest person in New York state, died at Clarence, near Buffalo, aged 106 years.

Senator Proctor is soon to begin the erection of a fine house in Washington, at Vermont avenue and W street. The stone for it will be sent from Senator Proctor's quarries in Vermont.

Prince Bismarck's condition is much better. For a week or more Bismarck's condition caused great anxiety to his friends, but now he is regarded as out of danger.

Labouchere has for many years set aside a part of the profits of London Truth as a sinking fund for the defense of libel suits, and it is said to amount to something like $300,000.

Ballard Smith, the well-known New York newspaper man, who for a time was editor of the World, has married a rich English girl and will forsake his profession and his country and become a resident of England.

George Bonner, a Georgia farmer, who died the other day at the age of 87 years, was the father of twenty-three children, all by one mother, and as they grew up and married all settled on farms adjoining his own.

The yacht Osborne, with the princess of Wales and her daughters on board, arrived at Copenhagen recently. The czar and czarina of Russia and other royal personages welcomed them at the landing station. The party were driven to the castle at Fredricksberg.

CASUALTIES.

Miss Minnie Bruck was killed in a runaway accident at Peru, Ind.

Three men were seriously injured in a street car accident in Cincinnati caused by a defectve brake.

The buildings and fence of the Kankakee Driving Park association were destroyed by fire.

Fire at Albany, Ind., destroyed the business part of the town, causing a loss of $25,000.

Forest fires have caused great loss in Indiana in the vicinity of Hammond.

Frank S. Story, a New York lawyer, died in St. Louis from the effects of drugs and liquor.

Francis Nolan of Brooklyn, on his way to the world's fair, fell from a train at Erie, Pa., and was killed.

Two men were killed and a dozen persons hurt by a Burlington train falling through a trestle at Streator.

Rudolph Kouth, aged fifteen years, drowned in Portage lake while bathing with two other boys. He could not swim.

Mistaking Stephen Shea, a neighboring farmer, for a marauder, Frank Holway shot him in the head near Sedalia, Mo. Shea may live.

Several vessels were wrecked, many houses destroyed and five persons were killed by a hurricane in the Azore islands.

The remains of a man supposed to be John A. Severing of Philadelphia, Pa., were found in Forest Park, St. Louis. Death had resulted from a pistol shot.

Mrs. Moody, seventy years old, was killed at Oskaloosa, Iowa, by a train. She was walking on the track, and, being deaf, did not hear the approach of the train.

A party of seven persons—two ladies and two gentlemen and three children—left Haverhill, Mass., in the yacht Daisy for Portland. They have been missing a week and it is feared they are lost.

David Newman of Lincoln, Neb., was killed at Mendota, Ill., while attempting to board a moving train. His widow is a sister of John M. Thurston of Omaha.

Dr. Walter S. Webb's steam yacht Elfrida blew out her boiler near Plattsville, N. Y., badly scalding two of the crew. Peter Mott, chief engineer, is scalded about the face and body and is in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kniper of Grand Rapids, Mich., were drowned by the capsizing of their boat while fishing in Pine Island lake. Albert Reidborg and wife, who were with them, were rescued in an unconscious condition.

Mrs. Maud Neish died at Osceola, Iowa, of arsenical poison. She had taken an extra dose for the purpose of heightening her beauty at her approaching wedding. She had been accustomed to use it in small quantities for that purpose.

The superstructure of the McLean County Coal company's shaft in Bloomington, Ill., including the gigantic coal breaker and screens, was destroyed by fire. It originated in the coal chutes of the Alton road. Loss, $100,000 to the coal company and $50,000 to the Alton. Vice President Stevenson is president of the coal company.

SINS AND SINNERS.

Mrs. Anna Rodaska committed suicide at Peoria, Ill., by taking arsenic.

Harrisburg, Pa., firebugs confess to setting fire to eight places within a year, entailing a loss of $30,000.

Arrested for misdemeanor at Sedalia, Charles Hill was found to be wanted in Kansas for stealing cattle.

Five persons were killed in a general fight at Patos, Mex., growing out of a dispute over a cock fight.

William Ackinson, colored, aged 20, who assaulted a little girl, was hanged by a mob at South Fork, Ky.

Masked robbers held up Night Operator Thompson, of the Central office at East Point, Ga., and robbed the office of $150.

Ex-Sheriff Willis of Vincennes, Ind., caught Prosecuting Attorney Hulse in the former's house and shot him. Hulse will die.

F. H. Kleekamp, a Fort Wayne attorney, arrested for impersonating a United States marshal, has been released.

Embezzler Scott's shortage at Lincoln, Col., is fully $90,000. The Nebraska county treasurer will be brought back from Mexico if possible.

New evidence damaging to Annie Wagner, accused of poisoning the Koester family at Indianapolis, has been discovered.

Arthur Malaby, the stock man of Denison, Tex., was murdered and robbed of $200 at Durant, I. T. Officers are in pursuit of the supposed robbers.

Max Kruger, postmaster at Twin Sisters, Tex., has been arrested on a charge of false cancellation of stamps to increase his compensation as postmaster.

Floyd Boughner, a saloonkeeper at Augusta, Ky., has been arrested on the charge of having started a recent fire and destroyed a good portion of the village. He confessed.

A man on a horse attempted to leap into the express car attached to a moving Santa Fe train near Arkansas City, Kan. His horse stumbled and the man fell. The messenger fired at the would-be robber, but missed him.

John Kraus, financial secretary of Central lodge, United Workmen, Dubuque, Iowa, is under arrest, charged with embezzlement.

James M. Pennock, under arrest at St. Louis, has been identified as one of the men who robbed the St. Louis & San Francisco train near St. Louis.

Six prisoners at Davenport, Iowa, knocked down the jailor and fled. The police and a sheriff's posse caught them.

Two negroes assaulted and robbed Samuel Paulus, an old soldier attending the reunion at Indianapolis. Paulus may die.

Wade and Lewis, condemned Choctaws, will be shot sitting down on their coffins. They were sentenced to death for murder.

Robert West and Will Davis, policemen at Hopkinsville, Ky., settled an old score by a street duel with pistols. West is dead and Davis cannot recover.

Deputy Marshal Hurlon and Outlaw "Slaughtered Kid" died from wounds received in the battle near Ingalls, I. T.

Ernest Lamar was found near Nashville, Ill., sitting under a tree with his throat cut. He will die.

While seining for fish at Bayford Point, Miss., a party of negroes brought up a badly decomposed body of a man, to which was fastened a weight. Papers on the corpse disclosed that the victim was Ferdinand Weiss, of Rockford, Ill.

J. D. Ford was found dead on the sidewalk in front of the Charles building at Denver. It is not known whether he was murdered or fell from a window. His coat and vest were found but all his money and valuables were gone.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

Bismarck is again suffering from rheumatism.

Five new cases of cholera are reported at Grimsby, Eng.

Miss Leal, a young Scotch woman, has broken the bank at Monte Carlo. She won $300,000 in one hour.

Frederick de Courcey May has died in London. He is a cousin of Fred May of New York.

The Pall Mall Gazette has an article advising the stoppage of assisted emigration to Canada.

A great crowd of distinguished persons are in attendance at the German army maneuvers.

The Austrian government is being criticised for holding maneuvers in cholera infected Galicia.

It is expected the house of lords will poll their full strength on the decisive vote against the home rule bill.

Disbanded troops seized funds designed to pay the regulars in Nicaragua, killing the escort and fleeing to Honduras.

A large crowd of students made a demonstration at Montevideo against Brazil. They were dispersed by the police after a struggle, in which several of the students were wounded.

Prince William, brother of the king of Denmark, died at Copenhagen. He was a field marshal lieutenant in the service of Austria and a lieutenant-general in the Danish service.

A widespread nihilistic conspiracy against the czar has been discovered at Moscow. The conspirators include eighty-five students, eight professors and five ladies who belong to aristocratic families.

The gathering of the harvest in Great Britain is practically finished. With scarcely an exception the results are described as the worst known, being even below the bad estimates made of them.

Herr Paasch, the notorious anti-Semite, has been pronounced a dangerous lunatic and has been sent to the asylum at Dalldorf. Herr Paasch was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment for libeling Chancellor von Caprivi.

The Brussels Agricultural Rationnale in its review of the sugar beet crop of Europe estimates the deficiency in France, Belgium and the Netherlands as 50,000 tons of raw sugar, and the surplus in Germany, Austro-Hungary and Russia as 600,000 tons.

The St. Petersburg Navoe Vremya says that the visit of the Russian squadron to Toulon will serve as a reminder that the ultimate course of European affairs depends upon the Franco-Prussian entente quite as much as it does upon the triple alliance.

A Buenos Ayres special says: The minister of finance has prepared a scheme for the gradual conversion of the paper currency. The Argentine republic, in view of the cholera reports from Europe, has declared all European ports suspected, and strict quarantine regulations will be accordingly enforced.

Father Frederick Rooker, who has left Rome for America with letters from the pope to Mgr. Satolli and Cardinal Gibbons, was commissioned also to present the cardinal a portrait of the pope. The portrait is carved in stone, and is set in a frame of gold studded with precious stones. The work was done by Vatican artificers and is a masterpiece of its kind.

The London Daily Telegraph, commenting upon the approaching visit of a Russian squadron to Toulon, expresses some alarm at this renewed approachment between France and Russia, and declares that it is necessary for Great Britain to review her position and possibly to revise her policy. The Standard advises that she join the triple alliance.

IN GENERAL.

Taylor Bros., New York pawnbrokers, failed.

Work has been resumed at the Lake Erie & Western shops at Princeton, Ind.

The Rev. L. A. Banks is the prohibition nominee for governor of Massachusetts.

The country about Elgin, Ill., is reported to be completely dried up and prairie fires are of daily occurrence.

The Indiana Republican Central Committee has decided to test the legality of the apportionment act.

Numerous fires in Illinois towns in the vicinity of Tuscola are thought to be the work of firebugs.

The Spanish government will present the caraval Santa Maria to the United States.

A gas well has been opened up at Portland, Ind., having a daily flow of 4,000,000 cubic feet.

Applications have been made at Los Angeles, Cal., for over 160 warrants for Chinamen who have not registered.

In an address Bishop Matz of Colorado accepts the decree of Baltimore council, but exhorts parents to send children to parochial schools.

The race eastward across the Atlantic was won by the New York, her mails arriving in London three hours earlier than those of the Teutonic.

Decaying matter on the coast of South Carolina, thrown up by the recent storm, threatens to cause an epidemic. Surgeon-General Wyman orders the coast disinfected.

Inspection of immigrants and disinfection of baggage, temporarily suspended at Sault Ste. Marie through the action of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad, has been resumed through a decision of Judges Sage and Severens of the United States court for Michigan.

The hop fields at Butteville, Ore., were the scene of a Chinese eviction. About 100 white men herded up fifty-six Chinese hop pickers, drove them to the dock and forced the captain of a steamer to take the Chinese to Portland. There are about 500 more Chinese around Butteville in the hop fields and more trouble may follow.

Delegates from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will hold a convention at Salina, Kan., Sept. 28, to devise means to secure state organizations for the purpose of introducing systems of perfect irrigation into those states.

FIFTY THIRD CONGRESS.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Condensed Record of the Business Being Transacted by our National Law-makers--Routine Report Day by Day.

Washington, Sept. 7.—In the senate a bill was introduced by Mr. Cullom (Rep. Ill.) and referred to the finance committee for the repeal of all acts for the creation or maintenance of a sinking fund. A report was made from the committee on privileges and elections for the poyment of $2,500 to each of the three claimants for seats under appointment of governors, and it was referred to the committee on contingent expenses. The resolution for the 11 o'clock meeting was presented and Mr. Voorhees (Dem. Ind.), who had offered it, withdrew it, stating that he did so after consultation with friends of repeal on the Democratic side, who thought that if the time for the senate was used carefully as much progress could be made. Mr. Morgan's resolution for a joint secret committee on finance was taken up and Mr. Voorhees and he suggested its reference to the finance committee. Morgan argued against the suggestion, stating that the purpose of the resolution was to supersede the finance committee in each house and substitute a joint select committee for them. Mr. Voorhees' motion was carried—337 to 21—which is interpreted as a temporary victory for repeal men. Speeches on the repeal bill were then made by the various members.

There were not more than a hundred members present when the house was called to order. The house resumed the consideration of the new code of rules, the pending question being the Kyle amendment striking from the rules the clause making 100 members a quorum in committee of the whole. The motion was agreed to—118 to 61. The house adopted the new code of rules at 3:50. Adjourned until Saturday.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Among the numerous resolutions presented and referred was one by Mr. Walcott (Rep., Colo.) for the immediate repeal of the McKinley tariff bill. Mr. Voorhees mover to take up the Sherman act repeal bill, which motion was agreed to, and Mr. Stewart of Nevada, who was entitled to the floor, postponed the continuation of his speech until Mr. Walthall (Dem., Miss.), who had signified his desire to address the senate to-day, had concluded his remarks. Mr. Walthall then addressed the senate. His speech was in favor of bimetallism. Mr. Stewart (Rep. Nev.) again took the floor at the conclusion of Mr. Walthall's remarks, and proceeded with the third installment of his speech (began Tuesday). At 4:15 Mr. Stewart was still holding the floor. Mr. Daniel (Va.) went over and whispered a word in his ear, when, to the astonishment of all, he announced that he would now close his speech. The senate then proceeded to executive business, and at 5 p. m. to-morrow.

Washington, Sept. 9.—At 12:30 the repeal bill was taken up without objection, and the senate was addressed by Mr. Faulkner (Dem., W. Va.) After Mr. Faulkner closed his speech the floor was taken by Mr. Turpie (Dem., Ind.), who addressed the senate in favor of the principle of bimetallism. After speeches by Mr. Jones of Arkansas and others, the senate adjourned.

The house met to-day, and after the introduction of a number of bills adjourned until Monday.

Washington, Sept. 12.—In the senate the greater part of the time was occupied by Senator Pugh (Ala.) in opposition to the repeal of the Sherman law. He was followed by Senator Teller (Colo.), also against the bill, who concluded his speech begun on Saturday last. The silver men neither Saturday nor today followed the tactics inaugurated early last week of insisting upon the presence of a quorum, and apparently the feeling between the friends and opponents of repeal is much better than it has been heretofore during the session.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The senate was prompt in getting to work on the repeal bill. The Stewart resolution as to senators holding stock in national banks was laid over until to-morrow. At 12:30 the bill was taken up and Mr. Mitchell (Rep. Or.) made a long speech against the repeal of the Sherman act.

The house transacted only routine business. Mr. Hepburn (Rep. Iowa) attempted to secure consideration of a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the amount of merchandise transported from one United States port to another over Canadian territory. Mr. Geary (Dem. Cal.) objected, and the resolution was referred.

BANKERS ON TRIAL.

Milwaukee, Sept. 13.—Probably a more distinguished assemblage of men never stood trial for criminal offense than those who will be summoned before the jury that was convened in Judge Wallber's court to-day. They are Judge Jenkins, of the United States circuit court; William Plankinton, W. H. Momsen, C. L. Clason and F. W. Noyes, all of them prominent and respected members of the social and business world of Milwaukee. They are directors of the defunct Plankinton bank, the downfall of which is said to be the result of fraud on the part of the officials.

MINERS REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

London, Sept. 13. — The miners of Derbyshire, by a vote of over 10,000 men, decided against accepting any reduction of wages and refused to submit their dispute with the colliers to arbitration.

BIG ESTATE.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—A final report has been filed in the probate court on the estate of John Sullivan, valued at four millions. The estate is to be equally divided between ten children.

DISASTER TO FARMERS.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—At 1 o'clock this morning while George Mapleton and A. S. Carpenter, living on a farm five miles from this city, were driving an Cedar street, their team ran away. Colliding with a telegraph pole, both men were thrown out and received probably fatal injuries.

HORSES KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Inkster, N. D., Sept. 13.—During a storm last night Thomas Casement's barn was struck by lightning and five horses were killed. A threshing crew asleep in the barn escaped uninjured.

BROOKINGS COLLEGE.

Brookings, S. D., Special—The regents of education are now in session at Wolsey. It is expected that they will arrange the financial affairs of the various state educational institutions on a better basis than has obtained for some time past. E. T. Bates, of the class of '93, has been made assistant in dairying, and A. S. Burnham, of the Michigan State Agricultural college, has been appointed inspector in the iron shops. Attendance at the fall term of scool is very promising, particularly in the freshman class, where a large number have already entered. Prof. Corbett is very actively engaged on the fruit and vegetable collection for the state exhibit at Chicago. He has a very fine collection from Brookings county, particularly in plums and crab apples. He leaves for Chicago to-morrow.

CONFESSED.

St Louis, Mo., Special—James M. Pennock, the man captured at the scene and time of the train robbery Tuesday night at Pacific, Mo., to-day weakened and confessed that he was the leader of the three men who held up the 'Frisco train. His story was in detail that which has already been printed, but in addition he gave the names of the men who accompanied him. The police are now searching for one, the other already being in custody. The man being searched for is Pennock's brother-in-law, whose name is yet unknown. The man the police have placed in custody is Sam Robinson, a "laid off" brakeman of the 'Frisco road.

BIG OBJECT GLASS.

London, Special—Sir Howard Grubb has recently furnished an object glass for the new equatorial telescope at Greenwich observatory, of which he was the manufacturer. It cost about £4,500. The casting of a twenty-eight-inch lens for the telescope took the Chance Bros. of Birmingham, about three years to complete.

KILLED BY A BURGLAR.

Keokuk, Iowa, Sept. 7.—At Fort Madison, Iowa, this morning Hermann A. Antelman, a farmer, was brutally murdered. At an early hour Antelman discovered a man breaking into his house and effected his capture. Without assistance he started to town with the burglar to turn him over to the sheriff. Near the city the prisoner jumped out of the wagon and started to run. Antelman pursued when the burglar fired three shots, instantly killink him.

SUSPECTED ROBBER.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The police yesterday arrested a man giving the name of E. F. Ward, who is supposed to be implicated in the robbery of the Hawling Savings Bank of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., of $21,000. When Henry Carey was sentenced to the Albany penitentiary he made a confession implicating three other men, and Ward is thought to be Eugene Comisky or Patrick Langley, two of the men implicated by Carey.

BLACKBURN RECONCILED.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7.—It is now reported that Senator Blackburn has become reconciled to Breckenridge and will be one of his counsel in the Pollard breach of promise suit. The change is doubtless owing to the influence of Phil Thompson, who is Breckinridge's counsel and Blackburn's most intimate friend. The report that Blackburn declared his purpose to hold Breckenridge responsible seems to be through reliable sources. It is quite certain that Mrs. Luke Blackburn is as indigrant as ever.

DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 7. — Robert West and Will Davis, both members of the police force, settled an old score this morning with a pistol duel to the death. Davis fired first and West promptly returned it. They were in arm's reach of each other. At the same instant both fired the second time. Davis sank to the platform. West reeled and fell. He expired in four minutes. Davis still lives, but cannot long survive.

ROBBER IDENTIFIED.

St. Louis, Sept. 7. — James Marion Pennrock, who was arrested near the scene of the 'Frisco train robbery last night, was brought here to-day in company with three tramps who were stealing rides on the "blind baggage." Pennrock was in the employ of the Frisco road and was identified by the engineer of the robbed train as he climbed over the tender and ordered him to stop the train.

TWO WILL BE SHOT.

Hartshorne, Ind. T., Sept. 7.—Pursuant to the agreement reached between Col. Faison and the Choctaw authorities, seven of the nine condemned prisoners were yesterday released upon their own recognizance for appearance for a new trial. The ring leaders, Simon Wade and Solomon Lewis, are held for execution Friday.

AERONAUT SAVED.

Milwaukee, Sept. 7.—Capt. O. Eiermann, who left this city in a balloon on Sunday, telegraphs from St. Ignace, Mich., to-day: "I am all right, but lost the balloon." Capt. Eiermann struck the lake when he was but twenty-five miles away from Milwaukee, and he was picked up by the crew of the schooner Ellen Williams and taken to St. Ignace.

EMMA INDICTED.

New York, Sept. 7.—The grand jury this morning made its first presentment in part of court of general sessions before Judge Fitzgerald by filing a true bill against Emma Goldman, the anarchist, charged with unlawful assemblage and incitive to riot. She will be brought to New York as soon as requisition papers are made out.

BISMARCK BETTER.

Berlin, Sept. 7.—Dr. Schweinger, Prince Bismarck's body physician, telegraphed from Kissingen to the Associated Press correspondent here to-day that the prince is much better. For a week or more Prince Bismarck's condition has caused great anxiety to his family, but he is now regarded as out of danger.

SUICIDED.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Max M. Rothschild, a wealthy manufacturer, committed suicide to-day by hanging himself to a door hinge. He made an unsuccessful attempt to kill himself earlier in the day. He is supposed to have been of unsound mind as there was no reason why he should have committed suicide.

TO BE HANGED.

De Smet, S. D., Sept. 7.—N. R. Thompson was to-day sentenced to be hanged Oct. 7 for the murder of Mrs. Bleghton July 4, 1892. The supreme court and board of pardons have refused to interfere, and there is nothing to prevent the execution on the date fixed.

DOCTOR KILLED.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Dr. A. H. Wilson of Douglas, Kan., was fatally injured by a cable train last night while passing through the La Salle street tunnel. He fell between the car and tunnel wall and was hurt so badly that he died within an hour.

CHANCE FOR CHINAMEN.

Panama, Sept. 7.—The legislature of British Guiana offere a bounty of $25 a head for 5,000 Chinamen from the United States. They are wanted to work under contract on a sugar plantation and in the gold mines.

BOTH DROWNED.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 7.—Ben Kniper and wife of this city went fishing in Pine lake, near Belmont yesterday. In changing positions the boat capsized and they were thrown into the water and both drowned.

TRAMP KILLED.

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 7.—An unknown tramp tried to board a train at the Indian village of La Guna last night and missing the distance was killed. Just before he died he said his father was a banker somewhere in Michigan.

KILLED HIS SISTERS.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 7.—John Hart, aged thirty-four, to-day, near this city, murdered his two sisters, Mary and Nellie, aged twenty-six and twenty-three, respectively. Hart is supposed to have been temporarily insane.

GREAT EXHIBITION.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—To-day in the presence of a vast assemblage of people Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, lieutenant governor of the Province of Ontario, formally opened Toronto's great annual industrial exhibition. The exhibition promises this year to be the most successful ever held.

ARMED NEGROES.

Little Rock, Ark., Special.—Four hundred negroes armed with Winchester rifles passed through this city late last night en route to Weir City, Kan., to take the places of the striking miners and were prepared to do so at all hazards. They were plentifully supplied with ammunition and provisions. The negroes were brought from Arkansas and Texas.

VALENTINE HEAVENER DEAD.

Milbank S. D., Special.—Valentins Heavener died last night of paralysis. He was sixty-eight years old, and came here in 1878 from Wabasha county, Minn. He leaves a widow and quite a family of grown children.

The scools opened on Monday under the able management of Prof. Vert.

TOLD IN DELIRIUM.

Yankton, S D., Special—Lowis Sherwood was arrested this morning for the murder of Minnie Sawyer Monday morning. Circumstnatial evidence is very strong and his admissions amount to a confession. He has typhoid fever, and is delirious most of the time.

CYCLONE.

New Orleans, Special—In a cyclone at Lockport, La., five persons were killed, including two Sisters of Charity, and many wounded.

CONDUCTORS OUT.

Rachine, Wis., Special—Owing to the hard times and falling off in trade the Bell Street Railway company will lay off fifty conductors next week, and the cars will be run by the motormen. The patrons will drop the fares in the box as of old.

CLOQUET SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Duluth, Special—August Duke has begun suit against the village of Cloquet for $5,000 damages for the death of his son, Wilford Duke, aged twenty-two months. The child fell into a ditch of water on the public street and was drowned.

IRISH FIGHT GLADSTONE.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL LEAGUE AGAINST THE HOME RULE BILL.

A Manifesto Issued Declaring That Measure a Fraud and Predicting Defeat for Gladstone at the Polls.

New York, Sept. 11.—Considerable dissatisfaction has been evinced by the leading members of the Irish National league in America as to the provisions of Gladstone's home rule bill, which was rejected on Friday by the house of lords by the immense majority of 419 to 41.

The members of the opposition say that the bill does not present the elements of finality, and places the Irish nation in a worse position than at present. The executive of the Irish National league complains that the evicted tenants have been left uncared for, while the disfranchisement of twenty-three Irish seats under the bill, while the land and police questions remain in the hands of the government, would seriously influence the power of the Irish members in the house of commons. Immediately upon the rejection of the home rule bill by the house of lords the executive of the Irish National league decided upon issuing a manifesto to the Irish people in America setting forth their views upon the provisions of the rejected bill and their ideas as to the course which the national league should adopt in the present crisis. The manifesto says, among other things:

"The bill submitted to the house of commons was practically worthless. The imposition on our country of the mutilated skeleton which was just ejected by the house of lords would be an outrage, and the serfs who would accept it with thanks would merit the scorn of the nation. We have no hesitation in declaring that no more pernicious influence has been at work than the influence of Mr. Gladstone in recent years. The spirit of Irish nationality was being steadily destroyed by this influence fostered by a designing agency which prefers a West Briton to an Irishman. Mr. Gladstone, whether he appeals to the country this year or not, will, in the opinion of those thoroughly acquainted with the situation, be defeated at the polls. A great convention of Irishmen from all countries we think should be called and a plan for united action formulated and adopted. At such a convention the example of the American patriots might be emulated and a declaration of Ireland's independance given to the world."

ROBBERS IDENTIFIED.

Delta, Colo., Sept. 11.—The two men who were killed last Thursday while attempting to escape after robbing the Farmers and Merchants' bank and killing its cashier were positively identified to-day as Tom and Fred McCarthy, father and son. The third man who participated in the robbery but escaped is Billy McCarthy, also a son of Tom McCarthy. These men constituted the McCarthy gang of Oregon, and were wanted there for robbing stages and the United States mails. There is a reward of $10,000 for them on that account. Ex-Chief of Police Farley of Denver says that Tom McCarthy is the man who robbed President D. H. Moffett, of the First National bank of that city some four years ago, securing $21,000.

ARREST OF A MURDERER.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 11.—The murderer of Mrs. Jane Wright, better known as Madame Wright, the wealthy proprietoress of an employment agency, was taken to-day in less than twenty-four hours after the crime was committed. The crime was the result of a conspiracy formed by two desperate men, whose motive was robbery. One, the man who actually committed the deed, is Henry Jones, a cook. The other was John Clark, also a cook, and an ex-convict who had obtained his freedom only six days before the crime. Clark received as his share in the crime $160 and a gold watch. He was arrested.

ANARCHY IN SPAIN.

Madrid, Sept. 11.—A riot broke out in Santander on Saturday during a fire in a populous quarter. A mob forcibly entered the municipal buildings, and, after destroying the furniture, threw everything out of the windows. The residences of the mayor and the leading councillor were treated in the same way. The mob was finally dispersed by troops. The riot was ostensibly caused by a deficiency of water, but it is really another evidence of the wave of anarchism passing over Spain.

SKIPPED TO AVOID ARREST.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 11. — George Muloch, real estate dealer here, and a prominent member of the Baptist church, is discovered to have been guilty of incest with his nineteen-year-old daughter. The girl revealed the terrible crime to her mother, and the latter at once notified the church authorities who held a secret meeting yesterday and expelled Muloch from the church. Muloch and family moved in the best society here and the revelation produced a big sensation. The girl says her father has been having intercourse with her for over a year. Muloch skipped town to avoid arrest.

MANGLED BEYOND RECOGNITION.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 11.—A wreck was caused yesterday on the Pan Handle by the breaking in two of a freight train at Big Walnut, a few miles east of this city. An unknown man was killed, the body being mangled beyond recognition. Frank Deitrick, a brakeman of Huntington, Ohio, was probably fatally injured.

FOR A PORTAGE RAILWAY.

Washington Sept. 11.—Secretary Lamont has sent to the house the report of the board of engineers on the obstruction in the Columbia river between Three Mile Rapids and Celilo Falls, Washington and Oregon. The method of overcoming the obstructions favored by the board is a portage railway from Celilo to a point below the Three Mile rapids.

JOY FOR FARMERS.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—Badly needed rain fell throughout the southern half of Missouri and northeastern Arkansas to-day, doing great good to growing crops.

RIGHTED.

Lanesboro, Minn., Sept. 11.—The Bank of Lanesboro closed its doors a week ago Saturady. The depositors met at the city hall and voted unanimously to instruct the bank to open its doors and resume business at once, ample time being given. The bank reopened this morning.

ST. LOUIS EXPO.

St. Louis, Mo., Special—The tenth annual exposition was opened last evening, the mammoth Music hall being packed to suffocation and the corridors and various departments of the big building being crowded. No accurate estimate of the crowd can be made because of its scattered condition. There were addresses by Gov. W. J. Stone, ex-Gov. E. O. Standard, Mayor Walbridge and others, interspersed with music by Sousa's Chicago Marine band of 100 musicians. The numerous displays are even above the usual standard, the art gallery especially being considered by competent judges to be far superior to any former exhibit. During the forty days that the exposition will last Sousa's band will give four concerts daily.

MILLIONS INVOLVED.

Washington, Special—Land Commissioner Lamereaux has decided the famous section 30 case, involving millions of dollars worth of iron mining property near Duluth. W. W. Billson, August MacDonald and other claimants are knocked out and Charles P. Wheeler given the right to locate on the lands in dispute. The heirs of David Moyer are also given a preference. This case is one of the most important ever considered by the commissioner of the land office.

FLAGGED A TRAIN.

Creston, Iowa, Special—A west-bound train was flagged at 8:30 this morning, a few miles east of Creston, by a man who was employed on the road several years ago. He told the trainmen there were two ties on the track, placed there, he thought, to wreck the train. It is thought to have been done by the informer himself, so he could touch the company for a pass.

Ray Elliott of Marengo, who was reported stolen last May, was drowned. His decomposed body was found in a rain barrel near the barn.

The First Presbyterian church has called Rev. Mr. Miller of Des Moines. He will move to this city in a short time.

PEAK AGENST LORDS.

London, Sept. 13.—The Liberal National Federation last night issued a circular against the house of lords. In this circular the Federation declares that seven years' discussion and eighty-two days' consideration by the house of commons definitely ascertained the wishes of two million electors, yet this counts for nothing when opposed to the views of 400 conservative persons. Continuing, the circular declares that the action of the house of lords is now in the front rank of the Liberal programme in accord with Mr. Gladstone's declaration at New Castle. The circular concludes that as the home rule bill passed the house of commons and was rejected by the house of lords it is doubly certain to become law. It also says that not only will the Irish question be settled, but that a real era of reform is dawning for the democracy of the United Kingdom. The circular is signed by Spence Watson, Schnaidherst and other officials of the Federation.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — Wheat steady; cash, 65 3-4c; October, 66 3-4c; December, 70 1-8c. Corn higher; cash, 40 1-8c; October, 40 3-4c; December, 40 5-8c; May, 44 1-4c. Oats steady; cash, 25 1-2c; October, 25 3-4c; December, 26 5-8c; May, 30 7-8a31c.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — Cattle — Extra prime steers, $5.25a5.40; choice, $4.75a 5.15; good, $4.40a4.65; medium, $3.50a 4; common, $2.70a3.30; Western steers, $2.15a3.90; do cows, $1.75a2.10; feeders, $2.15a2.75. Hogs—Mixed and packers, $5.25a5.80; prime heavy, $5.80a5.97 1-2; butchers, $5.90a6.15; light, $5.85a6.30.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—Hogs 10c higher and active. Cattle steady; bulk of receipts Westerns and natives; trading slow.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Wheat—September opened at 60 3-4c; highest, 61c; lowest, 60 3-4c; closing, 61c; December opened at 65c; highest, 65 1-8a65 1-4c; lowest, 64 3-4c; closing, 65 1-8c. On track —No. 1 hard, 63 1-2c; No. 1 Northern, 62 1-2c; No. 2 Northern, 60c.

GREAT TIMBER FIRES.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 13.—Immense timber fires, covering many miles in extent, are raging in various portions of the Black Hills. The damage to growing timber is very great, while the loss in cordwood alone will amount to $50,000. Several adjacent mining towns are threatened, and the inhabitants are using every effort to check the flames.

At the Two Bears mine the entire force of miners, numbering over 100, are engaged in fighting the flames from the company's works valued at $10,000. If a high wind starts up their efforts will be fruitless. Details of soldiers at Fort Meade, fourteen miles east of here, are keeping back the flames from the post and have so far succeeded in preventing much damage. A number of farm houses in this vicinity have been destroyed, together with live stock. The damage cannot be estimated at present with any accuracy, but it will be undoubtedly $100,000. Unless a rain comes the greatest danger will exist to all the towns in this section.

FIRES IN WISCONSIN.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—Reports received to-day state that fires are raging on O'Neil creek, north of Chippewa City, and that a large portion of the country between that place and Long Lake has been burned over. The summer cottages at Long Lake are in imminent danger of destruction unless the flames are choked. Estella is also in danger of being burned. Last night the air was filled with smoke here in this city showing that the fires are not very far from here. Large tracts of pine have been burned over, causing large damages. Everything is like tinder, no rain having fallen for several weeks.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST A BISHOP

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Caus Celerra of the Canadian Revue against Archbishop Fabre for damages and libel suffered by the acts of his grace in putting the publication under the ban came up in the practice court to-day before Judge Mattiu. The archbishop, through his attorneys, replied to the plea of the Revue by denying the jurisdiction of the court in the matter, and maintaining that he had acted perfectly within his rights in excommunicating the paper and its editors and proprietors.

THE CHOLERA SCOURGE.

London, Sept. 13.—Two new cases and one death from cholera were reported in Amsterdam to-day. Six cases were reported in the country. Two suspicious cases were discovered in Berlin to-day. There were two deaths from cholera in Rome to-day, and several new cases were reported. At Leghorn there were three new cases, and at Palermo three new cases and five deaths. The news from Russia in regard to the spread of cholera continues to be discouraging.

AFTER A PUGILIST.

London, Sept. 13.—Sophie Fatson, the woman who made an application last week to a magistrate for a warrant for the arrest of Charles Mitchell, the pugilist, on a charge of perjury, made a similar application to-day and was refused.

COMPLICATIONS FOR ITALY.

Rome, Sept. 13.—A mob of Italians attacked a number of Hungarian peasants at Delayoes and tried to burn the town hall. The riot was quelled by troops, but not before twenty-five persons had been wounded. The trouble was the outcome of a long-standing racial animosity.

AFTER MINISTER ANGERS.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—Dr. Playtner has issued a second warrant against Hon. Mr. Angers, minister of agriculture, this time for giving to the press Dr. Mootzimbert's letter reflecting on the professional character of Dr. Playter in connection with the Grosse Ile quarantine.

HER LAST SAIL.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Henry Leathers of Hopkins was drowned on Lake Calhoun yesterday afternoon. She was sailing in a yacht with her husband when the craft capsized. Mr. Leathers was saved.

DISAPPROVES AN EXTRA SESSION

Madison, Wis., Sept. 13.—Gov. Peck says the importance of an extra session of the legislature has not been made apparent to him and he seemed opposed to the project, intimating that in his opinion Milwaukee county finances could be adjusted without resorting to this.

DYNAMITERS.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Herald's Panama correspondent cables: News has been received from Honduras that the partisans of Bonilla recently attempted to blow up the garrison powder house in Tegucigalpa with dynamite. Weather conditions prevented a frightful loss of life. Twenty-six dynamite bombs were thrown at the powder house, and in the explosion five of the guards were fatally wounded. They died soon afterward. The building was demolished.

RANCHES IN A BLAZE.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 8.—The most destructive forest fire ever in Washington is raging in the Dozwalips valley, west of Hood's canal, an arm of Puget sound, in the northwestern part of the state. Ranchers are fleeing down the valley to the beach. A half-dozen ranchers left a few days ago to prospect for gold in the Olympic mountains. The fire has cut them off, and their wives and children are in distress. Already 5,000 acres have been burned over.

SEALED VERDICT.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 8.—The verdict in the Hughes court martial case has been rendered, but it is sealed and in the hands of the governor and will probably not be made public until after the executive's return from the world's fair. Gen. Sears, the presiding officer of the court, yesterday declined to state what the verdict was, but did not deny that a fine and a jail sentence had been imposed.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 8.—Charles Allen, one of the oldest residents of Gladwin county, residing on a farm two and a half miles from Gladwin city, was burned to death yesterday. The house took fire and the old man got out safely, but returned for the purpose of saving some money, about $1,000, secreted in the house.

HAMILTON FISH DEAD.

Garrison, N. Y. Sept. 7.—Hon. Hamilton Fish, ex-secretary of state, died at his country residence here yesterday.

GUNS AND DYNAMITE

IN COMBINATION, THEY RAISE HOB IN INDIANA.

Twenty Bandits Hold Up an Express Train, Shoot the Engineer, Blow Up a Safe and Secure a Large Booty.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 13.—When the inhabitants of this sleepy little village awoke this morning they heard a story of a train robbery, with dynamite accompaniments, compared with which the wildest flights of imagination of Western writers pale into insignificance. When Express Train No. 14, which left Chicago at 7:45 last night with two express cars, a baggage car and ten coaches, approached the siding at Kesler, about five miles west of here, Engineer Knapp saw that the switch lamp was turned so as to show a red light. The headlight of his engine, however, disclosed the fact that, though the lamp was at danger, the switch had not been turned, leaving a through track. He slowly stopped the train, and as he neared the switch a flash was seen ahead and then the loud report of a Winchester rang out.

Immediately Engineer Knapp felt a twitching pain in the shoulder. The robber's aim had been good, for the bullet from the Winchester had reached its mark. Before the engineer and fireman could realize it they were surrounded by a gang of probably twenty men, who surrounded the cab and commanded them to remain quiet under penalty of death. A detachment of the gang went to the rear and the train crew was covered with Winchesters, while another went to the forward express car and commenced to bombard it with dynamite. four or five cartridges were placed in the door to accomplish this purpose. As soon as they got in the car the express messenger was placed under guard and the bandits then went leisurly to work to blow open the safe. One cartridge after another was used. The first had no apparent effect on the safe, but after four had been discharged it was seen that the safe was giving way, and as the report from the fifth died away the robbers could help themselves to anything the iron box had previously contained, which they proceeded to do, leaving nothing behind them.

After looting the car the robbers fired a volley as a warning to those who might desire to venture in pursuit. The train was delayed an hour, and as soon as the robbers departed the engine pulled out, raching here after 2 o'clock. The sheriff was quickly notified and he immediately proceeded to organize a posse and started in pursuit of the bandits.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13—Col. John Byrne of this city, who is superintendent of detectives of the United States Express company, left to-night for the scene of the robbery. Officials of the company here declare it may be days before the extent of the robbery is known, and it may be $50,000 or it may be $250,000. If the robbers carried off the bag, etc., it is probable they carried off the way bills, also. Most all of the expressmen on this run belong here. The messenger of the looted car was M. M. Weist, of No. 165 Glenwood avenue. A telegram came this afternoon requesting that his wife be notified that he is all right. The robbed express car reached here early this evening. From the exterior it does not seem to have been roughly handled, but an interior view gives a different impression. It is pretty well torn to pieces. The safe which was blown open stands a little to one side of the door through which the robbers forced an entrance. Its door is off, its interior is barren. The door was torn from its hinges and blown into seven pieces. The car shows no marks of bullets either inside or outside. Six blocks of silver bullion which were in the car were not touched; neither were the small portable safes in which the smaller sums of money were carried.

GREAT INVENTION.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 13.—It was learned to-day that Frank Gregsire, a blacksmith, has been working in secret nearly a year perfecting a system for propelling boats, and has now completed it. He claims that by it a steamer can be propelled across the Atlantic in two and one-half days. Steam is the motive power.

WAS A FORGERY.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — M. V. Gannon, president of the Irish National League of America, emphatically denies that he is a party to the anti-Gladstone manifesto in regard to the home rule bill purporting to have been issued by the executive committee of the league. He says his signature thereto was a forgery.

HOTEL GUESTS CREMATED.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 13.—News was received here this morning of the murder of two persons in a hotel at Brighton, a suburb of this city. It is also stated that the hotel was set fire and two persons burned to death.

DEATH OF A SPORTING MAN.

New York, Sept. 13.—Col. P. Duffy, the well known New Orleans sporting man who acted as referee in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, died in the Presbyterian hospital last night.

BISMARCK IMPROVING.

Kissingen, Sept. 13.—It is officially announced that Prince Bismarck continues to improve. He has left his bed every day since Friday, and has walked about his room. His suffering is from sciatica and is less acute.

GLADSTONE ENJOYING A REST.

London, Sept. 13.—Mr. Gladstone is again rusticating in the heather. He enjoyed himself hugely yesterday and is improving in health.

GRAVEYARD VANDAL.

River Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—The gravestone vandal visited the cemetery at this place last night and upset twenty-three monuments, ruining several and damagieg many.

HEAVY HAIL.

Annandale, Minn., Sept. 13.—The hardest hailstorm of the season passed over this place at 4 o'clock last evening. The ground was white with hail from the size of walnuts to small hen's eggs.

INCENDIARIES IN A GRAIN FIELD

Redwood Falls, Minn., Sept. 13.—Four threshing outfits have been burned at Delhi. The work was supposed to be that of an incendiary. The large number of threshing machines in the country is supposed to be the cause of the deed. The loss is about $3,600.

MONEY RECOVERED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 11.—Detectives recovered $5,000 of the money stolen from the safe of the Adams Express company at Akron, Ohio, Friday night. It was found buried in a cornfield in the suburbs. The burglars have been arrested.

HINDOOS SHOT DOWN.

Calcutta, Sept. 11.—A number of Hindoos at Busselpore, in Northwest Bengal, tried on Wednesday to capture a quantity of commissary cattle. Troops were called and the Hindoos, with fanatical fury, fought until the troops were ordered to fire, when they scattered. Three of them were killed.

RUN DOWN AND KILLED.

Lebanon, Ill., Sept. 11.—Andrew Frith of St. Louis and J. Clernon of Breeze, Ill., mine laborers, were run down by a passenger train on the Ohio & Mississippi at Bennett's coal mine and instantly killed yesterday.

NO WORK FOR THRESHERS.

Breckinridge, Minn., Sept. 11.—The towns are full of threshers out of a job. Farmers throughout Wilkin and Richland counties are generally refusing to thresh at the present prices of grain. No trouble is anticipated.

HONOR FOR ST. PAUL.

Washington, Sept. 11.—St. Paul is to have a great ocean liner named in her honor. One of the quartet of vessels of the American line will be called St. Paul and another St. Louis.

INVESTIGATORS FROM FRANCE.

New York, Sept. 11.—A delegation of fifty-two French workmen representing different trades arrived here to-day on the steamer La Gascogne. They will visit factories, inspecting the system of work and the standing of American workmen.

ACCUSED OF DEFRAUDING.

Duluth, Sept. 12.—An order was received by the police last night to arrest Frederick Kreyenbuhl of this city, who is charged with being the proincipal in a most daring attempt to defraud several life insurance companies.

On July 21, the story became current that John Clark and W. B. Clegg had been capsized while out sailing and that Gregg had been drowned. Clark told a story of remarkable endurance, how, after the boat had capsized he clung to the overturned craft from 10 one morning until 3 o'clock the next, when the boat drifted to the north shore about eighteen miles from Duluth. He righted the boat and rowed back to this city, and going to Krayenbuhl's house, fainted in the doorway. There were some very suspicious circumstances connected with the case. Some weeks later it developed that Gregg's life was insured shortly before the time of his disappearance for $20,000, and that the policies were made in favor of Krayenbuhl.

About the middle of August a demand was made for the insurance money and the company began an investigation. Several special agents were sent here, and very early it was decided that there had been fraud. It was found that during th whole time Clark said he had been drifting on the north shore the wind was blowing in an entirely opposite direction. It was found, too, from the testimony of vesselmen that no one could live in Lake Superior for the length of time Clark said he had been drifting. The matter resolved itself into a question whether Gregg was a party to the fraud or whether he had been murdered. From a vesselman it was finally learned that Gregg had been seen at La Pointe, a small place on the Wisconsin shore, some days subsequent to the drowning episode, and from there he was traced East. The same dispatch which ordered the arrest of Krayenbuhl stated that Gregg and Clark had been arrested together in Philadelphia. Clark is a brother of one of Duluth's prominent merchants, and all parties implicated are people of good standing.

SUICIDE OF A CASHIER.

Tyrone, Pa., Sept. 12.—Gen. Robert A. McCoy, cashier of the Blair County bank, was found unconscious in his room at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right temple. He died three hours later without regaining consciousness. He left a letter that since the death of his wife and son life had been unbearable. The bank and his own personal business matters are in sound condition. Gen. McCoy was one of the most prominent business men and politiciansofBlair county. He served during the war, rising to the rank of brevetbrigadiergeneral.

BISMARCK'S ILLNESS.

Paris, Sept. 12.—The most alarming reports are in circulation here as to the state of Prince Bismarck's health. It is stated that he has been stricken with paralysis, and that he has already lost the use of his hands. Though the real state of the distinguished sufferer's health may be somewhat exaggerated, there seems no reason to doubt that his illness has assumed a most serious turn. Sciatica is said to be the foundation of the disease from which the prince is suffering, and if reports are to be believed the case has developed into paralysis.

A MINISTER SHOT.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 12.—A special to the Bee from North Platte, Neb., says: Rev. A. Amsbury, presiding elder of the district, shot and almost instantly killed himself this afternoon. He was riding in a Union Pacific caboose on his way to keep an appointment, and for amusement had been shooting at telegraph poles as the train passed by. While the train was standing at a station the crew heard a shot, and entering the caboose found Mr. Amsbury breathing his last. His friends scout at the idea of suicide.

THE FEMALE ANARCH.

New York, Sept. 12.—Emma Goldman, the female anarchist, was arraigned in the general sessions this morning to plead to the indictment found against her by the grand jury last week for unlawful assemblage and inciting to riot. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and said she would defend herself, declining counsel assigned to defend her by the court. She was remanded indefinitely, bail being fixed at $4,000.

BOLD THIEVES.

Barnesville, Minn., Sept. 12.—Thieves effected an entrance through the side light of the front entrance in Hans Peterson's general store and carried off dry goods, shoes, etc., to the amount of about $300. They had selected the goods with great care, and had evidently been busy nearly all night, in plain view of the sidewalk, with light burning curtains up.

FOR MURDERING A FAMILY.

Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 12.—Judge Morrison has considered the argument for insanity in Dec Taylor's case and overruled the motion and resentenced him for the murder of the Mullins family to be hanged Oct. 27.

FOSTER'S FINANCES.

Fostoria, Ohio, Sept. 12.—According to the statement of the receiver of the various concerns which ex-Secretary Foster owned and controlled, the total liabilities are $1,086,671.92; total assets, $964,342.19.

AIR LINE TO RUSSIA.

Paris, Sept. 12.—M. de Savine, the famous aeronaut, is making preparations for a voyage from the Camp de Mars in this city to Russia without making a single descent to the earth during the trip.

A WISCONSIN BLAZE.

West Bend, Wis., Sept. 12.—Fire early this morning did $40,000 damage here. John Weinand's hotel and the Nicholas block are the largest buildings burned.

WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED.

Pittsburg, Sept. 12.—A large number of idle men were given employment today by the resumptions of numerous iron and steel plants.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

London, Sept. 12.—Ten thousand miners about the North Stafford district resumed work to-day at the old rate of wages.

DEATH OF A JUDGE.

Minneapolis, Sept. 12.—Frederick Hooker, judge of the district court, died here last night.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Grand Forks, Special—A meeting of the new board of the Chautauqua assembly was held at Devils Lake yesterday. C. H. Clemmer of Grand Forks is president; J. N. Maher, vice president; S. A. Nye, corresponding secretary; Henry Hale, recording secretary; J. A. Stewart, treasurer; all residents of Devils Lake. Rev. Eugene May of Fargo has been re-elected superintendent. Satisfactory as was the assembly programme for this season, the appropriation for platform talent for 1894 assures a yet richer feast. The average attendance this year was 300 daily. The organization is in excellent financial condition. About $9,000 is held in shares; $6,000 was expended in improvements this year, and $4,000 must be expended next year. The assembly grounds are a wonder and delight to all who visit the lake.

BAND ASSOCIATION.

Janesville, Wis., Special—The annual meeting of the Southern Wisconsin Band association, which convened in this city this afternoon, is quite a success. Seventeen bands are represented in the meeting and ten full bands appeared in the parade. This evening the boys played in different parts of the city and two public dancing parties were part of the entertainment. The convention concludes to-morrow.

OBJECTS TO THE PENALTY.

Washington, Special—President Malster, of the Columbian Iron works, was in the city yesterday to see Secretary Herbert regarding the payment of about $15,000 which was retained by the department as a penalty for failure to complete the cruiser Detroit within the specified time. No extension of time was allowed by Secretary Tracey and Mr. Malster has appealed to have the penalty remitted on the ground that the changes directed prevented the vessel being finished on time. The vessel was many months overdue in completion. The secretary has taken the matter under advisement.

Brainerd Dispatch.

INGERSOLL & WIKLAND, Publishers.

BRAINERD, - - - MINN.

The richest prize ever carried off by the winner of the Derby stakes was over £7,000. This fell to Sir Bevys in 1879, when there were 278 subscribers.

Safety lamps, for the use of miners, were patented in 1815. Now no mine is without them, and many laws have been passed requiring their use in all underground mining operations.

Electrotyping was first done in 1837, and was considered a triumph of chemical and mechanical skill, requiring the utmost nicety for its execution. Now it is done in every printing house.

By the tenth census 23,010,000 inhabitants of the United States were supported by agriculture, 11,520,000 by manufactures and 15,620,000 by commerce.

Half a century hence the successful victim of a civil service examination in the year 1893 may get an office—if he is an unusually lucky man and gifted with uncommon vitality.

Emperor William has been stirring up the French again by making the biggest kind of a military display at Metz on the anniversary of the battle. That man is sorely looking for trouble.

The money value of the alcoholic drinks consumed by the Belgians in the year 1891 amounted to nearly 450,000,000 francs, which is about a third part of the whole average wages of the workers.

Sir John Lubbock says that "during the many years he has had ants under observation, he has never on any occasion seen anything like a quarrel between any two ants belonging to the same community."

The New York workingmen are to be congratulated upon the refusal of the anarchists to participate in the Labor day parade. And the anarchists were perfectly consistent, for if there is anything on earth they have no sympathy for it is labor.

Mr. Geary is not saying a word about that exclusion and deportation law of his. Under its operation just one Chinaman has been sent home, while about 150,000 are staying right here in the United States and attending to their knitting.

The three suspicious characters in European politics are shaking their fists at each other again. If Russia, Italy and Germany all get mad at once there will be trouble abroad, but a rise in wheat here at home. It's an ill wind, etc.

London bought $1,000,000 worth of Boston municipal bonds in one bundle the other day. The world can't get along without American securities and they are again going abroad in large quantities, the Boston purchase being only a specimen brick.

The shark manifests a distinct choice for people of certain races, and will eat an Asiatic in preference to a negro, and a European rather than either.

Two signs in Wall street, New York, bear these inscriptions: "Spring lamb (very scarce on Wall street now), with mint sauce (scarcer)." "Cigars for broke brokers, five for 25 cents."

Gov. Thornton, recently appointed governor of New Mexico, and his wife have just celebrated their silver wedding at their home in Santa Fe, an old adobe dwelling of one story. It was a genuine Mexican out-of-door festival. In a state where the people were more up to snuff there would be nothing at all said about the adobe house. The celebration would have been held in marble halls or nowhere.

When the prairie traveler sees before him a wall of mountains veiled in the hazy blue of the distance he wonders how he is to climb them. He approaches and the seeming mountains vanish into gentle slopes of upland. That is the way with the difficulties which have seemed to confront the business enterprises of the country. They look nearly insurmountable until they are reached. They disappear before the patient and resolute march of industry and energy. The touch of faith moves mountains from its path.

The Clover Hay Worm.

The farmer who finds in his mow the webs of the clover hay worm should read and act upon the advice of Prof. Osborn, of the Iowa Agricultural College, who says: "Where these webs are found I would advise a thorough cleaning out of the infested mow and burning of all the webbed and worthless hay containing the worms. Otherwise there will be developed an enormous number of moths to lay eggs in the coming season's crop of hay and the probability of worse damage another year than has occurred heretofore.

"It is exactly under such conditions, the holding over of masses of infested hay, that the worms find the best opportunity for increase, and, while it may involve some labor and apparent loss at the time, it may be considered as next to throwing hay away to store it over a mass of hay previously infested, except that the upper portion will probably escape any serious damage.

"It is possible that worms could be killed by use of bisulphide of carbon without removing the hay, but I hesitate to recommend it, as I know of no case where it has been used for this pest and because of the danger connected with its use, especially in a barn where lanterns may be brought, making possible the ignition of the fumes."

Queen Victoria's Sight Declining.

Her majesty's eyesight is failing, and the royal oculist has frequently to be called into requisition. Her majesty has now to use very powerful spectacles when it is necessary for her to sign state documents. Blindness is hereditary in the family, for George III. suffered from it, but in his case it was supposed to have been brought on by excessive smoking. Shortness of sight seems to have suddenly affected many of the ladies and gentlemen of the court, who are now mostly armed with spectacles and eye glasses. This is carrying sycophancy to an absurd degree, but such it is, and it is now quite the proper thing for a woman of the bed chamber or a pretty maid of honor to adjust her pincenez whilst conversing within or without the charmed circle.

Teething is an important crisis in the life of lion cubs, and a large number of the young die during that period.

The Bombay university has eighteen magnificent buildings, erected by some of the successful native speculators in 1864.

THE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

DIGEST OF THE NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

All Important Occurrences of the Past Week, Boiled Down and Arranged for Rapid Reading, From Home and Abroad.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

The cruiser Atlanta will be rebuilt, it is reported. Her condition has been the cause of scandal in naval circles.

Thus far in the special session of congress the president has sent 396 nominations to the senate. Confirmations, 116.

Salt water mariners will apply to congress for the same weather signal service that is now furnished to the interior.

Speculators have conspired to defraud the government out of the Cherokee strip land by falsifying the allotments.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

George A. Thomas, president of the Thomas-Albright Co., of Goshen, Ind., died of consumption.

James A. Norton, ex-railway commissioner of Ohio, is lying dangerously ill at his home in Tiffin.

Mrs Lavina Fillmore, a relative of President Fillmore and the oldest person in New York state, died at Clarence, near Buffalo, aged 106 years.

Senator Proctor is soon to begin the erection of a fine house in Washington, at Vermont avenue and W street. The stone for it will be sent from Senator Proctor's quarries in Vermont.

Prince Bismarck's condition is much better. For a week or more Bismarck's condition caused great anxiety to his friends, but now he is regarded as out of danger.

Labouchere has for many years set aside a part of the profits of London Truth as a sinking fund for the defense of libel suits, and it is said to amount to something like $300,000.

Ballard Smith, the well-known New York newspaper man, who for a time was editor of the World, has married a rich English girl and will forsake his profession and his country and become a resident of England.

George Bonner, a Georgia farmer, who died the other day at the age of 87 years, was the father of twenty-three children, all by one mother, and as they grew up and married all settled on farms adjoining his own.

The yacht Osborne, with the princess of Wales and her daughters on board, arrived at Copenhagen recently. The czar and czarina of Russia and other royal personages welcomed them at the landing station. The party were driven to the castle at Fredricksberg.

CASUALTIES.

Miss Minnie Bruck was killed in a runaway accident at Peru, Ind.

Three men were seriously injured in a street car accident in Cincinnati caused by a defective brake.

The buildings and fence of the Kankakee Driving Park association were destroyed by fire.

Fire at Albany, Ind., destroyed the business part of the town, causing a loss of $25,000.

Forest fires have caused great loss in Indiana in the vicinity of Hammond.

Frank S. Story, a New York lawyer, died in St. Louis from the effects of drugs and liquor.

Francis Nolan of Brooklyn, on his way to the world's fair, fell from a train at Erie, Pa., and was killed.

Two men were killed and a dozen persons hurt by a Burlington train falling through a trestle at Streator.

Rudolph Kouth, aged fifteen years, drowned in Portage lake while bathing with two other boys. He could not swim.

Mistaking Stephen Shea, a neighboring farmer, for a marauder, Frank Holway shot him in the head near Sedalia, Mo. Shea may live.

Several vessels were wrecked, many houses destroyed and five persons were killed by a hurricane in the Azore islands.

The remains of a man supposed to be John A. Severing of Philadelphia, Pa., were found in Forest Park, St. Louis. Death had resulted from a pistol shot.

Mrs. Moody, seventy years old, was killed at Oskaloosa, Iowa, by a train. She was walking on the track, and, being deaf, did not hear the approach of the train.

A party of seven persons—two ladies and two gentlemen and three children—left Haverhill, Mass., in the yacht Daisy for Portland. They have been missing a week and it is feared they are lost.

David Newman of Lincoln, Neb., was killed at Mendota, Ill., while attempting to board a moving train. His widow is a sister of John M. Thurston of Omaha.

Dr. Walter S. Webb's steam yacht Elfrida blew out her boiler near Plattsville, N. Y., badly scalding two of the crew. Peter Mott, chief engineer, is scalded about the face and body and is in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kniper of Grand Rapids, Mich., were drowned by the capsizing of their boat while fishing in Pine Island lake. Albert Reidborg and wife, who were with them, were rescued in an unconscious condition.

Mrs. Maud Neish died at Osceola, Iowa, of arsenical poison. She had taken an extra dose for the purpose of heightening her beauty at her approaching wedding. She had been accustomed to use it in small quantities for that purpose.

The superstructure of the McLean County Coal company's shaft in Bloomington, Ill., including the gigantic coal breaker and screens, was destroyed by fire. It originated in the coal chutes of the Alton road. Loss, $100,000 to the coal company and $50,000 to the Alton. Vice President Stevenson is president of the coal company.

SINS AND SINNERS.

Mrs. Anna Rodaska committed suicide at Peoria, Ill., by taking arsenic.

Harrisburg, Pa., firebugs confess to setting fire to eight places within a year, entailing a loss of $30,000.

Arrested for misdemeanor at Sedalia, Charles Hill was found to be wanted in Kansas for stealing cattle.

Five persons were killed in a general fight at Patos, Mex., growing out of a dispute over a cock fight.

William Ackinson, colored, aged 20, who assaulted a little girl, was hanged by a mob at South Fork, Ky.

Masked robbers held up Night Operator Thompson, of the Central office at East Point, Ga., and robbed the office of $150.

Ex-Sheriff Willis of Vincennes, Ind., caught Prosecuting Attorney Hulse in the former's house and shot him. Hulse will die.

F. H. Kleekamp, a Fort Wayne attorney, arrested for impersonating a United States marshal, has been released.

Embezzler Scott's shortage at Lincoln, Col., is fully $90,000. The Nebraska county treasurer will be brought back from Mexico if possible.

New evidence damaging to Annie Wagner, accused of poisoning the Koester family at Indianapolis, has been discovered.

Arthur Malaby, the stock man of Denison, Tex., was murdered and robbed of $200 at Durant, I. T. Officers are in pursuit of the supposed robbers.

Max Kruger, postmaster at Twin Sisters, Tex., has been arrested on a charge of false cancellation of stamps to increase his compensation as postmaster.

Floyd Boughner, a saloonkeeper at Augusta, Ky., has been arrested on the charge of having started a recent fire and destroyed a good portion of the village. He confessed.

A man on a horse attempted to leap into the express car attached to a moving Santa Fe train near Arkansas City, Kan. His horse stumbled and the man fell. The messenger fired at the would-be robber, but missed him.

John Kraus, financial secretary of Central lodge, United Workmen, Dubuque, Iowa, is under arrest, charged with embezzlement.

James M. Pennock, under arrest at St. Louis, has been identified as one of the men who robbed the St. Louis & San Francisco train near St. Louis.

Six prisoners at Davenport, Iowa, knocked down the jailor and fled. The police and a sheriff's posse caught them.

Two negroes assaulted and robbed Samuel Paulus, an old soldier attending the reunion at Indianapolis. Paulus may die.

Wade and Lewis, condemned Choctaws, will be shot sitting down on their coffins. They were sentenced to death for murder.

Robert West and Will Davis, policemen at Hopkinsville, Ky., settled an old score by a street duel with pistols. West is dead and Davis cannot recover.

Deputy Marshal Hurlon and Outlaw "Slaughtered Kid" died from wounds received in the battle near Ingalls, I. T.

Ernest Lamar was found near Nashville, Ill., sitting under a tree with his throat cut. He will die.

While seining for fish at Bayford Point, Miss., a party of negroes brought up a badly decomposed body of a man, to which was fastened a weight. Papers on the corpse disclosed that the victim was Ferdinand Weiss, of Rockford, Ill.

J. D. Ford was found dead on the sidewalk in front of the Charles building at Denver. It is not known whether he was murdered or fell from a window. His coat and vest were found but all his money and valuables were gone.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

Bismarck is again suffering from rheumatism.

Five new cases of cholera are reported at Grimsby, Eng.

Miss Leal, a young Scotch woman, has broken the bank at Monte Carlo. She won $300,000 in one hour.

Frederick de Courcey May has died in London. He is a cousin of Fred May of New York.

The Pall Mall Gazette has an article advising the stoppage of assisted emigration to Canada.

A great crowd of distinguished persons are in attendance at the German army maneuvers.

The Austrian government is being criticised for holding maneuvers in cholera infected Galicia.

It is expected the house of lords will poll their full strength on the decisive vote against the home rule bill.

Disbanded troops seized funds designed to pay the regulars in Nicaragua, killing the escort and fleeing to Honduras.

A large crowd of students made a demonstration at Montevideo against Brazil. They were dispersed by the police after a struggle, in which several of the students were wounded.

Prince William, brother of the king of Denmark, died at Copenhagen. He was a field marshal lieutenant in the service of Austria and a lieutenant-general in the Danish service.

A widespread nihilistic conspiracy against the czar has been discovered at Moscow. The conspirators include eighty-five students, eight professors and five ladies who belong to aristocratic families.

The gathering of the harvest in Great Britain is practically finished. With scarcely an exception the results are described as the worst known, being even below the bad estimates made of them.

Herr Paasch, the notorious anti-Semite, has been pronounced a dangerous lunatic and has been sent to the asylum at Dalldorf. Herr Paasch was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment for libeling Chancellor von Caprivi.

The Brussels Agricultural Rationnale in its review of the sugar beet crop of Europe estimates the deficiency in France, Belgium and the Netherlands as 50,000 tons of raw sugar, and the surplus in Germany, Austro-Hungary and Russia as 600,000 tons.

The St. Petersburg Navoe Vremya says that the visit of the Russian squadron to Toulon will serve as a reminder that the ultimate course of European affairs depends upon the Franco-Prussian entente quite as much as it does upon the triple alliance.

A Buenos Ayres special says: The minister of finance has prepared a scheme for the gradual conversion of the paper currency. The Argentine republic, in view of the cholera reports from Europe, has declared all European ports suspected, and strict quarantine regulations will be accordingly enforced.

Father Frederick Rooker, who has left Rome for America with letters from the pope to Mgr. Satolli and Cardinal Gibbons, was commissioned also to present the cardinal a portrait of the pope. The portrait is carved in stone, and is set in a frame of gold studded with precious stones. The work was done by Vatican artificers and is a masterpiece of its kind.

The London Daily Telegraph, commenting upon the approaching visit of a Russian squadron to Toulon, expresses some alarm at this renewed approachment between France and Russia, and declares that it is necessary for Great Britain to review her position and possibly to revise her policy. The Standard advises that she join the triple alliance.

IN GENERAL.

Taylor Bros., New York pawnbrokers, failed.

Work has been resumed at the Lake Erie & Western shops at Princeton, Ind.

The Rev. L. A. Banks is the prohibition nominee for governor of Massachusetts.

The country about Elgin, Ill., is reported to be completely dried up and prairie fires are of daily occurrence.

The Indiana Republican Central Committee has decided to test the legality of the apportionment act.

Numerous fires in Illinois towns in the vicinity of Tuscola are thought to be the work of firebugs.

The Spanish government will present the caraval Santa Maria to the United States.

A gas well has been opened up at Portland, Ind., having a daily flow of 4,000,000 cubic feet.

Applications have been made at Los Angeles, Cal., for over 160 warrants for Chinamen who have not registered.

In an address Bishop Matz of Colorado accepts the decree of Baltimore council, but exhorts parents to send children to parochial schools.

The race eastward across the Atlantic was won by the New York, her mails arriving in London three hours earlier than those of the Teutonic.

Decaying matter on the coast of South Carolina, thrown up by the recent storm, threatens to cause an epidemic. Surgeon-General Wyman orders the coast disinfected.

Inspection of immigrants and disinfection of baggage, temporarily suspended at Sault Ste. Marie through the action of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad, has been resumed through a decision of Judges Sage and Severens of the United States court for Michigan.

The hop fields at Butteville, Ore., were the scene of a Chinese eviction. About 100 white men herded up fifty-six Chinese hop pickers, drove them to the dock and forced the captain of a steamer to take the Chinese to Portland. There are about 500 more Chinese around Butteville in the hop fields and more trouble may follow.

Delegates from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will hold a convention at Salina, Kan., Sept. 28, to devise means to secure state organizations for the purpose of introducing systems of perfect irrigation into those states.

FIFTY THIRD CONGRESS.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Condensed Record of the Business Being Transacted by our National Law-makers—Routine Report Day by Day.

Washington, Sept. 7.—In the senate a bill was introduced by Mr. Cullom (Rep. Ill.) and referred to the finance committee for the repeal of all acts for the creation or maintenance of a sinking fund. A report was made from the committee on privileges and elections for the poyment of $2,500 to each of the three claimants for seats under appointment of governors, and it was referred to the committee on contingent expenses. The resolution for the 11 o'clock meeting was presented and Mr. Voorhees (Dem. Ind.), who had offered it, withdrew it, stating that he did so after consultation with friends of repeal on the Democratic side, who thought that if the time for the senate was used carefully as much progress could be made. Mr. Morgan's resolution for a joint secret committee on finance was taken up and Mr. Voorhees and he suggested its reference to the finance committee. Morgan argued against the suggestion, stating that the purpose of the resolution was to supersede the finance committee in each house and substitute a joint select committee for them. Mr. Voorhees' motion was carried—337 to 21—which is interpreted as a temporary victory for repeal men. Speeches on the repeal bill were then made by the various members.

There were not more than a hundred members present when the house was called to order. The house resumed the consideration of the new code of rules, the pending question being the Kyle amendment striking from the rules the clause making 100 members a quorum in committee of the whole. The motion was agreed to—118 to 61. The house adopted the new code of rules at 3:50. Adjourned until Saturday.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Among the numerous resolutions presented and referred was one by Mr. Walcott (Rep., Colo.) for the immediate repeal of the McKinley tariff bill. Mr. Voorhees moved to take up the Sherman act repeal bill, which motion was agreed to, and Mr. Stewart of Nevada, who was entitled to the floor, postponed the continuation of his speech until Mr. Walthall (Dem., Miss.), who had signified his desire to address the senate to-day, had concluded his remarks. Mr. Walthall then addressed the senate. His speech was in favor of bimetallism. Mr. Stewart (Rep. Nev.) again took the floor at the conclusion of Mr. Walthall's remarks, and proceeded with the third installment of his speech (begun Tuesday). At 4:15 Mr. Stewart was still holding the floor. Mr. Daniel (Va.) went over and whispered a word in his ear, when, to the astonishment of all, he announced that he would now close his speech. The senate then proceeded to executive business, and at 5 p. m. to-morrow.

Washington, Sept. 9.—At 12:30 the repeal bill was taken up without objection, and the senate was addressed by Mr. Faulkner (Dem., W. Va.) After Mr. Faulkner closed his speech the floor was taken by Mr. Turpie (Dem., Ind.), who addressed the senate in favor of the principle of bimetallism. After speeches by Mr. Jones of Arkansas and others, the senate adjourned.

The house met to-day, and after the introduction of a number of bills adjourned until Monday.

Washington, Sept. 12.—In the senate the greater part of the time was occupied by Senator Pugh (Ala.) in opposition to the repeal of the Sherman law. He was followed by Senator Teller (Colo.), also against the bill, who concluded his speech begun on Saturday last. The silver men neither Saturday nor today followed the tactics inaugurated early last week of insisting upon the presence of a quorum, and apparently the feeling between the friends and opponents of repeal is much better than it has been heretofore during the session.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The senate was prompt in getting to work on the repeal bill. The Stewart resolution as to senators holding stock in national banks was laid over until to-morrow. At 12:30 the bill was taken up and Mr. Mitchell (Rep. Or.) made a long speech against the repeal of the Sherman act.

The house transacted only routine business. Mr. Hepburn (Rep. Iowa) attempted to secure consideration of a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the amount of merchandise transported from one United States port to another over Canadian territory. Mr. Geary (Dem. Cal.) objected, and the resolution was referred.

BANKERS ON TRIAL.

Milwaukee, Sept. 13.—Probably a more distinguished assemblage of men never stood trial for criminal offense than those who will be summoned before the jury that was convened in Judge Wallber's court to-day. They are Judge Jenkins, of the United States circuit court; William Plankinton, W. H. Momsen, C. L. Clason and F. W. Noyes, all of them prominent and respected members of the social and business world of Milwaukee. They are directors of the defunct Plankinton bank, the downfall of which is said to be the result of fraud on the part of the officials.

MINERS REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

London, Sept. 13. — The miners of Derbyshire, by a vote of over 10,000 men, decided against accepting any reduction of wages and refused to submit their dispute with the colliers to arbitration.

BIG ESTATE.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—A final report has been filed in the probate court on the estate of John Sullivan, valued at four millions. The estate is to be equally divided between ten children.

DISASTER TO FARMERS.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—At 1 o'clock this morning while George Mapleton and A. S. Carpenter, living on a farm five miles from this city, were driving on Cedar street, their team ran away. Colliding with a telegraph pole, both men were thrown out and received probably fatal injuries.

HORSES KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Inkster, N. D., Sept. 13.—During a storm last night Thomas Casement's barn was struck by lightning and five horses were killed. A threshing crew asleep in the barn escaped uninjured.

BROOKINGS COLLEGE.

Brookings, S. D., Special—The regents of education are now in session at Wolsey. It is expected that they will arrange the financial affairs of the various state educational institutions on a better basis than has obtained for some time past. E. T. Bates, of the class of '93, has been made assistant in dairying, and A. S. Burnham, of the Michigan State Agricultural college, has been appointed inspector in the iron shops. Attendance at the fall term of scool is very promising, particularly in the freshman class, where a large number have already entered. Prof. Corbett is very actively engaged on the fruit and vegetable collection for the state exhibit at Chicago. He has a very fine collection from Brookings county, particularly in plums and crab-apples. He leaves for Chicago to-morrow.

CONFESSED.

St. Louis, Mo., Special—James M. Pennock, the man captured at the scene and time of the train robbery Tuesday night at Pacific, Mo., to-day weakened and confessed that he was the leader of the three men who held up the 'Frisco train. His story was in detail that which has already been printed, but in addition he gave the names of the men who accompanied him. The police are now searching for one, the other already being in custody. The man being searched for is Pennock's brother-in-law, whose name is yet unknown. The man the police have placed in custody is Sam Robinson, a "laid off" brakeman of the 'Frisco road.

BIG OBJECT GLASS.

London, Special—Sir Howard Grubb has recently furnished an object glass for the new equatorial telescope at Greenwich observatory, of which he was the manufacturer. It cost about £4,500. The casting of a twenty-eight-inch lens for the telescope took the Chance Bros. of Birmingham, about three years to complete.

KILLED BY A BURGLAR.

Keokuk, Iowa, Sept. 7.—At Fort Madison, Iowa, this morning Hermann A. Antelman, a farmer, was brutally murdered. At an early hour Antelman discovered a man breaking into his house and effected his capture. Without assistance he started to town with the burglar to turn him over to the sheriff. Near the city the prisoner jumped out of the wagon and started to run. Antelman pursued when the burglar fired three shots, instantly killink him.

SUSPECTED ROBBER.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The police yesterday arrested a man giving the name of E. F. Ward, who is supposed to be implicated in the robbery of the Hawling Savings Bank of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., of $21,000. When Henry Carey was sentenced to the Albany penitentiary he made a confession implicating three other men, and Ward is thought to be Eugene Comisky or Patrick Langley, two of the men implicated by Carey.

BLACKBURN RECONCILED.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7.—It is now reported that Senator Blackburn has become reconciled to Breckenridge and will be one of his counsel in the Pollard breach of promise suit. The change is doubtless owing to the influence of Phil Thompson, who is Breckinridge's counsel and Blackburn's most intimate friend. The report that Blackburn declared his purpose to hold Breckenridge responsible seems to be through reliable sources. It is quite certain that Mrs. Luke Blackburn is as indigrant as ever.

DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 7. — Robert West and Will Davis, both members of the police force, settled an old score this morning with a pistol duel to the death. Davis fired first and West promptly returned it. They were in arm's reach of each other. At the same instant both fired the second time. Davis sank to the platform. West reeled and fell. He expired in four minutes. Davis still lives, but cannot long survive.

ROBBER IDENTIFIED.

St. Louis, Sept. 7. — James Marion Pennrock, who was arrested near the scene of the 'Frisco train robbery last night, was brought here to-day in company with three tramps who were stealing rides on the "blind baggage." Pennrock was in the employ of the Frisco road and was identified by the engineer of the robbed train as he climbed over the tender and ordered him to stop the train.

TWO WILL BE SHOT.

Hartshorne, Ind. T., Sept. 7.—Pursuant to the agreement reached between Col. Faison and the Choctaw authorities, seven of the nine condemned prisoners were yesterday released upon their own recognizance for appearance for a new trial. The ring leaders, Simon Wade and Solomon Lewis, are held for execution Friday.

AERONAUT SAVED.

Milwaukee, Sept. 7.—Capt. O. Eiermann, who left this city in a balloon on Sunday, telegraphs from St. Ignace, Mich., to-day: "I am all right, but lost the balloon." Capt. Eiermann struck the lake when he was but twenty-five miles away from Milwaukee, and he was picked up by the crew of the schooner Ellen Williams and taken to St. Ignace.

EMMA INDICTED.

New York, Sept. 7.—The grand jury this morning made its first presentment in part of court of general sessions before Judge Fitzgerald by filing a true bill against Emma Goldman, the anarchist, charged with unlawful assemblage and incitive to riot. She will be brought to New York as soon as requisition papers are made out.

BISMARCK BETTER.

Berlin, Sept. 7.—Dr. Schweinger, Prince Bismarck's body physician, telegraphed from Kissingen to the Associated Press correspondent here to-day that the prince is much better. For a week or more Prince Bismarck's condition has caused great anxiety to his family, but he is now regarded as out of danger.

SUICIDED.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Max M. Rothschild, a wealthy manufacturer, committed suicide to-day by hanging himself to a door hinge. He made an unsuccessful attempt to kill himself earlier in the day. He is supposed to have been of unsound mind as there was no reason why he should have committed suicide.

TO BE HANGED.

De Smet, S. D., Sept. 7.—N. R. Thompson was to-day sentenced to be hanged Oct. 7 for the murder of Mrs. Bleghton July 4, 1892. The supreme court and board of pardons have refused to interfere, and there is nothing to prevent the execution on the date fixed.

DOCTOR KILLED.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Dr. A. H. Wilson of Douglas, Kan., was fatally injured by a cable train last night while passing through the La Salle street tunnel. He fell between the car and tunnel wall and was hurt so badly that he died within an hour.

CHANCE FOR CHINAMEN.

Panama, Sept. 7.—The legislature of British Guiana offere a bounty of $25 a head for 5,000 Chinamen from the United States. They are wanted to work under contract on a sugar plantation and in the gold mines.

BOTH DROWNED.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 7.—Ben Kniper and wife of this city went fishing in Pine lake, near Belmont yesterday. In changing positions the boat capsized and they were thrown into the water and both drowned.

TRAMP KILLED.

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 7.—An unknown tramp tried to board a train at the Indian village of La Guna last night and missing the distance was killed. Just before he died he said his father was a banker somewhere in Michigan.

KILLED HIS SISTERS.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 7.—John Hart, aged thirty-four, to-day, near this city, murdered his two sisters, Mary and Nellie, aged twenty-six and twenty-three, respectively. Hart is supposed to have been temporarily insane.

GREAT EXHIBITION.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—To-day in the presence of a vast assemblage of people Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, lieutenant governor of the Province of Ontario, formally opened Toronto's great annual industrial exhibition. The exhibition promises this year to be the most successful ever held.

ARMED NEGROES.

Little Rock, Ark., Special.—Four hundred negroes armed with Winchester rifles passed through this city late last night en route to Weir City, Kan., to take the places of the striking miners and were prepared to do so at all hazards. They were plentifully supplied with ammunition and provisions. The negroes were brought from Arkansas and Texas.

VALENTINE HEAVENER DEAD.

Milbank S. D., Special.—Valentins Heavener died last night of paralysis. He was sixty-eight years old, and came here in 1878 from Wabasha county, Minn. He leaves a widow and quite a family of grown children.

The scools opened on Monday under the able management of Prof. Vert.

TOLD IN DELIRIUM.

Yankton, S. D., Special—Lowis Sherwood was arrested this morning for the murder of Minnie Sawyer Monday morning. Circumstnatial evidence is very strong and his admissions amount to a confession. He has typhoid fever, and is delirious most of the time.

CYCLONE.

New Orleans, Special—In a cyclone at Lockport, La., five persons were killed, including two Sisters of Charity, and many wounded.

CONDUCTORS OUT.

Rachine, Wis., Special—Owing to the hard times and falling off in trade the Bell Street Railway company will lay off fifty conductors next week, and the cars will be run by the motormen. The patrons will drop the fares in the box as of old.

CLOQUET SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Duluth, Special—August Duke has begun suit against the village of Cloquet for $5,000 damages for the death of his son, Wilford Duke, aged twenty-two months. The child fell into a ditch of water on the public street and was drowned.

IRISH FIGHT GLADSTONE.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL LEAGUE AGAINST THE HOME RULE BILL.

A Manifesto Issued Declaring That Measure a Fraud and Predicting Defeat for Gladstone at the Polls.

New York, Sept. 11.—Considerable dissatisfaction has been evinced by the leading members of the Irish National league in America as to the provisions of Gladstone's home rule bill, which was rejected on Friday by the house of lords by the immense majority of 419 to 41.

The members of the opposition say that the bill does not present the elements of finality, and places the Irish nation in a worse position than at present. The executive of the Irish National league complains that the evicted tenants have been left uncared for, while the disfranchisement of twenty-three Irish seats under the bill, while the land and police questions remain in the hands of the government, would seriously influence the power of the Irish members in the house of commons. Immediately upon the rejection of the home rule bill by the house of lords the executive of the Irish National league decided upon issuing a manifesto to the Irish people in America setting forth their views upon the provisions of the rejected bill and their ideas as to the course which the national league should adopt in the present crisis. The manifesto says, among other things:

"The bill submitted to the house of commons was proctically worthless. The imposition on our country of the mutilated skeleton which was just ejected by the house of lords would be an outrage, and the serfs who would accept it with thanks would merit the scorn of the nation. We have no hesitation in declaring that no more pernicious influence has been at work than the influence of Mr. Gladstone in recent years. The spirit of Irish nationality was being steadily destroyed by this influence fostered by a designing agency which prefers a West Briton to an Irishman. Mr. Gladstone, whether he appeals to the country this year or not, will, in the opinion of those thoroughly acquainted with the situation, be defeated at the polls. A great convention of Irishmen from all countries we think should be called and a plan for united action formulated and adopted. At such a convention the example of the American patriots might be emulated and a declaration of Ireland's independance given to the world."

ROBBERS IDENTIFIED.

Delta, Colo., Sept. 11.—The two men who were killed last Thursday while attempting to escape after robbing the Farmers and Merchants' bank and killing its cashier were positively identified to-day as Tom and Fred McCarthy, father and son. The third man who participated in the robbery but escaped is Billy McCarthy, also a son of Tom McCarthy. These men constituted the McCarthy gang of Oregon, and were wanted there for robbing stages and the United States mails. There is a reward of $10,000 for them on that account. Ex-Chief of Police Farley of Denver says that Tom McCarthy is the man who robbed President D. H. Moffett, of the First National bank of that city some four years ago, securing $21,000.

ARREST OF A MURDERER.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 11.—The murderer of Mrs. Jane Wright, better known as Madame Wright, the wealthy proprietoress of an employment agency, was taken to-day in less than twenty-four hours after the crime was committed. The crime was the result of a conspiracy formed by two desperate men, whose motive was robbery. One, the man who actually committed the deed, is Henry Jones, a cook. The other was John Clark, also a cook, and an ex-convict who had obtained his freedom only six days before the crime. Clark received as his share in the crime $160 and a gold watch. He was arrested.

ANARCHY IN SPAIN.

Madrid, Sept. 11.—A riot broke out in Santander on Saturday during a fire in a populous quarter. A mob forcibly entered the municipal buildings, and, after destroying the furniture, threw everything out of the windows. The residences of the mayor and the leading councillor were treated in the same way. The mob was finally dispersed by troops. The riot was ostensibly caused by a deficiency of water, but it is really another evidence of the wave of anarchism passing over Spain.

SKIPPED TO AVOID ARREST.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 11. — George Muloch, real estate dealer here, and a prominent member of the Baptist church, is discovered to have been guilty of incest with his nineteen-year-old daughter. The girl revealed the terrible crime to her mother, and the latter at once notified the church authorities who held a secret meeting yesterday and expelled Muloch from the church. Muloch and family moved in the best society here and the revelation produced a big sensation. The girl says her father has been having intercourse with her for over a year. Muloch skipped town to avoid arrest.

MANGLED BEYOND RECOGNITION.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 11.—A wreck was caused yesterday on the Pan Handle by the breaking in two of a freight train at Big Walnut, a few miles east of this city. An unknown man was killed, the body being mangled beyond recognition. Frank Deitrick, a brakeman of Huntington, Ohio, was probably fatally injured.

FOR A PORTAGE RAILWAY.

Washington Sept. 11.—Secretary Lamont has sent to the house the report of the board of engineers on the obstruction in the Columbia river between Three Mile Rapids and Celilo Falls, Washington and Oregon. The method of overcoming the obstructions favored by the board is a portage railway from Celilo to a point below the Three Mile rapids.

JOY FOR FARMERS.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—Badly needed rain fell throughout the southern half of Missouri and northeastern Arkansas to-day, doing great good to growing crops.

RIGHTED.

Lanesboro, Minn., Sept. 11.—The Bank of Lanesboro closed its doors a week ago Saturday. The depositors met at the city hall and voted unanimously to instruct the bank to open its doors and resume business at once, ample time being given. The bank reopened this morning.

ST. LOUIS EXPO.

St. Louis, Mo., Special—The tenth annual exposition was opened last evening, the mammoth Music hall being packed to suffocation and the corridors and various departments of the big building being crowded. No accurate estimate of the crowd can be made because of its scattered condition. There were addresses by Gov. W. J. Stone, ex-Gov. E. O. Standard, Mayor Walbridge and others, interspersed with music by Sousa's Chicago Marine band of 100 musicians. The numerous displays are even above the usual standard, the art gallery especially being considered by competent judges to be far superior to any former exhibit. During the forty days that the exposition will last Sousa's band will give four concerts daily.

MILLIONS INVOLVED.

Washington, Special—Land Commissioner Lamereaux has decided the famous section 30 case, involving millions of dollars worth of iron mining property near Duluth. W. W. Billson, August MacDonald and other claimants are knocked out and Charles P. Wheeler given the right to locate on the lands in dispute. The heirs of David Moyer are also given a preference. This case is one of the most important ever considered by the governor of the commissioner of the land office.

FLAGGED A TRAIN.

Creston, Iowa, Special—A west-bound train was flagged at 8:30 this morning, a few miles east of Creston, by a man who was employed on the road several years ago. He told the trainmen there were two ties on the track, placed there, he thought, to wreck the train. It is thought to have been done by the informer himself, so he could touch the company for a pass.

Ray Elliott of Marengo, who was reported stolen last May, was drowned. His decomposed body was found in a rain barrel near the barn.

The First Presbyterian church has called Rev. Mr. Miller of Des Moines. He will move to this city in a short time.

PEAK AGENT LORDS.

London, Sept. 13.—The Liberal National Federation last night issued a circular against the house of lords. In this circular the Federation declares that seven years' discussion and eighty-two days' consideration by the house of commons definitely ascertained the wishes of two million electors, yet this counts for nothing when opposed to the views of 400 conservative persons. Continuing, the circular declares that the action of the house of lords is now in the front rank of the Liberal programme in accord with Mr. Gladstone's declaration at New Castle. The circular concludes that as the home rule bill passed the house of commons and was rejected by the house of lords it is doubly certain to become law. It also says that not only will the Irish question be settled, but that a real era of reform is dawning for the democracy of the United Kingdom. The circular is signed by Spence Watson, Schnaidherst and other officials of the Federation.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — Wheat steady; cash, 65 3-4c; October, 66 3-4c; December, 70 1-8c. Corn higher; cash, 40 1-8c; October, 40 3-4c; December, 40 5-8c; May, 44 1-4c. Oats steady; cash, 25 1-2c; October, 25 3-4c; December, 26 5-8c; May, 30 7-8a31c.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — Cattle — Extra prime steers, $5.25a5.40; choice, $4.75a5.15; good, $4.40a4.65; medium, $3.50a4; common, $2.70a3.30; Western steers, $2.15a3.90; do cows, $1.75a2.10; feeders, $2.15a2.75. Hogs—Mixed and packers, $5.25a5.80; prime heavy, $5.80a5.97 1-2; butchers, $5.90a6.15; light, $5.85a6.30.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—Hogs 10c higher and active. Cattle steady; bulk of receipts Westerns and natives; trading slow.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Wheat—September opened at 60 3-4c; highest, 61c; lowest, 60 3-4c; closing, 61c; December opened at 65c; highest, 65 1-8a65 1-4c; lowest, 64 3-4c; closing, 65 1-8c. On track—No. 1 hard, 63 1-2c; No. 1 Northern, 62 1-2c; No. 2 Northern, 60c.

GREAT TIMBER FIRES.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 13.—Immense timber fires, covering many miles in extent, are raging in various portions of the Black Hills. The damage to growing timber is very great, while the loss in cordwood alone will amount to $50,000. Several adjacent mining towns are threatened, and the inhabitants are using every effort to check the flames.

"At the Two Bears mine the entire force of miners, numbering over 100, are engaged in fighting the flames from the company's works valued at $10,000. If a high wind starts up their efforts will be fruitless. Details of soldiers at Fort Meade, fourteen miles east of here, are keeping back the flames from the post and have so far succeeded in preventing much damage. A number of farm houses in this vicinity have been destroyed, together with live stock. The damage cannot be estimated at present with any accuracy, but it will be undoubtedly $100,000. Unless a rain comes the greatest danger will exist to all the towns in this section.

FIRES IN WISCONSIN.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—Reports received to-day state that fires are raging on O'Neil creek, north of Chippewa City, and that a large portion of the country between that place and Long Lake has been burned over. The summer cottages at Long Lake are in imminent danger of destruction unless the flames are choked. Estella is also in danger of being burned. Last night the air was filled with smoke here in this city showing that the fires are not very far from here. Large tracts of pine have been burned over, causing large damages. Everything is like tinder, no rain having fallen for several weeks.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST A BISHOP

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Caus Celerra of the Canadian Revue against Archbishop Fabre for damages and libel suffered by the acts of his grace in putting the publicantion under the ban came up in the practice court to-day before Judge Mattiu. The archbishop, through his attorneys, replied to the plea of the Revue by denying the jurisdiction of the court in the matter, and maintaining that he had acted perfectly within his rights in excommunicating the paper and its editors and proprietors.

THE CHOLERA SCOURGE.

London, Sept. 13.—Two new cases and one death from cholera were reported in Amsterdam to-day. Six cases were reported in the country. Two suspicious cases were discovered in Berlin to-day. There were two deaths from cholera in Rome to-day, and several new cases were reported. At Leghorn there were three new cases, and at Palermo three new cases and five deaths. The news from Russia in regard to the spread of cholera continues to be discouraging.

AFTER A PUGILIST.

London, Sept. 13.—Sophie Fatson, the woman who made an application last week to a magistrate for a warrant for the arrest of Charles Mitchell, the pugilist, on a charge of perjury, made a similar application to-day and was refused.

COMPLICATIONS FOR ITALY.

Rome, Sept. 13.—A mob of Italians attacked a number of Hungarian peasants at Delayoes and tried to burn the town hall. The riot was quelled by troops, but not before twenty-five persons had been wounded. The trouble was the outcome of a long-standing racial animosity.

AFTER MINISTER ANGERS.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—Dr. Playtner has issued a second warrant against Hon. Mr. Angers, minister of agriculture, this time for giving to the press Dr. Mootzimbert's letter reflecting on the professional character of Dr. Playter in connection with the Grosse Ile quarantine.

HER LAST SAIL.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Henry Leathers of Hopkins was drowned on Lake Calhoun yesterday afternoon. She was sailing in a yacht with her husband when the craft capsized. Mr. Leathers was saved.

DISAPPROVES AN EXTRA SESSION

Madison, Wis., Sept. 13.—Gov. Peck says the importance of an extra session of the legislature has not been made apparent to him and he seemed opposed to the project, intimating that in his opinion Milwaukee county finances could be adjusted without resorting to this.

DYNAMITERS.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Herald's Panama correspondent cables: News has been received from Honduras that the partisans of Bonilla recently attempted to blow up the garrison powder house in Tegucigalpa with dynamite. Weather conditions prevented a frightful loss of life. Twenty-six dynamite bombs were thrown at the powder house, and in the explosion five of the guards were fatally wounded. They died soon afterward. The building was demolished.

RANCHES IN A BLAZE.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 8.—The most destructive forest fire ever in Washington is raging in the Dozwalips valley, west of Hood's canal, an arm of Puget sound, in the northwestern part of the state. Ranchers are fleeing down the valley to the beach. A half-dozen ranchers left a few days ago to prospect for gold in the Olympic mountains. The fire has cut them off, and their wives and children are in distress. Already 5,000 acres have been burned over.

SEALED VERDICT.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 8.—The verdict in the Hughes court martial case has been rendered, but it is sealed and in the hands of the governor and will probably not be made public until after the executive's return from the world's fair. Gen. Sears, the presiding officer of the court, yesterday declined to state what the verdict was, but did not deny that a fine and a jail sentence had been imposed.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 8.—Charles Allen, one of the oldest residents of Gladwin county, residing on a farm two and a half miles from Gladwin city, was burned to death yesterday. The house took fire and the old man got out safely, but returned for the purpose of saving some money, about $1,000, secreted in the house.

HAMILTON FISH DEAD.

Garrison, N. Y. Sept. 7.—Hon. Hamilton Fish, ex-secretary of state, died at his country residence here yesterday.

GUNS AND DYNAMITE

IN COMBINATION, THEY RAISE HOB IN INDIANA.

Twenty Bandits Hold Up an Express Train, Shoot the Engineer, Blow Up a Safe and Secure a Large Booty.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 13.—When the inhabitants of this sleepy little village awoke this morning they heard a story of a train robbery, with dynamite accompaniments, compared with which the wildest flights of imagination of Western writers pale into insignificance. When Express Train No. 14, which left Chicago at 7:45 last night with two express cars, a baggage car and ten coaches, approached the siding at Kesler, about five miles west of here, Engineer Knapp saw that the switch lamp was turned so as to show a red light. The headlight of his engine, however, disclosed the fact that, though the lamp was at danger, the switch had not been turned, leaving a through track. He slowly stopped the train, and as he neared the switch a flash was seen ahead and then the loud report of a Winchester rang out.

Immediately Engineer Knapp felt a twitching pain in the shoulder. The robber's aim had been good, for the bullet from the Winchester had reached its mark. Before the engineer and fireman could realize it they were surrounded by a gang of probably twenty men, who surrounded the cab and commanded them to remain quiet under penalty of death. A detachment of the gang went to the rear and the train crew was covered with Winchesters, while another went to the forward express car and commenced to bombard it with dynamite. four or five cartridges were placed in the door to accomplish this purpose. As soon as they got in the car the express messenger was placed under guard and the bandits then went leisurly to work to blow open the safe. One cartridge after another was used. The first had no apparent effect on the safe, but after four had been discharged it was seen that the safe was giving way, and as the report from the fifth died away the robbers could help themselves to anything the iron box had previously contained, which they proceeded to do, leaving nothing behind them.

After looting the car the robbers fired a volley as a warning to those who might desire to venture in pursuit. The train was delayed an hour, and as soon as the robbers departed the engine pulled out, raching here after 2 o'clock. The sheriff was quickly notified and he immediately proceeded to organize a posse and started in pursuit of the bandits.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13—Col. John Byrne of this city, who is superintendent of detectives of the United States Express company, left to-night for the scene of the robbery. Officials of the company here declare it may be days before the extent of the robbery is known, and it may be $50,000 or it may be $250,000. If the robbers carried off the bag, etc., it is probable they carried off the way bills, also. Most all of the expressmen on this run belong here. The messenger of the looted car was M. M. Weist, of No. 165 Glenwood avenue. A telegram came this afternoon requesting that his wife be notified that he is all right. The robbed express car reached here early this evening. From the exterior it does not seem to have been roughly handled, but an interior view gives a different impression. It is pretty well torn to pieces. The safe which was blown open stands a little to one side of the door through which the robbers forced an entrance. Its door is off, its interior is barren. The door was torn from its hinges and blown into seven pieces. The car shows no marks of bullets either inside or outside. Six blocks of silver bullion which were in the car were not touched; neither were the small portable safes in which the smaller sums of money were carried.

GREAT INVENTION.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 13.—It was learned to-day that Frank Gregsire, a blacksmith, has been working in secret nearly a year perfecting a system for propelling boats, and has now completed it. He claims that by it a steamer can be propelled across the Atlantic in two and one-half days. Steam is the motive power.

WAS A FORGERY.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — M. V. Gannon, president of the Irish National League of America, emphatically denies that he is a party to the anti-Gladstone manifesto in regard to the home rule bill purporting to have been issued by the executive committee of the league. He says his signature thereto was a forgery.

HOTEL GUESTS CREMATED.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 13.—News was received here this morning of the murder of two persons in a hotel at Brighton, a suburb of this city. It is also stated that the hotel was set fire and two persons burned to death.

DEATH OF A SPORTING MAN.

New York, Sept. 13.—Col. P. Duffy, the well known New Orleans sporting man who acted as referee in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, died in the Presbyterian hospital last night.

BISMARCK IMPROVING.

Kissingen, Sept. 13.—It is officially announced that Prince Bismarck continues to improve. He has left his bed every day since Friday, and has walked about his room. His suffering is from sciatica and is less acute.

GLADSTONE ENJOYING A REST.

London, Sept. 13.—Mr. Gladstone is again rusticating in the heather. He enjoyed himself hugely yesterday and is improving in health.

GRAVEYARD VANDAL.

River Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—The gravestone vandal visited the cemetery at this place last night and upset twenty-three monuments, ruining several and damaging many.

HEAVY HAIL.

Annandale, Minn., Sept. 13.—The hardest hailstorm of the season passed over this place at 4 o'clock last evening. The ground was white with hail from the size of walnuts to small hen's eggs.

INCENDIARIES IN A GRAIN FIELD

Redwood Falls, Minn., Sept. 13.—Four threshing outfits have been burned at Delhi. The work was supposed to be that of an incendiary. The large number of threshing machines in the country is supposed to be the cause of the deed. The loss is about $3,600.

MONEY RECOVERED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 11.—Detectives recovered $5,000 of the money stolen from the safe of the Adams Express company at Akron, Ohio, Friday night. It was found buried in a cornfield in the suburbs. The burglars have been arrested.

HINDOOS SHOT DOWN.

Calcutta, Sept. 11.—A number of Hindoos at Busselpore, in Northwest Bengal, tried on Wednesday to capture a quantity of commissary cattle. Troops were called and the Hindoos, with fanatical fury, fought until the troops were ordered to fire, when they scattered. Three of them were killed.

RUN DOWN AND KILLED.

Lebanon, Ill., Sept. 11.—Andrew Frith of St. Louis and J. Clernon of Breese, Ill., mine laborers, were run down by a passenger train on the Ohio & Mississippi at Bennett's coal mine and instantly killed yesterday.

NO WORK FOR THRESHERS.

Breckinridge, Minn., Sept. 11.—The towns are full of threshers out of a job. Farmers throughout Wilkin and Richland counties are generally refusing to thresh at the present prices of grain. No trouble is anticipated.

HONOR FOR ST. PAUL.

Washington, Sept. 11.—St. Paul is to have a great ocean liner named in her honor. One of the quartet of vessels of the American line will be called St. Paul and another St. Louis.

INVESTIGATORS FROM FRANCE.

New York, Sept. 11.—A delegation of fifty-two French workmen representing different trades arrived here to-day on the steamer La Gascogne. They will visit factories, inspecting the system of work and the standing of American workmen.

ACCUSED OF DEFRAUDING.

Duluth, Sept. 12.—An order was received by the police last night to arrest Frederick Kreyenbuhl of this city, who is charged with being the proincipal in a most daring attempt to defraud several life insurance companies.

On July 21, the story became current that John Clark and W. B. Clegg had been capsized while out sailing and that Gregg had been drowned. Clark told a story of remarkable endurance, how, after the boat had capsized he clung to the overturned craft from 10 one morning until 3 o'clock the next, when the boat drifted to the north shore about eighteen miles from Duluth. He righted the boat and rowed back to this city, and going to Krayenbuhl's house, fainted in the doorway. There were some very suspicious circumstances connected with the case. Some weeks later it developed that Gregg's life was insured shortly before the time of his disappearance for $20,000, and that the policies were made in favor of Krayenbuhl.

About the middle of August a demand was made for the insurance money and the company began an investigation. Several special agents were sent here, and very early it was decided that there had been fraud. It was found that during the whole time Clark said he had been drifting on the north shore the wind was blowing in an entirely opposite direction. It was found, too, from the testimony of vesselmen that no one could live in Lake Superior for the length of time Clark said he had been drifting. The matter resolved itself into a question whether Gregg was a party to the fraud or whether he had been murdered. From a vesselman it was finally learned that Gregg had been seen at La Pointe, a small place on the Wisconsin shore, some days subsequent to the drowning episode, and from there he was traced East. The same dispatch which ordered the arrest of Krayenbuhl stated that Gregg and Clark had been arrested together in Philadelphia. Clark is a brother of one of Duluth's prominent merchants, and all parties implicated are people of good standing.

SUICIDE OF A CASHIER.

Tyrone, Pa., Sept. 12.—Gen. Robert A. McCoy, cashier of the Blair County bank, was found unconscious in his room at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right temple. He died three hours later without regaining consciousness. He left a letter that since the death of his wife and son life had been unbearable. The bank and his own personal business matters are in sound condition. Gen. McCoy was one of the most prominent business men and politiciansof Blair county. He served during the war, rising to the rank of brevetbrigadiergeneral.

BISMARCK'S ILLNESS.

Paris, Sept. 12.—The most alarming reports are in circulation here as to the state of Prince Bismarck's health. It is stated that he has been stricken with paralysis, and that he has already lost the use of his hands. Though the real state of the distinguished sufferer's health may be somewhat exaggerated, there seems no reason to doubt that his illness has assumed a most serious turn. Sciatica is said to be the foundation of the disease from which the prince is suffering, and if reports are to be believed the case has developed into paralysis.

A MINISTER SHOT.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 12.—A special to the Bee from North Platte, Neb., says: Rev. A. Amsbury, presiding elder of the district, shot and almost instantly killed himself this afternoon. He was riding in a Union Pacific caboose on his way to keep an appointment, and for amusement had been shooting at telegraph poles as the train passed by. While the train was standing at a station the crew heard a shot, and entering the caboose found Mr. Amsbury breathing his last. His friends scout at the idea of suicide.

THE FEMALE ANARCH.

New York, Sept. 12.—Emma Goldman, the female anarchist, was arraigned in the general sessions this morning to plead to the indictment found against her by the grand jury last week for unlawful assemblage and inciting to riot. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and said she wolld defend herself, declining counsel assigned to defend her by the court. She was remanded indefinitely, bail being fixed at $4,000.

BOLD THIEVES.

Barnesville, Minn., Sept. 12.—Thieves effected an entrance through the side light of the front entrance in Hans Peterson's general store and carried off dry goods, shoes, etc., to the amount of about $300. They had selected the goods with great care, and had evidently been busy nearly all night, in plain view of the sidewalk, with light burning curtains up.

FOR MURDERING A FAMILY.

Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 12.—Judge Morrison has considered the argument for insanity in Dee Taylor's case and overruled the motion and resentenced him for the murder of the Mullins family to be hanged Oct. 27.

FOSTER'S FINANCES.

Fostoria, Ohio, Sept. 12.—According to the statement of the receiver of the various concerns which ex-Secretary Foster owned and controlled, the total liabilities are $1,086,671.92; total assets, $964,342.19.

AIR LINE TO RUSSIA.

Paris, Sept. 12.—M. de Savine, the famous aeronaut, is making preparations for a voyage from the Camp de Mars in this city to Russia without making a single descent to the earth during the trip.

A WISCONSIN BLAZE.

West Bend, Wis., Sept. 12.—Fire early this morning did $40,000 damage here. John Weinand's hotel and the Nicholas block are the largest buildings burned.

WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED.

Pittsburg, Sept. 12.—A large number of idle men were given employment today by the resumptions of numerous iron and steel plants.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

London, Sept. 12.—Ten thousand miners about the North Stafford district resumed work to-day at the old rate of wages.

DEATH OF A JUDGE.

Minneapolis, Sept. 12. — Frederick Hooker, judge of the district court, died here last night.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Grand Forks, Special—A meeting of the new board of the Chautauqua assembly was held at Devils Lake yesterday. C. H. Clemmer of Grand Forks is president; J. N. Maher, vice president; S. A. Nye, corresponding secretary; Henry Hale, recording secretary; J. A. Stewart, treasurer; all residents of Devils Lake. Rev. Eugene May of Fargo has been re-elected superintendent. Satisfactory as was the assembly programme for this season, the appropriation for platform talent for 1894 assures a yet richer feast. The average attendance this year was 300 daily. The organization is in excellent financial condition. About $9,000 is held in shares; $6,000 was expended in improvements this year, and $4,000 must be expended next year. The assembly grounds are a wonder and delight to all who visit the lake.

BAND ASSOCIATION.

Janesville, Wis., Special—The annual meeting of the Southern Wisconsin Band association, which convened in this city this afternoon, is quite a success. Seventeen bands are represented in the meeting and ten full bands appeared in the parade. This evening the boys played in different parts of the city and two public dancing parties were part of the entertainment. The convention concludes to-morrow.

OBJECTS TO THE PENALTY.

Washington, Special—President Malster, of the Columbian Iron works, was in the city yesterday to see Secretary Herbert regarding the payment of about $15,000 which was retained by the department as a penalty for failure to complete the cruiser Detroit within the specified time. No extension of time was allowed by Secretary Tracey and Mr. Malster has appealed to have the penalty remitted on the ground that the changes directed prevented the vessel being finished on time. The vessel was many months overdue in completion. The secretary has taken the matter under advisement.

Without a Competitor.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Is so far beyond other brands of baking powders in its purity, wholesomeness and leavening power that it is practically without a competitor. Adulteration prevails to such an extent that the consumer in many sections is at the mercy of the venders of the ammonia and alum baking powders Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the only powder prepared by a physician of high standing, and almost the only pure Cream of Tartar powder to be obtained.

ETIQUETTE AT WASHINGTON.

In Official Circles It Is of Great Diplomatic Importance.

In regard to the importance of the question of rank and precedence in Washington, the late governor and United States senator, E. D. Morgan used to tell a story that perfectly illustrates the strict puctillio of the diplomatic circles here, and also how much the new senator has to learn, no matter how well acquainted with the usages of the grande monde he may be elsewhere. Gov. Morgan, by the way, was born to the purple, had seen much of good society before his elevation to the chief magistracy of his own state of New York and the United States senate.

"The matter of etiquette embarrassed me a good deal when I first went to Washington as a senator," said he. "It was in the early days of the war, and Mr. Seward, who was an old friend, was secretary of state. There was a good deal of dinner giving that winter (1863) and I did as the others were doing. During the holidays in 1863, I invited the members of the diplomatic corps to meet the secretary of state at dinner. The times were squally, and Seward had told me privately that he wanted all the social aid he could get, especially with the foreign ministers in Washington. Sir Frederick Bruce was the English minister then. He was a special friend of my wife and myself, and had often visited at our home in New York. Senor Tassara, the Spanish minister, was the dean or senor of the diplomatic corps. At the congress of Vienna in 1810 the rule was adopted and is still in existence, that diplomatists' precedence at a court is regulated by the term of service at that court. So, as my dinner was to diplomats, things had to be regulated according to diplomatic usage.

"Sir Frederick Bruce was my oldest acquaintance among them, and I asked him to take Mrs. Morgan out to dinner. 'My dear sir, I can't do that,' said Bruce. 'Tassara's the dean. It's his right.' 'Oh, the d——l,' said I. 'England is a bigger country than Spain. Besides, you're an old friend of ours. Let the etiquette go.' 'But I daren't,' said Bruce. Just then Seward came up. Hearing what was going on he called me to one side and said: 'This may not seem of any importance to you, Morgan, but it is of immense consequence to me and the country. Spain is friendly to us. Tassara, being a Spaniard, is extremely punctilious. If, at a diplomatic dinner, his right of precedence is disregarded, he would take it as a deliberate insult to his nation. So, for heaven's sake, let him take Mrs. Morgan out; otherwise he will write to his government, and we will have no end of a row over it.' Of course, with this view before me," said Gov. Morgan. "I could only comply with the requirements of courtesy and etiquette, and asked Senor Tassara to take my wife out, which he did, and we had no row with Spain."—Washington Post.

HERE IS A TROLLEY CRANK.

He Predicts That the Atlantic Will Be Crossed by Means of the Trolley.

Perhaps the steamer of the future will be operated on a trolley by means of a submarine cable. The advantages of this plan would be great, as it would prevent the necessities of carrying immense quantities of fuel and of keeping the vessel loaded down with enormous engines. All the delay and difficulty and expense of managing furnaces and engines on board ship would be done away with by the oceanic trolley system and the ships could be made so much lighter that they could go whizzing across the ocean in a couple of days. Danger of accident could be brought to be no greater than it is at present by having a sufficient number of repair steamers on the route, which could keep the cables in repair and in case of any accident to the trolley could bring the passenger boat into port or put it again in connection with the cable.

There can be no question that the proper means of crossing the Atlantic quickly is by some system which will allow the motive power to be applied from the shore, either, by a trolley or a cable. The limit of speed for ships that carry engines and fuel is certainly practically reached on the surface, and there are difficulties in the way of submarine navigation which it would be hard to conquer. The trolley system is capable of greater extension, and we may yet live to get to Europe by its means.

—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

I Cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.

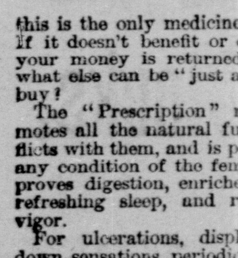

Dr. Shoop's Restorative Nerve Pills sent free with Medical Book to prove merit for 2c stamp. Druggists, 25c. Dr. Shoop, Box W., Racine, Wis.

The sultan of Turkey has the richest collection of gems and regalia in the world.

Coe's Cough Balsam

Is the oldest and best. It will break up a Cold quicker than anything else. It is always reliable. Try it

The Simplon tunnel in England will, when finished, be the largest in the world.

YOU GET STRONG, if you're a tired-out or "run-down" woman, with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And, if you suffer from any "female complaint" or disorder, you get well. For these two things—to build up women's strength, and to cure women's ailments—this is the only medicine that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, your money is returned. On these terms, what else can be "just as good" for you to buy?

The "Prescription" regulates and promotes all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and is perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor.

For ulcerations, displacements, bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, and every chronic weakness or irregularity, it's a remedy that safely, and permanently cures.

Second-Hand

TYPE

About 2,000 pounds of Benton-Waldo's Self-Spacing Bourgeois in first-class order in fonts of 50 pounds or more.

A few Iron News Stands at Half-Price.

Northwestern Newspaper Union

ST. PAUL, MINN.

WANTED Men to travel. We pay $50 to $100 a month and expenses. STONE & WELLINGTON, Madison, Wis.

THE KANSAS CITY

VETERINARY COLLEGE.

Incorporated by the State. For Catalogue address, J. H. Watties, D.V.S., 310 E. 12th St.

A NEW USE FOR TOWELS.

In Southern China They Sew Two of Them Together and Thus Provide a Coat.

It appears from the latest consular report from Swatow, in Southern China, that among cotton goods the import of towels alone has shown any improvement. But, the consul explains, this does not imply any increased attention to personal cleanliness on the part of the inhabitants of the district, for the towels are used for clothing, says the London Times. The breadth of the ordinary towel being that from shoulder to shoulder, two sewn together will make a coat. Sleeves are dispensed with, and, except for the arm holes, there is none of that waste of material which is especially repugnant to the Chinaman, and which the size of his native piece goods and the fashion of his clothes conspire to avoid. British manufacturers have been warned by their agents and others of this frugal tendency of the Chinese mind, but the loom designed to turn out cloth of the narorw Chinese breadths requires as much attention as one giving cloth twice as wide. This leads the consul to suggest that the cloth might be woven at the same loom. So far the remonstrances of importers have availed chiefly to affect the length of the piece. If a piece forty yards long will make exactly twelve Chinese garments, one a few inches less will only produce similar garments, leaving a useless remnant. Thus importers who know their customers have urged that the piece, though it cannot be woven to a given inch, should always exceed the expected length and never fall short of it. Lastly, the consul suggests that, as Chinese garments fit loosely to the figure and can be transferred from one person to another without any noticeable misfit, it might be possible for British manufacturers to turn out goods of exact size needed for coats, gowns and the amorphous pantaloons. He asks whether these crude garments might not be produced entire and so imported into China.

A MOST WONDERFUL DOG.

Can Tell the Days of the Week and Different Railroad Trains.

Those people who do not believe in dog stories are really subjects for heartfelt commiseration; they have either been unfortunate in their canine acquaintances or have not the penetration requisite for proper interpretation of dog characteristics. A Louisville railroad man has a dog that distinguishes the days of the week and different railroad trains. On days when Midget's owner made his regular trips the dog accompanies him to the station, but never attempts to board the train—just stays on the platform, an interested spectator, and wags his tail cheerfully as the train moves out. On other days and other trains—suburban trains to Parkland or Pewee Valley—he hops aboard without hesitation, evidently aware that the ride in prospect is one that he may share. Midget swears, too; swears like a pirate.

The family understands him, but they report that his language is too terrible to be repeated. When things don't go to suit him he retires under a bed or sofa and lies there rolling off oaths of fearful description for hours. A young man who was attentive to Midget's young mistress unintentionally offended him, but the dog got even. He actually broke off the match. He knew the regular nights on which the youth appeared, and at an early hour would ensconce himself under the parlor sofa, from which coign of vantage he would growl forth such volleys of personal and profane remarks that the prospective lover became intimidated and ceased his attentions. In recognition of which services Midget's master gave him a beautiful collar.

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Pioneer Newspaper Woman.

Mrs. E. J. Nicholson is said to be the only woman in the world who owns, edits, manages and publishes a great daily newspaper. She was first a contributor of poetry to the columns of the New Orleans Picayune, which she now owns, under the name of Pearl Rivers, and some years ago was made literary editor of the paper by Col. A. M. Holbrook, its editor and proprietor, thus being the pioneer newspaper woman in the South. After a time she became the wife of Col. Holbrook, and at his death inherited the paper, much encumbered by debt, with a dubious outlook. She assumed the responsibility courageously, and, with able assistants, has put it again on a substantial basis. A few years ago she married George Nicholson, who was business manager of the paper.

The Automatic Waiter.

The waitress may be dispensed with. A woman believes she has made her superfluous by inventing a table that will wait on itself. The table—dining table, of course—is round, with a space 10 inches wide for the individual plates, cups, saucers, etc. Inside this circle there is a revolving disc, raised about 2 inches above the surrounding circle, upon which the food is placed. By turning it in any direction you may have the bread, butter, olives or cream without asking or waiting for them. The invention seems to be the merriest kind of a merry-go-round.—New York Evening Post.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,

Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for Children Teething.

The earliest Egyptian column was simply the stalk of the lotus crowned by its calix.

Never buy whisky for medicinal purposes unless you know the bottlers of it to be reliable, as most whiskies sold under celebrated names are spurious, cheap articles, whose bottlers cannot afford to have their names appear on the labels.

Uncle Sam's Monogram Whiskey is bottled by the oldest and largest firm in the Liquor line in the Northwest and the favor with which it has been received is the best proof of its superior quality. Ask your druggist or retail dealer for it.

A Walla Walla (Wash.) florist asserts that he owns a black calla "lily."

HOT WEATHER

opens the pores, the system is relaxed and nature easily responds. Drive all foul corruption out of the body now by a course of

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa,

Nature's Remedy of Roots, Barks and Herbs. The best Liver Stomach and Blood Renovater. All Druggists, $1.00—6 Bottles for $5.00.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water.

SEND 15 CTS and we will send you by express, express paid. our 575-page Catalogue, which contains lowest prices on Guns, Hardware, Stoves, Windows, Sporting Goods, Baby Carriages, Musical Instruments, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Rubber Goods, Stationery, Queensware, Silverware, Carpets, Furniture, Farm Implements, Cutlery, Tinware, Doors, Books, Clocks, Drugs, Clothing, Hats, Bicycles, Lumber, Toys, Paints, Oils, Fencing, Buggies, Wagons, Lamps, Bibles, Watches, Tents, Flags, Caps, Harness, Stack and Wagon Covers and Dry Goods.

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, 510 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

THE STORY TELLER

A GOLDEN DAWN.

The result of his "seeing" was that Hyacinth, in a pretty white and blue costume, looked more lovely than ever, and went, with a smile on her face, to meet her doom—went in the full beauty of a June day, with a face fair as a flower, a heart light as that of a bird, her eyes full of happiness, her golden hair like an aureole round her head. Francis Vane watched her with loving gaze, and to him, in that moment of unconcealed pride and delight in his child, there came no shadow of a prison cell.

Mrs. Morley always spoke of that picnic as one of the successes of her life; no party of guests could have enjoyed themselves more. Lady Rosedene, just as the vicar's good wife had foreseen, was delighted with the beautiful debutante.

"Is her father a gentleman?" she whispered to Mrs. Morley. "She herself is charming. But is she quite presentable?"

Mrs. Morley, in her good nature, gave such a flattering account of the scholar that Lady Rosedene became desirous to see him.

"Shall I invite the father as well?" she asked, and was just a little offended when Mrs. Morley assured her that it would not be of the least use.

"You have evidently never heard the romantic story of Francis Vane's courtship and marriage," said Mrs. Morley. "He is about the only case I know in this world of really true love. It is no fiction to say that his heart is buried in his wife's grave. All his neighbors have been kind to him, and invited him, but it was found that invitations merely troubled him; now every one leaves him in peace."

"Then you think he would not come, even if I invited him?" said Lady Rosedene. "I generally manage to have my own way with the men."

"I do not think you would succeed in this case," answered Mrs. Morley; "nor do I think it would be kind to desire it. When so much of a man's heart and soul is in heaven, it seems almost a pity to bring him back into close contact with the world again."

Lady Rosedene's eyes were fixed on the fair, bright face of the young girl. She turned suddenly to the vicar's wife.

"I have read," she said, "of the sweetness of flowers being wasted on the desert air—of violets blooming unseen, and giving their fragrance to the wind. I do not believe in anything of the kind. Take the great kingdom of flowers; ever here and there is one of such exquisite beauty that evey one pauses to admire it. It appears to me that one in the world of fair women, every now and then we find a face so beautiful that the whole world ought to see and admire it. I shall be doing an act of charity in making this face known."

But the vicar's wife shook her head. Such a doctrine was not quite in accordance with her husbands teaching.

"I do not know about that," she said. "Every face is what I may call the veil or cover of an immortal soul; and I should say any soul was endangered where the owner of it was worshiped for her beauty. I do not quite think myself that beauty should be so eagerly admired."

"It is the way of the world," laughed Lady Rosedene. "We plain women may thank heaven that great beauty and great gifts do not often come together; if they did, we should have but a poor chance. As it is, some people do value common sense and intellect more than beauty. I shall make friends with Miss Vane. We shall hear something of her before many months are over, mark my words."

And those same words indeed came true.

Chapter III.

Lady Rosedene, of Dene Hall, was one of the celebrities of the county in which Dene stood. She was left a widow at quite an early age, mistress of a magnificent estate, and a vast fortune. Being both young and clever, every one expected that she would marry again; but Lady Rosedene was wiser than that. The late lord had been of a most tyrannical disposition and unaimiable temper. His young wife suffered terribly from it, being herself of a gay, frank, happy nature. When Lord Rosedene died, she said to herself that she would never again bend her neck under the yoke that was so weighty to bear. She resolved to enjoy her life; and, as a preliminary, as the most certain means of insuring that enjoyment, she resolved upon never having anything to do with love.

"If I am to enjoy my life, to preserve my good looks, I must have nothing to do with the fret and the fever called love."

Having made that resolution, she began to enjoy life in her own way, and succeeded perfectly in her plan. One of the most charming and captivating of women, she had numerous admirers. She enjoyed the friendship of clever and sensible men; she enjoyed their admiration; she was pleased with her conquests—but she steadfastly refused to have anything to do with love, even in its milder form of flirtation.

For fifteen years she had been the "queen of the county." The fetes and festivities at Dene Hall were famous all over the neighborhood—no one else gave such parties, such balls, such picnics—no one gave such pleasant garden parties. The young girls of the neighborhood adored her.

She would not hear of love for herself; but nothing gave her greater happiness than to see it in others. She took the keenest interest in a love affair. She was not a match maker; no one could have ever used such a word about the refined and clever Lady Rosedene; but she liked to bring young people together. She had a wonderful kind of instinct which told her at once what persons would agree together. She never had an ill assorted party of guests. She never had the least drawback to the success of any entertainment she gave.

She was famous for having promoted more marriages than any one else in the county. Mothers who had a difficulty in marrying their daughters found their difficulties ended when they once applied to Lady Rosedene. She would invite a young girl to Dene Hall, introduce her amongst an eligible set, and then leave her to take her chance. That usually ended in marriage. So successful had she been that pretty young girls were now at a premium in the neighborhood of Dunwold; they were all married and gone from home; so that the kindly, happy widow was somewhat a loss for young recruits.

She began to fancy that at one or two of her balls there had been a dearth of pretty faces, that her charade party had lacked interest, and that there was a want of novelty in some of the scenes. She was more than delighted when Mrs. Morley introduced her to Hyacinth Vane; here, indeed, was a novelty—a girl more beautiful than any she had ever seen; with a voice that was like sweetest music, and a smile that was like sunshine; a girl whose every movement was full of sweetest harmony, as though she were following a strain of hidden music.

Lady Rosedene fell in love with her at once.

"Your father is a scholar and a gentleman; they tell me he lives amid his books, and counts this outer world as nothing. To invite him to Dene Hall would be an empty compliment—he would not come; but I wish he would let you visit me. Do you think he would?" said Lady Rosedene to her.

Hyacinth raised her happy eyes to the kindly, comely face.

"I think he would be delighted," she answered. "My father is not quite like other men; he does not seem to live in the same world—I doubt whether he would understand at all the kind of world in which you move."

"Probably not," said Lady Rosedene, delighted with the girl's earnestness and beauty; "but you will understand it."

She smiled at the fervor with which the girl clasped her little white hands and replied:

"I should love it, I think, more than any other world."

A dainty flush covered her fair face, her eyes shone with the brightness of stars.

"Then," said Lady Rosedene, "you shall see what it is like. Come and stay with me for a month, if you can be spared for so long. I have no wish to flatter you, but with a face like yours, the world ought to be at your feet."

Hyacinth Vane never forgot that day. She had been accustomed to hear Lady Rosedene's name mentioned always as that of one of the powers of the land; and now to find that great and mighty personage not only kind to her, but absolutely asking for her society and her friendship, was something wonderful. She did not know that Lady Rosedene was driven almost to her wits' end for pretty faces, and that she would soon consider her prestige gone, unless she could introduce some new beauty. Hyacinth knew nothing of this, and wondered why the clever, dainty, exclusive lady should be so anxious for her friendship. She was delighted; her charming face seemed to grow more beautiful, her eyes brighter, her smile sweeter.

The day of the picnic was never to be forgotten by her; all the details of it she remembered; and in the dullest hours of her life those details came back to her with a torture all their own.

When Lady Rosedene took her home that evening she said:

"I shall take you at your word, Miss Vane, and drive over to-morrow to ask your papa if he can spare you for a month. You will enjoy yourself at Dene Hall, I am sure."

"I know that I shall," replied Hyacinth, simply.

Lady Rosedene was perfectly happy. She would be able to introduce a beauty such as no one had seen in that part of the country, and she should recover the prestige she had almost lost from a scarcity of beautiful faces.

When she reached home, Hyacinth said nothing to her father about the impending visit. For the first time she realized in what a different world they both lived.

Something of the deep silent mystery of night seemed to linger round her as she entered the quiet house. She went at once to her father's study, the ring of happy voices, the sound of music, the silver strains of compliment and homage, (all sounding in her ears; the brightness of fair faces, the sheen of rich dresses and jewels, still before her eyes. Her father, his work ended for the day, was seated at the window, his eyes fixed on the lime trees beneath which his young wife slept. She heard him mumur, as she opened the door:

"How long, Elsie—how long will it be, dear?"

A great solemn hush fell over her. It was as though she had suddenly entered a grand cathedral aisle; the world seemed to fall from her.

She forgot Lady Rosedene and the promised visit, and went with a gentle step to the lonely man, whose heart was buried while his body lived on. She put her arms round his neck, and bent her sweet face over his.

"Papa," she whispered, "shall you never forget, even ever so little?"

"No, my darling, not even ever so little. I live more in that green grave than I do here. There is a shadow over me to-night—a presentiment of coming evil—and in my mind I am going over and over again every happy day of my life spent with her. Sit down here at my feet, Hyacinth, and let me tell you how she lived and died."

Seated in the solemn, beautiful dusk, while the trees moved and the wind sighed in unison, she listened once more to the story of how her mother had been more like a spirit or an angel than a woman—how she had loved the white hyacinths, and how she had died with her little child clasped in her arms.

No wonder that the girl forgot the coming visitor and the coming visit. the last incident of that eventful day which she remembered was her singing in a low, sweet tone to her father until the look of unsatisfied longing faded from his face and he slept.

It was such a different world this from the bright, laughing life that only that afternoon had been unrolled before her. It seemed stranger still when, on the day following, Lady Rosedene' carriage stopped at Sweetbriars, an the footman in his gorgeous livery rapped sharply at the door.

How strange it seemed to see the brilliant lady, with her bright face, her superb dress, in that room where the solitary man always sat, that he might be within sight of his wife's grave!

With that tact that distinguished her, Lady Rosedene at once made her way to his heart. She laid aside her pretty caprices, her pride, her half-sarcastic, half-laughing manner. She recognized that she was in the presence of a deep sorrow, and it impressed her. This pale studious man, with the grief of a lifetime on his face, made a great impression on her. She was earnest, sincere, kind and true. He appeared half startled at the idea of Hyacinth's spending a month at the Hall.

"I am afraid," he remarked, "that it will give my daughter tastes that can never be gratified."

But Lady Rosedene laughed.

"Leave all that to me," she said. "Neither you nor I know how much good fortune is in store for your daughter."

And so the finrst act of the tragedy was arranged. Hyacinth was on the week following to go to Dene Hall.

Chapter IV.

Dene Hall was the very residence for one who studied the enjoyments of life. It was one of the prettiest homes in England. There was nothing grand or majestic about it; but it was picturesque, artistic and beautiful. There was no recognized form in its architecture, and no two rooms resembled each other. Some had long French windows opening into the grounds, others large bay windows from which one had a magnificent view of the surrounding country. Some were stately and splendid, others small and cozy; there was every variety and there was every shape; every taste could be gratified. The rooms themselves were furnished in different styles—some with splendor, some with simple artistic taste; they were all picturesque, many with pretty nooks where one could talk unobserved by the hour, many full of gems of art. It was a home wherein every one was happy and at ease; there were rare books for the studious, music for those who enjoyed it, out-door amusement for those who preferred it, shady walks, where the trees met overhead, for those who loved solitude.

Lady Rosedene was never alone. She did not know what solitude meant, and never intended to know. She had always a well selected party of visitors at the Hall, and she quietly exulted in the fact that she had now a face to show her friends such as they had never seen before. Lady Rosedene was always in love with her last protegee, and she was decidedly charmed with Hyacinth Vane.

Hyacinth had been quite at a loss about her dress. In her dilemma she had gone to Mrs. Morley, who had helped her in the difficulty. Francis Vane looked at his daughter with something like a smile on his face, as he gave her the sum of money which seemed to her like a little fortune.

To Be Continued.

AROUND A GREAT STATE.

INTERESTING EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN MINNESOTA.

Important Occurrences in the North Star State Day by Day—A General Resume of the Week's Doings Arranged for Rapid Reading.

Thursday, Sept. 7.

A Minneapolis bank teller has disappeared, and sc have $15,000 of the bank's funds.

Charles White of Mankato has been charged with murder in the first degree of Harry Walraven.

Two hundred and nineteen North Dakota people registered at the state building at theworld's fair last week.

Out of thirty-three cars received in Duluth in one day from North Dakota twenty-two were graded No. 1 hard.

C. Christianson of Slayton, an old man of over seventy, slipped into a threshing machine feet first and had both legs ground up half way to his knees.

N. E. Anderson's blacksmith and machine shop at Litchfield was broken into and about $50 worth of fine tools taken.

Andrew Norum, county auditor of the county of Kanabec was dangerously injured by the premature discharge of a shot gun in the hands of a companion while hunting. He was very low, but it is thought he will recover.

The house of William P. Moon of Malta township, Big Stone county, was burned by an accident to a gasoline stove. The household goods were mostly saved. Loss about $1,000, with $300 insurance.

A romantic maiden, Annie Eldridge of Barnesville, came to St. Cloud in response to a letter from her beloved. T. McNearny, who was lodged in jail for drunk and disorderly conduct. She paid the fine, which took all her money, freed her lover and they left happy. Her brother forbade her coming and locked her in the house, but she escaped.

Friday, Sept. 8.

The Stillwater city council has decided to have street lights, and has entered into a contract with the Stillwater Gas and Electric Light company.

Harry Stokes, who was digging out an old well on Mrs. Ellen Shehan's farm, near Buffalo, went down into the well and was overcome by foul air, and died before assistance could reach him.

Fire destroyed a barn and three valuable horses owned by John Lundquist, at Winthrop. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $800 on barn and contents. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Two burglars entered Weber & Heintz's drug store at Rochester. Entrance was effected by breaking the glass near the catch and opening the window in the rear of the store. Both were arrested. They are tough looking customers.

Suicide was attempted by R Wright of Brainerd over family matters, but without success. The man shot himself in the head with a revolver, but the bullet glanced, making an ugly scalp wound.

Burglars effected an entrance into P. O. Sunde's store at New Richmond, blew the safe open and secured $5,000 in notes, $40 in cash and $150 worth of jewelry. The robbers were fired upon by the night watchman, but made good their escape.

George Baer, second engineer in the roller mills at Wells, met with a quite serious accident. After making some repairs standing on a ladder, he jumped down a short distance and broke through a trap door over a vat made for receiving waste water from the engine, receiving a severe scald on both legs from the ankles to the knees. his shoes in a measure protecting his feet.

A terrible tragedy was enacted about a mile and a half from Cannon Falls. John Dordan wounded his son, John Dordan, Jr. Both were intoxicated, and the young man was trying to put the father in bed, when the old man seized a knife and plunged it into his son's bowels. The attending physician probed the wound to a depth of about four inches. but the victim in his drunken condition would not permit a thorough examination at that time. The perpetrator of the deed was arrested and incarcerated in jail at Cannon Falls.

Saturday, Sept. 9.

Another convict, Olof Peterson. has been paroled at the state prison. He came from Minneapolis, Jan. 1, 1892, for two and one-half years for assault.

Mankato's three suspended national banks reopened and received deposits largely in excess of the amounts withdrawn.

Cashier Mathias J. Bofferding, of the Bank of Minneapolis, committed suicide because of the defalcation of Scheig, the absconding teller.

Suicide was attempted by R. Wright of Brainerd over family matters, but without success. The man shot himself in the head with a revolver, but the bullet glanced, making an ugly scalp wound.

Burglars effected an entrance into P. O. Sunde's store at New Richland, blew the safe open and secured $5,000 in notes, $40 in cash and $150 worth of jewelry. The robbers were fired upon by the night watchman, but made good their escape.

Sam Leeland was found dead at Marshall on a load of soft blacksmith coal, his head imbedded in the dust. He had got the coal in Marshall, and a friend had driven the team home. Both were drunk; Sam very drunk. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict that he died of suffocation while intoxicated.

The remains of a man were discovered by John Vorge of Brainerd in a cranberry marsh near Jonesville, six miles east of Brainerd. No examination was made, but Mr. Vorge says the man's clothes, which are in good condition, would denote the remains to be other than that of a hunter or woodsman.

James Rogers, a young man of Faribault, running a merry-go-round in South Minneapolis, sold out and disappeared four weeks ago and caused his parents anxiety. He was believed to have been killed. He has sent word home that he had been robbed of $400 that he had borrowed of his mother when starting into business, giving this reason for absence

Sunday, Sept. 10.

While hauling hay John Olson of Brunswick was fatally injured and his son badly hurt by their team running away and tipping over the load.

William Heller of Wisconsin, a sawyer in the Pine Tree Lumber company's mill at Little Falls, was injured. His right arm was injured in two places.

Fire at Madelia caused a loss to F. E. Sherman, merchant, general store, of about 80 per cent of a $14,000 stock; insurance, $10,000.

Dr. A. G. Aldrich of Anoka was shot while hunting with Louis Smith. Seventy-five shot were removed from his leg.

The Great Northern car shops at St. Cloud are now running with a full force and over hours. The men discharged last month are being taken back rapidly.

Henry Jackson, now lying in the county jail at Brainerd, charged with poisoning Edwin Peck, on June 4, has made a full and complete confession over his own signature in the presence of the sheriff and county attorney.

The store of J. L. Strout at Fairhaven was entered by burglars. A heavy safe was blown open and about $325 in money and valuable papers carried off. There is no clue to the perpetrators, but it is supposed to be the work of tramps.

Mrs. Morte Kasper, wife of John Kasper, a dock laborer of Duluth, has been missing for about a week. She is supposed to have eloped with Ignatz Hertz. The pair were seen at the West End depot of the St. Paul & Duluth, and are said to have taken a train south.

C. G. Von Suessmilch, the dentist, has left Duluth, presumably to stay. He was quite dissipated. Several months ago he eloped with Mrs. Lind of New Duluth. That was smoothed over, and both returned to their families. But, although the facts are not published, Von Suessmilch could not stand the notoriety it gave him, and about a week ago he left town, this time alone. He comes of a fine family in Wisconsin, and is the favorite son of a wealthy farmer.

Monday, Sept. 11.

Burglars broke into the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul depot at Cannon Falls and blew open the safe, but got nothing.

The house of Charles Stahnke of Danewood caught fire and burned. Loss, $1,500; insurance, $850. Very little was saved.

A domestic employed at the Batlo hotel at Red Wing named Ida Johnson, disappeared. A thorough search failed to locate her whereabouts. She recently came from Sweden.

The eight-year-old son of John Jardine of Shakopee accidentally shot himself with a revolver. He didn't know it was loaded, pulled the trigger and shot himself through the heart, dying instantly.

O. Erickson, from Rosseau, Kittson county, while riding from town with Eli Dalquist, county commissioner of Marshall county, was killed near Warren by their team running away.

Forest fires are raging south of Hinckley, and a heavy wind is driving them on. The villagers are already making preparations for an active defense against the flames. Great damage is done the timber.

A small barn at Montevideo belonging to R. S. Harter was burned. His team perished in the flames. as all attempts to get them out were unsuccessful. The loss was about $300; no insurance. The fire was set by some small children, who were playing with matches.

Tuesday, Sept. 12.

The dwelling house of Isaac Stevens at Montrose was partially destroyed by fire, with their household goods. Loss, $200; no insurance.

Rev. C. K. Austin, a resident of Rice county for twenty-four years, died at his residence three miles from Dundas, aged sixty-eight; cause of death, heart disease.

Near Windom, while threshing, but on different machines, August Lokken and Pascal Vought had the fingers of their left hands taken off in the cylinder of their machines. Amputation was necessary.

Mrs. G. E. Martenus of North Branch attempted suicide by cutting a vein in her arm with a razor. She also made a gash in the leg. Despondency over the sickness of her child is the probable cause.

Wednesday, Sept. 13.

The receipts of the Freeborn Agricultural society, above the expenses and all indebtedness, are $600. The premiums will be fully paid.

Charles White, charged with the murder of Harry Walraven at Mankato, was discharged. The evidence was insufficient to hold him.

John Long and wife of the town of St. Joseph, two aged people, when driving home were thrown out and probably fatally hurt. The injured are parents of the Great Northern yardmaster in St. Cloud.

The citizens all over Morrison county are being very favorably impressed with the new railroad scheme. There does not now exist any doubt in the minds of those best informed that the bonds will be voted.

Mrs. Warner, with a servant girl, filled a gasoline can from a tank in the barn of Dr. G. F. Warner of Mankato, and the girl stepped on a match, which set fire to it. Mrs. Warner was badly burned about the face and elsewhere.

Henry Paulson has been arrested near Swan River charged with criminal assault upon Mrs. John Looma, who lives a few miles above Floodwood. Paulson worked for the woman's husband, who was away on the night of Sept. 1. when the crime is alleged to have been committed. Paulson has been taken to Duluth.

Word was received at Duluth that the single rotary saw mill of the Cranberry Lumber company, on the south shore, was totally destroyed by fire. The dock and 1,000,000 feet of lumber were saved. The mill was valued at $5,000; insured for $3,200. Fire started in the engine room.

Burglars broke into P. N. Allen's furniture store, Nick Fieder's lumber office and Bosch's elevator at Cannon Falls and tried to break into O. F. Peters' hardware store, but did not get in. The safes were left open. The iron drawers were broken open and carried away, but they contained no money.

Where Cows Are Money.

That "time is money" is a saying both trite and true, but there is one part of the world, at least, where cows are money. A recent publication of the Imperial Geographical Society of Russia contains the announcement that the Chewsures, a race of 7,000 people who live in Tiflis. in Northwestern Asia, knew nothing of the use of money as a medium of exchange. The unit of valuation among the primitive people is the cow. A horse is valued at three cows and a stallion at six. If a native becomes enraged and cracks his neighbor's skull he is obliged to pay sixteen cows. If he breaks a bone of his neighbor's arm, five cows will pay the penalty. A wound in the forehead calls for three calves. If one cuts another in the part of the face usually covered by the beard, the punishment is comparatively severe. The "doctor" places as many grains of wheat along the cut as possible. For each grain of wheat so used the criminal must give up a cow. Wounds in the beardless part of the face call for one-third as many cows only. The man who injures a neighbor's hand surrenders sixteen cows. Thirty cows even will pay for the loss of an eye. These people are said to be happy, and no misers exist among them, but it would perhaps be rather difficult to hoard cows.

Astonished Savages.

The author of "Where Three Empires Meet" took some Kafirs from their desolate inland home in the Himalayan gorges beyond the mountain ranges to the more civilized south. Like most savages, they looked with stupid indifference at the marvels about them, and once only were they excited by an incident which opened their eyes to what they considered an extraordinary and unnatural state of things.

They were descending a road when one of them chanced to remark that he was hungry, and the English "sahib" bought him some food at a way-side shop. The Kafir saw the money change hands.

"How is this?" he inquired in surprise. "Do you have to pay for food in this country?"

"Certainly."

"What a country!" cried the man, in amazement. Then after pondering a while he continued, doubtfully, "Suppose a man had no money in this country; he might starve!"

"It is quite possible."

The Kafir shook with uncontrollable laughter. It was the best joke he had ever heard. He then explained the ridiculous system to his companions and they roared in chorus.

Coming to the Point.

AT THE STOCK PAVILION.

AWARDING OF PREMIUMS FOR LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS.

A Center of Attraction to World's Fair Visitors—The Northwestern States Come in for a Good Share of the Premiums.

Jackson Park, Special Correspondence.—During the past week the event which seemed to have absorbed all of the attention that visitors could spare from West Point cadets and the weather was the awarding of premiums for blooded stock and horses in the immense tan bark arena of the world's fair grounds, which is known as the stock pavilion. This great structure resembles in plan in some degree the old Coliseum at Rome, the measure of Roman permanence, containing as it does rising tiers of seats around a central arena, which affords ample space for five rings of cattle and horses to be ranged at one time for judgment. All of the seats are comfortably covered by a roof so that the state of the weather cuts no figure with the spectator. This arena furnishes sufficient room for a crack foot ball game to be played, and this week a picked team of United States cadets tackled a Chicago eleven of old college sphere kickers, and were vanquished by the score of 14 to 0. At that time a large crowd viewed the game from the benches, while the cattle arena was found to be admirably suited to the requirements of the old association game.

There are many reasons why this cattle and horse show should attract a great deal of attention. In the first place, there is the finest and largest display of blooded animals here ever gathered together before in one competition. The United States has always furnished the biggest animal shows in so far as number is concerned even if at times these shows might leave many things to be desired in the matter of quality. The live stock exhibit here is very great from both of these standpoints. It is noticeable that only the very best stock has been brought here, and the result is that horses and cattle which have taken all the prizes at state and local fairs and which have been considered as the very best of their kind have been reduced to the rear ranks when they come into competition with the best that the world can produce.

The show of heavy draught horses is indeed a wonder. There are all classes and varieties of the equine tribe, from the Shetland pony up to the Clydesdale and Percheron Bull horses, as Senator La Due terms them because of their unwieldiness. They are marvels of sleekness and beauty, although the common farm horse often exhibits far more life and style than many of these imported stallions. Besides the United States and Canada, which make naturally the most extensive horse and cattle display, Germany has sent here a most magnificent exhibit of coach horses from the kaiser's stables, and the czar of the Russias exhibits nearly sixty head of trotters, carriage horses and saddle horses. Of course Russia can show nothing in the trotting line to equal the best American breed, nor have they any horses with the intelligence and training of the Kentucky saddle horses. Their best trotting is one mile in over 2:20, and their best saddle horses from the czar's stables would require a year's training to do the dancing, fancy stepping, prancing, double shuffling and other marvelous tricks which all the Kentucky saddle horses apparently perform with the intelligence of the German species. Yet their drosky horse driving, their peculiar manner of harnessing horses and the excellent movement of some of their trotters attract a great deal of attention. The German display of coach horses, however, has apparently no rivalry in America in their class to speak of. Americans make an excellent display of French coach horses, but the poor Hackney seems to be left almost entirely in the lurch. There is a very large display of Morgan horses here, also of Percheron, Clydesdale, Shetland ponies, French coach and draft horses, asses, mules, Arabians, Cleveland bays, etc., to the number of about 1,000. The cattle display is still larger, reaching a figure near the 1,300 mark. The Jerseys, Short Horns and Herefords are here in great force. Besides these there are Galloways, Polled Anguses, Red Polled cattle, Polled Durhams, Belled Dutch Guernseys, Brown Swiss and many other varieties. The Holstein-Friesians, which used to be all the rage a few years ago, like Percheron horses, seem now to be going out of fashion. There is apparently a fad in fine stock raising as well as in the modes and styles of dress.

In this grand aggregation of the best of the world's domestic animal raising, Minnesota is in nowise last, nor does she lurk far in the rear of the front position. People all over the country are opening their eyes to the fact that Minnesota is a stock raising state of the first magnitude. Although as yet there have been only five days of prize awarding, Minnesota exhibitors have secured fifteen first prizes and forty-two premiums altogether, which outranks any state or country with the exception of Illinois. It is strange, however, to relate that the Northwest seems to furnish nearly all the live stock here. The states represented are Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota. Outside nations represented are Canada, Germany and Russia. Minnesota has 210 head of live stock here more than any other state or country with the exception of Illinois and Canada. Minnesota has already secured in prizes nearly $6,000, and will probably take out of the contest $10,000 before the show is over. So well has Minnesota done in the contest so far that there is talk of having a Minnesota stock day, when all the blooded stock and horses are to be paraded together around the stock pavilion while the bands play. There is also discussion of a plan to follow the parade with a banquet and reception. The exposition authorities have made ample arrangements for housing all the animals brought here in a first class manner, and the accommodations for displaying them are equally good.

The display of trotting horses, roadsters and driving horses will not take place until Oct. 16 owing to the engagements of the turf. Senator La Due, after hard work, secured this postponement to that date in order that the American trotter and racer might have a show to be properly represented at this contest. Minnesota will send twenty-five or thirty trotters and runners to this display. Dogs and poultry and pigeons will also have their day at the show.

A. P. McKinstry has returned from the East, where he has been upon a visit, and is making preparations to make the finest exhibit of Minnesota dairy products yet presented. Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa have been thus far leading the procession and Mr. McKinstry expects that the September competition will be the crucial one of the series.

—Ralph McKenzie.

Unhappily Put.

A photographer left his office in charge of a newly engaged boy the other day, according to an exchange, and as a result lost a customer

Her beauty was of the doubtful sort, and the boy's eye was better than his judgment.

"Is the photographer in?" she asked.

"No, ma'am," said the boy, "but he'll be in soon."

"I want some pictures taken," the customer went on, "but I always have very hard luck. I hope Mr. —— will be able to suit me."

"Oh, Mr. —— will suit you, I am sure, ma'am. By the time the pictures are finished up they won't look like you a bit."

MATHEMATICS IN MEDICINE.

A Doctor Who Figures Out Just What You Need to Take.

He was a doctor of the advanced school. He laid his finger on my pulse and, with his watch on his hand, gave it a fair start and observed it carefully all of the way around.

"Strong, 74," he said in a moment. Then he consulted a card that was covered with figures and continued: "That equals 63," and he placed that number on a slate. "Put out your tongue. Good! That is 14," he said.

"Inches?" I asked.

"How is your appetite?" he inquired, ignoring my question.

"Equal to the supply."

"That makes 204," he replied.

"Can't you reduce it a little?" I asked, but failed to get his attention.

"Cold feet?"

"Yes," I answered.

"Three," he said.

"No. 3," I replied, to correct him.

He set the three under the other figures. He then placed a thermometer in my mouth, which he afterward consulted in connection with the card.

"A good 198," he said.

"Impossible," I suggested, mildly.

He wrote down the 198, and asked if I had headaches.

"Sometimes in the morning, after being kept late at the office," I answered.

"Four," he said.

"Isn't that rather low," I asked.

"Do you smoke?" he inquired.

"Yes."

"Ten," he replied.

"No; two for ten," I said.

He put down the 10.

"Do you sleep well?" he asked.

"That depends upon the baby," I answered.

"We won't consider that," he said.

"You had better call it 980," I suggested.

He added together the figures that he had placed on the slate.

"That makes 496," he said.

"Is that the amount of the bill?" I asked.

"Bill!" he replied, "That is the number of the prescription. I want you to know that medicine with me is no longer an experiment, for I have reduced it to a mathematical certainty. Every symptom has its number and the sum of these numbers indicates the medicine that is needed. I have worked for fifteen years in formulating my prescriptions and perfecting the treatment, but I have it now. Your bill is $10"

I understood that number and left the office feeling relieved and deeply impressed by the doctor's learning.—Harper's Bazar.

Women's Work in California.

They are to be found in the manufacture of agricultural implements, machinery, files, tacks, nails, harness, paper and wooden boxes, type, wood cuts and printers' supplies, tents, bags, umbrellas, valises and trunks, in japanning and tin work, gold polishing, in cotton mills, jute mills, soap and salt works, fruit canneries, hop fields, vineyards and orchards; women are butchers, market vendors, blacksmiths, farmers, straw hatmakers, cigar makers, bookbinders, compositors and proofreaders, press feeders, lithographers and engravers. They find employment, too, as clerks, cashiers, medical nurses, missionaries, photographers, retouchers and colorers, teachers, lawyers, doctors, musicians, telegraph operators, typesetters, typewriters, stenographers, wood and metal engravers, canvassers, collectors, merchants. They are ministers, lecturers, dancers, athletes, acrobats, pugilists, inventors, politicians and notaries public.

Cement for Steam Pipes.

A prominent engineer recommends the following recipe for stopping up leaky steampipe joints: Five parts plaster of paris, five parts yellow ochre, ten parts litharge, five parts of red lead and four parts of black oxide of manganese. To these powders, which should be mixed thoroughly, a small amount of asbestos powder and boiled oil is added. The cement hardens in from two to five hours.

At the bottom of the ocean the temperature remains practically constant at any one spot throughout the whole of the year.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O., Proprietors of Hall's Catarrh Cure, offer $100 reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for testimonials, free. Sold by druggists, 75c.

The New York divorce courts put asunder about five couples per day.

The Modern Beauty

Thrives on good food and sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy she uses the gentle and pleasant liquid laxative Syrup of Figs.

The rock of Gibraltar is in exact representation of a lion lying in a resting position.

For Pimples on the Face Take Allen's Iron Tonic Bitters. All genuine bear the signature of J. P. Allen, Druggist, St. Paul, Minn.

Baltimore introduced gas in 1816.

The Death Roll Is Largely Swelled

By persons careless of imperiled health, who "pooh, pooh!" their minor ailments, believing, or pretending to believe, that nature will effect a change. Nature does effect a change, but it is in the wrong direction. She thus avenges a disregard of her appeals. Don't omit, if you are at all unwell, to recuperate by the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a signal remedy for dyspepsia, nervousness, debility, malaria, rheumatism, biliousness.

The United States still have 2,836,757 square miles of public land.

With deep regret we note that Montgomery Ward, the "original grange-supply house" man, the friend of the farmer, and chief of commercial guerillas, joined the banks, the wholesalers, the pork packers, and the other monopolists in urging congress to repeal the silver bill. When the farmers learn this, they will make trouble. Montgomery finds it a hard job to play the dual role of honest granger Dr. Jekyll and millionaire Mr. Hyde.—Farm Implement News.

Blocks sixty feet long without a break are found quite frequently in the onyx quarries in Lower California.

Help Offered.

Owing to the extreme financial depression hundreds of men in all our cities have been thrown out of employment. Many of these are able and willing to do farm work. There are doubtless many farmers who need help for the remainder of the season—and others who could find work all winter for good men, at low wages. A bureau has been organized in St. Paul, under the name of "The Public Employment Bureau,' by city officials and citizens, to find work for as many as possible of her unemployed workers. Any farmer needing help, either for the fall months or for the entire winter, may readily secure it by addressing Mayor F. P. Wright, St. Paul, Minn., stating what he wants, and on what terms.

L. D. Heard of Washington, Ga., owns an Italian violin that is nearly 250 years old.

Welcome to Hood's

We say at our house, because of the good it has done me. No one knows the intense misery I endured for 20 years with dyspepsia. No prescriptions seemed to help me and I had great prejudice against proprietary medicines. But being strongly urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I did so. I am now using my fourth bottle, and feel better than I have in twenty years. and consider myself cured."

FRANK C. STUART, Marshall, Mich.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills Cure liver ill. Sick Headache.

"August Flower"

"I am Post Master here and keep a Store. I have kept August Flower for sale for some time. I think it is a splendid medicine." E. A. Bond, P. M., Pavilion Centre, N.Y.

The stomach is the reservoir. If it fails, everything fails. The liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the heart, the head, the blood, the nerves all go wrong. If you feel wrong, look to the stomach first. Put that right at once by using August Flower. It assures a good appetite and a good digestion.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D.C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in last war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since.

MEN BE MANLY. We will send you the MARVELOUS and UNFAILING French Preparation, CALTHOS FREE by MAIL, and a legally executed guarantee that CALTHOS will STOP all Discharges, CURE Varicocele and RESTORE Lost Vigor. Use it & pay if satisfied. Von Mohl Co., Importers, Cincinnati, Ohio.

25 DOSES 25c. THE GREAT COUGH CURE. TAKE THE BEST. SHILOH'S CURE. 25c 50c & $1.00

Cures Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands where all others failed; will cure you if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S PLASTER. 25cts.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price 50 cts. Injector free.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND The Best Waterproof Coat in the WORLD!

SLICKER

The FISH BRAND SLICKER is warranted waterproof, and will keep you dry in the hardest storm. The new POMMEL SLICKER is a perfect riding coat, and covers the entire saddle. Beware of imitations. Don't buy a coat if the "Fish Brand" is not on it. Illustrated Catalogue free. A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

BLOOD POISON A SPECIALTY. Primary, Secondary or Tertiary Syphilis permanently cured in 30 to 60 days. We eliminate all poison from the system, so that there can never be a return of the disease. You can be treated at home for the same price and under the same guarantees, but with those who prefer to come here we will contract to cure them or refund all money and pay entire expense of coming, railroad fare and hotel bills, if we fail to cure. If you have taken mercury, iodide potash, and still have aches and pains, Mucous Patches in Mouth, Sore Throat, Pimples, Copper-Colored Spots, Ulcers on any part of the body, Hair or Eyebrows falling out, it is this Syphilitic Blood Poison that we guarantee to cure. We solicit the most obstinate cases and challenge the world for a case we cannot cure. This disease has always baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians. A legal guarantee to cure or refund money. Absolute proofs sent sealed on application. Address COOK REMEDY CO., Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

SECOND-HAND

TEN-HORSE POWER ENGINE

—AND—

TWENTY-HORSE POWER BOILER

For Sale Cheap.

NEARLY NEW.

Located at Aberdeen, South Dakota

Address

Northwestern Newspaper Union,

ST. PAUL, MINN.

WORLD'S Columbian Exposition

OFFICIAL SOUVENIR—1893

In beautiful and bright colors, and the Designs handsomely etched on silk, taken from Oil Paintings and the celebrated, world-renowned models now on exhibition at the World's Fair. On the top is the famous portrait, after Moro, of Christopher Columbus, in the center is an exact reproduction of the Santa Maria in full sail, showing the brave crew that assisted in discovering AMERICA, on the bottom is a design showing two Globes—the Old and the new worlds—on one side is Christopher Columbus, surrounded by his crew, representing the first landing on our shores, and on the other a complete bird's eye view of the WORLD'S FAIR. Is pronounced one of the handsomest and most attractive mementoes yet issued as a Souvenir of the great Exposition. Can be used as a Badge, Book-Mark, or as an ornament for the parlor.

Adopted by Societies, Clubs, Churches, and the public in general. Price, 15c. each, or two for 25c. AGENTS WANTED Everywhere. Price per Doz., $1. Special terms for large lots. Mailed and delivered free to any part of the U.S. or Canada.

J. McLEAN & CO., 157 S. CLARK ST., CHICAGO

THE READY PRINTS WE FURNISH ARE ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE THE BEST PRODUCED ON THE GLOBE.

OUR SERVICE ESPECIALLY OUR NEWS LEADS THE WORLD SEND FOR SAMPLE SHEETS AND PRICES.

It's a "Daisy"

We desire to call the attention of newspaper men especially, and the public in general, to the inside pages of the Sentinel. They contain 26 colums of live, readable, carefully selected, ably edited and finely illustrated reading matter. We defy any paper on earth, printed at home but using the ready-set plate matter to get up four pages of as interesting matter as this. The Sentinel desires to thank the Northwestern Newspaper Union for its liberal and enterprising efforts to keep in the lead and serve its patrons so well and so faithfully.—Fairmont Sentinel, July 7, 1893.

Northwestern Newspaper Union, St. Paul Minn.

S. Dakota Newspaper Union. Aberdeen S. Dak.

N. Dakota Newspaper Union. Fargo, N. Dakota.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest.

CATARRH

Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 50c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

N. W. N. U. No. 37—1893.

Making a Diagnosis.

"Your husband, Mrs. Muggleby, is suffering from a complication of diseases," said the doctor. "I must first make a diagnosis."

"I hope you can make it of calico, then," was the good soul's reply, "for I haven't a piece of flannel in the house."—New York Mercury.

A copy of the first edition of "Tom Jones" has just been sold in London for $345. It was uncut and in the original boards.

The value of infantry was not fully recognized by mediaeval commanders until the fifteenth century.

Without a Competitor.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Is so far beyond other brands of baking powders in its purity, wholesomeness and leavening power that it is practically without a competitor. Adulteration prevails to such an extent that the consumer in many sections is at the mercy of the venders of the ammonia and alum baking powders Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the only powder prepared by a physician of high standing, and almost the only pure Cream of Tartar powder to be obtained.

ETIQUETTE AT WASHINGTON.

In Official Circles It Is of Great Diplomatic Importance.

In regard to the importance of the question of rank and precedence in Washington, the late governor and United States senator, E. D. Morgan used to tell a story that perfectly illustrates the strict pucillio of the diplomatic circles here, and also how much the new senator has to learn, no matter how well acquainted with the usages of the grande monde he may be elsewhere. Gov. Morgan, by the way, was born to the purple, had seen much of good society before his elevation to the chief magistracy of his own state of New York and the United States senate.

"The matter of etiquette embarrassed me a good deal when I first went to Washington as a senator," said he. "It was in the early days of the war, and Mr. Seward, who was an old friend, was secretary of state. There was a good deal of dinner giving that winter (1863) and I did as the others were doing. During the holidays in 1863, I invited the members of the diplomatic corps to meet the secretary of state at dinner. The times were squally, and Seward had told me privately that he wanted all the social aid he could get, especially with the foreign ministers in Washington. Sir Frederick Bruce was the English minister then. He was a special friend of my wife and myself, and had often visited at our home in New York. Senor Tassara, the Spanish minister, was the dean or senor of the diplomatic corps. At the congress of Vienna in 1810 the rule was adopted and is still in existence, that diplomatists' precedence at a court is regulated by the term of service at that court. So, as my dinner was to diplomats, things had to be regulated according to diplomatic usage.

"Sir Frederick Bruce was my oldest acquaintance among them, and I asked him to take Mrs. Morgan out to dinner. 'My dear sir, I can't do that,' said Bruce. 'Tassara's the dean. It's his right.' 'Oh, the d——l,' said I. 'England is a bigger country than Spain. Besides, you're an old friend of ours. Let the etiquette go.' 'But I daren't,' said Bruce. Just then Seward came up. Hearing what was going on he called me to one side and said: 'This may not seem of any importance to you, Morgan, but it is of immense consequence to me and the country. Spain is friendly to us. Tassara, being a Spaniard, is extremely punctilious. If, at a diplomatic dinner, his right of precedence is disregarded, he would take it as a deliberate insult to his nation. So, for heaven's sake, let him take Mrs. Morgan out; otherwise he will write to his government, and we will have no end of a row over it.' Of course, with this view before me," said Gov. Morgan, "I could only comply with the requirements of courtesy and etiquette, and asked Senor Tassara to take my wife out, which he did, and we had no row with Spain."—Washington Post.

HERE IS A TROLLEY CRANK.

He Predicts That the Atlantic Will Be Crossed by Means of the Trolley.

Perhaps the steamer of the future will be operated on a trolley by means of a submarine cable. The advantages of this plan would be great, as it would prevent the necessities of carrying immense quantities of fuel and of keeping the vessel loaded down with enormous engines. All the delay and difficulty and expense of managing furnaces and engines on board ship would be done away with by the oceanic trolley system and the ships could be made so much lighter that they could go whizzing across the ocean in a couple of days. Danger of accident could be brought to be no greater than it is at present by having a sufficient number of repair steamers on the route, which could keep the cables in repair and in case of any accident to the trolley could bring the passenger boat into port or put it again in connection with the cable.

There can be no question that the proper means of crossing the Atlantic quickly is by some system which will allow the motive power to be applied from the shore, either, by a trolley or a cable. The limit of speed for ships that carry engines and fuel is certainly practically reached on the surface, and there are difficulties in the way of submarine navigation which it would be hard to conquer. The trolley system is capable of greater extension, and we may yet live to get to Europe by its means.

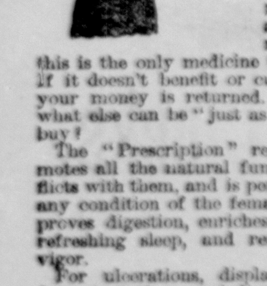

—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

I Cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. Dr. Shoop's Restorative Nerve Pills sent free with Medical Book to prove merit for 2c stamp. Druggists, 25c. Dr. Shoop, Box W., Racine, Wis.

The sultan of Turkey has the richest collection of gems and regalia in the world.

Coe's Cough Balsam Is the oldest and best. It will break up a Cold quicker than anything else. It is always reliable. Try it.

The Simplon tunnel in England will, when finished, be the largest in the world.

YOU GET STRONG, if you're a tired-out or "run-down" woman, with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And, if you suffer from any "female complaint" or disorder, you get well. For these two things—to build up women's strength, and to cure women's ailments—this is the only medicine that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, your money is returned. On these terms, what else can be "just as good" for you to buy?

The "Prescription" regulates and promotes all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and is perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor.

For ulcerations, displacements, bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, and every chronic weakness or irregularity, it's a remedy that safely, and permanently cures.

Second-Hand

TYPE

About 2,000 pounds of Benton-Waldo's Self-Spacing Bourgeois in first-class order in fonts of 50 pounds or more.

A few Iron News Stands at Half-Price.

Northwestern Newspaper Union

ST. PAUL, MINN.

WANTED Men to travel. We pay $50 to $100 a month and expenses. STONE & WELLINGTON, Madison, Wis.

THE KANSAS CITY VETERINARY COLLEGE. Incorporated by the State. For Catalogue address, J. H. Watties, D.V.S., 510 E. 12th St.

A NEW USE FOR TOWELS.

In Southern China They Sew Two of Them Together and Thus Provide a Coat.

It appears from the latest consular report from Swatow, in Southern China, that among cotton goods the import of towels alone has shown any improvement. But, the consul explains, this does not imply any increased attention to personal cleanliness on the part of the inhabitants of the district, for the towels are used for clothing, says the London Times. The breadth of the ordinary towel being that from shoulder to shoulder, two sewn together will make a coat. Sleeves are dispensed with, and, except for the arm holes, there is none of that waste of material which is especially repugnant to the Chinaman, and which the size of his native piece goods and the fashion of his clothes conspire to avoid. British manufacturers have been warned by their agents and others of this frugal tendency of the Chinese mind, but the loom designed to turn out cloth of the narorw Chinese breadths requires as much attention as one giving cloth twice as wide. This leads the consul to suggest that the cloth might be woven at the same loom. So far the remonstrances of importers have availed chiefly to affect the length of the piece. If a piece forty yards long will make exactly twelve Chinese garments, one a few inches less will only produce similar garments, leaving a useless remnant. Thus importers who know their customers have urged that the piece, though it cannot be woven to a given inch, should always exceed the expected length and never fall short of it. Lastly, the consul suggests that, as Chinese garments fit loosely to the figure and can be transferred from one person to another without any noticeable misfit, it might be possible for British manufacturers to turn out goods of exact size needed for coats, gowns and the amorphous pantaloons. He asks whether these crude garments might not be produced entire and so imported into China.

A MOST WONDERFUL DOG.

Can Tell the Days of the Week and Different Railroad Trains.

Those people who do not believe in dog stories are really subjects for heartfelt commiseration; they have either been unfortunate in their canine acquaintances or have not the penetration requisite for proper interpretation of dog characteristics. A Louisville railroad man has a dog that distinguishes the days of the week and different railroad trains. On days when Midget's owner made his regular trips the dog accompanies him to the station, but never attempts to board the train—just stays on the platform, an interested spectator, and wags his tail cheerfully as the train moves out. On other days and other trains—suburban trains to Parkland or Pewee Valley—he hops aboard without hesitation, evidently aware that the ride in prospect is one that he may share. Midget swears, too; swears like a pirate.

The family understands him, but they report that his language is too terrible to be repeated. When things don't go to suit him he retires under a bed or sofa and lies there rolling off oaths of fearful description for hours. A young man who was attentive to Midget's young mistress unintentionally offended him, but the dog got even. He actually broke off the match. He knew the regular nights on which the youth appeared, and at an early hour would ensconce himself under the parlor sofa, from which coign of vantage he would growl forth such volleys of personal and profane remarks that the prospective lover became intimidated and ceased his attentions. In recognition of which services Midget's master gave him a beautiful collar.

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Pioneer Newspaper Woman.

Mrs. E. J. Nicholson is said to be the only woman in the world who owns, edits, manages and publishes a great daily newspaper. She was first a contributor of poetry to the columns of the New Orleans Picayune, which she now owns, under the name of Pearl Rivers, and some years ago was made literary editor of the paper by Col. A. M. Holbrook, its editor and proprietor, thus being the pioneer newspaper woman in the South. After a time she became the wife of Col. Holbrook, and at his death inherited the paper, much encumbered by debt, with a dubious outlook. She assumed the responsibility courageously, and, with able assistants, has put it again on a substantial basis. A few years ago she married George Nicholson, who was business manager of the paper.

The Automatic Waiter.

The waitress may be dispensed with. A woman believes she has made her superfluous by inventing a table that will wait on itself. The table—dining table, of course—is round, with a space 10 inches wide for the individual plates, cups, saucers, etc. Inside this circle there is a revolving disc, raised about 2 inches above the surrounding circle, upon which the food is placed. By turning it in any direction you may have the bread, butter, olives or cream without asking or waiting for them. The invention seems to be the merriest kind of a merry-go-round.—New York Evening Post.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth, Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething.

The earliest Egyptian column was simply the stalk of the lotus crowned by its calix.

Never buy whisky for medicinal purposes unless you know the bottlers of it to be reliable, as most whiskies sold under celebrated names are spurious, cheap articles, whose bottlers cannot afford to have their names appear on the labels. Uncle Sam's Monogram Whiskey is bottled by the oldest and largest firm in the Liquor line in the Northwest and the favor with which it has been received is the best proof of its superior quality. Ask your druggist or retail dealer for it.

A Walla Walla (Wash.) florist asserts that he owns a black calla "lily."

HOT WEATHER opens the pores, the system is relaxed and nature easily responds. Drive all foul corruption out of the body now by a course of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, Nature's Remedy of Roots, Barks and Herbs. The best Liver, Stomach and Blood Renovater. All Druggists, $1.00—6 Bottles for $5.00.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water.

SEND 15 CTS and we will send you by express, express paid, our 575-page Catalogue, which contains lowest prices on Guns, Hardware, Stoves, Windows, Sporting Goods, Baby Carriages, Musical Instruments, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Rubber Goods, Stationery, Queensware, Silverware, Carpets, Furniture, Farm Implements, Cutlery, Tinware, Doors, Books, Clocks, Drugs, Clothing, Hats, Bicycles, Lumber, Toys, Paints, Oils, Fencing, Buggies, Wagons, Lamps, Bibles, Watches, Tents, Flags, Caps, Harness, Stack and Wagon Covers and Dry Goods. T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, 510 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

THE STORY TELLER

A GOLDEN DAWN.

The result of his "seeing" was that Hyacinth, in a pretty white and blue costume, looked more lovely than ever, and went, with a smile on her face, to meet her doom—went in the full beauty of a June day, with a face fair as a flower, a heart light as that of a bird, her eyes full of happiness, her golden hair like an aureole round her head. Francis Vane watched her with loving gaze, and to him, in that moment of unconcealed pride and delight in his child, there came no shadow of a prison cell.

Mrs. Morley always spoke of that picnic as one of the successes of her life; no party of guests could have enjoyed themselves more. Lady Rosedene, just as the vicar's good wife had foreseen, was delighted with the beautiful debutante.

"Is her father a gentleman?" she whispered to Mrs. Morley. "She herself is charming. But is she quite presentable?"

Mrs. Morley, in her good nature, gave such a flattering account of the scholar that Lady Rosedene became desirous to see him.

"Shall I invite the father as well?" she asked, and was just a little offended when Mrs. Morley assured her that it would not be of the least use.

"You have evidently never heard the romantic story of Francis Vane's courtship and marriage," said Mrs. Morley. "He is about the only case I know in this world of really true love. It is no fiction to say that his heart is buried in his wife's grave. All his neighbors have been kind to him, and invited him, but it was found that invitations merely troubled him; now every one leaves him in peace."

"Then you think he would not come, even if I invited him?" said Lady Rosedene. "I generally manage to have my own way with the men."

"I do not think you would succeed in this case," answered Mrs. Morley; "nor do I think it would be kind to desire it. When so much of a man's heart and soul is in heaven, it seems almost a pity to bring him back into close contact with the world again."

Lady Rosedene's eyes were fixed on the fair, bright face of the young girl. She turned suddenly to the vicar's wife.

"I have read," she said, "of the sweetness of flowers being wasted on the desert air—of violets blooming unseen, and giving their fragrance to the wind. I do not believe in anything of the kind. Take the great kingdom of flowers; ever here and there is one of such exquisite beauty that evey one pauses to admire it. It appears to me that one in the world of fair women, every now and then we find a face so beautiful that the whole world ought to see and admire it. I shall be doing an act of charity in making this face known."

But the vicar's wife shook her head. Such a doctrine was not quite in accordance with her husbands teaching.

"I do not know about that," she said. "Every face is what I may call the veil or cover of an immortal soul; and I should say any soul was endangered where the owner of it was worshiped for her beauty. I do not quite think myself that beauty should be so eagerly admired."

"It is the way of the world," laughed Lady Rosedene. "We plain women may thank heaven that great beauty and great gifts do not often come together; if they did, we should have but a poor chance. As it is, some people do value common sense and intellect more than beauty. I shall make friends with Miss Vane. We shall hear something of her before many months are over, mark my words."

And those same words indeed came true.

Chapter III.

Lady Rosedene, of Dene Hall, was one of the celebrities of the county in which Dene stood. She was left a widow at quite an early age, mistress of a magnificent estate, and a vast fortune. Being both young and clever, every one expected that she would marry again; but Lady Rosedene was wiser than that. The late lord had been of a most tyrannical disposition and unaimiable temper. His young wife suffered terribly from it, being herself of a gay, frank, happy nature. When Lord Rosedene died, she said to herself that she would never again bend her neck under the yoke that was so weighty to bear. She resolved to enjoy her life; and, as a preliminary, as the most certain means of insuring that enjoyment, she resolved upon never having anything to do with love.

"If I am to enjoy my life, to preserve my good looks, I must have nothing to do with the fret and the fever called love."

Having made that resolution, she began to enjoy life in her own way, and succeeded perfectly in her plan. One of the most charming and captivating of women, she had numerous admirers. She enjoyed the friendship of clever and sensible men; she enjoyed their admiration; she was pleased with her conquests—but she steadfastly refused to have anything to do with love, even in its milder form of flirtation.

For fifteen years she had been the "queen of the county." The fetes and festivities at Dene Hall were famous all over the neighborhood—no one else gave such parties, such balls, such picnics—no one gave such pleasant garden parties. The young girls of the neighborhood adored her.

She would not hear of love for herself; but nothing gave her greater happiness than to see it in others. She took the keenest interest in a love affair. She was not a match maker; no one could have ever used such a word about the refined and clever Lady Rosedene; but she liked to bring young people together. She had a wonderful kind of instinct which told her at once what persons would agree together. She never had an ill assorted party of guests. She never had the least drawback to the success of any entertainment she gave.

She was famous for having promoted more marriages than any one else in the county. Mothers who had a difficulty in marrying their daughters found their difficulties ended when they once applied to Lady Rosedene. She would invite a young girl to Dene Hall, introduce her amongst an eligible set, and then leave her to take her chance. That usually ended in marriage. So successful had she been that pretty young girls were now at a premium in the neighborhood of Dunwold; they were all married and gone from home; so that the kindly, happy widow was somewhat a loss for young recruits.

She began to fancy that at one or two of her balls there had been a dearth of pretty faces, that her charade party had lacked interest, and that there was a want of novelty in some of the scenes. She was more than delighted when Mrs. Morley introduced her to Hyacinth Vane; here, indeed, was a novelty—a girl more beautiful than any she had ever seen; with a voice that was like sweetest music, and a smile that was like sunshine; a girl whose every movement was full of sweetest harmony, as though she were following a strain of hidden music.

Lady Rosedene fell in love with her at once.

"Your father is a scholar and a gentleman; they tell me he lives amid his books, and counts this outer world as nothing. To invite him to Dene Hall would be an empty compliment—he would not come; but I wish he would let you visit me. Do you think he would?" said Lady Rosedene to her.

Hyacinth raised her happy eyes to the kindly, comely face.

"I think he would be delighted," she answered. "My father is not quite like other men; he does not seem to live in the same world—I doubt whether he would understand at all the kind of world in which you move."

"Probably not," said Lady Rosedene, delighted with the girl's earnestness and beauty; "but you will understand it."

She smiled at the fervor with which the girl clasped her little white hands and replied:

"I should love it, I think, more than any other world."

A dainty flush covered her fair face, her eyes shone with the brightness of stars.

"Then," said Lady Rosedene, "you shall see what it is like. Come and stay with me for a month, if you can be spared for so long. I have no wish to flatter you, but with a face like yours, the world ought to be at your feet."

Hyacinth Vane never forgot that day. She had been accustomed to hear Lady Rosedene's name mentioned always as that of one of the powers of the land; and now to find that great and mighty personage not only kind to her, but absolutely asking for her society and her friendship, was something wonderful. She did not know that Lady Rosedene was driven almost to her wits' end for pretty faces, and that she would soon consider her prestige gone, unless she could introduce some new beauty. Hyacinth knew nothing of this, and wondered why the clever, dainty, exclusive lady should be so anxious for her friendship. She was delighted; her charming face seemed to grow more beautiful, her eyes brighter, her smile sweeter.

The day of the picnic was never to be forgotten by her; all the details of it she remembered; and in the dullest hours of her life those details came back to her with a torture all their own.

When Lady Rosedene took her home that evening she said:

"I shall take you at your word, Miss Vane, and drive over to-morrow to ask your papa if he can spare you for a month. You will enjoy yourself at Dene Hall, I am sure."

"I know that I shall," replied Hyacinth, simply.

Lady Rosedene was perfectly happy. She would be able to introduce a beauty such as no one had seen in that part of the country, and she should recover the prestige she had almost lost from a scarcity of beautiful faces.

When she reached home, Hyacinth said nothing to her father about the impending visit. For the first time she realized in what a different world they both lived.

Something of the deep silent mystery of night seemed to linger round her as she entered the quiet house. She went at once to her father's study, the ring of happy voices, the sound of music, the silver strains of compliment and homage, (all sounding in her ears; the brightness of fair faces, the sheen of rich dresses and jewels, still before her eyes. Her father, his work ended for the day, was seated at the window, his eyes fixed on the lime trees beneath which his young wife slept. She heard him mumur, as she opened the door:

"How long, Elsie—how long will it be, dear?"

A great solemn hush fell over her. It was as though she had suddenly entered a grand cathedral aisle; the world seemed to fall from her.

She forgot Lady Rosedene and the promised visit, and went with a gentle step to the lonely man, whose heart was buried while his body lived on. She put her arms round his neck, and bent her sweet face over his.

"Papa," she whispered, "shall you never forget, even ever so little?"

"No, my darling, not even ever so little. I live more in that green grave than I do here. There is a shadow over me to-night—a presentiment of coming evil—and in my mind I am going over and over again every happy day of my life spent with her. Sit down here at my feet, Hyacinth, and let me tell you how she lived and died."

Seated in the solemn, beautiful dusk, while the trees moved and the wind sighed in unison, she listened once more to the story of how her mother had been more like a spirit or an angel than a woman—how she had loved the white hyacinths, and how she had died with her little child clasped in her arms.

No wonder that the girl forgot the coming visitor and the coming visit, the last incident of that eventful day which she remembered was her singing in a low, sweet tone to her father until the look of unsatisfied longing faded from his face and he slept.

It was such a different world this from the bright, laughing life that only that afternoon had been unrolled before her. It seemed stranger still when, on the day following, Lady Rosedene' carriage stopped at Sweetbriars, an the footman in his gorgeous livery rapped sharply at the door.

How strange it seemed to see the brilliant lady, with her bright face, her superb dress, in that room where the solitary man always sat, that he might be within sight of his wife's grave!

With that tact that distinguished her, Lady Rosedene at once made her way to his heart. She laid aside her pretty caprices, her pride, her half-sarcastic, half-laughing manner. She recognized that she was in the presence of a deep sorrow, and it impressed her. This pale studious man, with the grief of a lifetime on his face, made a great impression on her. She was earnest, sincere, kind and true. He appeared half startled at the idea of Hyacinth's spending a month at the Hall.

"I am afraid," he remarked, "that it will give my daughter tastes that can never be gratified."

But Lady Rosedene laughed.

"Leave all that to me," she said. "Neither you nor I know how much good fortune is in store for your daughter."

And so the finrst act of the tragedy was arranged. Hyacinth was on the week following to go to Dene Hall.

Chapter IV.

Dene Hall was the very residence for one who studied the enjoyments of life. It was one of the prettiest homes in England. There was nothing grand or majestic about it; but it was picturesque, artistic and beautiful. There was no recognized form in its architecture, and no two rooms resembled each other. Some had long French windows opening into the grounds, others large bay windows from which one had a magnificent view of the surrounding country. Some were stately and splendid, others small and cozy; there was every variety and there was every shape; every taste could be gratified. The rooms themselves were furnished in different styles—some with splendor, some with simple artistic taste; they were all picturesque, many with pretty nooks where one could talk unobserved by the hour, many full of gems of art. It was a home wherein every one was happy and at ease; there were rare books for the studious, music for those who enjoyed it, out-door amusement for those who preferred it, shady walks, where the trees met overhead, for those who loved solitude.

Lady Rosedene was never alone. She did not know what solitude meant, and never intended to know. She had always a well selected party of visitors at the Hall, and she quietly exulted in the fact that she had now a face to show her friends such as they had never seen before. Lady Rosedene was always in love with her last protegee, and she was decidedly charmed with Hyacinth Vane.

Hyacinth had been quite at a loss about her dress. In her dilemma she had gone to Mrs. Morley, who had helped her in the difficulty. Francis Vane looked at his daughter with something like a smile on his face, as he gave her the sum of money which seemed to her like a little fortune.

To Be Continued.

AROUND A GREAT STATE.

INTERESTING EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN MINNESOTA.

Important Occurrences in the North Star State Day by Day—A General Resume of the Week's Doings Arranged for Rapid Reading.

Thursday, Sept. 7.

A Minneapolis bank teller has disappeared, and so have $15,000 of the bank's funds.

Charles White of Mankato has been charged with murder in the first degree of Harry Walraven.

Two hundred and nineteen North Dakota people registered at the state building at theworld's fair last week.

Out of thirty-three cars received in Duluth in one day from North Dakota twenty-two were graded No. 1 hard.

C. Christianson of Slayton, an old man of over seventy, slipped into a threshing machine feet first and had both legs ground up half way to his knees.

N. E. Anderson's blacksmith and machine shop at Litchfield was broken into and about $50 worth of fine tools taken.

Andrew Norum, county auditor of the county of Kanabec was dangerously injured by the premature discharge of a shot gun in the hands of a companion while hunting. He was very low, but it is thought he will recover.

The house of William P. Moon of Malta township, Big Stone county, was burned by an accident to a gasoline stove. The household goods were mostly saved. Loss about $1,000, with $300 insurance.

A romantic maiden, Annie Eldridge of Barnesville, came to St. Cloud in response to a letter from her beloved, T. McNearny, who was lodged in jail for drunk and disorderly conduct. She paid the fine, which took all her money, freed her lover and they left happy. Her brother forbade her coming and locked her in the house, but she escaped.

Friday, Sept. 8.

The Stillwater city council has decided to have street lights, and has entered into a contract with the Stillwater Gas and Electric Light company.

Harry Stokes, who was digging out an old well on Mrs. Ellen Shehan's farm, near Buffalo, went down into the well and was overcome by foul air, and died before assistance could reach him.

Fire destroyed a barn and three valuable horses owned by John Lundquist, at Winthrop. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $800 on barn and contents. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Two burglars entered Weber & Heintz's drug store at Rochester. Entrance was effected by breaking the glass near the catch and opening the window in the rear of the store. Both were arrested. They are tough looking customers.

Suicide was attempted by R Wright of Brainerd over family matters, but without success. The man shot himself in the head with a revolver, but the bullet glanced, making an ugly scalp wound.

Burglars effected an entrance into P. O. Sunde's store at New Richmond, blew the safe open and secured $5,000 in notes, $40 in cash and $150 worth of jewelry. The robbers were fired upon by the night watchman, but made good their escape.

George Baer, second engineer in the roller mills at Wells, met with a quite serious accident. After making some repairs standing on a ladder, he jumped down a short distance and broke through a trap door over a vat made for receiving waste water from the engine, receiving a severe scald on both legs from the ankles to the knees, his shoes in a measure protecting his feet.

A terrible tragedy was enacted about a mile and a half from Cannon Falls. John Dordan wounded his son, John Dordan, Jr. Both were intoxicated, and the young man was trying to put the father in bed, when the old man seized a knife and plunged it into his son's bowels. The attending physician probed the wound to a depth of about four inches, but the victim in his drunken condition would not permit a thorough examination at that time. The perpetrator of the deed was arrested and incarcerated in jail at Cannon Falls.

Saturday, Sept. 9.

Another convict, Olof Peterson, has been paroled at the state prison. He came from Minneapolis, Jan. 1, 1892, for two and one-half years for assault.

Mankato's three suspended national banks reopened and received deposits largely in excess of the amounts withdrawn.

Cashier Mathias J. Bofferding, of the Bank of Minneapolis, committed suicide because of the defalcation of Scheig, the absconding teller.

Suicide was attempted by R. Wright of Brainerd over family matters, but without success. The man shot himself in the head with a revolver, but the bullet glanced, making an ugly scalp wound.

Burglars effected an entrance into P. O. Sunde's store at New Richland, blew the safe open and secured $5,000 in notes, $40 in cash and $150 worth of jewelry. The robbers were fired upon by the night watchman, but made good their escape.

Sam Leeland was found dead at Marshall on a load of soft blacksmith coal, his head imbedded in the dust. He had got the coal in Marshall, and a friend had driven the team home. Both were drunk; Sam very drunk. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict that he died of suffocation while intoxicated.

The remains of a man were discovered by John Vorge of Brainerd in a cranberry marsh near Jonesville, six miles east of Brainerd. No examination was made, but Mr. Vorge says the man's clothes, which are in good condition, would denote the remains to be other than that of a hunter or woodsman.

James Rogers, a young man of Faribault, running a merry-go-round in South Minneapolis, sold out and disappeared four weeks ago and caused his parents anxiety. He was believed to have been killed. He has sent word home that he had been robbed of $400 that he had borrowed of his mother when starting into business, giving this reason for absence

Sunday, Sept. 10.

While hauling hay John Olson of Brunswick was fatally injured and his son badly hurt by their team running away and tipping over the load.

William Heller of Wisconsin, a sawyer in the Pine Tree Lumber company's mill at Little Falls, was injured. His right arm was injured in two places.

Fire at Madelia caused a loss to F. E. Sherman, merchant, general store, of about 80 per cent of a $14,000 stock; insurance, $10,000.

Dr. A. G. Aldrich of Anoka was shot while hunting with Louis Smith. Seventy-five shot were removed from his leg.

The Great Northern car shops at St. Cloud are now running with a full force and over hours. The men discharged last month are being taken back rapidly.

Henry Jackson, now lying in the county jail at Brainerd, charged with poisoning Edwin Peck, on June 4, has made a full and complete confession over his own signature in the presence of the sheriff and county attorney.

The store of J. L. Strout at Fairhaven was entered by burglars. A heavy safe was blown open and about $325 in money and valuable papers carried off. There is no clue to the perpetrators, but it is supposed to be the work of tramps.

Mrs. Morte Kasper, wife of John Kasper, a dock laborer of Duluth, has been missing for about a week. She is supposed to have eloped with Ignatz Hertz. The pair were seen at the West End depot of the St. Paul & Duluth, and are said to have taken a train south.

C. G. Von Suessmilch, the dentist, has left Duluth, presumably to stay. He was quite dissipated. Several months ago he eloped with Mrs. Lind of New Duluth. That was smoothed over, and both returned to their families. But, although the facts are not published, Von Suessmilch could not stand the notoriety it gave him, and about a week ago he left town, this time alone. He comes of a fine family in Wisconsin, and is the favorite son of a wealthy farmer.

Monday, Sept. 11.

Burglars broke into the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul depot at Cannon Falls and blew open the safe, but got nothing.

The house of Charles Stahnke of Danewood caught fire and burned. Loss, $1,500; insurance, $850. Very little was saved.

A domestic employed at the Batlo hotel at Red Wing named Ida Johnson, disappeared. A thorough search failed to locate her whereabouts. She recently came from Sweden.

The eight-year-old son of John Jardine of Shakopee accidentally shot himself with a revolver. He didn't know it was loaded, pulled the trigger and shot himself through the heart, dying instantly.

O. Erickson, from Rosseau, Kittson county, while riding from town with Eli Dalquist, county commissioner of Marshall county, was killed near Warren by their team running away.

Forest fires are raging south of Hinckley, and a heavy wind is driving them on. The villagers are already making preparations for an active defense against the flames. Great damage is done the timber.

A small barn at Montevideo belonging to R. S. Harter was burned. His team perished in the flames, as all attempts to get them out were unsuccessful. The loss was about $300; no insurance. The fire was set by some small children, who were playing with matches.

Tuesday, Sept. 12.

The dwelling house of Isaac Stevens at Montrose was partially destroyed by fire, with their household goods. Loss, $200; no insurance.

Rev. C. K. Austin, a resident of Rice county for twenty-four years, died at his residence three miles from Dundas, aged sixty-eight; cause of death, heart disease.

Near Windom, while threshing, but on different machines, August Lokken and Pascal Vought had the fingers of their left hands taken off in the cylinder of their machines. Amputation was necessary.

Mrs. G. E. Martenus of North Branch attempted suicide by cutting a vein in her arm with a razor. She also made a gash in the leg. Despondency over the sickness of her child is the probable cause.

Wednesday, Sept. 13.

The receipts of the Freeborn Agricultural society, above the expenses and all indebtedness, are $600. The premiums will be fully paid.

Charles White, charged with the murder of Harry Walraven at Mankato, was discharged. The evidence was insufficient to hold him.

John Long and wife of the town of St. Joseph, two aged people, when driving home were thrown out and probably fatally hurt. The injured are parents of the Great Northern yardmaster in St. Cloud.

The citizens all over Morrison county are being very favorably impressed with the new railroad scheme. There does not now exist any doubt in the minds of those best informed that the bonds will be voted.

Mrs. Warner, with a servant girl, filled a gasoline can from a tank in the barn of Dr. G. F. Warner of Mankato, and the girl stepped on a match, which set fire to it. Mrs. Warner was badly burned about the face and elsewhere.

Henry Paulson has been arrested near Swan River charged with criminal assault upon Mrs. John Looma, who lives a few miles above Floodwood. Paulson worked for the woman's husband, who was away on the night of Sept. 1, when the crime is alleged to have been committed. Paulson has been taken to Duluth.

Word was received at Duluth that the single rotary saw mill of the Cranberry Lumber company, on the south shore, was totally destroyed by fire. The dock and 1,000,000 feet of lumber were saved. The mill was valued at $5,000; insured for $3,200. Fire started in the engine room.

Burglars broke into P. N. Allen's furniture store, Nick Fieder's lumber office and Bosch's elevator at Cannon Falls and tried to break into O. F. Peters' hardware store, but did not get in. The safes were left open. The iron drawers were broken open and carried away, but they contained no money.

Where Cows Are Money.

That "time is money" is a saying both trite and true, but there is one part of the world, at least, where cows are money. A recent publication of the Imperial Geographical Society of Russia contains the announcement that the Chewsures, a race of 7,000 people who live in Tiflis, in Northwestern Asia, knew nothing of the use of money as a medium of exchange. The unit of valuation among the primitive people is the cow. A horse is valued at three cows and a stallion at six. If a native becomes enraged and cracks his neighbor's skull he is obliged to pay sixteen cows. If he breaks a bone of his neighbor's arm, five cows will pay the penalty. A wound in the forehead calls for three calves. If one cuts another in the part of the face usually covered by the beard, the punishment is comparatively severe. The "doctor" places as many grains of wheat along the cut as possible. For each grain of wheat so used the criminal must give up a cow. Wounds in the beardless part of the face call for one-third as many cows only. The man who injures a neighbor's hand surrenders sixteen cows. Thirty cows even will pay for the loss of an eye. These people are said to be happy, and no misers exist among them, but it would perhaps be rather difficult to hoard cows.

Astonished Savages.

The author of "Where Three Empires Meet" took some Kafirs from their desolate inland home in the Himalayan gorges beyond the mountain ranges to the more civilized south. Like most savages, they looked with stupid indifference at the marvels about them, and once only were they excited by an incident which opened their eyes to what they considered an extraordinary and unnatural state of things.

They were descending a road when one of them chanced to remark that he was hungry, and the English "sahib" bought him some food at a way-side shop. The Kafir saw the money change hands.

"How is this?" he inquired in surprise. "Do you have to pay for food in this country?"

"Certainly."

"What a country!" cried the man, in amazement. Then after pondering a while he continued, doubtfully, "Suppose a man had no money in this country; he might starve!"

"It is quite possible."

The Kafir shook with uncontrollable laughter. It was the best joke he had ever heard. He then explained the ridiculous system to his companions and they roared in chorus.

Coming to the Point.

AT THE STOCK PAVILION.

AWARDING OF PREMIUMS FOR LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS.

A Center of Attraction to World's Fair Visitors—The Northwestern States Come in for a Good Share of the Premiums.

Jackson Park, Special Correspondence.—During the past week the event which seemed to have absorbed all of the attention that visitors could spare from West Point cadets and the weather was the awarding of premiums for blooded stock and horses in the immense tan bark arena of the world's fair grounds, which is known as the stock pavilion. This great structure resembles in plan in some degree the old Coliseum at Rome, the measure of Roman permanence, containing as it does rising tiers of seats around a central arena, which affords ample space for five rings of cattle and horses to be ranged at one time for judgment. All of the seats are comfortably covered by a roof so that the state of the weather cuts no figure with the spectator. This arena furnishes sufficient room for a crack foot ball game to be played, and this week a picked team of United States cadets tackled a Chicago eleven of old college sphere kickers, and were vanquished by the score of 14 to 0. At that time a large crowd viewed the game from the benches, while the cattle arena was found to be admirably suited to the requirements of the old association game.

There are many reasons why this cattle and horse show should attract a great deal of attention. In the first place, there is the finest and largest display of blooded animals here ever gathered together before in one competition. The United States has always furnished the biggest animal shows in so far as number is concerned even if at times these shows might leave many things to be desired in the matter of quality. The live stock exhibit here is very great from both of these standpoints. It is noticeable that only the very best stock has been brought here, and the result is that horses and cattle which have taken all the prizes at state and local fairs and which have been considered as the very best of their kind have been reduced to the rear ranks when they come into competition with the best that the world can produce.

The show of heavy draught horses is indeed a wonder. There are all classes and varieties of the equine tribe, from the Shetland pony up to the Clydesdale and Percheron Bull horses, as Senator La Due terms them because of their unwieldliness. They are marvels of sleekness and beauty, although the common farm horse often exhibits far more life and style than many of these imported stallions. Besides the United States and Canada, which make naturally the most extensive horse and cattle display, Germany has sent here a most magnificent exhibit of coach horses from the kaiser's stables, and the czar of the Russias exhibits nearly sixty head of trotters, carriage horses and saddle horses. Of course Russia can show nothing in the trotting line to equal the best American breed, nor have they any horses with the intelligence and training of the Kentucky saddle horses. Their best trotting is one mile in over 2:20, and their best saddle horses from the czar's stables would require a year's training to do the dancing, fancy stepping, prancing, double shuffling and other marvelous tricks which all the Kentucky saddle horses apparently perform with the intelligence of the German species. Yet their drosky horse driving, their peculiar manner of harnessing horses and the excellent movement of some of their trotters attract a great deal of attention. The German display of coach horses, however, has apparently no rivalry in America in their class to speak of. Americans make an excellent display of French coach horses, but the poor Hackney seems to be left almost entirely in the lurch. There is a very large display of Morgan horses here, also of Percheron, Clydesdale, Shetland ponies, French coach and draft horses, asses, mules, Arabians, Cleveland bays, etc., to the number of about 1,000. The cattle display is still larger, reaching a figure near the 1,300 mark. The Jerseys, Short Horns and Herefords are here in great force. Besides these there are Galloways, Polled Anguses, Red Polled cattle, Polled Durhams, Belled Dutch Guernseys, Brown Swiss and many other varieties. The Holstein-Friesians, which used to be all the rage a few years ago, like Percheron horses, seem now to be going out of fashion. There is apparently a fad in fine stock raising as well as in the modes and styles of dress.

In this grand aggregation of the best of the world's domestic animal raising, Minnesota is in nowise last, nor does she lurk far in the rear of the front position. People all over the country are opening their eyes to the fact that Minnesota is a stock raising state of the first magnitude. Although as yet there have been only five days of prize awarding, Minnesota exhibitors have secured fifteen first prizes and forty-two premiums altogether, which outranks any state or country with the exception of Illinois. It is strange, however, to relate that the Northwest seems to furnish nearly all the live stock here. The states represented are Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota. Outside nations represented are Canada, Germany and Russia. Minnesota has 210 head of live stock here more than any other state or country with the exception of Illinois and Canada. Minnesota has already secured in prizes nearly $6,000, and will probably take out of the contest $10,000 before the show is over. So well has Minnesota done in the contest so far that there is talk of having a Minnesota stock day, when all the blooded stock and horses are to be paraded together around the stock pavilion while the bands play. There is also discussion of a plan to follow the parade with a banquet and reception. The exposition authorities have made ample arrangements for housing all the animals brought here in a first class manner, and the accommodations for displaying them are equally good.

The display of trotting horses, roadsters and driving horses will not take place until Oct. 16 owing to the engagements of the turf. Senator La Due, after hard work, secured this postponement to that date in order that the American trotter and racer might have a show to be properly represented at this contest. Minnesota will send twenty-five or thirty trotters and runners to this display. Dogs and poultry and pigeons will also have their day at the show.

A. P. McKinstry has returned from the East, where he has been upon a visit, and is making preparations to make the finest exhibit of Minnesota dairy products yet presented. Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa have been thus far leading the procession and Mr. McKinstry expects that the September competition will be the crucial one of the series.

—Ralph McKenzie.

Unhappily Put.

A photographer left his office in charge of a newly engaged boy the other day, according to an exchange, and as a result lost a customer

Her beauty was of the doubtful sort, and the boy's eye was better than his judgment.

"Is the photographer in?" she asked.

"No, ma'am," said the boy, "but he ll be in soon."

"I want some pictures taken," the customer went on, "but I always have very hard luck. I hope Mr. —— will be able to suit me."

"Oh, Mr. —— will suit you, I am sure, ma'am. By the time the pictures are finished up they won't look like you a bit."

MATHEMATICS IN MEDICINE.

A Doctor Who Figures Out Just What You Need to Take.

He was a doctor of the advanced school. He laid his finger on my pulse and, with his watch on his hand, gave it a fair start and observed it carefully all of the way around.

"Strong, 74," he said in a moment. Then he consulted a card that was covered with figures and continued: "That equals 63," and he placed that number on a slate. "Put out your tongue. Good! That is 14," he said.

"Inches?" I asked.

"How is your appetite?" he inquired, ignoring my question.

"Equal to the supply."

"That makes 204," he replied.

"Can't you reduce it a little?" I asked, but failed to get his attention.

"Cold feet?"

"Yes," I answered.

"Three," he said.

"No. 3," I replied, to correct him.

He set the three under the other figures. He then placed a thermometer in my mouth, which he afterward consulted in connection with the card.

"A good 198," he said.

"Impossible," I suggested, mildly.

He wrote down the 198, and asked if I had headaches.

"Sometimes in the morning, after being kept late at the office," I answered.

"Four," he said.

"Isn't that rather low," I asked.

"Do you smoke?" he inquired.

"Yes."

"Ten," he replied.

"No; two for ten," I said.

He put down the 10.

"Do you sleep well?" he asked.

"That depends upon the baby," I answered.

"We won't consider that," he said.

"You had better call it 980," I suggested.

He added together the figures that he had placed on the slate.

"That makes 496," he said.

"Is that the amount of the bill?" I asked.

"Bill!" he replied, "That is the number of the prescription. I want you to know that medicine with me is no longer an experiment, for I have reduced it to a mathematical certainty. Every symptom has its number and the sum of these numbers indicates the medicine that is needed. I have worked for fifteen years in formulating my prescriptions and perfecting the treatment, but I have it now. Your bill is $10"

I understood that number and left the office feeling relieved and deeply impressed by the doctor's learning.—Harper's Bazar.

Women's Work in California.

They are to be found in the manufacture of agricultural implements, machinery, files, tacks, nails, harness, paper and wooden boxes, type, wood cuts and printers' supplies, tents, bags, umbrellas, valises and trunks, in japanning and tin work, gold polishing, in cotton mills, jute mills, soap and salt works, fruit canneries, hop fields, vineyards and orchards; women are butchers, market vendors, blacksmiths, farmers, straw hatmakers, cigar makers, bookbinders, compositors and proofreaders, press feeders, lithographers and engravers. They find employment, too, as clerks, cashiers, medical nurses, missionaries, photographers, retouchers and colorers, teachers, lawyers, doctors, musicians, telegraph operators, typesetters, typewriters, stenographers, wood and metal engravers, canvassers, collectors, merchants. They are ministers, lecturers, dancers, athletes, acrobats, pugilists, inventors, politicians and notaries public.

Cement for Steam Pipes.

A prominent engineer recommends the following recipe for stopping up leaky steampipe joints: Five parts plaster of paris, five parts yellow ochre, ten parts litharge, five parts of red lead and four parts of black oxide of manganese. To these powders, which should be mixed thoroughly, a small amount of asbestos powder and boiled oil is added. The cement hardens in from two to five hours.

At the bottom of the ocean the temperature remains practically constant at any one spot throughout the whole of the year.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O., Proprietors of Hall's Catarrh Cure, offer $100 reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for testimonials, free. Sold by druggists, 75c.

The New York divorce courts put asunder about five couples per day.

The Modern Beauty Thrives on good food and sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy she uses the gentle and pleasant liquid laxative Syrup of Figs.

The rock of Gibraltar is in exact representation of a lion lying in a resting position.

For Pimples on the Face Take Allen's Iron Tonic Bitters. All genuine bear the signature of J. P. Allen, Druggist, St. Paul, Minn.

Baltimore introduced gas in 1816.

The Death Roll Is Largely Swelled By persons careless of imperiled health, who "pooh, pooh!" their minor ailments, believing, or pretending to believe, that nature will effect a change. Nature does effect a change, but it is in the wrong direction. She thus avenges a disregard of her appeals. Don't omit, if you are at all unwell, to recuperate by the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a signal remedy for dyspepsia, nervousness, debility, malaria, rheumatism, biliousness.

The United States still have 2,836,757 square miles of public land.

With deep regret we note that Montgomery Ward, the "original grange-supply house" man, the friend of the farmer, and chief of commercial guerillas, joined the banks, the wholesalers, the pork packers, and the other monopolists in urging congress to repeal the silver bill. When the farmers learn this, they will make trouble. Montgomery finds it a hard job to play the dual role of honest granger Dr. Jekyil and millionaire Mr. Hyde.—Farm Implement News.

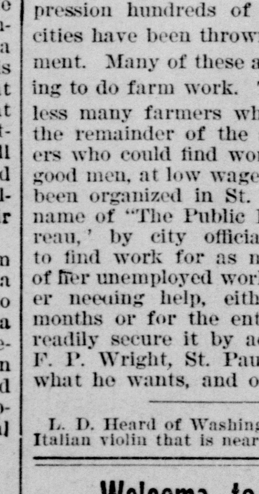

Blocks sixty feet long without a break are found quite frequently in the onyx quarries in Lower California.

Help Offered.

Owing to the extreme financial depression hundreds of men in all our cities have been thrown out of employment. Many of these are able and willing to do farm work. There are doubtless many farmers who need help for the remainder of the season—and others who could find work all winter for good men, at low wages. A bureau has been organized in St. Paul, under the name of "The Public Employment Bureau,' by city officials and citizens, to find work for as many as possible of her unemployed workers. Any farmer needing help, either for the fall months or for the entire winter, readily secure it by addressing Mayor F. P. Wright, St. Paul, Minn., stating what he wants, and on what terms.

L. D. Heard of Washington, Ga., owns an Italian violin that is nearly 250 years old.

Welcome to Hood's

We say at our house, because of the good it has done me. No one knows the intense misery I endured for 20 years with dyspepsia. No prescriptions seemed to help me and I had great prejudice against proprietary medicines. But being strongly urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I did so. I am now using my fourth bottle, and feel better than I have in twenty years, and consider myself cured."

FRANK C. STUART, Marshall, Mich.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills Cure liver ill. Sick Headache.

"August Flower"

"I am Post Master here and keep a Store. I have kept August Flower for sale for some time. I think it is a splendid medicine." E. A. Bond, P. M., Pavilion Centre, N.Y.

The stomach is the reservoir. If it fails, everything fails. The liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the heart, the head, the blood, the nerves all go wrong. If you feel wrong, look to the stomach first. Put that right at once by using August Flower. It assures a good appetite and a good digestion.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D.C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in last war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since.

MEN BE MANLY. We will send you the MARVELOUS and UNFAILING French Preparation, CALTHOS FREE by MAIL, and a legally executed guarantee that CALTHOS will STOP all Discharges, CURE Varicocele and RESTORE Lost Vigor. Use it & pay if satisfied. Von Mohl Co., Importers, Cincinnati, Ohio.

25 DOSES 25c THE GREAT COUGH CURE. TAKE THE BEST. 25c 50c & $1.00. SHILOH'S CURE.

Cures Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands where all others failed; will cure you if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S PLASTER. 25cts.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price 50cts. Injector free.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND The Best Waterproof Coat in the WORLD! SLICKER

The FISH BRAND SLICKER is warranted waterproof, and will keep you dry in the hardest storm. The new POMMEL SLICKER is a perfect riding coat, and covers the entire saddle. Beware of imitations. Don't buy a coat if the "Fish Brand" is not on it. Illustrated Catalogue free. A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

BLOOD POISON A SPECIALTY. Primary, Secondary or Tertiary Syphilis permanently cured in 30 to 60 days. We eliminate all poison from the system, so that there can never be a return of the disease. You can be treated at home for the same price and under the same guarantees, but with those who prefer to come here we will contract to cure them or refund all money and pay entire expense of coming, railroad fare and hotel bills, if we fail to cure. If you have taken mercury, iodide potash, and still have aches and pains, Mucous Patches in Mouth, Sore Throat, Pimples, Copper-Colored Spots, Ulcers on any part of the body, Hair or Eyebrows falling out. It is this Syphilitic Blood Poison that we guarantee to cure. We solicit the most obstinate cases and challenge the world for a case we cannot cure. This disease has always baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians. A legal guarantee to cure or refund money. Absolute proofs sent sealed on application. Address COOK REMEDY CO., Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

SECOND-HAND TEN-HORSE POWER ENGINE —AND— TWENTY-HORSE POWER BOILER For Sale Cheap. NEARLY NEW.

Located at Aberdeen, South Dakota

Address Northwestern Newspaper Union, ST. PAUL, MINN.

WORLD'S Columbian Exposition OFFICIAL SOUVENIR—1893

In beautiful and bright colors, and the Designs handsomely etched on silk, taken from Oil Paintings and the celebrated, world-renowned models now on exhibition at the World's Fair. On the top is the famous portrait, after Moro, of Christopher Columbus, in the center is an exact reproduction of the Santa Maria in full sail, showing the brave crew that assisted in discovering AMERICA, on the bottom is a design showing two Globes—the Old and the new worlds—on one side is Christopher Columbus, surrounded by his crew, representing the first landing on our shores, and on the other a complete bird's eye view of the WORLD'S FAIR. Is pronounced one of the handsomest and most attractive mementoes yet issued as a Souvenir of the great Exposition. Can be used as a Badge, Book-Mark, or as an ornament for the parlor.

Adopted by Societies, Clubs, Churches, and the public in general. Price, 15c. each, or two for 25c. AGENTS WANTED Everywhere. Price per Doz., $1. Special terms for large lots. Mailed and delivered free to any part of the U.S. or Canada.

J. McLEAN & CO., 157 S. CLARK ST., CHICAGO

THE READY PRINTS WE FURNISH ARE ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE THE BEST PRODUCED ON THE GLOBE. OUR SERVICE ESPECIALLY OUR NEWS LEADS THE WORLD SEND FOR SAMPLE SHEETS AND PRICES.

It's a "Daisy"

We desire to call the attention of newspaper men especially, and the public in general, to the inside pages of the Sentinel. They contain 26 columns of live, readable, carefully selected, ably edited and finely illustrated reading matter. We defy any paper on earth, printed at home but using the ready-set plate matter to get up four pages of as interesting matter as this. The Sentinel desires to thank the Northwestern Newspaper Union for its liberal and enterprising efforts to keep in the lead and serve its patrons so well and so faithfully.—Fairmont Sentinel, July 7, 1893.

Northwestern Newspaper Union, St. Paul Minn.

S. Dakota Newspaper Union, Aberdeen S. Dak.

N. Dakota Newspaper Union, Fargo, N. Dakota.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest. CATARRH Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 50c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

Making a Diagnosis.

"Your husband, Mrs. Muggleby, is suffering from a complication of diseases," said the doctor. "I must first make a diagnosis."

"I hope you can make it of calico, then," was the good soul's reply, "for I haven't a piece of flannel in the house."—New York Mercury.

A copy of the first edition of "Tom Jones" has just been sold in London for $345. It was uncut and in the original boards.

The value of infantry was not fully recognized by mediaeval commanders until the fifteenth century.

This is the COFFEE

That Secured the World's Fair Contract, And Will be Served EXCLUSIVELY Inside the Fair Grounds at CHICAGO.

(SIGNED)
CHASE & SANBORN, Importers.

Sold Exclusively in Brainerd by
BEACH, COLE & BEACH.

Sleeper Opera House!

J. R. SMITH, Manager.

COMING:

That Charming Comedy Drama,

"FRIENDS."

THE UNION
BI-CHLORIDE OF GOLD CO.
Of Brainerd, Minn.

Cale Block, Front Street.

W. J. BAIN, Manager.

For The Cure Of
The Liquor Habit
OPIUM AND TOBACCO.

Correspondence Solicited. Our business is carried on in a Strictly Confidential Manner.

FRANK B. JOHNSON,
—SUCCESSOR TO—
N. McFADDEN.
DRUGGIST.
Pure Drugs!
Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles.

Proprietor of Sherwood's Cough Syrup Glass Condition Powders and Stratton's Liniment.

Night Bell. 86 Front St

Sanborn's RESTAURANT.
CITY HOTEL, 40 FRONT STREET.

REGULAR MEALS 25CTS.

BOARD $4.00 PER WEEK.

Meals cooked to order at any time, Day or Night, at VERY reasonable prices.

HAGBERG & LAGERQUIST
Wholesale and retail
GROCERS,
HAS A LARGE AND COMPLTE STOCK OF
Staple & Fancy Groceries, Flour Feed, Provisions, Etc.

HAGBERG & LAGERQUIST.

Odd Fellows' Block.

C. D. JOHNSON,
DRUGGIST

I keep a Full Line of Fine Toilet Soaps.

Our stock of PERFUMERY is the largest and most complete in the City.

ALL KINDS OF PATENT MEDICINES.

Stationery,
Fine Cigars,
Toilet Articles, etc.

ARCTIC SODA WATER.

Physicians Prescriptions carefully compounded and all Orders correctly filled.

CALE BLOCK, EAST FRONT STREET.

Brainerd Dispatch.

Official Paper
Of Crow Wing and Cass Counties.

N. H. Ingersoll, F. W. Wieland. } Editors and Proprietors.

Issued every Friday morning at Brainerd, Crow Wing county, Minnesota, from rooms 5 and 7, Sleeper block. Terms $1.50 per year. Finest job printing office in the city.

Entered at the Post Office at Brainerd, Minnesota as second class matter.

Local News Notes.

Lawyer J. N. True is in the city.

Dr. Niven, dentist, Sept. 29th and 30th.

Charles Wilkins has gone to Wilmar on a visit.

Mrs. A. J. Sovereign, of Staples, is in the city.

Miss Lillie Wilson left yesterday for Chicago.

Ed. Mahan, of Little Fall, was in the city yesterday.

Harry Gross, now of Duluth, was in the city Wednesday.

Henry Linnemann is now one of the Arlington hotel clerks.

Mrs. Joseph Miller returned on Tuesday from a visit at Duluth.

Miss Carrie Morrison left yesterday for a two week's visit at the world's fair.

Mrs. C. C. Phillips, of East Brainerd, has been granted a widow's pension.

A nice new girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Clark on Tuesday night.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards and Mrs. Hall, of Milwaukee, are guests of C. N. Parker.

Henry Walters, a brother of R. F. Walters, is here on a visit to relatives from Quebec, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sodderland are rejoicing over the arrival of twin girls at their house on Monday.

A. J. Ferrin is in the city from Minneapolis on a visit to his uncle, H. C. Stivers, of the Journal.

Mrs. D. B. Kelley, of St. Paul, is in the city on a visit to her son W. H. Kelley, foreman of this office.

A ten-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Torgerson, of Deerwood, died of cholera infantum on Saturday last.

J. W. Fletcher, of Battle Creek, Mich., has been in the city several days looking over his Brainerd property.

Ed. Hurley and Frank Guernflu left on Tuesday for Chicago where they will see the wonders of the great worlds fair.

Mrs. L. McDonald, of Jamestown, N. Dak., is in the city called here by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. James Mead.

H. T. Skinner, who has been spending his summer vacation at Berlin, Wis., arrived in the city this morning ready to begin his fall school work.

A pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Miss Grace McDonough on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12th, about thirty of her friends being present.

The fire department was called ont Monday night to suppress a blaze some one had started in a brush pile near the new school house in southeast Brainerd.

A phantom social will be held on the lawn at the residence of Mrs. M. K. Swartz on Friday evening, Sept. 15. Ice cream and cake 15 cents, Everybody invited.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church will give a corn supper in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening Sept. 22. Every one is invited to come. Supper 25 cents.

J. C. Congdon showed us some very nice plums Wednesday which were raised by him in this city. They are now on exhibition in the window at Beach, Cole & Beach's grocery store.

Rev. D. N. Morden, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, will be united in marriage Wednesday evening next to Miss Bertha Cooper, of Ninga, Manitoba, at the latter place.

The St. Paul Globe says: R. R. Wise, proprietor of all the hotels of the Northern Pacific on the Brainerd division, is at the Merchants'. He is an old newspaper man, and his most serious fault is that he is a republican.

A new bridge is to be erected over the Mississippi river at Aitkin. It is to have a swing span so that boats being rafted or towed may pass through, and it will be very much like one recently built at Grand Rapids, and for this reason the new improvements is very much needed.

The remains of Martin Anderson were brought to this city on Monday and taken to Long lake, where the deceased resided, for burial, Rev. Sanderson officiating. Mr. Anderson was thrown from a wagon at Grand Forks on Friday last, his neck being broken by the fall.

A special meeting of the city council was called for Wednesday night, the call stating that it was for the purpose of taking action in regard to fixing the city jail. When the body convened, however, there was a discussion over accepting the report of the committee and it was rejected. The council then adjourned without taking any action.

J. C. Congdon, as president of the board of education, has notified the teachers of the city schools through the official paper that on account of the impossibility to complete the school houses the regular session of all grades below the high school will not begin until further notice. It was expected to begin all the schools on the 18th, but it will be the 25th if not later before the new buildings will be in condition to occupy.

Dr. Niven, dentist, Sept. 29th and 30th.

HIS SCULL WAS BROKEN.

The Remains Found in the Cranberry Marsh Near Jonesville Now in the Custody of Coroner Dean.

On Friday of last week Coroner Dean, John Voerge, A. F. Ferris and R. Parker made a party that went in search of the skeleton which Mr. Voerge and his son had run onto in the woods some days before, and which they had left undisturbed. The party arrived at the place about noon and were directed to the spot by Mr. Voerge. The body, or bones rather, lay about 200 feet from the railroad track on the north side, and in a little hollow which had been made by the up-rooting of a tall pine tree. The entire skeleton was there with the exception of the bones of the feet and hands which had probably been carried off by wolves which are numerous in that section. The skull was examined and on the left side over the eye was found a fracture which had evidently been made by some blunt instrument and it must have been a terrific blow for the skull was cracked in all directions from the indenture. On top of the skull and a little to the right was a second fracture, probably where the first blow was struck for it was not nearly as heavy a one as the other. The clothing that the man had on at the time he met his death was a black coat and vest and brown pants and blue striped shirt. In the pockets the only things discovered were a wooden pipe and a small round wooden box, evidently a snuff box. These were the only things by which the man's identity could be discovered unless it was by his teeth, which were perfect. The man still retained his baby eye-teeth, a fact discovered by Dr. Ribble after the bones had been brought into the city, and his wisdom teeth on the under jaw had not yet made their appearance. These things would indicate that he was quite a young man.

There is no doubt but that the man was murdered, but how and under what circumstances will probably never be known.

Coroner Dean has the bones and clothing at the morgue of Losey & Dean and will keep them for some time before he buries them, in case anything should turn up.

Not in the Usual Way.

Thomas Murphy's family, of southeast Brainerd, was increased one on Monday evening, and the peculiar part of the proceeding was the fact that the baby was left in his kitchen by an unknown party. Mrs. Murphy and a neighbor were in the front part of the house on that evening, when they heard an infant crying and proceeding to the kitchen they found a blue eyed baby girl about a month old wrapped up in a neat cloak lying on the floor just inside the screen door where she had evidently been placed but a moment before. Whoever had placed the foundling there had made good their escape without detection, for no one was in sight nor had been seen about the premises. The baby was taken up and the cloak removed by the ladies and a note was found pinned to its dress together with a five dollar bill. A nursing bottle with the milk still warm and about half emptied was also discovered. The note, which we were unable to procure for publication, stated that the child's name was Anna and that it was the desire of the party who placed her there to have her christened in the Catholic faith, and asked Mr. Murphy's folks to raise her as one of their own children and that money would find its way into their house every week for the support of the child.

The circumstance is a very peculiar one and no clue has been found as to the parentage of the child. The baby is exceedingly bright, has dark hair and blue eyes, and although Mr. Murphy and his estimable wife have quite a family of their own they have decided to keep the little waif and raise her as one of their own family.

The Troy Laundry.

The Troy laundry which is located at the corner of Fourth and Front streets is turning out just as good work and giving as good satisfaction as the laundries of St. Paul and Minneapolis where so many of our people have been in the habit of sending their work. It is a home institution and should be liberally patronized. Drop them a postal card or leave word at their office and your laundry will be called for and delivered.

Died.

W. H. Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Casey, died on Wednesday, Sept. 13th, of consumption at the age of 24 years. Some four years ago the deceased was afflicted with a severe attack of pneumonia from which he never fully recovered, and during the past year it developed into the above named disease. The funeral occurred this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence on Fourth avenue, East Brainerd, Rev. J. A. Jenkins officiating.

The Best Show of the Season.

The show at the Olympic this week is pronounced by all who have attended as the best that has been given since the opening of this popular place of amusement, and the attendance has increased in keeping with the merits of the entertainment. The interesting first part entitled "a sculptor's studio," contains a series of fine spectacular scenes. But the most interesting feature of the entertainment is the acrobatic dancing and contortion acts by Swan and Bombard. They are "out of sight," and can be excelled nowhere. Billy Madden still holds the popular fancy with his wonderful clog dancing, and McCarthy and Ames are even more pleasing than heretofore. Another new attraction this week is Lucy Swan, whose rich, well cultivated voice never fails to please. The performances close with a laughable afterpiece entitled "The Mischevious Monkey." If you want to see the best show of the season, don't fail to attend.

Dr. Niven, dentist, Sept. 29th and 30th.

A Worthy Society.

On Tuesday a meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. E. M. Westfall to complete the organization of a branch of the society known as the Needlework Guild of America, the object of which is to provide for the needy in our own city. To become a member each lady is required to give two new articles of clothing each year and any one desiring to unite and help the good work on can do so by giving their name to any of the officers, the articles to be handed in by the first of October for distribution. The society is non-sectarian. The following are the officers:

President—Mrs. E. M. Westfall.
Vice President—Mrs. C. M. Patek.
Secretary—Miss Minnie Merritt.
Directors—Mrs. Maynard Crane, Mrs. C. W. Grewcox, Mrs. H. I. Cohen, Mrs. B. S. Mallory and Mrs. A. E. Losey.

Not Coming.

Word has been received that Miss Jessie Ackerman, who was advertised to lecture in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening next, will be unable to keep her appointment as she has been obliged to cancel all her engagements in the northwest. This is a great dissapointment to the ladies of the W. C. T. U., and also to the general public.

Syvert Johnson has given up his position with A. H. Rusted at Brainerd, and is here for a two weeks visit with his sister, Mrs. C. O. Bjor. At the close of his visit here he will go to Norway where he will spend the winter.—Battle Lake Review.

District Court.

The September term of the district court will convene next Monday, with Judge Holland presiding. The following is a list of the cases on the calendar:

CIVIL CASES.

Munson & Merriot vs S. W. Searles & Co. J. N. True for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Theodosia Hastings vs State Building Association. J. N. True for plaintiff and John B. and W. H. Sanborn for defendant.

Louis K. Fladkval vs Chas. Moberg and Wm. Gergen. J. H. Warner for plaintiff and W. A. Fleming for defendants.

Jas. H. Kelehan vs Chas. Cross and W. B. Herriman. W. A. Fleming for plaintiff and F. W. Hall for defendant.

Mary Andrews vs City of Brainerd. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and W. S. McClenahan for defendant.

August Rudke vs J. J. Howe & Co. & Knox & DeLaittre. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor and Choate & Merrill for defendant. Two cases.

J. M. Oliver vs M. L. Patterson et al. Leon E. Lum & C. M. Hertig for plaintiff and J. N. True for defendant.

A. L. Hoffman vs J. H. Mahler. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and Wm. Foulke for defendant.

G. G. Hartley vs Carl H. Douglas Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and J. N. True for defendant.

George T. D. Baxter vs J. J. Howe. Penney, Jamison & Hayne for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Max Waltz vs Louis Schafer, Eloise Schafer and the Brainerd Co-operative Building and Loan Association. J. H. Warner for plaintiff and Leon E. Lum for defendants.

Wells Tuman vs George A. Pillsbury et al. Oscar Taylor for plaintiff and Gilfillan, Belden & Willard for defendant.

George Wetherby vs John Hughes and Mary Hughes. J. N. True for plaintiff and Phelps & Martin for defendants.

Andrew Olson vs Life Indemnity and Investment Co. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and James O. Pierce for defendant.

Samuel Walker vs Jno. R. Howes. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and John C. Hollembaeck for defendant.

Louise Morton vs Michael Kobe. W. A. Fleming for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Frank L. Hanscom vs Northern Mill Co. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Solomon Williams vs Torrey & Libbey. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and Choate & Merrill for defendant.

S. Williams vs William Torrey and H. A. Libby. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and Choate & Merrill for defendants.

John M. Cofield vs James McCabe and Patrick McCabe. W. A. Fleming for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendants.

Robert Caughie vs the City of Brainerd. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and W. S. McClenahan for defendant.

George Wetherby vs A. Z. Renslow, J. N. True, D. F. Sexton and Hugh Riddle. George Wetherby for plaintiff and Leon E. Lum for defendants.

Fred J. Slipp vs Michael L. Tool, George F. Meyers, J. F. O'Connell and George Clark. J. H. Warner for plaintiff and C. L. Pratt and L. H. Hawkins for defendants.

Mrs. Walter Davis vs Mary Gray. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and W. A. Fleming for defendant.

Michael Hagberg vs Guilford G. Hartley. McClenahan & Mantor for plaintiff and Billson & Congdon for defendant.

Christian Anderson vs Brainerd & Northern Minnesota Railway Co. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and W. S. McClenahan for defendant.

CRIMINAL CASES.

City of Brainerd vs Thomas Calland. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff and J. N. True for defendant.

City of Brainerd vs James McCaffray. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff and J. H. Warner for defendant.

City of Brainerd vs Max Waltz. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff and J. H. Warner for defendant.

State of Minnesota vs Theodore Douville. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff.

City of Brainerd vs George Sisler. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff.

City of Brainerd vs Matt McCabe and Jim White. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff.

If You Want The Best.

ALTHOUGH you may have had good luck with but few failures in making cake and biscuit in the old-fashioned way with soda and sour milk, or soda and cream of tartar, you will have better luck and (following directions) no failures with the Royal Baking Powder.

The truth of this must be evident when you remember that in the leading hotels and restaurants, and in the homes of our city cousins, where the latest and best methods are invariably employed, and where the most beautiful and dainty food is always set out for the guests, the Royal Baking Powder is exclusively used for all quickly risen food.

Royal Baking Powder never disappoints; never makes sour, soggy or husky food; never spoils good materials; never leaves lumps of alkali in the biscuit or cake; while all these things do happen with the best of cooks who cling to the old-fashioned methods, or who use other baking powders.

If you want the best food, Royal Baking Powder is indispensable.

THEY ARE EASY.

The Duluth Base Ball Aggregation Are Not in it with the Home Team.

The Duluth base ball team, which has been heralded abroad as invincible this summer, crossed bats with the Brainerd nine last Saturday and Sunday at the fair grounds in this city, and as a result they are not crowing any more. They were dead easy—they didn't make real good exercise for the home team. They were beaten on Saturday by a score of 19 to 2, and on Sunday the score stood 12 to 3. On Saturday the home team could have doubled this score had they so desired, for after the fifth inning they did not try to make any additional runs. The home team in both games played ball beautifully, making scarcely any errors, while the visitors seemed to be playing in especial hard luck. It was clearly to be seen, however, that under the most fortunate circumstances, it wasn't in them to beat the Brainerd club, which is now unquestionably one of the very best, if not the best team in the state. If there is any club in Minnesota that doubts this statement they can have satisfaction by accepting Manager Gates challenge which we publish elsewhere in this issue.

The principal feature of Sunday's game was a running one handed catch by Corbett in center field, the most difficult we have seen, and he received a perfect ovation from the large crowd of spectators in consequence.

Mr. Paul Murn, roadmaster on the Brainerd Division of the N. P. Railroad was in the village Friday, called here by the illness of his sister, Mrs. Lives, of Montana, who was injured in a runway. From him it is learned that suit to recover damages will be sought from the village.—Sauk Rapids Sentinel.

An Excellent Play.

One likes "Friends," that bright bit from the inspired pen of Edwin Milton Royle, because there is so much human nature in it—or, rather, so much human nature of the sort we most admire. One touch of nature makes the whole world kin, and in the past there has been too little of it upon the stage. It is true that the mirror has been held up to nature; but the mirror in the majority of instances has been a 25 cent looking glass, such as one finds in a cheap boarding house, which would distort the seraphic features on an angle. In "Friends" it is different. Royle has taken the chords of human feeling wherewith to play a symphony, and he has suceeded admirably. As an attraction the piece is worthy of a repetition of the favor it enjoyed last year, when it entered the city comparatively unknown and ended by playing to crowded houses. There is the same poetic friendship, the same comedy, the same pathos, the same intensity, the same perfection of general effect, and what is more, almost the same cast. Many changes have been in the line of improvement Edwin Milton Royle, the author, still plays Jack breezily, effectively, heartily, so humanly as to hold the audience throughout. Lucius Henderson, as Karje, the pianist is most ideal in a sensitized character, and wins numerous recalls after piano solo at the musicale. Selena Fetter slights nothing as Marguerite, and accentuates the good impression made last year. E. D. Lyons admirable as old Otto, and exceptionally powerful in in the third act, while Henry Bergam makes the most of Harold Hunting and Harry Allen is popular as Paden, Sr. "Friends" is good diet, as a dramatic possibility, as a human possibility, as an entertainment.

The above is taken from the St. Paul News where "Friends" is being played during this week. Brainerd people will have an opportunity to see it shortly.

Leave orders with D. W. Whitford for harness and have them made of A No. 1 oak leather and not of shoddy that will have the appearance of having been whitewashed as is the case with those sold by dealers. They will cost no more and will last three times as long. Remember the location on Laurel Street.

D. W. WHITFORD.

Low Rates for Minneapolis Exposition

The Northern Pacific announces low round trip rates to Minneapolis on account of the exposition. Tickets will be on sale at rate of one and one third fare for the round trip with an additional charge of twenty-five cents for admission coupon, on September 8th, 12th, 15th, 19th, and 22nd, and October 3rd and 5th; and at rate of one fare for the round trip with an additional charge of twenty-five cents for admission, daily from September 25th and to 30th, both inclusive.

Tickets are only good for continuous passage and are limited to return on the Monday following date of sale.

For further particulars calls upon your nearest ticket agent.

Items of Interest.

Souvenir spoons at Sundbergs.

Ripans Tabules cure headache.

Buy your screens at C. B. White's.

Bunker Hill School shoes at Bredfeld's.

McColl's baby pictures are the talk of the town.

Re-varnish your buggies once a year at Congdon's.

Call in and see McGinnis & Co.'s great reduction sale.

C. B. White carries the finest line of loaded shells in the city.

Silverware, useful and ornamental at Mrs. F. G. Sundberg's.

Largest line of children's shoes at Bredfeld's. Bed rock prices.

Silver inlaid flat ware (warranted) twenty-five years at Sundberg's.

Children and misses Russett shoes in colors at Bredfeld's. Sold at bottom prices.

When you want a large picture have it made a McColl's gallery, over the postoffice.

Horses, cows, ponies, wagons, buggies and harnesses for sale on time at Hoffman's

Picture frames and pictures to frame, a large variety, and fine goods at McColl's.

Housekeeping outfits on the installment plan at the Hoffman Bazaar.—tf.

If you want haying tools call on C. B. White at their new store in the Walker block.

Touch up and varnish your wagons for spring trade, at Congdon,s. It will save you money.

If you want fine artistic job work leave your order with the DISPATCH. Our work is unexcelled.

Have your photograph taken at McColl's studio, over the postoffice. Our finest cabinets $4 per dozen.

Call at D. M. Clark & Co.'s store and inspect their stock of hardware, crockery, lamps, furniture, carpets, wall paper and everything else in that line. Their prices have been cut to meet the bad times.

Do not forget that Veon is making another "Rustle" in the jewelry line. Your custom will be greatly appreciated. The lowest possible prices will rule, and no sharp practices or misrepresentations will be made in any case. Please call.

For a Stewart surface burner, Howe Ventilating base burner, or Montor wood parlor heater of the latest and most approved pattern, call at D. M. Clark & Co.'s store and inspect their stock. They carry the latest variety of heating and cook stoves ever shown in this city.

Views of buildings, out of door groups, etc., a specialty at McColl's gallery.

Special Notice.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to us are requested to call at McGinn & Bailey's store and settle.

C. H. PAINE & Co.

You are especially invited to call at Veon's, in Gardner's block, and examine his jewelry and get his profit-shaving prices. Do not forget about this.

Subscribe for the DISPATCH. All the news for $1.50 per year.

The office of J. R. Smith is the headquarters for reliable fire insurance. Room 4, Sleeper Block.

Another Reduction in world's Fair Rates.

Commencing Saturday, August 12, the Northern Pacific railroad will inaugurate the sale at all coupon ticket offices in Minnesota, North Dakota and Manitoba, of excursion tickets to Chicago at the uniform rate of one fare for the round trip, plus two dollars additional.

These tickets will be on sale daily until further notice and are limited to 30 days from date of sale.

These are the lowest rates yet announced and coupled with the splendid through Pullman sleeping car service, both first-class and tourist, operated by the Northern Pacific railroad to Chicago, offers the residents of the Northwest the best possible facilities to visit the world's fair—one of the wonders of the age. tf.

The Brainerd Mercantile Co.

Wish to call the attention of the public to the fact that they are doing

A STRICTLY CASH BUSINESS

And Selling Goods

AT STRICTLY CASH PRICES,

Which means that it will be money in your pocket to call and get our prices before purchasing elsewhere.

All Goods Warranted First-Class.

T. McMASTER,
—DEALER IN—
FINE TEAS AND COFFEES.

We carry a full line of

Fresh Groceries.

Lumbermen's Supplies a Specialty

CORNER SIXTH AND FRONT STREETS. - BRAINERD, MINN

C. B. WHITE,
CONTARCTOR & BUILDER

This is What We Carry:

Sash, Doors, Mouldings, Paints, Oils, Varnish, Wood Stock and

Builders' Hardware,

Also Skates, Glass, Rope, Tools of all Kinds, Guns, Ammunition, Sporting Goods, Cutlery, hand sleds. Sled and wagon shop work of all kinds done promptly. Call on us.

I U. WHITE, Manager.

No. 82 Laurel St.

We Meet All Competition.

—THE NEW FIRM OF—

McGINN & BAILEY

Are Selling their Carefully Selected Stock of

STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES

AT REASONABLE PRICES.

FRESH VEGETABLES IN SEASON.

We aim to please our customers in all particulass and invite your patronage.

Sixth Street, between Front and Laurel.

KATZ BROS.,
—DEALER IN—
STOVES AND TINWARE,

Shelf Hardware, Nails, Etc.

New store just opened at McColl's Old Stand on 7th Street. New Stock LOW PRICES and Fair Dealing.

Great Bargains in Cooking Stoves.

Call and See Us.

Always on Hand.

A well Assorted Stock of

Diamonds, Watches, Clocks,

Jewelry and Silverware.

Bi-Chloride of Gold Cure for Broken Down Watches.

Repairing of All Kinds a Specialty.

MRS. F. G. SUNDBERG,

CORNER FRONT AND SIXTH STREETS.

HARNESS SHOP

CORNER LAUREL AND SIXTH STREETS.

Keep on hand an assortment of everything in the line.

Harness, Nets Whips, Curbs

BRUSHES, BRIDLES, SADDLES, COLLARS.

D. W. WHITFORD.

Fine Outfits Made a Specialty

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH.

VOLUME 12, NUMBER 43. | BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1893. | INGERSOLL & WIELAND, PUBLISHERS.

NORTHERN PACIFIC R.R.

IS THE ONLY LINE

Running Through Cars

TO

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS, DULUTH and CHICAGO,

TO

HELENA, BUTTE, SPOKANE, TACOMA, SEATTLE, PORTLAND

Pullman Sleeping Cars
Elegant Dining Cars
—ON ALL—
THROUGH TRAINS

LOCAL TIME TABLE.

No. 7 arrives from the South at 11:35 p. m. Departs for the West at 11:40 p. m.

No. 8 leaves for the South at 2:25 a. m.

No. 13 arrives from Duluth at 11:15 p. m., and departs for the west at 11.25.

No. 14 arrives from the West at 7:55 a. m. Departs at 6.15 a. m.

No. 11, Little Falls and Dakota train, arrives at 5:30 p. m.

No. 12, Little Falls and Dakota train, departs at 6:05 a. m., and reaches Little Falls in time to connect with No. 4 there for St. Paul.

No. 54 carries passengers to Aitken, departs at at 11:15 p. m.

No. 55 from N. P. Junction arrives at 3:30 p. m. and departs for Staples at 4:30 p. m.

No. 56 arrives from Staples at 10 a. m. Departs for N. P. Junction at 11:10 a. m.

All trains are daily except Brainerd and Morris accommodations and trains 55 and 56.

For Rates, Maps, Time Table or special information, apply to agent Northern Pacific R. R. at Brainerd, or

CHAS. S. FEE,
Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent,
ST. PAUL, MINN.

Wisconsin Central Lines.

(Northern Pacific R. R. Co., Lessee.)

Latest Time Card.

TWO THROUGH TRAINS DAILY.

2.45pm	6.25pm	Lv. - Mpls. Ar	8.40am	5.45pm
1.25pm	7.15pm	Lv. St. Paul Ar	8.00am	5.00pm
0.30am	4.05pm	Lv. Duluth Ar	11.10am	6.50pm
1.45pm	7.05pm	Lv. Ashland Ar	8.05am	3.30pm
7.15am	10.05pm	Ar. Chicago Ar	5.00pm	10.45pm

Tickets sold and baggage checked through to all points in the United States and Canada.

Close connection made in Chicago with all trains going East and South.

For full information apply to your nearest ticket agent or

JAS. C. POND,
Gen. Pass. and Tkt. Agt., Chicago, Ill.

N. Schroeder,

—DEALERS IN—

Wines, Liquors, and

CIGARS,

Imported and Domestic.

Special Attention Given to Orders for Family Use,

Give me a call when in Detroit and I will guarantee good usage.

N. SCHROEDER,
DETROIT, MINN

AGENTS WANTED on salary and commission for the only authorized BIOGRAPHY OF JAMES G. BLAINE, by GAIL HAMILTON, his literary executor, with the co-operation of his family, and for Mr. Blaine's Complete Works, "TWENTY YEARS OF CONGRESS," and his later book, "POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS." One prospectus for these three BEST SELLING books in the market. A. K. P. Jordan of Me., took 112 orders from first 110 calls; agent's profit, $196.50. Mrs. Balard of Ohio, took 15 orders, 13 Seal Russia, in one day; profit, $26.25. E. N. Rice, of Mass., took 27 orders in two days; profit, $47.25. J. Patridge, of Me., took 43 orders from 36 calls; profit, $75.25. E. A. Palmer, of N. D., took 53 orders in 3 days; profit, $98.25. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY given. If you wish to make LARGE MONEY, write immediately for terms to

THE HENRY BILL PUB. CO.,
Norwich, Conn.

HOW A PUZZLE WAS SOLVED.

When you want a certain article, you want the best make of that article, don't you?

But how to determine which make is best is what puzzles you, isn't it?

And when the puzzle is solved for you, by authority which cannot be questioned, you are pleased, aren't you?

And you would like to hear of one puzzle that has been solved for the people of the whole world, wouldn't you?

Well, we will tell you about that very puzzle, and its solution.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889 at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France.

This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered, the GRAND PRIZE, giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French Government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated M. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the most prized honor of France.

That is how the puzzle of the best sewing machine in the world was fully solved by the most competent authority in the world in favor of the No. 9 and No. 12 Wheeler & Wilson machines.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best, it will be your own fault.

Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine, and if he does not keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue, prices and terms.

Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO.,
185 and 187 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Cures others, will cure you

(First Publication Aug. 18th.)

NOTICE OF FINAL PROOF.

Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 11th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before S. F. Alderman, Clerk of District Court at Brainerd, Minn., on Tuesday, Oct. 3d, 1893, viz:

ANDREW BRAND.

H. E. No. 13557, for the E½ Sw¼, Sw¼ Sw¼, and Lot 5, Sec. 24, Twp. 46, R. 29.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz:

Harry Patterson, Louis Carlson, John Cron, Andrew Hoving, P. O. address of all Deerwood, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

A. BARTO, Register.

(First publication August 11, 1893.)

Notice of Execution Sale.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and now in my hands, issued out of the district court in and for the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in said court on the 5th day of May, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m., in favor of R. J. Spencer, executor of the last will and testament of John Theviot, deceased, plaintiff, and against Henry Theviot, Werner Hemstead and Charles Kinkele, defendants, I have levied upon as the property of said defendant Charles Kinkele all those certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots number sixteen (16) and seventeen (17), of block number sixty-seven (67), in the town (now city) of Brainerd, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the registry of deeds in and for said Crow Wing county; and that I have also levied upon as the property of said defendant Werner Hemstead all those certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lots number 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21, of block number 3, in the second addition to the town (now city) of Brainerd; also lot number 4 of block number 28, in the town of West Brainerd (now a part of the city of Brainerd); also all of blocks numbered one (1) to sixteen (16) inclusive, in Syndicate addition to the city of Brainerd, and all according to the plats of said additions and towns on file and of record in the registry of deeds in and for said Crow Wing county; also lot number one (1) of section twenty-seven (27), in township one hundred and thirty-four (134) north, of range twenty-eight (28) west, according to the United States government survey thereof; also that certain tract or parcel of land situate in the county of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, described as follows, towit: That tract of land bounded on the east by the east line of Fifth street, produced north to the Mississippi river, on the north by the Mississippi river, on the west by a line fifty (50) feet west of and parallel to the west line of Fifth street produced north to the Mississippi river, and on the south by the north line of Bluff avenue, reference being made to the plat of the town of Brainerd of record in the registry of deeds of said Crow Wing county; and that I shall on Saturday, the 30th day of September, 1893, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the county court house, in the city of Brainerd, in said Crow Wing county, offer for sale and will sell the above described real property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to the sum of $2,012.60, with legal interest thereon from May 5th, 1891, together with $1.20, costs of execution, with all accruing costs of sale, to the highest bidder therefor for cash.

HENRY SPALDING,
Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minnesota,
HENRY JOHNS, By J. W. SLIPP, Deputy.
St. Paul, Minn.,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Crow Wing. } District Court 15th Judicial District

W. A. Fleming, as receiver of the Mississippi Water Power and Boom Company, an insolvent corporation, plaintiff,

Against

John N. Nevers, as receiver of the Brainerd Water Power Company, a corporation, The St. Paul Title Insurance and Trust Company, a corporation, The Central Trust Company, a corporation, The Brainerd Water Power Company, a corporation, and Arletta H. Fennesey, Ambrose Tighe, Andrew L. Fennesey, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants:

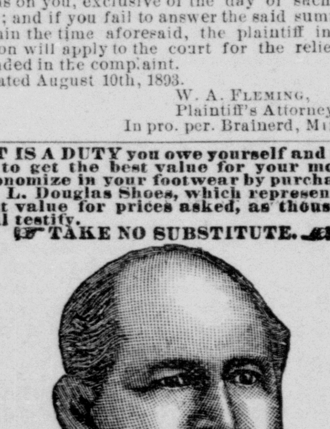

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the above entitled action, on file in the office of the clerk of said court at his office in the city of Brainerd, in said county, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscriber at his office in the city of Brainerd, in said county, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said summons within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated August 10th, 1893.

W. A. FLEMING,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
In pro. per. Brainerd, Minn.

IT IS A DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value for prices asked, as thousands will testify.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN,

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY.

A genuine sewed shoe, that will not rip, fine calf, seamless, smooth inside, flexible, more comfortable, stylish and durable than any other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $5.

$4 and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, easy and durable shoes ever sold at the price. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $8 to $12.

$3.50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

$2.50 Fine Calf, $2.25 and $2.00 Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

Boys' $2.00 and Youths' $1.75 School Shoes are worn by the boys everywhere. The most serviceable shoes sold at the prices.

Ladies' $3.00 Hand-sewed, $2.50, $2.00 and $1.75 Shoes for Misses are made of the best Dongola or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3.00 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4.00 to $6.00. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwear are finding this out.

Caution.—W. L. Douglas' name and the price is stamped on the bottom of each shoe; look for it when you buy. Beware of dealers attempting to substitute other makes for them. Such substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass. Sold by

A NEW postoffice has been established at Deer River, in Itasca county.

THE wheat crop of Minnesota and the Dakotas is estimated at over a hundred million bushels this year.

ON account of the Brazilian trouble coffee in New York market advanced from 5 to 20 points yesterday.

THE papers say that Ruth and Papa Cleveland are doing finely since the advent of the baby girl at the White House on Saturday last.

IT is not known whether the world's fair management will ever untangle itself from the Sunday opening matter. The general public are doing the fair and the management are supposed to take care of themselves.

THE sum of $600 was stolen from the pocket of a woman in Chicago who had worked her way into a crowd where free bread was being distributed to the poor. It would have been cheaper for her to have bought a loaf.

AITKIN democrats held an election on Saturday for the purpose of ascertaining who should be their coming postmaster, and Allison Willber received 64 votes to W. B. Gwathney's 31. The dark horse hasn't put in an appearance as yet.

THE papers state that Representative J. M. Markham, of Aitkin, who was indited by the grand jury of Hennepin county for soliciting a bribe, has been making a strong effort to have his case tried elsewhere, but Judge Canty has declined to grant a change.

AN Illinois man has been appointed to succeed Maj. C. A. Ruffee as agent at the White Earth Indian agency. It was expected that a democrat would get the position, but it was also expected that there were democrats enough in Minnesota to pick from without going to Illinois for one.

THE farmers and butter makers in the southeastern part of this state have been bled to the tune of $1,000 or more by the sale of a receipt showing how to make three pounds of butter out of two pounds of butter and two pounds of milk. It is an old "fake." It is impossible to get out of milk something that never was in it.—St. Peter Tribune.

AN exchange clips the following from the Leavenworth Post and it is unnecessary to state that the past and present is fairly sized up by it:

Last fall the Democratic workingmen sang merrily as he went about his work:

Grover!
Grover!
Four more years of Grover,
In he goes,
Out they go,
Then we'll be in clover!

Now he is wandering up and down the earth hunting a job, and he sings dolefully:

Rover!
Rover!
Four years more a rover
In he went,
Out I went,
I'm no more in clover!

Result of Tariff Tinkering.

A telegram from Springfield, Mass., gives the following, which is a notice that has been posted of a universal cut down in the wages of all the employes of Smith & Wesson, the revolver manufacturers.

"In view of the proble reduction to be made on the tariff in the near future and the consequent increased competition, we do not deem it advisable to increase our stock of goods at the present cost. We therefore give notice that on the first day of October there will be a uniform reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of all our employes, including piece work, except those who are drawing $1.50 per day or less, and those with whom we have contracts. It is hoped that as a rule the change will be but temporary, but so much depends upon circumstances and conditions that no possible assurance can now be given."

Agent Ruffee Secured Settlement.

The Minneapolis Tribune says that Maj. Chas. A. Ruffee, of the White Earth Indian agency, is in that city. He has just been notified of his retirement as agent and that he has been succeeded by T. W. Allen. The Major's term as Indian agent was short and sweet. He was appointed nearly a year ago, to succeed Capt. B. P. Shuler, of this city, but the appointment was hung up for some months by a futile effort to defeat him by means of some old charges raked up in the department. Finally the Major was confirmed and installed, and had just got his agency into running order when he was removed to make room for a democrat. Short as was the term, however, Ruffee secured a settlement with the department of accounts that had been held up for something like 20 years, ever since he was agent of the Chippewas, when the agency was at the historic place of Crow Wing, since destroyed.

"Useful Information"

Is a heading much resorted to by "retired physicians" and people whose "sands of life have nearly run out." The publishers of our standard dictionaries or encyclopedias tell the pure truth when they offer their works as "mines of useful information;" and in the same class are reliable and first class railroads like the Burlington Route. When this road offers to give you, free of charge, "useful information" about ways and means of safe, swift and comfortable railway travel you may place entire confidence in what is told you. They have no disposition to deceive you, and if they had are too shrewd not to know that "honesty is the best policy," Therefore, before taking a trip anywhere, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent St. Paul, Minn., and learn what are the advantages of "The Burlington" as a route.

Jackson's Probable Fate.

What is likely to be Jackson's punishment now that he has confessed to the murder of Peck, is a question often asked since the DISPATCH made Jackson's confession public.

We find the following provisions of the penal code relating to murder and its punishment:

Homicide is defined to be the killing of a human being by the act, procurement or omission of another, and is either murder, manslaughter, excusable or justifiable homicide. Murder in the first degree is the killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, when perpetrated with a premeditated design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another. Such killing of a human being is murder in the second degree, when committed with a design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another, but without deliberation or premeditation. It is unnecessary to quote further as Jackson's crime is either one or the other of the above.

The punishment for murder in the first degree is death, unless the court shall certify of record its opinion that by reason of exceptional circumstances the case is not one in which the death penalty should be imposed, in which case the punishment shall be imprisonment for life in the State Prison. The punishment for murder in the second degree is imprisonment for life.

If Jackson is permitted to plead guilty to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree, or if he is tried and found guilty of the crime, and the court can, or does, certify that there are exceptional circumstances in the case, etc., he may escape with a life sentence. But it may be difficult to find any mitigating circumstances in such a cowardly murder, so coolly planned and deliberately executed. Jackson's statement that he did not mean to kill was probably the thought of another for the purpose of claiming that the killing was not premeditated and designed, and was therefore, only murder in the second degree.

Don't Want to Go.

An impromptu conference was held at the Nicollet house Minneapolis Tuesday, says the Journal of that city, between Messrs. Campbell and Flint, of the Northwest Indian Commission, and Chiefs Moos-o-maw-nay, Ain-dus-o-che-sing and Be-tud-anse, of the Mille Lacers, John Merrill being present as interpreter. The subject under discussion was the removal of the Chippeways from Mille Lacs to the White Earth reservation, where the United States promises each a home, 80 acres of land, a good house with clothing and provisions for a year, schools for their children, a doctor for sickness and whatever church they desire. About 200 of the Indians have already gone, together with three chiefs, but there are 300 still left at Mille Lacs. If these could be disposed of, the Mille Lacs reservation would be opened for actual settlement. A good many white men are now on the reservation, having got in at different times and under different pretexts. The commissioner explained the position of the United States to the chiefs and they in turn told their grievances to the commissioners. It is not probable that they will be willing to move from their present location.

Consolidated Land Offices.

A Washington special says: The action of the president today in confirming the recommendation of Secretary Smith and Commissioner Lamoreaux consolidating the Taylor's Falls with the St. Cloud land office was a surprise to nearly all the Minnesota members, as it was expected that the objection made would cause the president to take a different course. The Taylor's Falls district still has over 100,000 acres of unoccupied government land and while at present far from active there is a prospect of an early change in that quarter of the state. By this consolidation the St. Cloud office is made a rival of the Duluth office. It leaves out Ed C. Gottory, of the Pine City Pioneer, present register, and John Walfried, the receiver. Col. W. H. Folsom, the veteran democrat of Taylor's Falls, was booked for Gottry's place, and his papers are in. It is now expected that the changes at St. Cloud, Marshall, Duluth and Crookston will be made in a few days.

An Open Confession.

The following good story concerning a farmer living not fifty miles from LaCrosse is authenticated. He drove into town the other day with a load of fourteen cent wool, and to a crowd on the corner he explained his method of shearing sheep this year. It has always been his custom to begin at the head and shear backward but of late he had reversed the operation, begining at the rear and working forward. On being asked his reason for the change he replied that he had made such an all around fool of himself by voting for Cleveland that he was ashamed to look a sheep in the face.—Anoka Union.

Salvation Army Troubles.

Capt. Fallon, Salvation Army, recently telegraphed Gov. Peck, stating that the army was not protected in Eau Claire in its street parades, and demanding protection from the state. Fallon yesterday called at the residence of Capt. Beisang, commanding a company of the Third infantry, to inquire whether he had been ordered to turn out his company. These facts came out today and caused a sensation as the police expects to arrest all the army in a day or two for pounding drums in the streets.—Eau Claire Telegram.

Big Verdict.

Alexandria McKillop was given a verdict at Duluth yesterday for $7,500 against the street railway company. McKillop lost a leg by being run over by a car.

Where is Little Falls Now?

The Brainerd base ball club, through E. C. Gates, manager, has issued a challenge to any club in the state to play for from $100 to $200 a side and the championship, the best two out of three games.

From the Staples World.

Engineer and Mrs. R. Arundel spent a few days visiting relatives at Brainerd the first of the week.

Mrs. Kate Closterman has invited a few young people to attend a birthday party, to be given in honor of her son Roland next Wednesday evening.

Last Saturday morning fire caught in the Northern Pacific wood yard at this place, but was discovered and extinguished before any damage was done. Had it got a good start it is probable that several thousand cords of wood and a number of houses in that part of town would have been ash heaps today.

Taken Up.

The undersigned has taken up a small red cow and she is now in the pound in the town of Oak Lawn, and has been since Friday last. The owner is requested to call, pay charges and take her away.

Also a red and white cow.

JOHN CAMERON.

Brainerd, August 23, 1893.

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

How the Enormous Pressure of the Sea Water Affects Sunken Objects.

An extraordinary circumstance that has been noticed with interest, and that always creates surprise when first learned, is the entire absence of foreign matter in the deeper part of the ocean's floor. Of all the vessels lost in midocean, of all the human beings that have been drowned, of all the marine animals that have perished, of all the clay, sand and gravel let fall by dissolving icebergs, of all the various substances drifted from every shore by shifting currents, not a trace remains, but in their place water from 1,000 to 2,500 fathoms in depth covers the uniform deposit of thick, bluish, tenacious slime called globigerina ooze.

A bit of this under a powerful lens is a revelation of beauty not readily forgotten. The ooze is composed almost entirely of the daintiest, most delicately beautiful shells imaginable. At depths greater than 2,500 fathoms the bottom of the sea consists mainly of products arising from exposure for almost incalculable periods to the chemical action of sea water, of pumice and other volcanic matters. This finally results in the formation of the red clay deposits that are considered characteristic of the profoundest depths of the ocean.

Carbonate of lime, which in the form of the shells of foraminifera, makes up so large a part of the globigerina ooze, is here almost entirely absent. Sea water is very nearly a universal solvent, and before any shell, large or small, reaches the bottom of these tremendous abysms it is chemically eaten up, literally dissolved—a result which the enormous pressure of the water must materially hasten.

At 1,000 fathoms the weight of the water pressing on all sides of an object immersed to that depth is very nearly one ton to the square inch, or more than 100 times that sustained at the sea level, and at the greatest depths the pressure is so increased that it would seem nothing could withstand it, in fact, heavy metal cylinders let down with the sounding apparatus are sometimes, on being drawn up again to the surface, found bent and collapsed. Strongly made glass vessels which the metal inclosed are shattered into fragments.—Cosmopolitan.

The Paradise Craze.

"The most beautiful country I ever saw was under the water," said Captain Ezra Whipple, who formerly sailed the salt seas, but now has his stateroom at the Southern. "Coming from Kingston en route to Baltimore, in 1867, I collided off the coast of Cuba with a Dutch three master. A hasty examination was made by the carpenter, who reported slight damage, and we kept on our way. The Dutch vessel had no more than got out of sight when my ship began to fill, and we soon had to desert her and take to the open boats. The sun beat down upon us with terrific force and I became a victim of that peculiar hallucination called by the sailors 'paradise craze.'

"The sea appeared to be transformed into a mighty meadow, bright with flowers and musical with song of birds. Cool springs burst from crystal rocks and trickled over golden sands, and men and maidens danced beneath the trees. They seemed beckoning me to join them, and I plunged over the side of the boat into forty fathoms of brine. The bath brought me to my senses, and I reached the Cuban coast more dead than alive. The mania is of frequent occurrence in tropical seas and is often referred to by the poets. It may be that to this species of madness the old Greeks were indebted for those beautiful fancies of gods and goddesses reigning in regal splendor beneath the ocean's brine."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Story of Hard Luck.

"The latest 'hard luck' story that I have heard," said a racing man in an up town cafe the other evening, "is that of a young man who went to the track and lost $180. He had ten dollars left. He liked a 20 to 1 chance in the last race. He went into the betting ring, got into a crowd at a bookmaker's stand and was holding his ten dollar note high in the air when the wind caught it and blew it away. His horse won in a canter."—New York Times.

Prolific Fish.

No wonder the fish crop is never "short." The flounder lays 7,000,000 eggs annually; several others from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000, while the turbot is credited with depositing from 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 during each breeding season.—Exchange.

Government Enterprise.

A hundred years ago an inventive English nobleman declared that it was possible to make a ship move by the aid of "steam," without "masts or sails," and having spent as much as he was prepared to afford on repeated costly plans craved some assistance from the state. Of course the department (being a wet blanket) stringently tied up its loan, but having become persuaded by the result of his experiments that he had hope of success it undertook to build a small vessel for the would be inventor, to be navigated "by the steam engine," on the condition that if it failed "all the expense should be made good by him."

This generous enterprise of Lord Stanhope was highly lauded at the time, the popular verdict being thus expressed, "If it answer, the advantage to the public, particularly in inland navigation, will be immense."

In this case the recognition of a pioneer's possible "usefulness" was exceptionally favorable.—Cornhill Magazine.

Familiar Extravagance.

"It is a peculiar fact," observed a cashier of a popular restaurant, "that most people help themselves to half a dozen toothpicks after each meal, when each individual among them must know, if he thinks about it, that he won't more than half use one of them. But with most of them it is merely a matter of habit. They fell into it originally, I suppose, by yielding to the idea that it is true economy to help yourself liberally to what doesn't cost anything. I often wonder what they do with all the toothpicks they take away. Some people contract a habit of chewing toothpicks. It would be far better for them if they chewed tobacco or even gum, for the fiber of the wood often lodges in the throat or gets into some piece of internal machinery, where it plays the mischief."—New York Herald.

Head a Little Gray, but Heart All Right.

"Jason," said Mrs. Calliper to her husband as they were riding home from the theater, "what should you say of a man of middle age and with a gray mustache who wept over the troubles of the people in the play?"

"Why," said Colonel Calliper, "I should say that whatever his years might be God had blessed him with a young heart."

"And I am sure," said Mrs. Calliper as she looked the colonel square in the eye, "that he is duly grateful for it."—New York Sun.

Chinese In Mourning.

When a Chinese emperor dies, the intelligence is announced by dispatches to the several provinces, written with blue ink, the mourning color. All persons of rank are required to take red silk ornaments from their caps with the ball or button of rank; all subjects of China, without exception, are called upon to forbear shaving their heads for 100 days, within which period none may marry, play upon musical instruments or perform any sacrifice.—Exchange.

Zola and the Late Emperor.

M. Zola, in The Figaro, in reply to some critics, insists that the emperor rouged his cheeks at Sedan. The emperor's friends, he says, have talked as if to have done so would have been humiliating—"the role of a buffoon." "On the contrary, this seems to me a great mistake. I find the act superb—worthy of a hero of a Shakespearean play, heightening the figure of Napoleon III to a tragic melancholy of an infinite grandeur." That is a characteristically French exaggeration. We presume M. Zola means that it was noble of the emperor to take the trouble to conceal from his troops his desperate physical weakness. But even granted that it was a prudent thing not to show a cheek of ghastly pallor, we fail to see that it was heroic.—London Spectator.

A True Woman.

I searched the world in every zone
And laid at my love's feet
All diamonds that were ever known
In one vast heap—complete.

But when she viewed the gems she sighed
And kicked them harum scarum.
"Now that I own them all," she cried,
"I do not want to wear 'em."
—Brooklyn Life.

L. P. WHITE, Jr.

Real Estate Agent.

Improved and Unimproved Property

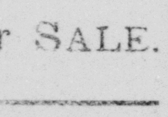

FOR SALE,

In various parts of the City.

HOUSES for SALE.

PROTECT YOURSELF

—BY—

A Policy on Your

—FROM—

J. R. SMITH,

FirE Insurance,

[None but reliable companies represented.]

Real Estate,

RENTS & COLLECTIONS.

Room 4, Sleeper Block. - Brainerd

Professional Cards.

McCLENAHAN & MANTOR
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Office, Rooms and 2, Bank Block,
BRAINERD, MINN.

W. A. FLEMING,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office: Room 8, Bank Block.
BRAINERD - - - MINN.

J. H. WARNER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Room 5, Hartley Block.

R. K. WHITELEY,
CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR,
Office Room 11, Bank Block.
BRAINERD .... MINN.

DR. H. RIBBEL,
DENTIST
Rooms 3 and 4 over Bank Block.
BRAINERD, - - MINN

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Fall Term Commences

Monday Sept. 4.

DAY AND EVENING SESSIONS.

Commercial, Stenographic and Common School Courses.

Evening School:

Mon's, Tues', Thurs' and Fridays.

A liberal discount given pupils who enter during first week of term. Write for Catalogue.

J. F. GERRITY.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Of Brainerd, Minn.

A. F. FERRIS, President.
LEON E. LUM, Vice President,
G. D. LABAR, Cashier.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, - $200,000

Paid up Capital, - - 50,000.

Surplus, - - - - $30,000.

Business accounts invited.

SNOW & SNOW.

We would be glad to tell you how to save your money and make it earn you good pay if you will call.

Do you know that your house is liable to burn? We would like to pay you for it if it should.

We will attend to any legitimate and honorable business for you, if you will pay us. See?

Room 11, Bank Block.

AT COST,

—AT—

McCOLL'S

HAMMOCKS and CROQUET SETS.

4 Ball Sets - -	65 Cents
8 Ball Sets - - -	82 Cents
6 Ball Sets - -	76 Cents

Hammocks as low as 50 and 75c each.

McColl's Post-Office Store.

CALL AT

The Dispatch!

FOR JOB WORK.

All Work

Guaranteed.

Something Good In Silverware; we don't mean choice cakes or fruits. but the ware to hold them, all in solid silver, rich, elegant and beautiful. The whole range of table silver is here, including knives, forks, spoons, sugar bowls, water sets, etc., all in the most tasteful, novel and artistic designs. Silverware is costly because somewhat high in price, and cheap because you buy it for a lifetime. What wears so long should be bought with judgement and care. The fall in the value of silver places solid ware within the reach of all. We have a full line.

WM. M. DRESSKELL,
Jeweler.

JAS. H. KELEHAN

—Dealer in—

WINES, LIQUORS & CIGARS,

Cor sixth and Laurel.

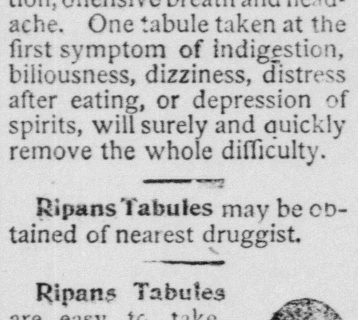

We keep nothing but the finest goods and Guarantee Satisfaction.

Drop in any time as we will make it pleasant for you.

- - - JAS. H. KELEHAN.

Ripans Tabules.

Ripans Tabules are compounded from a prescription widely used by the best medical authorities and are presented in a form that is becoming the fashion everywhere.

Ripans Tabules act gently but promptly upon the liver stomach and intestines; cure dyspepsia, habitual constipation, offensive breath and headache. One tabule taken at the first symptom of indigestion, biliousness, dizziness, distress after eating, or depression of spirits, will surely and quickly remove the whole difficulty.

Ripans Tabules may be obtained of nearest druggist.

Ripans Tabules are easy to take, quick to act, and save many a doctor's bill.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution, issued out of the district court for the Fifteenth judicial district in and for the county of Crow Wing, and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment issued and docketed in said court, on the 10th day of September, A. D. 1892, in a certain action wherein Clarissa A. Coon is plaintiff, and C. J. Veon and Andrew E. Veon are defendants, in favor of said plaintiff, and against said defendants, for the sum of one hundred and ninety-five dollars and forty cents ($195.40), I have, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1893, levied upon all the right, title and interest of the said defendants, and of each of them, to the following described tracts or parcels of land, lying and being in said county of Crow Wing: Lots numbered thirteen (13), fourteen (14), fifteen (15) and sixteen (16), in block numbered one hundred and fifty-seven (157), in the First addition to the town (now part of the city) of Brainerd, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds of said county. Also lots numbered one (1), two (2), three (3) and four (4), in block number one (1), in White's addition to the city of Brainerd according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the said office of the register of deeds of said county of Crow Wing.

And will sell the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said execution and costs, at the front door of the court house in the city of Brainerd, in the county and state aforesaid, on Saturday the 30th day of September, A. D. 1893, at two o'clock p. m., of that day.

Dated, Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 16, A. D. 1893.

HENRY SPALDING,
Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minn.
W. A. FLEMING,
Plaintiff's Attorney, Brainerd, Minn.

(First publication August 25.)

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage made and executed by Lorenzo Coleman and Julia Coleman, his wife, mortgagors, unto Emma A. Day, mortgagee, dated on the 25th day of April, 1890, and recorded in the office of register of deeds of Crow Wing county, state of Minnesota, on the 29th day of April, 1890, at 3 o'clock p. m., in book "E" of mortgages, on page 275; which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Emma A. Day, mortgagee, to Hiram Gilson by written assignment dated the 20th day of October 1892, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds, in and for said county and state, on the 24th day of October, 1892, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book "K" of mortgages, on page 261; which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of $300.00 due in one year from April 25th, 1890, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum until paid; and default has been made in the payment of said principal sum with the interest thereon from the date of said note; and there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon said mortgage and the debt secured thereby, including interest the sum of three hundred and seventy-nine and thirteen one hundredths ($379.13) dollars, and no proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz; The southeast quarter (se¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) of section twenty-five (25), township forty-three (43), range thirty-two (32), and the southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northwest quarter (nw ¼) of section thirty (30), township forty-three (43), range thirty-one (31), all according to U. S. government survey thereof, in Crow Wing county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditiments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Crow Wing county, at the front door of the court house in the city of Brainerd, in said county and state on the 10th day of October, 1893, at ten (10) o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and twenty-five ($25) dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Aug. 12th, A. D. 1893.

HIRAM GILSON,
Assignee of Mortgagee.
F. H. CASTNER,
Att'y for Assignee of Mortgagee.

BUY YOUR BREAD

OF THE

EAST BRAINERD BAKERY,

AND

And Enjoy Life During Hot Weather.

GOODS FIRST-CLASS.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Goods Delivered

TO ANY PART OF THE CITY.

D. MAHONEY, PROP.

L. W. CHASE,
PROPRIETOR

The Bodega.

Sleeper Block, Front Street.

Finest in all Points of any Saloon in the Northwest.

IMPORTED—
WINES, LIQUORS
AND CIGARS.

BILLIARD AND POOL PARLOR

In Connection.

COME IN AND SEE US.

Notice.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
ST. CLOUD, MINN., August 10, 1893 }

Complaint having been entered at this office by William F. Fox against Frank Schermerhorn for abandoning his Homestead Entry No. 15578, dated February 24th, 1892, upon lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, section 32, township 135, range 29, in Cass county, Minn., with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at Brainerd, Minn, before the Clerk of the District Court on the 15th day of Sept., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. to respond and furnish testimony concerning said alleged abandonment.

A. BARTO, Register.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
ST. CLOUD, MINN., August 10, 1893. }

Further notice is hereby given that a hearing will be had at this office, on the 22d day of Sept., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m., when the testimony taken as ordered herein, will be examined and a decision rendered thereupon.

A. BARTO,
Register.

(First publication Sept. 8th.)

Order to Show Cause,

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Crow Wing. } District Court. 15th Judicial Dist.

In the matter of the petition for a receiver of H. Rosenblatt under insolvent act.

On reading and filing the petition of the Duluth Dry Goods Company hereto attached and made a part hereof, let said H. Rosenblatt and James S. Gardner and Henry Spalding show cause before the court, at the next general term thereof, to be held at the court house in the city of Brainerd, in said county, on the 18th day of September, 1893, at the opening of the court on that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

Why said H. Rosenblatt should not be declared and adjudged to be insolvent and a receiver be appointed to take possession of all of his property and estate not exempt by law from seizure and sale on execution; that the same may be distributed according to law and for such other and further relief as may be necessary and proper.

It is further ordered that said James S. Gardner and H. Rosenblatt at the same time and place personally appear and under oath make a full and complete disclosure relative to the indebtedness upon which that certain judgment was recovered, entered and docketed in the office of the clerk of said court on the 5th day of July, 1893, wherein said Gardner was plaintiff and said Rosenblatt was defendant, and make a full and complete disclosure of the manner in which said judgment was recovered, and the consideration for which said notes were made, executed and delivered to said Gardner, and all of the circumstances and facts connected with said judgment and the alleged indebtedness therein contained.

It is further ordered that said Henry Spalding, as sheriff of said Crow Wing county, and said Gardner, their agents, attorneys and servants, be and the same hereby are enjoined and restrained from selling or disposing of any part or portion of the property levied upon, under and by virtue of the execution issued out of and under the seal of said court in said action upon said judgment, except that said sheriff hold and safely keep in his possession all of said property until the further order of the court, and said Rosenblatt is enjoined from selling or disposing of any of his property, let this order and this petition be forthwith served upon said H. Rosenblatt, if founded within said county of Crow Wing, upon Henry Spalding, said sheriff, and James S. Gardner, by delivering to and leaving with each of them a true and correct copy thereof.

Dated August 25th, 1893.

By the Court:
[COURT COMMISSIONERS SEAL.] MILTON McFADDEN,
Court Commissioner,
Crow Wing County, Minn.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Crow Wing. } District Court, 15th Judicial Dist.

In the matter of a petition for a receiver of H. Rosenblatt, under insolvent act.

Upon the affidavit of P. C. Schmidt, one of the attorneys for the petitioners in the above entitled proceeding, it is Ordered, that the order to show cause herein and heretofore issued by said court, dated August 25th, 1893, be served upon said H. Rosenblatt, by publication in the Brainerd Dispatch, a newspaper printed and published in the city of Brainerd, county of Crow Wing, for two (2) successive weeks, together with this order, so modifying said order to show cause.

Dated September 1st, 1893.

By the court,
[COURT COMMISSIONERS SEAL.] MILTON McFADDEN,
Court Commissioner.

[First publication Sept. 8th.]

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of twenty dollars, being the interest from February 8th, 1893, to August 8th, 1893, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Robert Caughie and Abbie C. Caughie, his wife, to Emily H. Lum, bearing date the 8th day of August, A. D. 1892, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, on the 24th day of August, A. D. 1892, at 5:30 o'clock p. m., in book J of mortgages, on page 105, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

Lots number four (4) and five (5), of block number two hundred nineteen (219), in the First addition to the town of Brainerd, according to the plat of said addition of record in the registry of deeds, in Crow Wing county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Brainerd, in said county and state, on the 23d day of October, A. D. 1893, at ten o'clock, a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 4, A. D. 1893.

EMILY H. LUM,
Mortgagee.
LEON E. LUM,
Attorney.

(First publication Aug. 18th).

NOTICE OF FINAL PROOF.

Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 16th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before S. F. Alderman, Clerk of District Court at Brainerd, Minn., on Saturday, September 23d, 1893, viz:

FRANCIS W. BROWN.

H. E. No. 13501 for the se¼ Sec. 30, Twp. 135, Range 27.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of, said land, viz:

John Bubar, John Kruse, William Harman, William D. Merrifield, P. O. address of all Brainerd, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

A. BARTO, Register.

Subscribe for the DISPATCH, $1.50 per year.

Brainerd Dispatch.

INGERSOLL & WIELAND, Publishers

BRAINERD, - - - MINN.

The richest prize ever carried off by the winner of the Derby stakes was over £7,000. This fell to Sir Bevys in 1879, when there were 278 subscribers.

Safety lamps, for the use of miners, were patented in 1815. Now no mine is without them, and many laws have been passed requiring their use in all underground mining operations.

Electrotyping was first done in 1837, and was considered a triumph of chemical and mechanical skill, requiring the utmost nicety for its execution. Now it is done in every printing house.

By the tenth census 23,010,000 inhabitants of the United States were supported by agriculture, 11,520,000 by manufactures and 15,620,000 by commerce.

Half a century hence the successful victim of a civil service examination in the year 1893 may get an office—if he is an unusually lucky man and gifted with uncommon vitality.

Emperor William has been stirring up the French again by making the biggest kind of a military display at Metz on the anniversary of the battle. That man is surely looking for trouble.

The money value of the alcoholic drinks consumed by the Belgians in the year 1891 amounted to nearly 450,000,000 francs, which is about a third part of the whole average wages of the workers.

Sir John Lubbock says that "during the many years he has had ants under observation, he has never on any occasion seen anything like a quarrel between any two ants belonging to the same community."

The New York workingmen are to be congratulated upon the refusal of the anarchists to participate in the Labor day parade. And the anarchists were perfectly consistent, for if there is anything on earth they have no sympathy for it is labor.

Mr. Geary is not saying a word about that exclusion and deportation law of his. Under its operation just one Chinaman has been sent home, while about 150,000 are staying right here in the United States and attending to their knitting.

The three suspicious characters in European politics are shaking their fists at each other again. If Russia, Italy and Germany all get mad at once there will be trouble abroad, but a rise in wheat here at home. It's an ill wind, etc.

London bought $1,000,000 worth of Boston municipal bonds in one bundle the other day. The world can't get along without American securities and they are again going abroad in large quantities, the Boston purchase being only a specimen brick.

The shark manifests a distinct choice for people of certain races, and will eat an Asiatic in preference to a negro, and a European rather than either.

Two signs in Wall street, New York, bear these inscriptions: "Spring lamb (very scarce on Wall street now), with mint sauce (scarcer)." "Cigars for broke brokers, five for 25 cents."

Gov. Thornton, recently appointed governor of New Mexico, and his wife have just celebrated their silver wedding at their home in Santa Fe, an old adobe dwelling of one story. It was a genuine Mexican out-of-door festival. In a state where the people were more up to snuff there would be nothing at all said about the adobe house. The celebration would have been held in marble halls or nowhere.

When the prairie traveler sees before him a wall of mountains veiled in the hazy blue of the distance he wonders how he is to climb them. He approaches and the seeming mountains vanish into gentle slopes of upland. That is the way with the difficulties which have seemed to confront the business enterprises of the country. They look nearly insurmountable until they are reached. They disappear before the patient and resolute march of industry and energy. The touch of faith moves mountains from its path.

The Clover Hay Worm.

The farmer who finds in his mow the webs of the clover hay worm should read and act upon the advice of Prof. Osborn, of the Iowa Agricultural College, who says: "Where these webs are found I would advise a thorough cleaning out of the infested mow and burning of all the webbed and worthless hay containing the worms. Otherwise there will be developed an enormous number of moths to lay eggs in the coming season's crop of hay and the probability of worse damage another year than has occurred heretofore.

"It is exactly under such conditions, the holding over of masses of infested hay, that the worms find the best opportunity for increase, and, while it may involve some labor and apparent loss at the time, it may be considered as next to throwing hay away to store it over a mass of hay previously infested, except that the upper portion will probably escape any serious damage.

"It is possible that worms could be killed by use of bisulphide of carbon without removing the hay, but I hesitate to recommend it, as I know of no case where it has been used for this pest and because of the danger connected with its use, especially in a barn where lanterns may be brought, making possible the ignition of the fumes."

Queen Victoria's Sight Declining.

Her majesty's eyesight is failing, and the royal oculist has frequently to be called into requisition. Her majesty has now to use very powerful spectacles when it is necessary for her to sign state documents. Blindness is hereditary in the family, for George III. suffered from it, but in his case it was supposed to have been brought on by excessive smoking. Shortness of sight seems to have suddenly affected many of the ladies and gentlemen of the court, who are now mostly armed with spectacles and eye glasses. This is carrying sycophancy to an absurd degree, but such it is, and it is now quite the proper thing for a woman of the bed chamber or a pretty maid of honor to adjust her pincenez whilst conversing within or without the charmed circle.

Teething is an important crisis in the life of lion cubs, and a large number of the young die during that period.

The Bombay university has eighteen magnificent buildings, erected by some of the successful native speculators in 1864.

THE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

DIGEST OF THE NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

All Important Occurrences of the Past Week, Boiled Down and Arranged for Rapid Reading, From Home and Abroad.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

The cruiser Atlanta will be rebuilt, it is reported. Her condition has been the cause of scandal in naval circles.

Thus far in the special session of congress the president has sent 396 nominations to the senate. Confirmations, 116.

Salt water mariners will apply to congress for the same weather signal service that is now furnished to the interior.

Speculators have conspired to defraud the government out of the Cherokee strip land by falsifying the allotments.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

George A. Thomas, president of the Thomas-Albright Co. of Goshen, Ind., died of consumption.

James A. Norton, ex-railway commissioner of Ohio, is lying dangerously ill at his home in Tiffin.

Mrs Lavina Fillmore, a relative of President Fillmore and the oldest person in New York state, died at Clarence, near Buffalo, aged 106 years.

Senator Proctor is soon to begin the erection of a fine house in Washington, at Vermont avenue and W street. The stone for it will be sent from Senator Proctor's quarries in Vermont.

Prince Bismarck's condition is much better. For a week or more Bismarck's condition caused great anxiety to his friends, but now he is regarded as out of danger.

Labouchere has for many years set aside a part of the profits of London Truth as a sinking fund for the defense of libel suits, and it is said to amount to something like $300,000.

Ballard Smith, the well-known New York newspaper man, who for a time was editor of the World, has married a rich English girl and will forsake his profession and his country and become a resident of England.

George Bonner, a Georgia farmer, who died the other day at the age of 87 years, was the father of twenty-three children, all by one mother, and as they grew up and married all settled on farms adjoining his own.

The yacht Osborne, with the princess of Wales and her daughters on board, arrived at Copenhagen recently. The czar and czarina of Russia and other royal personages welcomed them at the landing station. The party were driven to the castle at Fredricksberg.

CASUALTIES.

Miss Minnie Bruck was killed in a runaway accident at Peru, Ind.

Three men were seriously injured in a street car accident in Cincinnati caused by a defective brake.

The buildings and fence of the Kankakee Driving Park association were destroyed by fire.

Fire at Albany, Ind., destroyed the business part of the town, causing a loss of $25,000.

Forest fires have caused great loss in Indiana in the vicinity of Hammond.

Frank S. Story, a New York lawyer, died in St. Louis from the effects of drugs and liquor.

Francis Nolan of Brooklyn, on his way to the world's fair, fell from a train at Erie, Pa., and was killed.

Two men were killed and a dozen persons hurt by a Burlington train falling through a trestle at Streator.

Rudolph Kouth, aged fifteen years, drowned in Portage lake while bathing with two other boys. He could not swim.

Mistaking Stephen Shea, a neighboring farmer, for a marauder, Frank Holway shot him in the head near Sedalia, Mo. Shea may live.

Several vessels were wrecked, many houses destroyed and five persons were killed by a hurricane in the Azore islands.

The remains of a man supposed to be John A. Severing of Philadelphia, Pa., were found in Forest Park, St. Louis. Death had resulted from a pistol shot.

Mrs. Moody, seventy years old, was killed at Oskaloosa, Iowa, by a train. She was walking on the track, and, being deaf, did not hear the approach of the train.

A party of seven persons—two ladies and two gentlemen and three children—left Haverhill, Mass., in the yacht Daisy for Portland. They have been missing a week and it is feared they are lost.

David Newman of Lincoln, Neb., was killed at Mendota, Ill., while attempting to board a moving train. His widow is a sister of John M. Thurston of Omaha.

Dr. Walter S. Webb's steam yacht Elfrida blew out her boiler near Plattsville, N. Y., badly scalding two of the crew. Peter Mott, chief engineer, is scalded about the face and body and is in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kniper of Grand Rapids, Mich., were drowned by the capsizing of their boat while fishing in Pine Island lake. Albert Reidborg and wife, who were with them, were rescued in an unconscious condition.

Mrs. Maud Neish died at Osceola, Iowa, of arsenical poison. She had taken an extra dose for the purpose of heightening her beauty at her approaching wedding. She had been accustomed to use it in small quantities for that purpose.

The superstructure of the McLean County Coal company's shaft in Bloomington, Ill., including the gigantic coal breaker and screens, was destroyed by fire. It originated in the coal chutes of the Alton road. Loss, $100,000 to the coal company and $50,000 to the Alton. Vice President Stevenson is president of the coal company.

SINS AND SINNERS.

Mrs. Anna Rodaska committed suicide at Peoria, Ill., by taking arsenic.

Harrisburg, Pa. firebugs confess to setting fire to eight places within a year, entailing a loss of $30,000.

Arrested for misdemeanor at Sedalia, Charles Hill was found to be wanted in Kansas for stealing cattle.

Five persons were killed in a general fight at Patos, Mex., growing out of a dispute over a cock fight.

William Ackinson, colored, aged 20, who assaulted a little girl, was hanged by a mob at South Fork, Ky.

Masked robbers held up Night Operator Thompson, of the Central office at East Point, Ga., and robbed the office of $150.

Ex-Sheriff Willis of Vincennes, Ind., caught Prosecuting Attorney Hulse in the former's house and shot him. Hulse will die.

F. H. Kleekamp, a Fort Wayne attorney, arrested for impersonating a United States marshal, has been released.

Embezzler Scott's shortage at Lincoln, Col., is fully $90,000. The Nebraska county treasurer will be brought back from Mexico if possible.

New evidence damaging to Annie Wagner, accused of poisoning the Koester family at Indianapolis, has been discovered.

Arthur Malaby, the stock man of Denison, Tex., was murdered and robbed of $200 at Durant, I. T. Officers are in pursuit of the supposed robbers.

Max Kruger, postmaster at Twin Sisters, Tex., has been arrested on a charge of false cancellation of stamps to increase his compensation as postmaster.

Floyd Boughner, a saloonkeeper at Augusta, Ky., has been arrested on the charge of having started a recent fire and destroyed a good portion of the village. He confessed.

A man on a horse attempted to leap into the express car attached to a moving Santa Fe train near Arkansas City, Kan. His horse stumbled and the man fell. The messenger fired at the would-be robber, but missed him.

John Kraus, financial secretary of Central lodge, United Workmen, Dubuque, Iowa, is under arrest, charged with embezzlement.

James M. Pennock, under arrest at St. Louis, has been identified as one of the men who robbed the St. Louis & San Francisco train near St. Louis.

Six prisoners at Davenport, Iowa, knocked down the jailor and fled. The police and a sheriff's posse caught them.

Two negroes assaulted and robbed Samuel Paulus, an old soldier attending the reunion at Indianapolis. Paulus may die.

Wade and Lewis, condemned Choctaws, will be shot sitting down on their coffins. They were sentenced to death for murder.

Robert West and Will Davis, policemen at Hopkinsville, Ky., settled an old score by a street duel with pistols. West is dead and Davis cannot recover.

Deputy Marshal Hurlon and Outlaw "Slaughtered Kid" died from wounds received in the battle near Ingalls, I. T.

Ernest Lamar was found near Nashville, Ill., sitting under a tree with his throat cut. He will die.

While seining for fish at Bayford Point, Miss., a party of negroes brought up a badly decomposed body of a man, to which was fastened a weight. Papers on the corpse disclosed that the victim was Ferdinand Weiss, of Rockford, Ill.

J. D. Ford was found dead on the sidewalk in front of the Charles building at Denver. It is not known whether he was murdered or fell from a window. His coat and vest were found but all his money and valuables were gone.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

Bismarck is again suffering from rheumatism.

Five new cases of cholera are reported at Grimsby, Eng.

Miss Leal, a young Scotch woman, has broken the bank at Monte Carlo. She won $300,000 in one hour.

Frederick de Courcey May has died in London. He is a cousin of Fred May of New York.

The Pall Mall Gazette has an article advising the stoppage of assisted emigration to Canada.

A great crowd of distinguished persons are in attendance at the German army maneuvers.

The Austrian government is being criticised for holding maneuvers in cholera infected Galicia.

It is expected the house of lords will poll their full strength on the decisive vote against the home rule bill.

Disbanded troops seized funds designed to pay the regulars in Nicaragua, killing the escort and fleeing to Honduras.

A large crowd of students made a demonstration at Montevideo against Brazil. They were dispersed by the police after a struggle, in which several of the students were wounded.

Prince William, brother of the king of Denmark, died at Copenhagen. He was a field marshal lieutenant in the service of Austria and a lieutenant-general in the Danish service.

A widespread nihilistic conspiracy against the czar has been discovered at Moscow. The conspirators include eighty-five students, eight professors and five ladies who belong to aristocratic families.

The gathering of the harvest in Great Britain is practically finished. With scarcely an exception the results are described as the worst known, being even below the bad estimates made of them.

Herr Paasch, the notorious anti-Semite, has been pronounced a dangerous lunatic and has been sent to the asylum at Dalldorf. Herr Paasch was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment for libeling Chancellor von Caprivi.

The Brussels Agricultural Rationnale in its review of the sugar beet crop of Europe estimates the deficiency in France, Belgium and the Netherlands as 50,000 tons of raw sugar, and the surplus in Germany, Austro-Hungary and Russia as 600,000 tons.

The St. Petersburg Navoe Vremya says that the visit of the Russian squadron to Toulon will serve as a reminder that the ultimate course of European affairs depends upon the Franco-Prussian entente quite as much as it does upon the triple alliance.

A Buenos Ayres special says: The minister of finance has prepared a scheme for the gradual conversion of the paper currency. The Argentine republic, in view of the cholera reports from Europe, has declared all European ports suspected, and strict quarantine regulations will be accordingly enforced.

Father Frederick Rooker, who has left Rome for America with letters from the pope to Mgr. Satolli and Cardinal Gibbons, was commissioned also to present the cardinal a portrait of the pope. The portrait is carved in stone, and is set in a frame of gold studded with precious stones. The work was done by Vatican artificers and is a masterpiece of its kind.

The London Daily Telegraph, commenting upon the approaching visit of a Russian squadron to Toulon, expresses some alarm at this renewed approachment between France and Russia, and declares that it is necessary for Great Britain to review her position and possibly to revise her policy. The Standard advises that she join the triple alliance.

IN GENERAL.

Taylor Bros., New York pawnbrokers, failed.

Work has been resumed at the Lake Erie & Western shops at Princeton, Ind.

The Rev. L. A. Banks is the prohibition nominee for governor of Massachusetts.

The country about Elgin, Ill., is reported to be completely dried up and prairie fires are of daily occurrence.

The Indiana Republican Central Committee has decided to test the legality of the apportionement act.

Numerous fires in Illinois towns in the vicinity of Tuscola are thought to be the work of firebugs.

The Spanish government will present the caraval Santa Maria to the United States.

A gas well has been opened up at Portland, Ind., having a daily flow of 4,000,000 cubic feet.

Applications have been made at Los Angeles, Cal., for over 160 warrants for Chinamen who have not registered.

In an address Bishop Matz of Colorado accepts the decree of Baltimore council, but exhorts parents to send children to parochial schools.

The race eastward across the Atlantic was won by the New York, her mails arriving in London three hours earlier than those of the Teutonic.

Decaying matter on the coast of South Carolina, thrown up by the recent storm, threatens to cause an epidemic. Surgeon-General Wyman orders the coast disinfected.

Inspection of immigrants and disinfection of baggage, temporarily suspended at Sault Ste. Marie through the action of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad, has been resumed through a decision of Judges Sage and Severens of the United States court for Michigan.

The hop fields at Butteville, Ore., were the scene of a Chinese eviction. About 100 white men herded up fifty-six Chinese hop pickers, drove them to the dock and forced the captain of a steamer to take the Chinese to Portland. There are about 500 more Chinese around Butteville in the hop fields and more trouble may follow.

Delegates from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will hold a convention at Salina, Kan., Sept. 28, to devise means to secure state organizations for the purpose of introducing systems of perfect irrigation into those states.

FIFTY THIRD CONGRESS.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Condensed Record of the Business Being Transacted by our National Law-makers—Routine Report Day by Day.

Washington, Sept. 7.—In the senate a bill was introduced by Mr. Cullom (Rep. Ill.) and referred to the finance committee for the repeal of all acts for the creation or maintenance of a sinking fund. A report was made from the committee on privileges and elections for the poyment of $2,500 to each of the three claimants for seats under appointment of governors, and it was referred to the committee on contingent expenses. The resolution for the 11 o'clock meeting was presented and Mr. Voorhees (Dem. Ind.), who had offered it, withdrew it, stating that he did so after consultation with friends of repeal on the Democratic side, who thought that if the time for the senate was used carefully as much progress could be made. Mr. Morgan's resolution for a joint secret committee on finance was taken up and Mr. Voorhees and he suggested its reference to the finance committee. Morgan argued against the suggestion, stating that the purpose of the resolution was to supersede the finance committee in each house and substitute a joint select committee for them. Mr. Voorhees' motion was carried—337 to 21—which is interpreted as a temporary victory for repeal men. Speeches on the repeal bill were then made by the various members.

There were not more than a hundred members present when the house was called to order. The house resumed the consideration of the new code of rules, the pending question being the Kyle amendment striking from the rules the clause making 100 members a quorum in committee of the whole. The motion was agreed to—118 to 61. The house adopted the new code of rules at 3:50. Adjourned until Saturday.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Among the numerous resolutions presented and referred was one by Mr. Walcott (Rep., Colo.) for the immediate repeal of the McKinley tariff bill. Mr. Voorhees mover to take up the Sherman act repeal bill, which motion was agreed to, and Mr. Stewart of Nevada, who was entitled to the floor, postponed the continuation of his speech until Mr. Walthall (Dem., Miss.), who had signified his desire to address the senate to-day, had concluded his remarks. Mr. Walthall then addressed the senate. His speech was in favor of bimetallism. Mr. Stewart (Rep. Nev.) again took the floor at the conclusion of Mr. Walthall's remarks, and proceeded with the third installment of his speech (begun Tuesday). At 4:15 Mr. Stewart was still holding the floor. Mr. Daniel (Va.) went over and whispered a word in his ear, when, to the astonishment of all, he announced that he would now close his speech. The senate then proceeded to executive business, and at 5 p. m. to-morrow.

Washington, Sept. 9.—At 12:30 the repeal bill was taken up without objection, and the senate was addressed by Mr. Faulkner (Dem., W. Va.) After Mr. Faulkner closed his speech the floor was taken by Mr. Turpie (Dem., Ind.), who addressed the senate in favor of the principle of bimetallism. After speeches by Mr. Jones of Arkansas and others, the senate adjourned.

The house met to-day, and after the introduction of a number of bills adjourned until Monday.

Washington, Sept. 12.—In the senate the greater part of the time was occupied by Senator Pugh (Ala.) in opposition to the repeal of the Sherman law. He was followed by Senator Teller (Colo.), also against the bill, who concluded his speech begun on Saturday last. The silver men neither Saturday nor to-day followed the tactics inaugurated early last week of insisting upon the presence of a quorum, and apparently the feeling between the friends and opponents of repeal is much better than it has been heretofore during the session.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The senate was prompt in getting to work on the repeal bill. The Stewart resolution as to senators holding stock in national banks was laid over until to-morrow. At 12:30 the bill was taken up and Mr. Mitchell (Rep. Or.) made a long speech against the repeal of the Sherman act.

The house transacted only routine business. Mr. Hepburn (Rep. Iowa) attempted to secure consideration of a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the amount of merchandise transported from one United States port to another over Canadian territory. Mr. Geary (Dem. Cal.) objected, and the resolution was referred.

BANKERS ON TRIAL.

Milwaukee, Sept. 13.—Probably a more distinguished assemblage of men never stood trial for criminal offense than those who will be summoned before the jury that was convened in Judge Wallber's court to-day. They are Judge Jenkins, of the United States circuit court; William Plankinton, W. H. Momsen, C. L. Clason and F. W. Noyes, all of them prominent and respected members of the social and business world of Milwaukee. They are directors of the defunct Plankinton bank, the downfall of which is said to be the result of fraud on the part of the officials.

MINERS REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

London, Sept. 13. — The miners of Derbyshire, by a vote of over 10,000 men, decided against accepting any reduction of wages and refused to submit their dispute with the colliers to arbitration.

BIG ESTATE.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—A final report has been filed in the probate court on the estate of John Sullivan, valued at four millions. The estate is to be equally divided between ten children.

DISASTER TO FARMERS.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—At 1 o'clock this morning while George Mapleton and A. S. Carpenter, living on a farm five miles from this city, were driving an Cedar street, their team ran away. Colliding with a telegraph pole, both men were thrown out and received probably fatal injuries.

HORSES KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Inkster, N. D., Sept. 13.—During a storm last night Thomas Casement's barn was struck by lightning and five horses were killed. A threshing crew asleep in the barn escaped uninjured.

BROOKINGS COLLEGE.

Brookings, S. D., Special—The regents of education are now in session at Wolsey. It is expected that they will arrange the financial affairs of the various state educational institutions on a better basis than has obtained for some time past. E. T. Bates, of the class of '93, has been made assistant in dairying, and A. S. Burnham, of the Michigan State Agricultural college, has been appointed inspector in the iron shops. Attendance at the fall term of scool is very promising, particularly in the freshman class, where a large number have already entered. Prof. Corbett is very actively engaged on the fruit and vegetable collection for the state exhibit at Chicago. He has a very fine collection from Brookings county, particularly in plums and crab apples. He leaves for Chicago to-morrow.

CONFESSED.

St Louis, Mo., Special—James M. Pennock, the man captured at the scene and time of the train robbery Tuesday night at Pacific, Mo., to-day weakened and confessed that he was the leader of the three men who held up the 'Frisco train. His story was in detail that which has already been printed, but in addition he gave the names of the men who accompanied him. The police are now searching for one, the other already being in custody. The man being searched for is Pennock's brother-in-law, whose name is yet unknown. The man the police have placed in custody is Sam Robinson, a "laid off" brakeman of the 'Frisco road.

BIG OBJECT GLASS.

London, Special—Sir Howard Grubb has recently furnished an object glass for the new equatorial telescope at Greenwich observatory, of which he was the manufacturer. It cost about £4,500. The casting of a twenty-eight-inch lens for the telescope took the Chance Bros. of Birmingham, about three years to complete.

KILLED BY A BURGLAR.

Keokuk, Iowa, Sept. 7.—At Fort Madison, Iowa, this morning Hermann A. Antelman, a farmer, was brutally murdered. At an early hour Antelman discovered a man breaking into his house and effected his capture. Without assistance he started to town with the burglar to turn him over to the sheriff. Near the city the prisoner jumped out of the wagon and started to run. Antelman pursued when the burglar fired three shots, instantly killink him.

SUSPECTED ROBBER.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The police yesterday arrested a man giving the name of E. F. Ward, who is supposed to be implicated in the robbery of the Hawling Savings Bank of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., of $21,000. When Henry Carey was sentenced to the Albany penitentiary he made a confession implicating three other men, and Ward is thought to be Eugene Comisky or Patrick Langley, two of the men implicated by Carey.

BLACKBURN RECONCILED.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7.—It is now reported that Senator Blackburn has become reconciled to Breckenridge and will be one of his counsel in the Pollard breach of promise suit. The change is doubtless owing to the influence of Phil Thompson, who is Breckinridge's counsel and Blackburn's most intimate friend. The report that Blackburn declared his purpose to hold Breckenridge responsible seems to be through reliable sources. It is quite certain that Mrs. Luke Blackburn is as indigrant as ever.

DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 7. — Robert West and Will Davis, both members of the police force, settled an old score this morning with a pistol duel to the death. Davis fired first and West promptly returned it. They were in arm's reach of each other. At the same instant both fired the second time. Davis sank to the platform, West reeled and fell. He expired in four minutes. Davis still lives, but cannot long survive.

ROBBER IDENTIFIED.

St. Louis, Sept. 7. — James Marion Pennrock, who was arrested near the scene of the 'Frisco train robbery last night, was brought here to-day in company with three tramps who were stealing rides on the "blind baggage." Pennrock was in the employ of the Frisco road and was identified by the engineer of the robbed train as he climbed over the tender and ordered him to stop the train.

TWO WILL BE SHOT.

Hartshorne, Ind. T., Sept. 7.—Pursuant to the agreement reached between Col. Faison and the Choctaw authorities, seven of the nine condemned prisoners were yesterday released upon their own recognizance for appearance for a new trial. The ring leaders, Simon Wade and Solomon Lewis, are held for execution Friday.

AERONAUT SAVED.

Milwaukee, Sept. 7.—Capt. O. Eiermann, who left this city in a balloon on Sunday, telegraphs from St. Ignace, Mich., to-day: "I am all right, but lost the balloon." Capt. Eiermann struck the lake when he was but twenty-five miles away from Milwaukee, and he was picked up by the crew of the schooner Ellen Williams and taken to St. Ignace.

EMMA INDICTED.

New York, Sept. 7.—The grand jury this morning made its first presentment in part of court of general sessions before Judge Fitzgerald by filing a true bill against Emma Goldman, the anarchist, charged with unlawful assemblage and incitive to riot. She will be brought to New York as soon as requisition papers are made out.

BISMARCK BETTER.

Berlin, Sept. 7.—Dr. Schweinger, Prince Bismarck's body physician, telegraphed from Kissingen to the Associated Press correspondent here to-day that the prince is much better. For a week or more Prince Bismarck's condition has caused great anxiety to his family, but he is now regarded as out of danger.

SUICIDED.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Max M. Rothschild, a wealthy manufacturer, committed suicide to-day by hanging himself to a door hinge. He made an unsuccessful attempt to kill himself earlier in the day. He is supposed to have been of unsound mind as there was no reason why he should have committed suicide.

TO BE HANGED.

De Smet, S. D., Sept. 7.—N. R. Thompson was to-day sentenced to be hanged Oct. 7 for the murder of Mrs. Bleghton July 4, 1892. The supreme court and board of pardons have refused to interfere, and there is nothing to prevent the execution on the date fixed.

DOCTOR KILLED.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Dr. A. H. Wilson of Douglas, Kan., was fatally injured by a cable train last night while passing through the La Salle street tunnel. He fell between the car and tunnel wall and was hurt so badly that he died within an hour.

CHANCE FOR CHINAMEN.

Panama, Sept. 7.—The legislature of British Guiana offere a bounty of $25 a head for 5,000 Chinamen from the United States. They are wanted to work under contract on a sugar plantation and in the gold mines.

BOTH DROWNED.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 7.—Ben Kniper and wife of this city went fishing in Pine lake, near Belmont yesterday. In changing positions the boat capsized and they were thrown into the water and both drowned.

TRAMP KILLED.

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 7.—An unknown tramp tried to board a train at the Indian village of La Guna last night and missing the distance was killed. Just before he died he said his father was a banker somewhere in Michigan.

KILLED HIS SISTERS.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 7.—John Hart, aged thirty-four, to-day, near this city, murdered his two sisters, Mary and Nellie, aged twenty-six and twenty-three, respectively. Hart is supposed to have been temporarily insane.

GREAT EXHIBITION.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—To-day in the presence of a vast assemblage of people Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, lieutenant governor of the Province of Ontario, formally opened Toronto's great annual industrial exhibition. The exhibition promises this year to be the most successful ever held.

ARMED NEGROES.

Little Rock, Ark., Special.—Four hundred negroes armed with Winchester rifles passed through this city late last night en route to Weir City, Kan., to take the places of the striking miners and were prepared to do so at all hazards. They were plentifully supplied with ammunition and provisions. The negroes were brought from Arkansas and Texas.

VALENTINE HEAVENER DEAD.

Milbank S. D., Special.—Valentins Heavener died last night of paralysis. He was sixty-eight years old, and came here in 1878 from Wabasha county, Minn. He leaves a widow and quite a family of grown children.

The scools opened on Monday under the able management of Prof. Vert.

TOLD IN DELIRIUM.

Yankton, S D., Special—Lowis Sherwood was arrested this morning for the murder of Minnie Sawyer Monday morning. Circumstnatial evidence is very strong and his admissions amount to a confession. He has typhoid fever, and is delirious most of the time.

CYCLONE.

New Orleans, Special—In a cyclone at Lockport, La., five persons were killed, including two Sisters of Charity, and many wounded.

CONDUCTORS OUT.

Rachine, Wis., Special—Owing to the hard times and falling off in trade the Bell Street Railway company will lay off fifty conductors next week, and the cars will be run by the motormen. The patrons will drop the fares in the box as of old.

CLOQUET SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Duluth, Special—August Duke has begun suit against the village of Cloquet for $5,000 damages for the death of his son, Wilford Duke, aged twenty-two months. The child fell into a ditch of water on the public street and was drowned.

IRISH FIGHT GLADSTONE.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL LEAGUE AGAINST THE HOME RULE BILL.

A Manifesto Issued Declaring That Measure a Fraud and Predicting Defeat for Gladstone at the Polls.

New York, Sept. 11.—Considerable dissatisfaction has been evinced by the leading members of the Irish National league in America as to the provisions of Gladstone's home rule bill, which was rejected on Friday by the house of lords by the immense majority of 419 to 41.

The members of the opposition say that the bill does not present the elements of finality, and places the Irish nation in a worse position than at present. The executive of the Irish National league complains that the evicted tenants have been left uncared for, while the disfranchisement of twenty-three Irish seats under the bill, while the land and police questions remain in the hands of the government, would seriously influence the power of the Irish members in the house of commons. Immediately upon the rejection of the home rule bill by the house of lords the executive of the Irish National league decided upon issuing a manifesto to the Irish people in America setting forth their views upon the provisions of the rejected bill and their ideas as to the course which the national league should adopt in the present crisis. The manifesto says, among other things:

"The bill submitted to the house of commons was practically worthless. The imposition on our country of the mutilated skeleton which was just ejected by the house of lords would be an outrage, and the serfs who would accept it with thanks would merit the scorn of the nation. We have no hesitation in declaring that no more pernicious influence has been at work than the influence of Mr. Gladstone in recent years. The spirit of Irish nationality was being steadily destroyed by this influence fostered by a designing agency which prefers a West Briton to an Irishman. Mr. Gladstone, whether he appeals to the country this year or not, will, in the opinion of those thoroughly acquainted with the situation, be defeated at the polls. A great convention of Irishmen from all countries we think should be called and a plan for united action formulated and adopted. At such a convention the example of the American patriots might be emulated and a declaration of Ireland's independance given to the world."

ROBBERS IDENTIFIED.

Delta, Colo., Sept. 11.—The two men who were killed last Thursday while attempting to escape after robbing the Farmers and Merchants' bank and killing its cashier were positively identified to-day as Tom and Fred McCarthy, father and son. The third man who participated in the robbery but escaped is Billy McCarthy, also a son of Tom McCarthy. These men constituted the McCarthy gang of Oregon, and were wanted there for robbing stages and the United States mails. There is a reward of $10,000 for them on that account. Ex-Chief of Police Farley of Denver says that Tom McCarthy is the man who robbed President D. H. Moffett, of the First National bank of that city some four years ago, securing $21,000.

ARREST OF A MURDERER.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 11.—The murderer of Mrs. Jane Wright, better known as Madame Wright, the wealthy proprietoress of an employment agency, was taken to-day in less than twenty-four hours after the crime was committed. The crime was the result of a conspiracy formed by two desperate men, whose motive was robbery. One, the man who actually committed the deed, is Henry Jones, a cook. The other was John Clark, also a cook, and an ex-convict who had obtained his freedom only six days before the crime. Clark received as his share in the crime $160 and a gold watch. He was arrested.

ANARCHY IN SPAIN.

Madrid, Sept. 11.—A riot broke out in Santander on Saturday during a fire in a populous quarter. A mob forcibly entered the municipal buildings, and, after destroying the furniture, threw everything out of the windows. The residences of the mayor and the leading councillor were treated in the same way. The mob was finally dispersed by troops. The riot was ostensibly caused by a deficiency of water, but it is really another evidence of the wave of anarchism passing over Spain.

SKIPPED TO AVOID ARREST.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 11. — George Muloch, real estate dealer here, and a prominent member of the Baptist church, is discovered to have been guilty of incest with his nineteen-year-old daughter. The girl revealed the terrible crime to her mother, and the latter at once notified the church authorities who held a secret meeting yesterday and expelled Muloch from the church. Muloch and family moved in the best society here and the revelation produced a big sensation. The girl says her father has been having intercourse with her for over a year. Muloch skipped town to avoid arrest.

MANGLED BEYOND RECOGNITION.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 11.—A wreck was caused yesterday on the Pan Handle by the breaking in two of a freight train at Big Walnut, a few miles east of this city. An unknown man was killed, the body being mangled beyond recognition. Frank Deitrick, a brakeman of Huntington, Ohio, was probably fatally injured.

FOR A PORTAGE RAILWAY.

Washington Sept. 11.—Secretary Lamont has sent to the house the report of the board of engineers on the obstruction in the Columbia river between Three Mile Rapids and Celilo Falls, Washington and Oregon. The method of overcoming the obstructions favored by the board is a portage railway from Celilo to a point below the Three Mile rapids.

JOY FOR FARMERS.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—Badly needed rain fell throughout the southern half of Missouri and northeastern Arkansas to-day, doing great good to growing crops.

RIGHTED.

Lanesboro, Minn., Sept. 11.—The Bank of Lanesboro closed its doors a week ago Saturady. The depositors met at the city hall and voted unanimously to instruct the bank to open its doors and resume business at once, ample time being given. The bank reopened this morning.

ST. LOUIS EXPO.

St. Louis, Mo., Special—The tenth annual exposition was opened last evening, the mammoth Music hall being packed to suffocation and the corridors and various departments of the big building being crowded. No accurate estimate of the crowd can be made because of its scattered condition. There were addresses by Gov. W. J. Stone, ex-Gov. E. O. Standard, Mayor Walbridge and others, interspersed with music by Sousa's Chicago Marine band of 100 musicians. The numerous displays are even above the usual standard, the art gallery especially being considered by competent judges to be far superior to any former exhibit. During the forty days that the exposition will last Sousa's band will give four concerts daily.

MILLIONS INVOLVED.

Washington, Special—Land Commissioner Lamereaux has decided the famous section 30 case, involving millions of dollars worth of iron mining property near Duluth. W. W. Billson, August MacDonald and other claimants are knocked out and Charles P. Wheeler given the right to locate on the lands in dispute. The heirs of David Moyer are also given a preference. This case is one of the most important ever considered by the commissioner of the land office.

FLAGGED A TRAIN.

Creston, Iowa, Special—A west-bound train was flagged at 8:30 this morning, a few miles east of Creston, by a man who was employed on the road several years ago. He told the trainmen there were two ties on the track, placed there, he thought, to wreck the train. It is thought to have been done by the informer himself, so he could touch the company for a pass.

Ray Elliott of Marengo, who was reported stolen last May, was drowned. His decomposed body was found in a rain barrel near the barn.

The First Presbyterian church has called Rev. Mr. Miller of Des Moines. He will move to this city in a short time.

PEERS AGAINST LORDS.

London, Sept. 13.—The Liberal National Federation last night issued a circular against the house of lords. In this circular the Federation declares that seven years' discussion and eighty-two days' consideration by the house of commons definitely ascertained the wishes of two million electors, yet this counts for nothing when opposed to the views of 400 conservative persons. Continuing, the circular declares that the action of the house of lords is now in the front rank of the Liberal programme in accord with Mr. Gladstone's declaration at New Castle. The circular concludes that as the home rule bill passed the house of commons and was rejected by the house of lords it is doubly certain to become law. It also says that not only will the Irish question be settled, but that a real era of reform is dawning for the democracy of the United Kingdom. The circular is signed by Spence Watson, Schnadhorst and other officials of the Federation.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — Wheat steady; cash, 65 3-4c; October, 66 3-4c; December, 70 1-8c. Corn higher; cash, 40 1-8c; October, 40 3-4c; December, 40 5-8c; May, 44 1-4c. Oats steady; cash, 25 1-2c; October, 25 3-4c; December, 26 5-8c; May, 30 7-8a31c.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — Cattle — Extra prime steers, $5.25a5.40; choice, $4.75a5.15; good, $4.40a4.65; medium, $3.50a4; common, $2.70a3.30; Western steers, $2.15a3.90; do cows, $1.75a2.10; feeders, $2.15a2.75. Hogs—Mixed and packers, $5.25a5.80; prime heavy, $5.80a5.97 1-2; butchers, $5.90a6.15; light, $5.85a6.30.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—Hogs 10c higher and active. Cattle steady; bulk of receipts Westerns and natives; trading slow.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Wheat—September opened at 60 3-4c; highest, 61c; lowest, 60 3-4c; closing, 61c; December opened at 65c; highest, 65 1-8a65 1-4c; lowest, 64 3-4c; closing, 65 1-8c. On track—No. 1 hard, 63 1-2c; No. 1 Northern, 62 1-2c; No. 2 Northern, 60c.

GREAT TIMBER FIRES.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 13.—Immense timber fires, covering many miles in extent, are raging in various portions of the Black Hills. The damage to growing timber is very great, while the loss in cordwood alone will amount to $50,000. Several adjacent mining towns are threatened, and the inhabitants are using every effort to check the flames.

At the Two Bears mine the entire force of miners, numbering over 100, are engaged in fighting the flames from the company's works valued at $10,000. If a high wind starts up their efforts will be fruitless. Details of soldiers at Fort Meade, fourteen miles east of here, are keeping back the flames from the post and have so far succeeded in preventing much damage. A number of farm houses in this vicinity have been destroyed, together with live stock. The damage cannot be estimated at present with any accuracy, but it will be undoubtedly $100,000. Unless a rain comes the greatest danger will exist to all the towns in this section.

FIRES IN WISCONSIN.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—Reports received to-day state that fires are raging on O'Neil creek, north of Chippewa City, and that a large portion of the country between that place and Long Lake has been burned over. The summer cottages at Long Lake are in imminent danger of destruction unless the flames are choked. Estella is also in danger of being burned. Last night the air was filled with smoke here in this city showing that the fires are not very far from here. Large tracts of pine have been burned over, causing large damages. Everything is like tinder, no rain having fallen for several weeks.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST A BISHOP

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Caus Celerra of the Canadian Revue against Archbishop Fabre for damages and libel suffered by the acts of his grace in putting the publication under the ban came up in the practice court to-day before Judge Mattiu. The archbishop, through his attorneys, replied to the plea of the Revue by denying the jurisdiction of the court in the matter, and maintaining that he had acted perfectly within his rights in excommunicating the paper and its editors and proprietors.

THE CHOLERA SCOURGE.

London, Sept. 13.—Two new cases and one death from cholera were reported in Amsterdam to-day. Six cases were reported in the country. Two suspicious cases were discovered in Berlin to-day. There were two deaths from cholera in Rome to-day, and several new cases were reported. At Leghorn there were three new cases, and at Palermo three new cases and five deaths. The news from Russia in regard to the spread of cholera continues to be discouraging.

AFTER A PUGILIST.

London, Sept. 13.—Sophie Fatson, the woman who made an application last week to a magistrate for a warrant for the arrest of Charles Mitchell, the pugilist, on a charge of perjury, made a similar application to-day and was refused.

COMPLICATIONS FOR ITALY.

Rome, Sept. 13.—A mob of Italians attacked a number of Hungarian peasants at Delayoes and tried to burn the town hall. The riot was quelled by troops, but not before twenty-five persons had been wounded. The trouble was the outcome of a long-standing racial animosity.

AFTER MINISTER ANGERS.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—Dr. Playtner has issued a second warrant against Hon. Mr. Angers, minister of agriculture, this time for giving to the press Dr. Mootzimbert's letter reflecting on the professional character of Dr. Playter in connection with the Grosse Ile quarantine.

HER LAST SAIL.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Henry Leathers of Hopkins was drowned on Lake Calhoun yesterday afternoon. She was sailing in a yacht with her husband when the craft capsized. Mr. Leathers was saved.

DISAPPROVES AN EXTRA SESSION

Madison, Wis., Sept. 13.—Gov. Peck says the importance of an extra session of the legislature has not been made apparent to him and he seemed opposed to the project, intimating that in his opinion Milwaukee county finances could be adjusted without resorting to this.

DYNAMITERS.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Herald's Panama correspondent cables: News has been received from Honduras that the partisans of Bonilla recently attempted to blow up the garrison powder house in Tegucigalpa with dynamite. Weather conditions prevented a frightful loss of life. Twenty-six dynamite bombs were thrown at the powder house, and in the explosion five of the guards were fatally wounded. They died soon afterward. The building was demolished.

RANCHES IN A BLAZE.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 8.—The most destructive forest fire ever in Washington is raging in the Dozwalips valley, west of Hood's canal, an arm of Puget sound, in the northwestern part of the state. Ranchers are fleeing down the valley to the beach. A half-dozen ranchers left a few days ago to prospect for gold in the Olympic mountains. The fire has cut them off, and their wives and children are in distress. Already 5,000 acres have been burned over.

SEALED VERDICT.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 8.—The verdict in the Hughes court martial case has been rendered, but it is sealed and in the hands of the governor and will probably not be made public until after the executive's return from the world's fair. Gen. Sears, the presiding officer of the court, yesterday declined to state what the verdict was, but did not deny that a fine and a jail sentence had been imposed.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 8.—Charles Allen, one of the oldest residents of Gladwin county, residing on a farm two and a half miles from Gladwin city, was burned to death yesterday. The house took fire and the old man got out safely, but returned for the purpose of saving some money, about $1,000, secreted in the house.

HAMILTON FISH DEAD.

Garrison, N. Y. Sept. 7.—Hon. Hamilton Fish, ex-secretary of state, died at his country residence here yesterday.

GUNS AND DYNAMITE

IN COMBINATION, THEY RAISE HOB IN INDIANA.

Twenty Bandits Hold Up an Express Train, Shoot the Engineer, Blow Up a Safe and Secure a Large Booty.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 13.—When the inhabitants of this sleepy little village awoke this morning they heard a story of a train robbery, with dynamite accompaniments, compared with which the wildest flights of imagination of Western writers pale into insignificance. When Express Train No. 14, which left Chicago at 7:45 last night with two express cars, a baggage car and ten coaches, approached the siding at Kesler, about five miles west of here, Engineer Knapp saw that the switch lamp was turned so as to show a red light. The headlight of his engine, however, disclosed the fact that, though the lamp was at danger, the switch had not been turned, leaving a through track. He slowly stopped the train, and as he neared the switch a flash was seen ahead and then the loud report of a Winchester rang out.

Immediately Engineer Knapp felt a twitching pain in the shoulder. The robber's aim had been good, for the bullet from the Winchester had reached its mark. Before the engineer and fireman could realize it they were surrounded by a gang of probably twenty men, who surrounded the cab and commanded them to remain quiet under penalty of death. A detachment of the gang went to the rear and the train crew was covered with Winchesters, while another went to the forward express car and commenced to bombard it with dynamite. four or five cartridges were placed in the door to accomplish this purpose. As soon as they got in the car the express messenger was placed under guard and the bandits then went leisurly to work to blow open the safe. One cartridge after another was used. The first had no apparent effect on the safe, but after four had been discharged it was seen that the safe was giving way, and as the report from the fifth died away the robbers could help themselves to anything the iron box had previously contained, which they proceeded to do, leaving nothing behind them.

After looting the car the robbers fired a volley as a warning to those who might desire to venture in pursuit. The train was delayed an hour, and as soon as the robbers departed the engine pulled out, raching here after 2 o'clock. The sheriff was quickly notified and he immediately proceeded to organize a posse and started in pursuit of the bandits.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13—Col. John Byrne of this city, who is superintendent of detectives of the United States Express company, left to-night for the scene of the robbery. Officials of the company here declare it may be days before the extent of the robbery is known, and it may be $50,000 or it may be $250,000. If the robbers carried off the bag, etc., it is probable they carried off the way bills, also. Most all of the expressmen on this run belong here. The messenger of the looted car was M. M. Weist, of No. 165 Glenwood avenue. A telegram came this afternoon requesting that his wife be notified that he is all right. The robbed express car reached here early this evening. From the exterior it does not seem to have been roughly handled, but an interior view gives a different impression. It is pretty well torn to pieces. The safe which was blown open stands a little to one side of the door through which the robbers forced an entrance. Its door is off, its interior is barren. The door was torn from its hinges and blown into seven pieces. The car shows no marks of bullets either inside or outside. Six blocks of silver bullion which were in the car were not touched; neither were the small portable safes in which the smaller sums of money were carried.

GREAT INVENTION.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 13.—It was learned to-day that Frank Gregsire, a blacksmith, has been working in secret nearly a year perfecting a system for propelling boats, and has now completed it. He claims that by it a steamer can be propelled across the Atlantic in two and one-half days. Steam is the motive power.

WAS A FORGERY.

Chicago, Sept. 13. — M. V. Gannon, president of the Irish National League of America, emphatically denies that he is a party to the anti-Gladstone manifesto in regard to the home rule bill purporting to have been issued by the executive committee of the league. He says his signature thereto was a forgery.

HOTEL GUESTS CREMATED.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 13.—News was received here this morning of the murder of two persons in a hotel at Brighton, a suburb of this city. It is also stated that the hotel was set fire and two persons burned to death.

DEATH OF A SPORTING MAN.

New York, Sept. 13.—Col. P. Duffy, the well known New Orleans sporting man who acted as referee in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, died in the Presbyterian hospital last night.

BISMARCK IMPROVING.

Kissingen, Sept. 13.—It is officially announced that Prince Bismarck continues to improve. He has left his bed every day since Friday, and has walked about his room. His suffering is from sciatica, and is less acute.

GLADSTONE ENJOYING A REST.

London, Sept. 13.—Mr. Gladstone is again rusticating in the heather. He enjoyed himself hugely yesterday and is improving in health.

GRAVEYARD VANDAL.

River Falls, Wis., Sept. 13.—The gravestone vandal visited the cemetery at this place last night and upset twenty-three monuments, ruining several and damaging many.

HEAVY HAIL.

Annandale, Minn., Sept. 13.—The hardest hailstorm of the season passed over this place at 4 o'clock last evening. The ground was white with hail from the size of walnuts to small hen's eggs.

INCENDIARIES IN A GRAIN FIELD

Redwood Falls, Minn., Sept. 13.—Four threshing outfits have been burned at Delhi. The work was supposed to be that of an incendiary. The large number of threshing machines in the country is supposed to be the cause of the deed. The loss is about $3,600.

MONEY RECOVERED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 11.—Detectives recovered $5,000 of the money stolen from the safe of the Adams Express company at Akron, Ohio, Friday night. It was found buried in a cornfield in the suburbs. The burglars have been arrested.

HINDOOS SHOT DOWN.

Calcutta, Sept. 11.—A number of Hindoos at Busselpore, in Northwest Bengal, tried on Wednesday to capture a quantity of commissory cattle. Troops were called and the Hindoos, with fanatical fury, fought until the troops were ordered to fire, when they scattered. Three of them were killed.

RUN DOWN AND KILLED.

Lebanon, Ill., Sept. 11.—Andrew Fritch of St. Louis and J. Clernon of Breese, Ill., mine laborers, were run down by a passenger train on the Ohio & Mississippi at Bennett's coal mine and instantly killed yesterday.

NO WORK FOR THRESHERS.

Breckinridge, Minn., Sept. 11.—The towns are full of threshers out of a job. Farmers throughout Wilkin and Richland counties are generally refusing to thresh at the present prices of grain. No trouble is anticipated.

HONOR FOR ST. PAUL.

Washington, Sept. 11.—St. Paul is to have a great ocean liner named in her honor. One of the quartet of vessels of the American line will be called St. Paul and another St. Louis.

INVESTIGATORS FROM FRANCE.

New York, Sept. 11.—A delegation of fifty-two French workmen representing different trades arrived here to-day on the steamer La Gascogne. They will visit factories, inspecting the system of work and the standing of American workmen.

ACCUSED OF DEFRAUDING.

Duluth, Sept. 12.—An order was received by the police last night to arrest Frederick Kreyenbuhl of this city, who is charged with being the principal in a most daring attempt to defraud several life insurance companies.

On July 21, the story became current that John Clark and W. B. Clegg had been capsized while out sailing and that Gregg had been drowned. Clark told a story of remarkable endurance, how, after the boat had capsized he clung to the overturned craft from 10 one morning until 3 o'clock the next, when the boat drifted to the north shore about eighteen miles from Duluth. He righted the boat and rowed back to this city, and going to Krayenbuhl's house, fainted in the doorway. There were some very suspicious circumstances connected with the case. Some weeks later it developed that Gregg's life was insured shortly before the time of his disappearance for $20,000, and that the policies were made in favor of Krayenbuhl.

About the middle of August a demand was made for the insurance money and the company began an investigation. Several special agents were sent here, and very early it was decided that there had been fraud. It was found that during the whole time Clark said he had been drifting on the north shore the wind was blowing in an entirely opposite direction. It was found, too, from the testimony of vesselmen that no one could live in Lake Superior for the length of time Clark said he had been drifting. The matter resolved itself into a question whether Gregg was a party to the fraud or whether he had been murdered. From a vesselman it was finally learned that Gregg had been seen at La Pointe, a small place on the Wisconsin shore, some days subsequent to the drowning episode, and from there he was traced East. The same dispatch which ordered the arrest of Krayenbuhl stated that Gregg and Clark had been arrested together in Philadelphia. Clark is a brother of one of Duluth's prominent merchants, and all parties implicated are people of good standing.

SUICIDE OF A CASHIER.

Tyrone, Pa., Sept. 12.—Gen. Robert A. McCoy, cashier of the Blair County bank, was found unconscious in his room at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right temple. He died three hours later without regaining consciousness. He left a letter that since the death of his wife and son life had been unbearable. The bank and his own personal business matters are in sound condition. Gen. McCoy was one of the most prominent business men and politiciansof Blair county. He served during the war, rising to the rank of brevetbrigadiergeneral.

BISMARCK'S ILLNESS.

Paris, Sept. 12.—The most alarming reports are in circulation here as to the state of Prince Bismarck's health. It is stated that he has been stricken with paralysis, and that he has already lost the use of his hands. Though the real state of the distinguished sufferer's health may be somewhat exaggerated, there seems no reason to doubt that his illness has assumed a most serious turn. Sciatica is said to be the foundation of the disease from which the prince is suffering, and if reports are to be believed the case has developed into paralysis.

A MINISTER SHOT.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 12.—A special to the Bee from North Platte, Neb., says: Rev. A. Amsbury, presiding elder of the district, shot and almost instantly killed himself this afternoon. He was riding in a Union Pacific caboose on his way to keep an appointment, and for amusement had been shooting at telegraph poles as the train passed by. While the train was standing at a station the crew heard a shot, and entering the caboose found Mr. Amsbury breathing his last. His friends scout at the idea of suicide.

THE FEMALE ANARCH.

New York, Sept. 12.—Emma Goldman, the female anarchist, was arraigned in the general sessions this morning to plead to the indictment found against her by the grand jury last week for unlawful assemblage and inciting to riot. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and said she would defend herself, declining counsel assigned to defend her by the court. She was remanded indefinitely, bail being fixed at $4,000.

BOLD THIEVES.

Barnesville, Minn., Sept. 12.—Thieves effected an entrance through the side light of the front entrance in Hans Peterson's general store and carried off dry goods, shoes, etc., to the amount of about $300. They had selected the goods with great care, and had evidently been busy nearly all night, in plain view of the sidewalk, with light burning curtains up.

FOR MURDERING A FAMILY.

Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 12.—Judge Morrison has considered the argument for insanity in Dec Taylor's case and overruled the motion and resentenced him for the murder of the Mullins family to be hanged Oct. 27.

FOSTER'S FINANCES.

Fostoria, Ohio, Sept. 12.—According to the statement of the receiver of the various concerns which ex-Secretary Foster owned and controlled, the total liabilities are $1,086,671.92; total assets, $964,342.19.

AIR LINE TO RUSSIA.

Paris, Sept. 12.—M. de Savine, the famous aeronaut, is making preparations for a voyage from the Camp de Mars in this city to Russia without making a single descent to the earth during the trip.

A WISCONSIN BLAZE.

West Bend, Wis., Sept. 12.—Fire early this morning did $40,000 damage here. John Weinand's hotel and the Nicholas block are the largest buildings burned.

WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED.

Pittsburg, Sept. 12.—A large number of idle men were given employment to-day by the resumptions of numerous iron and steel plants.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

London, Sept. 12.—Ten thousand miners about the North Stafford district resumed work to-day at the old rate of wages.

DEATH OF A JUDGE.

Minneapolis, Sept. 12. — Frederick Hooker, judge of the district court, died here last night.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Grand Forks, Special—A meeting of the new board of the Chautauqua assembly was held at Devils Lake yesterday. C. H. Clemmer of Grand Forks is president; J. N. Maher, vice president; S. A. Nye, corresponding secretary; Henry Hale, recording secretary; J. A. Stewart, treasurer; all residents of Devils Lake. Rev. Eugene May of Fargo has been re-elected superintendent. Satisfactory as was the assembly programme for this season, the appropriation for platform talent for 1894 assures a yet richer feast. The average attendance this year was 300 daily. The organization is in excellent financial condition. About $9,000 is held in shares; $6,000 was expended in improvements this year, and $4,000 must be expended next year. The assembly grounds are a wonder and delight to all who visit the lake.

BAND ASSOCIATION.

Janesville, Wis., Special—The annual meeting of the Southern Wisconsin Band association, which convened in this city this afternoon, is quite a success. Seventeen bands are represented in the meeting and ten full bands appeared in the parade. This evening the boys played in different parts of the city and two public dancing parties were part of the entertainment. The convention concludes to-morrow.

OBJECTS TO THE PENALTY.

Washington, Special—President Malster, of the Columbian Iron works, was in the city yesterday to see Secretary Herbert regarding the payment of about $15,000 which was retained by the department as a penalty for failure to complete the cruiser Detroit within the specified time. No extension of time was allowed by Secretary Tracey and Mr. Malster has appealed to have the penalty remitted on the ground that the changes directed prevented the vessel being finished on time. The vessel was many months overdue in completion. The secretary has taken the matter under advisement.

Without a Competitor.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Is so far beyond other brands of baking powders in its purity, wholesomeness and leavening power that it is practically without a competitor. Adulteration prevails to such an extent that the consumer in many sections is at the mercy of the venders of the ammonia and alum baking powders Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the only powder prepared by a physician of high standing, and almost the only pure Cream of Tartar powder to be obtained.

ETIQUETTE AT WASHINGTON.

In Official Circles It Is of Great Diplomatic Importance.

In regard to the importance of the question of rank and precedence in Washington, the late governor and United States senator, E. D. Morgan used to tell a story that perfectly illustrates the strict puctillio of the diplomatic circles here, and also how much the new senator has to learn, no matter how well acquainted with the usages of the grande monde he may be elsewhere. Gov. Morgan, by the way, was born to the purple, had seen much of good society before his elevation to the chief magistracy of his own state of New York and the United States senate.

"The matter of etiquette embarrassed me a good deal when I first went to Washington as a senator," said he. "It was in the early days of the war, and Mr. Seward, who was an old friend, was secretary of state. There was a good deal of dinner giving that winter (1863) and I did as the others were doing. During the holidays in 1863, I invited the members of the diplomatic corps to meet the secretary of state at dinner. The times were squally, and Seward had told me privately that he wanted all the social aid he could get, especially with the foreign ministers in Washington. Sir Frederick Bruce was the English minister then. He was a special friend of my wife and myself, and had often visited at our home in New York. Senor Tassara, the Spanish minister, was the dean or senor of the diplomatic corps. At the congress of Vienna in 1810 the rule was adopted and is still in existence, that diplomatists' precedence at a court is regulated by the term of service at that court. So, as my dinner was to diplomats, things had to be regulated according to diplomatic usage.

"Sir Frederick Bruce was my oldest acquaintance among them, and I asked him to take Mrs. Morgan out to dinner. 'My dear sir, I can't do that,' said Bruce. 'Tassara's the dean. It's his right.' 'Oh, the d——l,' said I. 'England is a bigger country than Spain. Besides, you're an old friend of ours. Let the etiquette go.' 'But I daren't,' said Bruce. Just then Seward came up. Hearing what was going on he called me to one side and said: 'This may not seem of any importance to you, Morgan, but it is of immense consequence to me and the country. Spain is friendly to us. Tassara, being a Spaniard, is extremely punctilious. If, at a diplomatic dinner, his right of precedence is disregarded, he would take it as a deliberate insult to his nation. So, for heaven's sake, let him take Mrs. Morgan out; otherwise he will write to his government, and we will have no end of a row over it.' Of course, with this view before me," said Gov. Morgan, "I could only comply with the requirements of courtesy and etiquette, and asked Senor Tassara to take my wife out, which he did, and we had no row with Spain."—Washington Post.

HERE IS A TROLLEY CRANK.

He Predicts That the Atlantic Will Be Crossed by Means of the Trolley.

Perhaps the steamer of the future will be operated on a trolley by means of a submarine cable. The advantages of this plan would be great, as it would prevent the necessities of carrying immense quantities of fuel and of keeping the vessel loaded down with enormous engines. All the delay and difficulty and expense of managing furnaces and engines on board ship would be done away with by the oceanic trolley system and the ships could be made so much lighter that they could go whizzing across the ocean in a couple of days. Danger of accident could be brought to be no greater than it is at present by having a sufficient number of repair steamers on the route, which could keep the cables in repair and in case of any accident to the trolley could bring the passenger boat into port or put it again in connection with the cable.

There can be no question that the proper means of crossing the Atlantic quickly is by some system which will allow the motive power to be applied from the shore, either, by a trolley or a cable. The limit of speed for ships that carry engines and fuel is certainly practically reached on the surface, and there are difficulties in the way of submarine navigation which it would be hard to conquer. The trolley system is capable of greater extension, and we may yet live to get to Europe by its means.

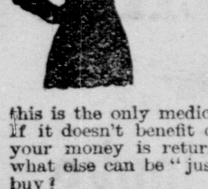

—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

I Cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. Dr. Shoop's Restorative Nerve Pills sent free with Medical Book to prove merit for 2c stamp. Druggists, 25c. Dr. Shoop, Box W., Racine, Wis.

The sultan of Turkey has the richest collection of gems and regalia in the world.

Coe's Cough Balsam
Is the oldest and best. It will break up a Cold quicker than anything else. It is always reliable. Try it.

The Simplon tunnel in England will, when finished, be the largest in the world.

YOU GET STRONG, if you're a tired-out or "run-down" woman, with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And, if you suffer from any "female complaint" or disorder, you get well. For these two things—to build up women's strength, and to cure women's ailments—this is the only medicine that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, your money is returned. On these terms, what else can be "just as good" for you to buy?

The "Prescription" regulates and promotes all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and is perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor.

For ulcerations, displacements, bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, and every chronic weakness or irregularity, it's a remedy that safely, and permanently cures.

Second-Hand

TYPE

About 2,000 pounds of Benton-Waldo's Self-Spacing Bourgeois in first-class order in fonts of 50 pounds or more.

A few Iron News Stands at Half-Price.

Northwestern Newspaper Union
ST. PAUL, MINN.

WANTED Men to travel. We pay $50 to $100 a month and expenses. STONE & WELLINGTON, Madison, Wis.

THE KANSAS CITY
VETERINARY COLLEGE.
Incorporated by the State. For Catalogue address, J. H. Watties, D.V.S., 310 E. 12th St.

A NEW USE FOR TOWELS.

In Southern China They Sew Two of Them Together and Thus Provide a Coat.

It appears from the latest consular report from Swatow, in Southern China, that among cotton goods the import of towels alone has shown any improvement. But, the consul explains, this does not imply any increased attention to personal cleanliness on the part of the inhabitants of the district, for the towels are used for clothing, says the London Times. The breadth of the ordinary towel being that from shoulder to shoulder, two sewn together will make a coat. Sleeves are dispensed with, and, except for the arm holes, there is none of that waste of material which is especially repugnant to the Chinaman, and which the size of his native piece goods and the fashion of his clothes conspire to avoid. British manufacturers have been warned by their agents and others of this frugal tendency of the Chinese mind, but the loom designed to turn out cloth of the narorw Chinese breadths requires as much attention as one giving cloth twice as wide. This leads the consul to suggest that the cloth might be woven at the same loom. So far the remonstrances of importers have availed chiefly to affect the length of the piece. If a piece forty yards long will make exactly twelve Chinese garments, one a few inches less will only produce similar garments, leaving a useless remnant. Thus importers who know their customers have urged that the piece, though it cannot be woven to a given inch, should always exceed the expected length and never fall short of it. Lastly, the consul suggests that, as Chinese garments fit loosely to the figure and can be transferred from one person to another without any noticeable misfit, it might be possible for British manufacturers to turn out goods of exact size needed for coats, gowns and the amorphous pantaloons. He asks whether these crude garments might not be produced entire and so imported into China.

A MOST WONDERFUL DOG.

Can Tell the Days of the Week and Different Railroad Trains.

Those people who do not believe in dog stories are really subjects for heartfelt commiseration; they have either been unfortunate in their canine acquaintances or have not the penetration requisite for proper interpretation of dog characteristics. A Louisville railroad man has a dog that distinguishes the days of the week and different railroad trains. On days when Midget's owner made his regular trips the dog accompanies him to the station, but never attempts to board the train—just stays on the platform, an interested spectator, and wags his tail cheerfully as the train moves out. On other days and other trains—suburban trains to Parkland or Pewee Valley—he hops aboard without hesitation, evidently aware that the ride in prospect is one that he may share. Midget swears, too; swears like a pirate.

The family understands him, but they report that his language is too terrible to be repeated. When things don't go to suit him he retires under a bed or sofa and lies there rolling off oaths of fearful description for hours. A young man who was attentive to Midget's young mistress unintentionally offended him, but the dog got even. He actually broke off the match. He knew the regular nights on which the youth appeared, and at an early hour would ensconce himself under the parlor sofa, from which coign of vantage he would growl forth such volleys of personal and profane remarks that the prospective lover became intimidated and ceased his attentions. In recognition of which services Midget's master gave him a beautiful collar.

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Pioneer Newspaper Woman.

Mrs. E. J. Nicholson is said to be the only woman in the world who owns, edits, manages and publishes a great daily newspaper. She was first a contributor of poetry to the columns of the New Orleans Picayune, which she now owns, under the name of Pearl Rivers, and some years ago was made literary editor of the paper by Col. A. M. Holbrook, its editor and proprietor, thus being the pioneer newspaper woman in the South. After a time she became the wife of Col. Holbrook, and at his death inherited the paper, much encumbered by debt, with a dubious outlook. She assumed the responsibility courageously, and, with able assistants, has put it again on a substantial basis. A few years ago she married George Nicholson, who was business manager of the paper.

The Automatic Waiter.

The waitress may be dispensed with. A woman believes she has made her superfluous by inventing a table that will wait on itself. The table—dining table, of course—is round, with a space 10 inches wide for the individual plates, cups, saucers, etc. Inside this circle there is a revolving disc, raised about 2 inches above the surrounding circle, upon which the food is placed. By turning it in any direction you may have the bread, butter, olives or cream without asking or waiting for them. The invention seems to be the merriest kind of a merry-go-round.—New York Evening Post.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,
Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, MRS WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for Children Teething.

The earliest Egyptian column was simply the stalk of the lotus crowned by its calix.

Never buy whisky for medicinal purposes unless you know the bottlers of it to be reliable, as most whiskies sold under celebrated names are spurious, cheap articles, whose bottlers cannot afford to have their names appear on the labels. Uncle Sam's Monogram Whiskey is bottled by the oldest and largest firm in the Liquor line in the Northwest and the favor with which it has been received is the best proof of its superior quality. Ask your druggist or retail dealer for it.

A Walla Walla (Wash.) florist asserts that he owns a black calla "lily."

HOT WEATHER

opens the pores, the system is relaxed and nature easily responds. Drive all foul corruption out of the body now by a course of

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa,

Nature's Remedy of Roots, Barks and Herbs. The best Liver Stomach and Blood Renovater. All Druggists, $1.00—6 Bottles for $5.00.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water.

SEND 15 CTS and we will send you by express, express paid, our 575-page Catalogue, which contains lowest prices on Guns, Hardware, Stoves, Windows, Sporting Goods, Baby Carriages, Musical Instruments, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Rubber Goods, Stationery, Queensware, Silverware, Carpets, Furniture, Farm Implements, Cutlery, Tinware, Doors, Books, Clocks, Drugs, Clothing, Hats, Bicycles, Lumber, Toys, Paints, Oils, Fencing, Buggies, Wagons, Lamps, Bibles, Watches, Tents, Flags, Caps, Harness, Stack and Wagon Covers and Dry Goods.
T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, 510 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

A GOLDEN DAWN.

The result of his "seeing" was that Hyacinth, in a pretty white and blue costume, looked more lovely than ever, and went, with a smile on her face, to meet her doom—went in the full beauty of a June day, with a face fair as a flower, a heart light as that of a bird, her eyes full of happiness, her golden hair like an aureole round her head. Francis Vane watched her with loving gaze, and to him, in that moment of unconcealed pride and delight in his child, there came no shadow of a prison cell.

Mrs. Morley always spoke of that picnic as one of the successes of her life; no party of guests could have enjoyed themselves more. Lady Rosedene, just as the vicar's good wife had foreseen, was delighted with the beautiful debutante.

"Is her father a gentleman?" she whispered to Mrs. Morley. "She herself is charming. But is she quite presentable?"

Mrs. Morley, in her good nature, gave such a flattering account of the scholar that Lady Rosedene became desirous to see him.

"Shall I invite the father as well?" she asked, and was just a little offended when Mrs. Morley assured her that it would not be of the least use.

"You have evidently never heard the romantic story of Francis Vane's courtship and marriage," said Mrs. Morley. "He is about the only case I know in this world of really true love. It is no fiction to say that his heart is buried in his wife's grave. All his neighbors have been kind to him, and invited him, but it was found that invitations merely troubled him; now every one leaves him in peace."

"Then you think he would not come, even if I invited him?" said Lady Rosedene. "I generally manage to have my own way with the men."

"I do not think you would succeed in this case," answered Mrs. Morley; "nor do I think it would be kind to desire it. When so much of a man's heart and soul is in heaven, it seems almost a pity to bring him back into close contact with the world again."

Lady Rosedene's eyes were fixed on the fair, bright face of the young girl. She turned suddenly to the vicar's wife.

"I have read," she said, "of the sweetness of flowers being wasted on the desert air—of violets blooming unseen, and giving their fragrance to the wind. I do not believe in anything of the kind. Take the great kingdom of flowers; ever here and there is one of such exquisite beauty that evey one pauses to admire it. It appears to me that one in the world of fair women, every now and then we find a face so beautiful that the whole world ought to see and admire it. I shall be doing an act of charity in making this face known."

But the vicar's wife shook her head. Such a doctrine was not quite in accordance with her husbands teaching.

"I do not know about that," she said. "Every face is what I may call the veil or cover of an immortal soul; and I should say any soul was endangered where the owner of it was worshiped for her beauty. I do not quite think myself that beauty should be so eagerly admired."

"It is the way of the world," laughed Lady Rosedene. "We plain women may thank heaven that great beauty and great gifts do not often come together; if they did, we should have but a poor chance. As it is, some people do value common sense and intellect more than beauty. I shall make friends with Miss Vane. We shall hear something of her before many months are over, mark my words."

And those same words indeed came true.

Chapter III.

Lady Rosedene, of Dene Hall, was one of the celebrities of the county in which Dene stood. She was left a widow at quite an early age, mistress of a magnificent estate, and a vast fortune. Being both young and clever, every one expected that she would marry again; but Lady Rosedene was wiser than that. The late lord had been of a most tyrannical disposition and unaimiable temper. His young wife suffered terribly from it, being herself of a gay, frank, happy nature. When Lord Rosedene died, she said to herself that she would never again bend her neck under the yoke that was so weighty to bear. She resolved to enjoy her life; and, as a preliminary, as the most certain means of insuring that enjoyment, she resolved upon never having anything to do with love.

"If I am to enjoy my life, to preserve my good looks, I must have nothing to do with the fret and the fever called love."

Having made that resolution, she began to enjoy life in her own way, and succeeded perfectly in her plan. One of the most charming and captivating of women, she had numerous admirers. She enjoyed the friendship of clever and sensible men; she enjoyed their admiration; she was pleased with her conquests—but she steadfastly refused to have anything to do with love, even in its milder form of flirtation.

For fifteen years she had been the "queen of the county." The fetes and festivities at Dene Hall were famous all over the neighborhood—no one else gave such parties, such balls, such picnics—no one gave such pleasant garden parties. The young girls of the neighborhood adored her.

She would not hear of love for herself; but nothing gave her greater happiness than to see it in others. She took the keenest interest in a love affair. She was not a match maker; no one could have ever used such a word about the refined and clever Lady Rosedene; but she liked to bring young people together. She had a wonderful kind of instinct which told her at once what persons would agree together. She never had an ill assorted party of guests. She never had the least drawback to the success of any entertainment she gave.

She was famous for having promoted more marriages than any one else in the county. Mothers who had a difficulty in marrying their daughters found their difficulties ended when they once applied to Lady Rosedene. She would invite a young girl to Dene Hall, introduce her amongst an eligible set, and then leave her to take her chance. That usually ended in marriage. So successful had she been that pretty young girls were now at a premium in the neighborhood of Dunwold; they were all married and gone from home; so that the kindly, happy widow was somewhat a loss for young recruits.

She began to fancy that at one or two of her balls there had been a dearth of pretty faces, that her charade party had lacked interest, and that there was a want of novelty in some of the scenes. She was more than delighted when Mrs. Morley introduced her to Hyacinth Vane; here, indeed, was a novelty—a girl more beautiful than any she had ever seen; with a voice that was like sweetest music, and a smile that was like sunshine; a girl whose every movement was full of sweetest harmony, as though she were following a strain of hidden music.

Lady Rosedene fell in love with her at once.

"Your father is a scholar and a gentleman; they tell me he lives amid his books, and counts this outer world as nothing. To invite him to Dene Hall would be an empty compliment—he would not come; but I wish he would let you visit me. Do you think he would?" said Lady Rosedene to her.

Hyacinth raised her happy eyes to the kindly, comely face.

"I think he would be delighted," she answered. "My father is not quite like other men; he does not seem to live in the same world—I doubt whether he would understand at all the kind of world in which you move."

"Probably not," said Lady Rosedene, delighted with the girl's earnestness and beauty; "but you will understand it."

She smiled at the fervor with which the girl clasped her little white hands and replied:

"I should love it, I think, more than any other world."

A dainty flush covered her fair face, her eyes shone with the brightness of stars.

"Then," said Lady Rosedene, "you shall see what it is like. Come and stay with me for a month, if you can be spared for so long. I have no wish to flatter you, but with a face like yours, the world ought to be at your feet."

Hyacinth Vane never forgot that day. She had been accustomed to hear Lady Rosedene's name mentioned always as that of one of the powers of the land; and now to find that great and mighty personage not only kind to her, but absolutely asking for her society and her friendship, was something wonderful. She did not know that Lady Rosedene was driven almost to her wits' end for pretty faces, and that she would soon consider her prestige gone, unless she could introduce some new beauty. Hyacinth knew nothing of this, and wondered why the clever, dainty, exclusive lady should be so anxious for her friendship. She was delighted; her charming face seemed to grow more beautiful, her eyes brighter, her smile sweeter.

The day of the picnic was never to be forgotten by her; all the details of it she remembered; and in the dullest hours of her life those details came back to her with a torture all their own.

When Lady Rosedene took her home that evening she said:

"I shall take you at your word, Miss Vane, and drive over to-morrow to ask your papa if he can spare you for a month. You will enjoy yourself at Dene Hall, I am sure."

"I know that I shall," replied Hyacinth, simply.

Lady Rosedene was perfectly happy. She would be able to introduce a beauty such as no one had seen in that part of the country, and she should recover the prestige she had almost lost from a scarcity of beautiful faces.

When she reached home, Hyacinth said nothing to her father about the impending visit. For the first time she realized in what a different world they both lived.

Something of the deep silent mystery of night seemed to linger round her as she entered the quiet house. She went at once to her father's study, the ring of happy voices, the sound of music, the silver strains of compliment and homage, (all sounding in her ears; the brightness of fair faces, the sheen of rich dresses and jewels, still before her eyes. Her father, his work ended for the day, was seated at the window, his eyes fixed on the lime trees beneath which his young wife slept. She heard him mumur, as she opened the door:

"How long, Elsie—how long will it be, dear?"

A great solemn hush fell over her. It was as though she had suddenly entered a grand cathedral aisle; the world seemed to fall from her.

She forgot Lady Rosedene and the promised visit, and went with a gentle step to the lonely man, whose heart was buried while his body lived on. She put her arms round his neck, and bent her sweet face over his.

"Papa," she whispered, "shall you never forget, even ever so little?"

"No, my darling, not even ever so little. I live more in that green grave than I do here. There is a shadow over me to-night—a presentiment of coming evil—and in my mind I am going over and over again every happy day of my life spent with her. Sit down here at my feet, Hyacinth, and let me tell you how she lived and died."

Seated in the solemn, beautiful dusk, while the trees moved and the wind sighed in unison, she listened once more to the story of how her mother had been more like a spirit or an angel than a woman—how she had loved the white hyacinths, and how she had died with her little child clasped in her arms.

No wonder that the girl forgot the coming visitor and the coming visit, the last incident of that eventful day which she remembered was her singing in a low, sweet tone to her father until the look of unsatisfied longing faded from his face and he slept.

It was such a different world this from the bright, laughing life that only that afternoon had been unrolled before her. It seemed stranger still when, on the day following, Lady Rosedene's carriage stopped at Sweetbriars, and the footman in his gorgeous livery rapped sharply at the door.

How strange it seemed to see the brilliant lady, with her bright face, her superb dress, in that room where the solitary man always sat, that he might be within sight of his wife's grave!

With that tact that distinguished her, Lady Rosedene at once made her way to his heart. She laid aside her pretty caprices, her pride, her half-sarcastic, half-laughing manner. She recognized that she was in the presence of a deep sorrow, and it impressed her. This pale studious man, with the grief of a lifetime on his face, made a great impression on her. She was earnest, sincere, kind and true. He appeared half startled at the idea of Hyacinth's spending a month at the Hall.

"I am afraid," he remarked, "that it will give my daughter tastes that can never be gratified."

But Lady Rosedene laughed.

"Leave all that to me," she said. "Neither you nor I know how much good fortune is in store for your daughter."

And so the finrst act of the tragedy was arranged. Hyacinth was on the week following to go to Dene Hall.

Chapter IV.

Dene Hall was the very residence for one who studied the enjoyments of life. It was one of the prettiest homes in England. There was nothing grand or majestic about it; but it was picturesque, artistic and beautiful. There was no recognized form in its architecture, and no two rooms resembled each other. Some had long French windows opening into the grounds, others large bay windows from which one had a magnificent view of the surrounding country. Some were stately and splendid, others small and cozy; there was every variety and there was every shape; every taste could be gratified. The rooms themselves were furnished in different styles—some with splendor, some with simple artistic taste; they were all picturesque, many with pretty nooks where one could talk unobserved by the hour, many full of gems of art. It was a home wherein every one was happy and at ease; there were rare books for the studious, music for those who enjoyed it, out-door amusement for those who preferred it, shady walks, where the trees met overhead, for those who loved solitude.

Lady Rosedene was never alone. She did not know what solitude meant, and never intended to know. She had always a well selected party of visitors at the Hall, and she quietly exulted in the fact that she had now a face to show her friends such as they had never seen before. Lady Rosedene was always in love with her last protegeee, and she was decidedly charmed with Hyacinth Vane.

Hyacinth had been quite at a loss about her dress. In her dilemma she had gone to Mrs. Morley, who had helped her in the difficulty. Francis Vane looked at his daughter with something like a smile on his face, as he gave her the sum of money which seemed to her like a little fortune.

To Be Continued.

AROUND A GREAT STATE.

INTERESTING EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN MINNESOTA.

Important Occurrences in the North Star State Day by Day—A General Resume of the Week's Doings Arranged for Rapid Reading.

Thursday, Sept. 7.

A Minneapolis bank teller has disappeared, and so have $15,000 of the bank's funds.

Charles White of Mankato has been charged with murder in the first degree of Harry Walraven.

Two hundred and nineteen North Dakota people registered at the state building at theworld's fair last week.

Out of thirty-three cars received in Duluth in one day from North Dakota twenty-two were graded No. 1 hard.

C. Christianson of Slayton, an old man of over seventy, slipped into a threshing machine feet first and had both legs ground up half way to his knees.

N. E. Anderson's blacksmith and machine shop at Litchfield was broken into and about $50 worth of fine tools taken.

Andrew Norum, county auditor of the county of Kanabec was dangerously injured by the premature discharge of a shot gun in the hands of a companion while hunting. He was very low, but it is thought he will recover.

The house of William P. Moon of Malta township, Big Stone county, was burned by an accident to a gasoline stove. The household goods were mostly saved. Loss about $1,000, with $300 insurance.

A romantic maiden, Annie Eldridge of Barnesville, came to St. Cloud in response to a letter from her beloved. T. McNearny, who was lodged in jail for drunk and disorderly conduct. She paid the fine, which took all her money, freed her lover and they left happy. Her brother forbade her coming and locked her in the house, but she escaped.

Friday, Sept. 8.

The Stillwater city council has decided to have street lights, and has entered into a contract with the Stillwater Gas and Electric Light company.

Harry Stokes, who was digging out an old well on Mrs. Ellen Shehan's farm, near Buffalo, went down into the well and was overcome by foul air, and died before assistance could reach him.

Fire destroyed a barn and three valuable horses owned by John Lundquist, at Winthrop. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $800 on barn and contents. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Two burglars entered Weber & Heintz's drug store at Rochester. Entrance was effected by breaking the glass near the catch and opening the window in the rear of the store. Both were arrested. They are tough looking customers.

Suicide was attempted by R Wright of Brainerd over family matters, but without success. The man shot himself in the head with a revolver, but the bullet glanced, making an ugly scalp wound.

Burglars effected an entrance into P. O. Sunde's store at New Richmond, blew the safe open and secured $5,000 in notes, $40 in cash and $150 worth of jewelry. The robbers were fired upon by the night watchman, but made good their escape.

George Baer, second engineer in the roller mills at Wells, met with a quite serious accident. After making some repairs standing on a ladder, he jumped down a short distance and broke through a trap door over a vat made for receiving waste water from the engine, receiving a severe scald on both legs from the ankles to the knees, his shoes in a measure protecting his feet.

A terrible tragedy was enacted about a mile and a half from Cannon Falls. John Dordan wounded his son, John Dordan, Jr. Both were intoxicated, and the young man was trying to put the father in bed, when the old man seized a knife and plunged it into his son's bowels. The attending physician probed the wound to a depth of about four inches, but the victim in his drunken condition would not permit a thorough examination at that time. The perpetrator of the deed was arrested and incarcerated in jail at Cannon Falls.

Saturday, Sept. 9.

Another convict, Olof Peterson, has been paroled at the state prison. He came from Minneapolis, Jan. 1, 1892, for two and one-half years for assault.

Mankato's three suspended national banks reopened and received deposits largely in excess of the amounts withdrawn.

Cashier Mathias J. Bofferding, of the Bank of Minneapolis, committed suicide because of the defalcation of Scheig, the absconding teller.

Suicide was attempted by R. Wright of Brainerd over family matters, but without success. The man shot himself in the head with a revolver, but the bullet glanced, making an ugly scalp wound.

Burglars effected an entrance into P. O. Sunde's store at New Richland, blew the safe open and secured $5,000 in notes, $40 in cash and $150 worth of jewelry. The robbers were fired upon by the night watchman, but made good their escape.

Sam Leeland was found dead at Marshall on a load of soft blacksmith coal, his head imbedded in the dust. He had got the coal in Marshall, and a friend had driven the team home. Both were drunk; Sam very drunk. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict that he died of suffocation while intoxicated.

The remains of a man were discovered by John Vorge of Brainerd in a cranberry marsh near Jonesville, six miles east of Brainerd. No examination was made, but Mr. Vorge says the man's clothes, which are in good condition, would denote the remains to be other than that of a hunter or woodsman.

James Rogers, a young man of Faribault, running a merry-go-round in South Minneapolis, sold out and disappeared four weeks ago and caused his parents anxiety. He was believed to have been killed. He has sent word home that he had been robbed of $400 that he had borrowed of his mother when starting into business, giving this reason for absence

Sunday, Sept. 10.

While hauling hay John Olson of Brunswick was fatally injured and his son badly hurt by their team running away and tipping over the load.

William Heller of Wisconsin, a sawyer in the Pine Tree Lumber company's mill at Little Falls, was injured. His right arm was injured in two places.

Fire at Madelia caused a loss to F. E. Sherman, merchant, general store, of about 80 per cent of a $14,000 stock; insurance, $10,000.

Dr. A. G. Aldrich of Anoka was shot while hunting with Louis Smith. Seventy-five shot were removed from his leg.

The Great Northern car shops at St. Cloud are now running with a full force and over hours. The men discharged last month are being taken back rapidly.

Henry Jackson, now lying in the county jail at Brainerd, charged with poisoning Edwin Peck, on June 4, has made a full and complete confession over his own signature in the presence of the sheriff and county attorney.

The store of J. L. Strout at Fairhaven was entered by burglars. A heavy safe was blown open and about $325 in money and valuable papers carried off. There is no clue to the perpetrators, but it is supposed to be the work of tramps.

Mrs. Morte Kasper, wife of John Kasper, a dock laborer of Duluth, has been missing for about a week. She is supposed to have eloped with Ignatz Hertz. The pair were seen at the West End depot of the St. Paul & Duluth, and are said to have taken a train south.

C. G. Von Suessmilch, the dentist, has left Duluth, presumably to stay. He was quite dissipated. Several months ago he eloped with Mrs. Lind of New Duluth. That was smoothed over, and both returned to their families. But, although the facts are not published, Von Suessmilch could not stand the notoriety it gave him, and about a week ago he left town, this time alone. He comes of a fine family in Wisconsin, and is the favorite son of a wealthy farmer.

Monday, Sept. 11.

Burglars broke into the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul depot at Cannon Falls and blew open the safe, but got nothing.

The house of Charles Stahnke of Danewood caught fire and burned. Loss, $1,500; insurance, $850. Very little was saved.

A domestic employed at the Batlo hotel at Red Wing named Ida Johnson, disappeared. A thorough search failed to locate her whereabouts. She recently came from Sweden.

The eight-year-old son of John Jardine of Shakopee accidentally shot himself with a revolver. He didn't know it was loaded, pulled the trigger and shot himself through the heart, dying instantly.

O. Erickson, from Rosseau, Kittson county, while riding from town with Eli Dalquist, county commissioner of Marshall county, was killed near Warren by their team running away.

Forest fires are raging south of Hinckley, and a heavy wind is driving them on. The villagers are already making preparations for an active defense against the flames. Great damage is done the timber.

A small barn at Montevideo belonging to R. S. Harter was burned. His team perished in the flames, as all attempts to get them out were unsuccessful. The loss was about $300; no insurance. The fire was set by some small children, who were playing with matches.

Tuesday, Sept. 12.

The dwelling house of Isaac Stevens at Montrose was partially destroyed by fire, with their household goods. Loss, $200; no insurance.

Rev. C. K. Austin, a resident of Rice county for twenty-four years, died at his residence three miles from Dundas, aged sixty-eight; cause of death, heart disease.

Near Windom, while threshing, but on different machines, August Lokken and Pascal Vought had the fingers of their left hands taken off in the cylinder of their machines. Amputation was necessary.

Mrs. G. E. Martenus of North Branch attempted suicide by cutting a vein in her arm with a razor. She also made a gash in the leg. Despondency over the sickness of her child is the probable cause.

Wednesday, Sept. 13.

The receipts of the Freeborn Agricultural society, above the expenses and all indebtedness, are $600. The premiums will be fully paid.

Charles White, charged with the murder of Harry Walraven at Mankato, was discharged. The evidence was insufficient to hold him.

John Long and wife of the town of St. Joseph, two aged people, when driving home were thrown out and probably fatally hurt. The injured are parents of the Great Northern yardmaster in St. Cloud.

The citizens all over Morrison county are being very favorably impressed with the new railroad scheme. There does not now exist any doubt in the minds of those best informed that the bonds will be voted.

Mrs. Warner, with a servant girl, filled a gasoline can from a tank in the barn of Dr. G. F. Warner of Mankato, and the girl stepped on a match, which set fire to it. Mrs. Warner was badly burned about the face and elsewhere.

Henry Paulson has been arrested near Swan River charged with criminal assault upon Mrs. John Looma, who lives a few miles above Floodwood. Paulson worked for the woman's husband, who was away on the night of Sept. 1, when the crime is alleged to have been committed. Paulson has been taken to Duluth.

Word was received at Duluth that the single rotary saw mill of the Cranberry Lumber company, on the south shore, was totally destroyed by fire. The dock and 1,000,000 feet of lumber were saved. The mill was valued at $5,000; insured for $3,200. Fire started in the engine room.

Burglars broke into P. N. Allen's furniture store, Nick Fieder's lumber office and Bosch's elevator at Cannon Falls and tried to break into O. F. Peters' hardware store, but did not get in. The safes were left open. The iron drawers were broken open and carried away, but they contained no money.

Where Cows Are Money.

That "time is money" is a saying both trite and true, but there is one part of the world, at least, where cows are money. A recent publication of the Imperial Geographical Society of Russia contains the announcement that the Chewsures, a race of 7,000 people who live in Tiflis, in Northwestern Asia, knew nothing of the use of money as a medium of exchange. The unit of valuation among the primitive people is the cow. A horse is valued at three cows and a stallion at six. If a native becomes enraged and cracks his neighbor's skull he is obliged to pay sixteen cows. If he breaks a bone of his neighbor's arm, five cows will pay the penalty. A wound in the forehead calls for three calves. If one cuts another in the part of the face usually covered by the beard, the punishment is comparatively severe. The "doctor" places as many grains of wheat along the cut as possible. For each grain of wheat so used the criminal must give up a cow. Wounds in the beardless part of the face call for one-third as many cows only. The man who injures a neighbor's hand surrenders sixteen cows. Thirty cows even will pay for the loss of an eye. These people are said to be happy, and no misers exist among them, but it would perhaps be rather difficult to hoard cows.

Astonished Savages.

The author of "Where Three Empires Meet" took some Kafirs from their desolate inland home in the Himalayan gorges beyond the mountain ranges to the more civilized south. Like most savages, they looked with stupid indifference at the marvels about them, and once only were they excited by an incident which opened their eyes to what they considered an extraordinary and unnatural state of things.

They were descending a road when one of them chanced to remark that he was hungry, and the English "sahib" bought him some food at a way-side shop. The Kafir saw the money change hands.

"How is this?" he inquired in surprise. "Do you have to pay for food in this country?"

"Certainly."

"What a country!" cried the man, in amazement. Then after pondering a while he continued, doubtfully, "Suppose a man had no money in this country; he might starve!"

"It is quite possible."

The Kafir shook with uncontrollable laughter. It was the best joke he had ever heard. He then explained the ridiculous system to his companions and they roared in chorus.

Coming to the Point.

AT THE STOCK PAVILION.

AWARDING OF PREMIUMS FOR LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS.

A Center of Attraction to World's Fair Visitors—The Northwestern States Come in for a Good Share of the Premiums.

Jackson Park, Special Correspondence.—During the past week the event which seemed to have absorbed all of the attention that visitors could spare from West Point cadets and the weather was the awarding of premiums for blooded stock and horses in the immense tan bark arena of the world's fair grounds, which is known as the stock pavilion. This great structure resembles in plan in some degree the old Coliseum at Rome, the measure of Roman permanence, containing as it does rising tiers of seats around a central arena, which affords ample space for five rings of cattle and horses to be ranged at one time for judgment. All of the seats are comfortably covered by a roof so that the state of the weather cuts no figure with the spectator. This arena furnishes sufficient room for a crack foot ball game to be played, and this week a picked team of United States cadets tackled a Chicago eleven of old college sphere kickers, and were vanquished by the score of 14 to 0. At that time a large crowd viewed the game from the benches, while the cattle arena was found to be admirably suited to the requirements of the old association game.

There are many reasons why this cattle and horse show should attract a great deal of attention. In the first place, there is the finest and largest display of blooded animals here ever gathered together before in one competition. The United States has always furnished the biggest animal shows in so far as number is concerned even if at times these shows might leave many things to be desired in the matter of quality. The live stock exhibit here is very great from both of these standpoints. It is noticeable that only the very best stock has been brought here, and the result is that horses and cattle which have taken all the prizes at state and local fairs and which have been considered as the very best of their kind have been reduced to the rear ranks when they come into competition with the best that the world can produce.

The show of heavy draught horses is indeed a wonder. There are all classes and varieties of the equine tribe, from the Shetland pony up to the Clydesdale and Percheron Bull horses, as Senator La Due terms them because of their unwieldiness. They are marvels of sleekness and beauty, although the common farm horse often exhibits far more life and style than many of these imported stallions. Besides the United States and Canada, which make naturally the most extensive horse and cattle display, Germany has sent here a most magnificent exhibit of coach horses from the kaiser's stables, and the czar of the Russias exhibits nearly sixty head of trotters, carriage horses and saddle horses. Of course Russia can show nothing in the trotting line to equal the best American breed, nor have they any horses with the intelligence and training of the Kentucky saddle horses. Their best trotting is one mile in over 2:20, and their best saddle horses from the czar's stables would require a year's training to do the dancing, fancy stepping, prancing, double shuffling and other marvelous tricks which all the Kentucky saddle horses apparently perform with the intelligence of the German species. Yet their drosky horse driving, their peculiar manner of harnessing horses and the excellent movement of some of their trotters attract a great deal of attention. The German display of coach horses, however, has apparently no rivalry in America in their class to speak of. Americans make an excellent display of French coach horses, but the poor Hackney seems to be left almost entirely in the lurch. There is a very large display of Morgan horses here, also of Percheron, Clydesdale, Shetland ponies, French coach and draft horses, asses, mules, Arabians, Cleveland bays, etc., to the number of about 1,000. The cattle display is still larger, reaching a figure near the 1,300 mark. The Jerseys, Short Horns and Herefords are here in great force. Besides these there are Galloways, Polled Anguses, Red Polled cattle, Polled Durhams, Belled Dutch Guernseys, Brown Swiss and many other varieties. The Holstein-Friesians, which used to be all the rage a few years ago, like Percheron horses, seem now to be going out of fashion. There is apparently a fad in fine stock raising as well as in the modes and styles of dress.

In this grand aggregation of the best of the world's domestic animal raising, Minnesota is in nowise last, nor does she lurk far in the rear of the front position. People all over the country are opening their eyes to the fact that Minnesota is a stock raising state of the first magnitude. Although as yet there have been only five days of prize awarding, Minnesota exhibitors have secured fifteen first prizes and forty-two premiums altogether, which outranks any state or country with the exception of Illinois. It is strange, however, to relate that the Northwest seems to furnish nearly all the live stock here. The states represented are Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota. Outside nations represented are Canada, Germany and Russia. Minnesota has 210 head of live stock here more than any other state or country with the exception of Illinois and Canada. Minnesota has already secured in prizes nearly $6,000, and will probably take out of the contest $10,000 before the show is over. So well has Minnesota done in the contest so far that there is talk of having a Minnesota stock day, when all the blooded stock and horses are to be paraded together around the stock pavilion while the bands play. There is also discussion of a plan to follow the parade with a banquet and reception. The exposition authorities have made ample arrangements for housing all the animals brought here in a first class manner, and the accommodations for displaying them are equally good.

The display of trotting horses, roadsters and driving horses will not take place until Oct. 16 owing to the engagements of the turf. Senator La Due, after hard work, secured this postponement to that date in order that the American trotter and racer might have a show to be properly represented at this contest. Minnesota will send twenty-five or thirty trotters and runners to this display. Dogs and poultry and pigeons will also have their day at the show.

A. P. McKinstry has returned from the East, where he has been upon a visit, and is making preparations to make the finest exhibit of Minnesota dairy products yet presented. Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa have been thus far leading the procession and Mr. McKinstry expects that the September competition will be the crucial one of the series.

—Ralph McKenzie.

Unhappily Put.

A photographer left his office in charge of a newly engaged boy the other day, according to an exchange, and as a result lost a customer

Her beauty was of the doubtful sort, and the boy's eye was better than his judgment.

"Is the photographer in?" she asked.

"No, ma'am," said the boy, "but he ll be in soon."

"I want some pictures taken," the customer went on, "but I always have very hard luck. I hope Mr. —— will be able to suit me."

"Oh, Mr. —— will suit you, I am sure, ma'am. By the time the pictures are finished up they won't look like you a bit."

MATHEMATICS IN MEDICINE.

A Doctor Who Figures Out Just What You Need to Take.

He was a doctor of the advanced school. He laid his finger on my pulse and, with his watch on his hand, gave it a fair start and observed it carefully all of the way around.

"Strong, 74," he said in a moment. Then he consulted a card that was covered with figures and continued: "That equals 63," and he placed that number on a slate. "Put out your tongue. Good! That is 14," he said.

"Inches?" I asked.

"How is your appetite?" he inquired, ignoring my question.

"Equal to the supply."

"That makes 204," he replied.

"Can't you reduce it a little?" I asked, but failed to get his attention.

"Cold feet?"

"Yes," I answered.

"Three," he said.

"No. 3," I replied, to correct him.

He set the three under the other figures. He then placed a thermometer in my mouth, which he afterward consulted in connection with the card.

"A good 198," he said.

"Impossible," I suggested, mildly.

He wrote down the 198, and asked if I had headaches.

"Sometimes in the morning, after being kept late at the office," I answered.

"Four," he said.

"Isn't that rather low," I asked.

"Do you smoke?" he inquired.

"Yes."

"Ten," he replied.

"No; two for ten," I said.

He put down the 10.

"Do you sleep well?" he asked.

"That depends upon the baby," I answered.

"We won't consider that," he said.

"You had better call it 980," I suggested.

He added together the figures that he had placed on the slate.

"That makes 496," he said.

"Is that the amount of the bill?" I asked.

"Bill!" he replied, "That is the number of the prescription. I want you to know that medicine with me is no longer an experiment, for I have reduced it to a mathematical certainty. Every symptom has its number and the sum of these numbers indicates the medicine that is needed. I have worked for fifteen years in formulating my prescriptions and perfecting the treatment, but I have it now. Your bill is $10"

I understood that number and left the office feeling relieved and deeply impressed by the doctor's learning.—Harper's Bazar.

Women's Work in California.

They are to be found in the manufacture of agricultural implements, machinery, files, tacks, nails, harness, paper and wooden boxes, type, wood cuts and printers' supplies, tents, bags, umbrellas, valises and trunks, in japanning and tin work, gold polishing, in cotton mills, jute mills, soap and salt works, fruit canneries, hop fields, vineyards and orchards; women are butchers, market vendors, blacksmiths, farmers, straw hatmakers, cigar makers, bookbinders, compositors and proofreaders, press feeders, lithographers and engravers. They find employment, too, as clerks, cashiers, medical nurses, missionaries, photographers, retouchers and colorers, teachers, lawyers, doctors, musicians, telegraph operators, typesetters, typewriters, stenographers, wood and metal engravers, canvassers, collectors, merchants. They are ministers, lecturers, dancers, athletes, acrobats, pugilists, inventors, politicians and notaries public.

Cement for Steam Pipes.

A prominent engineer recommends the following recipe for stopping up leaky steampipe joints: Five parts plaster of paris, five parts yellow ochre, ten parts litharge, five parts of red lead and four parts of black oxide of manganese. To these powders, which should be mixed thoroughly, a small amount of asbestos powder and boiled oil is added. The cement hardens in from two to five hours.

At the bottom of the ocean the temperature remains practically constant at any one spot throughout the whole of the year.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Teledo, O., Proprietors of Hall's Catarrh Cure, offer $100 reward for any case of catarrh than cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for testimonials, free. Sold by druggists, 75c.

The New York divorce courts put asunder about five couples per day.

The Modern Beauty
Thrives on good food and sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy she uses the gentle and pleasant liquid laxative Syrup of Figs.

The rock of Gibraltar is in exact representation of a lion lying in a resting position.

For Pimples on the Face Take Allen's Iron Tonic Bitters. All genuine bear the signature of J. P. Allen, Druggist, St. Paul, Minn.

Baltimore introduced gas in 1816.

The Death Roll Is Largely Swelled
By persons careless of imperiled health, who "pooh, pooh!" their minor ailments, believing, or pretending to believe, that nature will effect a change. Nature does effect a change, but it is in the wrong direction. She thus avenges a disregard of her appeals. Don't omit, if you are at all unwell, to recuperate by the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a signal remedy for dyspepsia, nervousness, debility, malaria, rheumatism, biliousness.

The United States still have 2,836,757 square miles of public land.

With deep regret we note that Montgomery Ward, the "original grange-supply house" man, the friend of the farmer, and chief of commercial guerillas, joined the banks, the wholesalers, the pork packers, and the other monopolists in urging congress to repeal the silver bill. When the farmers learn this, they will make trouble. Montgomery finds it a hard job to play the dual role of honest granger Dr. Jekyll and millionaire Mr. Hyde.—Farm Implement News.

Blocks sixty feet long without a break are found quite frequently in the onyx quarries in Lower California.

Help Offered.

Owing to the extreme financial depression hundreds of men in all our cities have been thrown out of employment. Many of these are able and willing to do farm work. There are doubtless many farmers who need help for the remainder of the season—and others who could find work all winter for good men, at low wages. A bureau has been organized in St. Paul, under the name of "The Public Employment Bureau," by city officials and citizens, to find work for as many as possible of her unemployed workers. Any farmer needing help, either for the fall months or for the entire winter, may readily secure it by addressing Mayor F. P. Wright, St. Paul, Minn., stating what he wants, and on what terms.

L. D. Heard of Washington, Ga., owns an Italian violin that is nearly 250 years old.

Welcome to Hood's

We say at our house, because of the good it has done me. No one knows the intense misery I endured for 20 years with dyspepsia. No prescriptions seemed to help me and I had great prejudice against proprietary medicines. But being strongly urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I did so. I am now using my fourth bottle, and feel better than I have in twenty years, and consider myself cured." FRANK C. STUART, Marshall, Mich.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills Cure liver ill. Sick Headache.

"August Flower"

"I am Post Master here and keep a Store. I have kept August Flower for sale for some time. I think it is a splendid medicine." E. A. Bond, P. M., Pavilion Centre, N. Y.

The stomach is the reservoir. If it fails, everything fails. The liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the heart, the head, the blood, the nerves all go wrong. If you feel wrong, look to the stomach first. Put that right at once by using August Flower. It assures a good appetite and a good digestion.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in last war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since.

We will send you the MARVELOUS and UNFAILING French Preparation, CALTHOS FREE by MAIL, and a legally executed guarantee that CALTHOS will STOP all Discharges, CURE Varicocele and RESTORE Lost Vigor. Use it & pay if satisfied. Von Mohl Co., Importers, Cincinnati, Ohio.

25 DOSES 25c THE GREAT SHILOH'S CURE. TAKE THE BEST COUGH CURE 25c 50c & $1.00

Cures Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands where all others failed; will cure you if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S PLASTER. 25cts.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price 50cts. Injector free.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND TRADE MARK

The Best Waterproof Coat in the WORLD!

SLICKER

The FISH BRAND SLICKER is warranted waterproof, and will keep you dry in the hardest storm. The new POMMEL SLICKER is a perfect riding coat, and covers the entire saddle. Beware of imitations. Don't buy a coat if the "Fish Brand" is not on it. Illustrated Catalogue free. A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

BLOOD POISON A SPECIALTY. Primary, Secondary or Tertiary Syphilis permanently cured in 30 to 60 days. We eliminate all poison from the system, so that there can never be a return of the disease. You can be treated at home for the same price and under the same guarantees, but with those who prefer to come here we will contract to cure them or refund all money and pay entire expense of coming, railroad fare and hotel bills, if we fail to cure. If you have taken mercury, iodide potash, and still have aches and pains, Mucous Patches in Mouth, Sore Throat, Pimples, Copper-Colored Spots, Ulcers on any part of the body, Hair or Eyebrows falling out, It is this Syphilitic Blood Poison that we guarantee to cure. We solicit the most obstinate cases and challenge the world for a case we cannot cure. This disease has always baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians. A legal guarantee to cure or refund money. Absolute proofs sent sealed on application. Address COOK REMEDY CO., Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

SECOND-HAND TEN-HORSE POWER ENGINE —AND— TWENTY-HORSE POWER BOILER For Sale Cheap. NEARLY NEW. Located at Aberdeen, South Dakota. Address Northwestern Newspaper Union, ST. PAUL, MINN.

WORLD'S Columbian Exposition OFFICIAL SOUVENIR—1893

In beautiful and bright colors, and the Designs handsomely etched on silk, taken from Oil Paintings and the celebrated, world-renowned models now on exhibition at the World's Fair. On the top is the famous portrait, after Moro, of Christopher Columbus, in the center is an exact reproduction of the Santa Maria in full sail, showing the brave crew that assisted in discovering AMERICA, on the bottom is a design showing two Globes—the Old and the new worlds—on oneside is Christopher Columbus, surrounded by his crew, representing the first landing on our shores, and on the other a complete bird's eye view of the WORLD'S FAIR. Is pronounced one of the handsomest and most attractive mementoes yet issued as a Souvenir of the great Exposition. Can be used as a Badge, Book-Mark, or as an ornament for the parlor.

Adopted by Societies, Clubs, Churches, and the public in general. Price, 15c. each, or two for 25c. AGENTS WANTED Everywhere. Price per Doz., $1. Special terms for large lots. Mailed and delivered free to any part of the U. S. or Canada.

J. McLEAN & CO., 157 S. CLARK ST., CHICAGO

THE READY PRINTS WE FURNISH ARE ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE THE BEST PRODUCED ON THE GLOBE.

OUR SERVICE ESPECIALLY OUR NEWS LEADS THE WORLD SEND FOR SAMPLE SHEETS AND PRICES.

It's a "Daisy"

We desire to call the attention of newspaper men especially, and the public in general, to the inside pages of the Sentinel. They contain 26 colums of live, readable, carefully selected, ably edited and finely illustrated reading matter. We defy any paper on earth, printed at home but using the ready-set plate matter to get up four pages of as interesting matter as this. The Sentinel desires to thank the Northwestern Newspaper Union for its liberal and enterprising efforts to keep in the lead and serve its patrons so well and so faithfully.—Fairmont Sentinel, July 7, 1893.

Northwestern Newspaper Union, St. Paul Minn.
S. Dakota Newspaper Union, Aberdeen S. Dak.
N. Dakota Newspaper Union, Fargo, N. Dakota.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest. CATARRH Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 50c. E. T. Hazeltine, Warren, Pa.

N. W. N. U. No. 37—1893.

Making a Diagnosis.

"Your husband, Mrs. Muggleby, is suffering from a complication of diseases," said the doctor. "I must first make a diagnosis."

"I hope you can make it of calico, then," was the good soul's reply, "for I haven't a piece of flannel in the house."—New York Mercury.

A copy of the first edition of "Tom Jones" has just been sold in London for $345. It was uncut and in the original boards.

The value of infantry was not fully recognized by mediaeval commanders until the fifteenth century.

This is the COFFEE

That Secured the World's Fair Contract, And Will be Served EXCLUSIVELY Inside the Fair Grounds at CHICAGO

(SIGNED)
CHASE & SANBORN, Importers.

Sold Exclusively in Brainerd by
BEACH, COLE & BEACH.

Sleeper Opera House!

J. R. SMITH, Manager.

COMING:

That Charming Comedy Drama,

"FRIENDS."

THE UNION
BI-CHLORIDE OF GOLD CO.
Of Brainerd, Minn.
Cale Block, Front Street.

W. J. BAIN, Manager.

For The Cure Of
The Liquor Habit
OPIUM AND TOBACCO.

Correspondence Solicited. Our business is carried on in a Strictly Confidential Manner.

FRANK B. JOHNSON,
—SUCCESSOR TO—
N. McFADDEN.
DRUGGIST.
Pure Drugs!
Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles.
Proprietor of Sherwood's Cougn Syrup Glass Condition Powders and Stratton's Liniment.
Night Bell. 36 Front St

Sanborn's RESTAURANT.
CITY HOTEL, 40 FRONT STREET.
REGULAR MEALS 25CTS.
BOARD $4.00 PER WEEK.
Meals cooked to order at any time, Day or Night, at VERY reasonable prices.

HAGBERG & LAGERQUIST
Wholesale and retail
GROCERS,
HAS A LARGE AND COMPLTE STOCK OF
Staple & Fancy Groceries, Flour Feed, Provisions, Etc.
HAGBERG & LAGERQUIST.
Odd Fellows' Block.

C. D. JOHNSON,
DRUGGIST
I keep a Full Line of Fine Toilet Soaps.
Our stock of PERFUMERY is the largest and most complete in the City.
ALL KINDS OF PATENT MEDICINES.
Stationery,
Fine Cigars,
Toilet Articles, etc.
ARCTIC SODA WATER.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully compounded and all Orders correctly filled.
CALE BLOCK, EAST FRONT STREET.

Brainerd Dispatch.
Official Paper
Of Crow Wing and Cass Counties.

N. H. Ingersoll, F. W. Wieland, } Editors and Proprietors.

Issued every Friday morning at Brainerd, Crow Wing county, Minnesota, from rooms 5 and 7, Sleeper block. Terms $1.50 per year. Finest job printing office in the city.

Entered at the Post Office at Brainerd, Minnesota as second class matter.

Local News Notes.

Lawyer J. N. True is in the city.

Dr. Niven, dentist, Sept. 29th and 30th.

Charles Wilkins has gone to Wilmar on a visit.

Mrs. A. J. Sovereign, of Staples, is in the city.

Miss Lillie Wilson left yesterday for Chicago.

Ed. Mahan, of Little Fall, was in the city yesterday.

Harry Gross, now of Duluth, was in the city Wednesday.

Henry Linnemann is now one of the Arlington hotel clerks.

Mrs. Joseph Miller returned on Tuesday from a visit at Duluth.

Miss Carrie Morrison left yesterday for a two week's visit at the world's fair.

Mrs. C. C. Phillips, of East Brainerd, has been granted a widow's pension.

A nice new girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Clark on Tuesday night.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards and Mrs. Hall, of Milwaukee, are guests of C. N. Parker.

Henry Walters, a brother of R. F. Walters, is here on a visit to relatives from Quebec, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sodderland are rejoicing over the arrival of twin girls at their house on Monday.

A. J. Ferrin is in the city from Minneapolis on a visit to his uncle, H. C. Stivers, of the Journal.

Mrs. D. B. Kelley, of St. Paul, is in the city on a visit to her son W. H. Kelley, foreman of this office.

A ten-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Torgerson, of Deerwood, died of cholera infantum on Saturday last.

J. W. Fletcher, of Battle Creek, Mich., has been in the city several days looking over his Brainerd property.

Ed. Hurley and Frank Guernflu left on Tuesday for Chicago where they will see the wonders of the great worlds fair.

Mrs. L. McDonald, of Jamestown, N. Dak., is in the city called here by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. James Mead.

H. T. Skinner, who has been spending his summer vacation at Berlin, Wis., arrived in the city this morning ready to begin his fall school work.

A pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Miss Grace McDonough on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12th, about thirty of her friends being present.

The fire department was called ont Monday night to suppress a blaze some one had started in a brush pile near the new school house in southeast Brainerd.

A phantom social will be held on the lawn at the residence of Mrs. M. K. Swartz on Friday evening, Sept. 15. Ice cream and cake 15 cents, Everybody invited.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church will give a corn supper in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening Sept. 22. Every one is invited to come. Supper 25 cents.

J. C. Congdon showed us some very nice plums Wednesday which were raised by him in this city. They are now on exhibition in the window at Beach, Cole & Beach's grocery store.

Rev. D. N. Morden, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, will be united in marriage Wednesday evening next to Miss Bertha Cooper, of Ninga, Manitoba, at the latter place.

The St. Paul Globe says: R. R. Wise, proprietor of all the hotels of the Northern Pacific on the Brainerd division, is at the Merchants'. He is an old newspaper man, and his most serious fault is that he is a republican.

A new bridge is to be erected over the Mississippi river at Aitkin. It is to have a swing span so that boats being rafted or towed may pass through, and it will be very much like one recently built at Grand Rapids, and for this reason the new improvements is very much needed.

The remains of Martin Anderson were brought to this city on Monday and taken to Long lake, where the deceased resided, for burial, Rev. Sanderson officiating. Mr. Anderson was thrown from a wagon at Grand Forks on Friday last, his neck being broken by the fall.

A special meeting of the city council was called for Wednesday night, the call stating that it was for the purpose of taking action in regard to fixing the city jail. When the body convened, however, there was a discussion over accepting the report of the committee and it was rejected. The council then adjourned without taking any action.

J. C. Congdon, as president of the board of education, has notified the teachers of the city schools through the official paper that on account of the impossibility to complete the school houses the regular session of all grades below the high school will not begin until further notice. It was expected to begin all the schools on the 18th, but it will be the 25th if not later before the new buildings will be in condition to occupy.

Dr. Niven, dentist, Sept. 29th and 30th.

HIS SCULL WAS BROKEN.

The Remains Found in the Cranberry Marsh Near Jonesville Now in the Custody of Coroner Dean.

On Friday of last week Coroner Dean, John Voerge, A. F. Ferris and R. Parker made a party that went in search of the skeleton which Mr. Voerge and his son had run onto in the woods some days before, and which they had left undisturbed. The party arrived at the place about noon and were directed to the spot by Mr. Voerge. The body, or bones rather, lay about 200 feet from the railroad track on the north side, and in a little hollow which had been made by the up-rooting of a tall pine tree. The entire skeleton was there with the exception of the bones of the feet and hands which had probably been carried off by wolves which are numerous in that section. The skull was examined and on the left side over the eye was found a fracture which had evidently been made by some blunt instrument and it must have been a terrific blow for the skull was cracked in all directions from the indenture. On top of the skull and a little to the right was a second fracture, probably where the first blow was struck for it was not nearly as heavy a one as the other. The clothing that the man had on at the time he met his death was a black coat and vest and brown pants and blue striped shirt. In the pockets the only things discovered were a wooden pipe and a small round wooden box, evidently a snuff box. These were the only things by which the man's identity could be discovered unless it was by his teeth, which were perfect. The man still retained his baby eye-teeth, a fact discovered by Dr. Ribble after the bones had been brought into the city, and his wisdom teeth on the under jaw had not yet made their appearance. These things would indicate that he was quite a young man.

There is no doubt but that the man was murdered, but how and under what circumstances will probably never be known.

Coroner Dean has the bones and clothing at the morgue of Losey & Dean and will keep them for some time before he buries them, in case anything should turn up.

Not in the Usual Way.

Thomas Murphy's family, of southeast Brainerd, was increased one on Monday evening, and the peculiar part of the proceeding was the fact that the baby was left in his kitchen by an unknown party. Mrs. Murphy and a neighbor were in the front part of the house on that evening, when they heard an infant crying and proceeding to the kitchen they found a blue eyed baby girl about a month old wrapped up in a neat cloak lying on the floor just inside the screen door where she had evidently been placed but a moment before. Whoever had placed the foundling there had made good their escape without detection, for no one was in sight nor had been seen about the premises. The baby was taken up and the cloak removed by the ladies and a note was found pinned to its dress together with a five dollar bill. A nursing bottle with the milk still warm and about half emptied was also discovered. The note, which we were unable to procure for publication, stated that the child's name was Anna and that it was the desire of the party who placed her there to have her christened in the Catholic faith, and asked Mr. Murphy's folks to raise her as one of their own children and that money would find its way into their house every week for the support of the child.

The circumstance is a very peculiar one and no clue has been found as to the parentage of the child. The baby is exceedingly bright, has dark hair and blue eyes, and although Mr. Murphy and his estimable wife have quite a family of their own they have decided to keep the little waif and raise her as one of their own family.

The Troy Laundry.

The Troy laundry which is located at the corner of Fourth and Front streets is turning out just as good work and giving as good satisfaction as the laundries of St. Paul and Minneapolis where so many of our people have been in the habit of sending their work. It is a home institution and should be liberally patronized. Drop them a postal card or leave word at their office and your laundry will be called for and delivered.

Died.

W. H. Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Casey, died on Wednesday, Sept. 13th, of consumption at the age of 24 years. Some four years ago the deceased was afflicted with a severe attack of pneumonia from which he never fully recovered, and during the past year it developed into the above named disease. The funeral occurred this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence on Fourth avenue, East Brainerd, Rev. J. A. Jenkins officiating.

The Best Show of the Season.

The show at the Olympic this week is pronounced by all who have attended as the best that has been given since the opening of this popular place of amusement, and the attendance has increased in keeping with the merits of the entertainment. The interesting first part entitled "a sculptor's studio," contains a series of fine spectacular scenes. But the most interesting feature of the entertainment is the acrobatic dancing and contortion acts by Swan and Bombard. They are "out of sight," and can be excelled nowhere. Billy Madden still holds the popular fancy with his wonderful clog dancing, and McCarthy and Ames are even more pleasing than heretofore. Another new attraction this week is Lucy Swan, whose rich, well cultivated voice never fails to please. The performances close with a laughable afterpiece entitled "The Mischevious Monkey." If you want to see the best show of the season, don't fail to attend.

Dr. Niven, dentist, Sept. 29th and 30th.

A Worthy Society.

On Tuesday a meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. E. M. Westfall to complete the organization of a branch of the society known as the Needlework Guild of America, the object of which is to provide for the needy in our own city. To become a member each lady is required to give two new articles of clothing each year and any one desiring to unite and help the good work on can do so by giving their name to any of the officers, the articles to be handed in by the first of October for distribution. The society is non-sectarian. The following are the officers:

President—Mrs. E. M. Westfall.
Vice President—Mrs. C. M. Patek.
Secretary—Miss Minnie Merritt.
Directors — Mrs. Maynard Crane, Mrs. C. W. Grewcox, Mrs. H. I. Cohen, Mrs. B. S. Mallory and Mrs. A. E. Losey.

Not Coming.

Word has been received that Miss Jessie Ackerman, who was advertised to lecture in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening next, will be unable to keep her appointment as she has been obliged to cancel all her engagements in the northwest. This is a great dissapointment to the ladies of the W. C. T. U., and also to the general public.

Syvert Johnson has given up his position with A. H. Rusted at Brainerd, and is here for a two weeks visit with his sister, Mrs. C. O. Bjor. At the close of his visit here he will go to Norway where he will spend the winter.—Battle Lake Review.

District Court.

The September term of the district court will convene next Monday, with Judge Holland presiding. The following is a list of the cases on the calendar:

CIVIL CASES.

Munson & Merriof vs S. W. Searles & Co. J. N. True for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Theodosia Hastings vs State Building Association. J. N. True for plaintiff and John B. and W. H. Sanborn for defendant.

Louis K. Fladkval vs Chas. Moberg and Wm. Gergen. J. H. Warner for plaintiff and W. A. Fleming for defendants.

Jas. H. Kelehan vs Chas. Cross and W. B. Herriman. W. A. Fleming for plaintiff and F. W. Hall for defendant.

Mary Andrews vs City of Brainerd. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and W. S. McClenahan for defendant.

August Rudke vs J. J. Howe & Co. & Knox & DeLaittre. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor and Choate & Merrill for defendant. Two cases.

J. M. Oliver vs M. L. Patterson et al. Leon E. Lum & C. M. Hertig for plaintiff and J. N. True for defendant.

A. L. Hoffman vs J. H. Mahler. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and Wm. Foulke for defendant.

G. G. Hartley vs Carl H. Douglas Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and J. N. True for defendant.

George T. D. Baxter vs J. J. Howe. Penney, Jamison & Hayne for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Max Waltz vs Louis Schafer, Eloise Schafer and the Brainerd Co-operative Building and Loan Association. J. H. Warner for plaintiff and Leon E. Lum for defendants.

Wells Tuman vs George A. Pillsbury et al. Oscar Taylor for plaintiff and Gilfillan, Belden & Willard for defendant.

George Wetherby vs John Hughes and Mary Hughes. J. N. True for plaintiff and Phelps & Martin for defendants.

Andrew Olson vs Life Indemnity and Investment Co. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and James O. Pierce for defendant.

Samuel Walker vs Jno. R. Howes. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and John C. Hollembaeck for defendant.

Louise Morton vs Michael Kobe. W. A. Fleming for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Frank L. Hanscom vs Northern Mill Co. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendant.

Solomon Williams vs Torrey & Libbey. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and Choate & Merrill for defendant.

S. Williams vs William Torrey and H. A. Libby. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and Choate & Merrill for defendants.

John M. Cofield vs James McCabe and Patrick McCabe. W. A. Fleming for plaintiff and McClenahan & Mantor for defendants.

Robert Caughie vs the City of Brainerd. True & Wetherby for plaintiff and W. S. McClenahan for defendant.

George Wetherby vs A. Z. Renslow, J. N. True, D. F. Sexton and Hugh Riddle. George Wetherby for plaintiff and Leon E. Lum for defendants.

Fred J. Slipp vs Michael L. Tool, George F. Meyers, J. F. O'Connell and George Clark. J. H. Warner for plaintiff and C. L. Pratt and L. H. Hawkins for defendants.

Mrs. Walter Davis vs Mary Gray. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and W. A. Fleming for defendant.

Michael Hagberg vs Guilford G. Hartley. McClenahan & Mantor for plaintiff and Billson & Congdon for defendant.

Christian Anderson vs Brainerd & Northern Minnesota Railway Co. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff and W. S. McClenahan for defendant.

CRIMINAL CASES.

City of Brainerd vs Thomas Calland. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff and J. N. True for defendant.

City of Brainerd vs James McCaffray. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff and J. H. Warner for defendant.

City of Brainerd vs Max Waltz. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff and J. H. Warner for defendant.

State of Minnesota vs Theodore Douville. Leon E. Lum for plaintiff.

City of Brainerd vs George Sisler. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff.

City of Brainerd vs Matt McCabe and Jim White. W. S. McClenahan for plaintiff.

If You Want The Best.

ALTHOUGH you may have had good luck with but few failures in making cake and biscuit in the old-fashioned way with soda and sour milk, or soda and cream of tartar, you will have better luck and (following directions) no failures with the Royal Baking Powder.

The truth of this must be evident when you remember that in the leading hotels and restaurants, and in the homes of our city cousins, where the latest and best methods are invariably employed, and where the most beautiful and dainty food is always set out for the guests, the Royal Baking Powder is exclusively used for all quickly risen food.

Royal Baking Powder never disappoints; never makes sour, soggy or husky food; never spoils good materials; never leaves lumps of alkali in the biscuit or cake; while all these things do happen with the best of cooks who cling to the old-fashioned methods, or who use other baking powders.

If you want the best food, Royal Baking Powder is indispensable.

THEY ARE EASY.

The Duluth Base Ball Aggregation Are Not in it with the Home Team.

The Duluth base ball team, which has been heralded abroad as invincible this summer, crossed bats with the Brainerd nine last Saturday and Sunday at the fair grounds in this city, and as a result they are not crowing any more. They were dead easy—they didn't make real good exercise for the home team. They were beaten on Saturday by a score of 19 to 2, and on Sunday the score stood 12 to 3. On Saturday the home team could have doubled this score had they so desired, for after the fifth inning they did not try to make any additional runs. The home team in both games played ball beautifully, making scarcely any errors, while the visitors seemed to be playing in especial hard luck. It was clearly to be seen, however, that under the most fortunate circumstances, it wasn't in them to beat the Brainerd club, which is now unquestionably one of the very best, if not the best team in the state. If there is any club in Minnesota that doubts this statement they can have satisfaction by accepting Manager Gates challenge which we publish elsewhere in this issue.

The principal feature of Sunday's game was a running one handed catch by Corbett in center field, the most difficult we have seen, and he received a perfect ovation from the large crowd of spectators in consequence.

Mr. Paul Murn, roadmaster on the Brainerd Division of the N. P. Railroad was in the village Friday, called here by the illness of his sister, Mrs. Lives, of Montana, who was injured in a runway. From him it is learned that suit to recover damages will be sought from the village.—Sauk Rapids Sentinel.

An Excellent Play.

One likes "Friends," that bright bit from the inspired pen of Edwin Milton Royle, because there is so much human nature in it—or, rather, so much human nature of the sort we most admire. One touch of nature makes the whole world kin, and in the past there has been too little of it upon the stage. It is true that the mirror has been held up to nature; but the mirror in the majority of instances has been a 25 cent looking glass, such as one finds in a cheap boarding house, which would distort the seraphic features on an angle. In "Friends" it is different. Royle has taken the chords of human feeling wherewith to play a symphony, and he has suceeded admirably. As an attraction the piece is worthy of a repetition of the favor it enjoyed last year, when it entered the city comparatively unknown and ended by playing to crowded houses. There is the same poetic friendship, the same comedy, the same pathos, the same intensity, the same perfection of general effect, and what is more, almost the same cast. Many changes have been in the line of improvement Edwin Milton Royle, the author, still plays Jack breezily, effectively, heartily, so humanly as to hold the audience throughout. Lucius Henderson, as Karje, the pianist is most ideal in a sensitized character, and wins numerous recalls after piano solo at the musicale. Selena Fetter slights nothing as Marguerite, and accentuates the good impression made last year. E. D. Lyons admirable as old Otto, and exceptionally powerful in in the third act, while Henry Bergam makes the most of Harold Hunting and Harry Allen is popular as Paden, Sr. "Friends" is good diet, as a dramatic possibility, as a human possibility, as an entertainment.

The above is taken from the St. Paul News where "Friends" is being played during this week. Brainerd people will have an opportunity to see it shortly.

Leave orders with D. W. Whitford for harness and have them made of A No. 1 oak leather and not of shoddy that will have the appearance of having been whitewashed as is the case with those sold by dealers. They will cost no more and will last three times as long. Remember the location on Laurel Street.

D. W. Whitford.

Low Rates for Minneapolis Exposition

The Northern Pacific announces low round trip rates to Minneapolis on account of the exposition. Tickets will be on sale at rate of one and one third fare for the round trip with an additional charge of twenty-five cents for admission coupon, on September 8th, 12th, 15th, 19th, and 22nd, and October 3rd and 5th; and at rate of one fare for the round trip with an additional charge of twenty-five cents for admission, daily from September 25th and to 30th, both inclusive.

Tickets are only good for continuous passage and are limited to return on the Monday following date of sale.

For further particulars calls upon your nearest ticket agent.

Items of Interest.

Souvenir spoons at Sundbergs.

Ripans Tabules cure headache.

Buy your screens at C. B. White's.

Bunker Hill School shoes at Bredfeld's.

McColl's baby pictures are the talk of the town.

Re-varnish your buggies once a year at Congdon's.

Call in and see McGinnis & Co.'s great reduction sale.

C. B. White carries the finest line of loaded shells in the city.

Silverware, useful and ornamental at Mrs. F. G. Sundberg's.

Largest line of children's shoes at Bredfeld's. Bed rock prices.

Silver inlaid flat ware (warranted) twenty-five years at Sundberg's.

Children and misses Russett shoes in colors at Bredfeld's. Sold at bottom prices.

When you want a large picture have it made a McColl's gallery, over the postoffice.

Horses, cows, ponies, wagons, buggies and harnesses for sale on time at Hoffman's

Picture frames and pictures to frame, a large variety, and fine goods at McColl's.

Housekeeping outfits on the installment plan at the Hoffman Bazaar.—tf.

If you want haying tools call on C. B. White at their new store in the Walker block.

Touch up and varnish your wagons for spring trade, at Congdon's. It will save you money.

If you want fine artistic job work leave your order with the Dispatch. Our work is unexcelled.

Have your photograph taken at McColl's studio, over the postoffice. Our finest cabinets $4 per dozen.

Call at D. M. Clark & Co.'s store and inspect their stock of hardware, crockery, lamps, furniture, carpets, wall paper and everything else in that line. Their prices have been cut to meet the bad times.

Do not forget that Veon is making another "Rustle" in the jewelry line. Your custom will be greatly appreciated. The lowest possible prices will rule, and no sharp practices or misrepresentations will be made in any case. Please call.

For a Stewart surface burner, Howe Ventilating base burner, or Montor wood parlor heater of the latest and most approved pattern, call at D. M. Clark & Co.'s store and inspect their stock. They carry the latest variety of heating and cook stoves ever shown in this city.

Views of buildings, out of door groups, etc., a specialty at McColl's gallery.

Special Notice.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to us are requested to call at McGinn & Bailey's store and settle.
C. H. Paine & Co.

You are especially invited to call at Veon's, in Gardner's block, and examine his jewelry and get his profit-shaving prices. Do not forget about this.

Subscribe for the Dispatch. All the news for $1.50 per year.

The office of J. R. Smith is the headquarters for reliable fire insurance. Room 4, Sleeper Block.

Another Reduction in world's Fair Rates.

Commencing Saturday, August 12, the Northern Pacific railroad will inaugurate the sale at all coupon ticket offices in Minnesota, Nortn Dakota and Manitoba, of excursion tickets to Chicago at the uniform rate of one fare for the round trip, plus two dollars additional.

These tickets will be on sale daily until further notice and are limited to 30 days from date of sale.

These are the lowest rates yet announced and coupled with the splendid through Pullman sleeping car service, both first-class and tourist, operated by the Northern Pacific railroad to Chicago, offers the residents of the Northwest the best possible facilities to visit the world's fair—one of the wonders of the age. tf.

The Brainerd Mercantile Co.

Wish to call the attention of the public to the fact that they are doing
A STRICTLY CASH BUSINESS
And Selling Goods
AT STRICTLY CASH PRICES,
Which means that it will be money in your pocket to call and get our prices before purchasing elsewhere.
All Goods Warranted First-Class.

T. McMASTER,
—DEALER IN—
FINE TEAS AND COFFEES.
We carry a full line of
Fresh Groceries.
Lumbermen's Supplies a Specialty
CORNER SIXTH AND FRONT STREETS. - BRAINERD, MINN

C. B. WHITE,
CONTARCTOR & BUILDER
This is What We Carry:
Sash, Doors, Mouldings, Paints, Oils, Varnish, Wood Stock and
Builders' Hardware,
Also Skates, Glass, Rope, Tools of all Kinds, Guns, Ammunition, Sporting Goods, Cutlery, hand sleds. Sled and wagon shop work of all kinds done promptly. Call on us.
I U. WHITE, Manager.
No. 82 Laurel St.

We Meet All Competition.
—THE NEW FIRM OF—
McGINN & BAILEY
Are Selling their Carefully Selected Stock of
STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES
AT REASONABLE PRICES.
FRESH VEGETABLES IN SEASON.
We aim to please our customers in all particulass and invite your patronage.
Sixth Street, between Front and Laurel.

KATZ BROS.,
—DEALER IN—
STOVES AND TINWARE,
Shelf Hardware, Nails, Etc.
New store just opened at McColl's Old Stand on 7th Street. New Stock LOW PRICES and Fair Dealing.
Great Bargains in Cooking Stoves.
Call and See Us.

Always on Hand.
A well Assorted Stock of
Diamonds, Watches, Clocks,
Jewelry and Silverware.
Bi-Chloride of Gold Cure for Broken Down Watches.
Repairing of All Kinds a Specialty.
MRS. F. G. SUNDBERG,
CORNER FRONT AND SIXTH STREETS.

HARNESS SHOP
CORNER LAUREL AND SIXTH STREETS.
Keep on hand an assortment of everything in the line.
Harness, Nets Whips, Curbs
BRUSHES, BRIDLES, SADDLES, COLLARS.
D. W. WHITFORD.
Fine Outfits Made a Specialty